It is very seldom that an amateur painter is thoroughly satisfied with a job of painting after it is finished. The best way, of course, is to employ a practical painter, but where this is impossible, and for touches about the house which it would not pay a painter to call and do, a few hints may be given. First see that the surface is thoroughly prepared, that it is dry, clean and free from grease; if there are any rough spots sandpaper them, and then brush off the dust. On new work shellac the knots and putty nail holes. Keep the paint well mixed or stirred while the work is being done; lay the paint on evenly and brush it out well, following the direction of the grain of the wood. Never apply a second coat till the first is perfectly dry and hard. Do not overcharge your brush with paint, or replenish before it is exhausted. Begin with the higher part of the work and proceed downward. Then see that you have the right paint. The Sherwin-Williams Company prepares a special paint for each class of work and this paint will be found best for that work. For painting houses one kind is prepared, for floors another kind, for small articles about the home, still another kind, and in selecting the right kind of paint lies the great secret of a successful job. It stands to reason that a house paint will not look well on a buggy, and that a buggy paint would not do for a barn.

All the purchaser has to do is to tell the dealer what use the paint is for and get the can labelled for that purpose. When the house painter is called in it is a safe rule to specify that he shall use The Sherwin Williams paints. The name is a guarantee that the painting will last a long time and look well. All the paints bearing this well-known name are mixed by machinery and the highest skill is employed in selecting the ingredients and in seeing that they are exactly right. These proportions are the result of twenty-nine years of successful paint making. A postal card addressed to The Sherwin-Williams Company, 21 St. Antoine street, Montreal, will secure a useful book on painting.

A TREMENDOUS YIELD.

2,450 Grains the Yield of a Single Kernel of Wheat.

Otonabee township has given an evidence of its right to the title of "the garden of Canada." Mr. J. Miller of that township, lot 25, concession 7, has left at the EXAMINER Office a sample of the extraordinary productiveness of a single grain of winter wheat. From this single grain the large number of 70 distinct straws "stooled" out, each straw bearing a well developed head of wheat, the heads containing on an average 35 grains. This would make the yield from a single kernel 2,450 grains. A 100 fold is considered a good yield, but 2,450 fold is beyond all precedent. The straw was over five feet in height. This extraordinary growth and yield was from the virgin soil of a new plot of ground. The curious may see the little forest of stalks that grew from a single grain of wheat at this office. It is well worth seeing.

A GOOD WORD FOR CHEMONG PARK.

A Tribute from Miss Fitzgibbon.

Miss Mary Agnes Fitzgibbbon, the well know authoress and propagandiste of the historical interests of Canada, writes to a friend in town from Chemong Park, where she is spending a few pleasant days: No doubt if it were possible to consult Miss Fitzgibbon, she would not object to the publication of the following:

"I found this a delightful place—the scent of the pines a grand tonic, the hotel well kept, comfortable and quiet, the proprietor and his people most attentive, and an excellent table. Peterborough is fortunate in having so fine a health resort within easy reach."

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy, as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,
Signed, MR. & MRS. CLARK, Victoria St.,
Glencoe, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

TRAIN WENT THROUGH BRIDGE.

Six Persons Killed and Three Others Seriously Injured.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 18.—A train on the railway running from Union Bay to Union Colliery, Comox, broke through the bridge, killing six persons and seriously injuring three others.

A span of the Trent River bridge gave way when the first loaded train of twenty cars crossed at 8 a.m., plunging them and their human freight 120 feet into the river. Nine people were aboard at the time. Five of these were killed, three seriously injured and one escaped without injury.

Following are the killed: Alfred Walker, engineer; Alex. Mulado, brakeman; William Work, train hand; two Japs, names unknown.

Richard Nightingale of Nanaimo, who was working under the bridge at the time of the accident, was instantly killed, being pinned down in shallow water with a heavy car. Hugh Grant, wireman, had his leg broken and was otherwise badly injured. Three passengers from Victoria—T. Grant, Miss Horne and Miss Grieves—were seriously injured.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

Turquoise and Topas.

Who could wish for a prettier stone than the delicate blue turquoise, the gem which in Russia is set in every engagement ring and with which the wearer must never part if she values the love and fidelity of the giver? It is said to be far more precious if given and not bought and is credited to change color when the wearer is sick or sorry or when danger is near. Its meaning is success and faithfulness.

The topas is much valued by mariners, because it is supposed to possess an inner radiance which will give light in darkness, and if worn around the neck will act as a charm against magic spells, will banish melancholy and calm terror and madness. Therefore it behooves every maid to see that a topas is among her possessions.—Chicago News.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

ONTARIO CROP BULLETIN.

The August Report as Compiled by the Department of Agriculture—Phenomenal Yield of Wheat.

Toronto, Aug. 18.—The following are the crop estimates of the present year, as compiled by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. The acreage is final, but the yield of grain will be revised in November from actual threshing results:

Fall Wheat.—1,048,183 acres, yield 25,305,890 bushels, an average of 24.1 bushels per acre. In 1897 950,222 acres gave 23,988,051 bushels, an average of 25.2 bushels per acre. The average for the sixteen years 1882-97 was 891,144 acres, giving 18,022,748 bushels, being an average of 20.2 bushels per acre. The acreage this year is the largest since 1883, when 1,097,210 acres yielded only 10.6 bushels per acre. The largest crops of the past sixteen years were in 1884, 20,717,631 bushels, in 1891 21,873,488. In 1892 20,492,497 bushels, and in 1897 23,988,051 bushels. The yield of 1898, therefore, promises to be the largest recorded by the department since 1883. The big increase this year is partly due to the fact that only 25,159 acres were plowed up this spring, as against 55,477 in 1897. On the basis of acreage, yield and quality the Ontario fall wheat crop of 1898 may be set down as the best since 1883 at least.

Spring Wheat.—Spring wheat has an area of 889,205 acres, yielding 6,714,516 bushels, an average of 17.3 bushels per acre. In 1897 823,805 acres gave 4,868,101 bushels, or 15.1 bushels per acre. The crop this year is the largest since 1891, in which year 510,634 acres gave 10,711,538 bushels, or 21.0 bushels per acre.

Barley.—438,784 acres give 12,048,245 bushels, or 27.5 bushels per acre. In 1897 451,515 acres gave 12,021,779 bushels, or 26.6 bushels per acre. The acreage has fallen steadily since 1890, when 701,326 acres were sown, but the yield of the past four years has been about stationary.

Oats.—2,876,866 acres promise a yield of 82,182,026 bushels, being 34.5 bushels per acre. In 1897 2,482,491 acres gave 86,318,128 bushels, or 35.5 bushels per acre. In 1896 the yield was about 83,000,000 bushels, and in 1895 84,700,000 bushels. The great increase in recent years may be seen from the following statement of the sixteen years: 1,875,240 acres giving 64,476,051 bushels, or 34.4 bushels per acre.

Rye.—165,089 acres give 2,683,828 bushels, being 16.3 bushels per acre. In 1897 187,785 acres gave 3,382,005 bushels, or 18.0 bushels per acre. The average of the sixteen years was 16.2 bushels.

Peas.—865,961 acres give 15,681,782 bushels, or 18.1 bushels per acre. In 1897 896,735 acres gave 13,867,093 bushels, or 15.5 bushels per acre. The average for the sixteen years' period was 19.9 bushels per acre. The total crop of 1891 was 18,800,000 bushels, that of 1896 17,500,000 bushels.

Beans.—45,920 acres give 831,698 bushels, being 18.4 bushels per acre. In 1897 50,591 acres gave 981,840 bushels, being 19.4 bushels per acre. The largest yield was in 1893, when 72,747 acres gave 1,414,988 bushels, being 20.5 bushels per acre.

Hay and Clover.—2,458 503 acres yield 4,399 063 tons, being 1.79 tons per acre. This is an increase over 1897 of 587,545 tons, and over 1,000,000 tons above the average of 1882-97. The largest previous yields were as follows: 4,305,915 tons in 1890; 4,384,838 in 1892; 4,963,557 in 1893. The yield per acre has been equalled only once in the past ten years, in 1893. This report on hay and clover is final.

Other Crops.—In regard to other crops, acreage alone can be given at present. Corn for husking has fallen from 335,030 acres in 1897 to 330,748 in 1898; silo corn from 209,005 in 1897 to 189,948 acres in 1898. Buckwheat is 150,394 acres, and potatoes 169,946—both practically the same as last year. Mangels increase from 41,175 in 1897 to 47,923 in 1898; carrots from 12,025 to 12,418, and turnips from 149,336 to 151,601. Rape shows 36,551 acres, as against 31,905 in 1897. Flax drops from 16,240 acres to 10,720 acres. Hops decline from 1,688 to 1,423 acres, and sorghum from 1,175 to 904 acres. Tobacco was reported in 1897 as covering only 785 acres; this year 7,871 acres are reported, of which 5,086 acres are in Essex and 2,140 in Kent.

Live Stock on Hand.—The numbers of live stock are for the 1st of July in each year. Horses were as follows: 611,241 in 1898; 613,670 in 1897; 624,749 in 1896. Cattle: 2,215,948 in 1898; 2,102,326 in 1897, and 2,181,958 in 1896. Milch cows show an increase of 25,000 in the past year, and store cattle a decrease of 20,000. Oxen have dropped from 3,411 in 1896 to 1,780 in 1898. Sheep were 1,677,014 in 1898; 1,690,350 in 1897, and 1,849,348 in 1896. Swine made a remarkable increase from 1,969,681 in 1898 and 1,284,963 in 1897 to 1,642,787 in 1898. There is an increase of no less than 325,000 in young swine over last year. Poultry are 9,084,473 in 1898; 8,435,841 in 1897, and 7,784,167 in 1896. Every class shows an increase.

Live Stock Sold.—The figures are for the twelve months preceding July 1st in each year. Horses are about the same as in the previous two years, 44,404. Cattle are 552,485 in 1898, 508,007 in 1897, and 436,451 in 1896. Sheep show a decrease—666,876 in 1896 to 72,872 in 1897, and to 674,939 in 1898. Swine sold have increased from 1,304,359 in 1896, and 1,559,967 in 1897 to 1,592,697 in 1898. Poultry show a slight increase over the previous year—3,072,767 in 1898; 2,965,231 in 1897, and 2,711,771 in 1896.

The wool clip was 5,104,686 pounds, as compared with 5,139,984 in 1897. There are 190,080 colonies of bees in Ontario.

MOTHER, SAVE YOUR CHILD

Summer Complaint and Cholera Infantum blot out many a little life.

The only safe and reliable remedy that mothers can always depend upon is

An Ontario Mother saved her Baby 13 years ago.

KEEPS IT FOR HER BABY NOW

I wish to state that 13 years ago my little daughter Fanny was so very sick with summer complaint that I thought she was going to die. I hardly knew what to do for her when my sister-in-law Mrs. J. Kay, of Norland, told me to procure a bottle of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, as her husband always kept it in the house to use himself.

I got a bottle and started giving the medicine to my little girl. I have read of things being "worth their weight in gold" but never did I know of any medicine to which that expression could be truly applied but Dr. Fowler's Extract. It certainly worked wonders and I often tell people I don't believe Fanny would be alive to-day except for Dr. Fowler's Wild Strawberry and God's help.

I have a little baby, Hugh, five months old, and I always keep a bottle of the Strawberry in the house ready to give him if he should be taken ill with diarrhœa, as I don't consider we would be safe without it.

MRS. JOHN WARD,
Bolsover, Ont.

A Nova Scotia Mother Speaks.

During the past summer my little boy was dangerously ill with diarrhœa. He grew very weak so that he could hardly stand. I noticed Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry advertised so I concluded to try it. He mended immediately after taking it so that in a few days he was well as ever. I shall never be without it in my house as I consider it the most valuable medicine made.

MRS. DANIEL SMITH,
Lunenburg, N.S.

A Manitoba Mother's Opinion.

I think Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is the best medicine that was ever made for diarrhœa, dysentery, and summer complaint. It is the best thing to give children when they are teething. I have always used it in our family and it has never failed.

MRS. CHAS. SMITH,
Shoal Lake, Man.

A Quebec Mother's Statement.

I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in our family for the past ten years with every satisfaction. In all cases of diarrhœa, dysentery, and summer complaint of children or adults it never failed to give instant relief and we would not care to be without it in the house, especially during the fruit season.

MRS. H. RITTER,
Mount Pleasant Village, Que.

For over 40 years now Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry has been recognized everywhere as the only safe and reliable remedy for the cure of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Colic and Summer Complaint of children or adults.

We would warn the public against accepting any substitute or imitation, many of these are positively dangerous. See that the full name "Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry" is on every package you buy. Sold everywhere at 35c. a bottle.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,390.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, sue policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

"Is She Your Daughter?"

Have you a young daughter just at the age when young girls most need a mother's loving care? Is she physically strong and well or does she suffer from any weakness of the delicate organism which most intimately concerns her womanhood?

If so, you understand her suffering better than anyone else can. You know that such troubles, unless remedied, mean a life of incapacity and wretchedness for her. You appreciate her reluctance to undergo physician's "examinations" and "treatments;" and you will be glad of assurance from the most eminent medical authorities in this country that in nineteen cases out of twenty these mortifying methods are absolutely unnecessary.

Any mother who will write about her daughters case, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N.Y., will receive free of cost the best professional advice obtainable, and instructions whereby a complete cure may, in nearly every instance, be effected by simple, common-sense home methods.

No living physician has a wider practical experience or a higher reputation in the treatment of diseases peculiar to women than Dr. Pierce. His "Favorite Prescription" is the only proprietary remedy ever designed by an educated authorized physician specifically to cure women's diseases. His great 1000-page illustrated book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," is of priceless value to every mother. It will be sent absolutely free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of customs and mailing only. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., or, send 50 stamps for a heavy, cloth-bound copy.

THE CRYSTAL HOUR.

Amethyst, crimson and beryl,
A splendor of infinite sea,
In fathomless floods of beauty and peril
From the deeps of eternity.

With stately reverberant motion
And the breakers' whish and din,
The ceaseless anthem of turbulent ocean,
The surf comes rolling in.

While dim in the distance hover
The sea birds, a white winged fleet,
And exhausted waves, their ecstasy over,
Make ripple marks at our feet.

Soothed is the flush and the fever
Of earthly passion and power,
And the rested heart shall treasure forever
The touch of this crystal hour.

BREAD OF THE NATIONS.

How the Staff of Life Is Made Among Various Peoples.

It is a curious and interesting study to compare the various materials which serve the different nations of the world as the basis of their bread. In this country, where good bread, made from spring and fall wheat flour, is within reach of all, rarely a thought is given to the fact that, after all, the inhabitants of only a small portion of the earth's surface enjoy such food. In the remoter part of Sweden the poor make and bake their rye bread twice a year and store the loaves away, so that eventually they are as hard as bricks.

Farther north still bread is made from barley and oats. In Lapland oats, with the inner bark of the pine, are used. The two together, well ground and mixed, are made into large, flat cakes, cooked in a pan over a fire. In dreary Kamchatka pine or birch bark by itself, well macerated, pounded and baked, frequently constitutes the whole of the native bread food. The Icelander scrapes the "Iceland moss" off the rocks and grinds it into flour, which serves both for bread and for puddings.

In some parts of Siberia, China and other eastern countries a fairly palatable bread is made from buckwheat. In parts of Italy chestnuts are cooked, ground into meal and used for making bread. Durra, a variety of the millet, is much used in the countries of India, Egypt, Arabia and Asia Minor for making bread. Rice bread is the staple food of the Chinese, Japanese and a large portion of the inhabitants of India.

In Persia the bread is made from rice, flour and milk; it is called "lawash." The Persian oven is built in the ground, about the size of a barrel. The sides are smooth mason work. The fire is built at the bottom and kept burning until the walls or sides of the oven are thoroughly heated. Enough dough to form a sheet about one foot wide and about two feet long is thrown on the bench and rolled until about as thin as sole leather, then it is taken up and tossed and rolled from one arm to the other and flung on the board and slapped on the side of the oven. It takes only a few moments to bake and when baked it is spread out to cool. This bread is cheap (1 cent a sheet); it is sweet and nourishing.

A specimen of the "hunger bread" from Armenia is made of clover seed, flax or linseed meal, mixed with edible grass. In the Molucca islands, the starchy pith of the sago palm furnishes a white, floury meal. This is made up into flat, oblong loaves, which are baked in curious little ovens, each being divided into oblong cells to receive the loaves.

Bread is also made of roots in some parts of Africa and South America. It is made from manioc tubers. These roots are a deadly poison if eaten in the raw state, but make a good food if properly prepared. To prepare it for bread the roots are souked for several days in water, thus washing out the poison. The fibers are picked out, dried and ground into flour. This is mixed with milk, if obtainable; if not, water is used. The dough is formed into little round loaves and baked in hot ashes or dried in the sun.—Sanitary Record.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

Cost of Elephants.

It is somewhat interesting to compare the weights carried by elephants in the tin producing districts of the Malay peninsula with those used in the long journeys and mountainous country of the Lao states. In the peninsula the distances are seldom more than at most three or four days' march, and the elephant is expected to carry as much as 900 or 1,000 pounds, besides his mahout and howdah. The latter is often a mere brace of panniers slung together so as to rest one on each side of the backbone and covered sometimes with a light barrel roof of bark. A good tusker carrying 9½ hundredweight will fetch about £56, and a female which can bear eight hundredweight is worth about £45.

In the Lao states, where journeys of ten days or three weeks are frequent, the average weight hardly exceeds 300 pounds, or one-third of what is usual in the peninsula. The prices in various parts of the country vary considerably. When we were on the Me Kawug and in Muang Nan in 1893, a good tusker could be had for £32 and a female for £24. At Chieng Mai, where good teak hauling elephants are in great demand, a tusker may fetch £150 and a female anything from £50 to £100, according to her strength and ability.—Geographical Journal.

An Ontario Farmer Rescued by Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

Gentlemen,—It is with very great pleasure that I testify to the value of your great medicine, Paine's Celery Compound. For nearly two years I suffered from indigestion and kidney and liver troubles. After trying several medicines that did not effect a cure I decided to try your compound. Before using I was so low in health that I could not eat or sleep. I could not lie in bed owing to pain in my back, and it was only by resting on my elbows and knees that I was enabled to obtain a slight degree of ease. Before I had fully taken one bottle of your medicine I began to improve. I have now taken in all fourteen bottles with grand results. I am a farmer and am now working every day. I am a living witness to the worth of Paine's Celery Compound.

Yours sincerely,
G. J. SMYE,
Sheffield, Ont.

HID THEIR CHARITY.

The Good Samaritan, as Played by Dr. Gannett and Bishop de Cheverus.

The Rev. Dr. Gannett on one occasion spoke in words of the most sincere admiration of M. de Cheverus, the first Roman bishop of Boston, says C. F. B. Miel in The Atlantic. He told me this story:

Abandoned in a miserable cabin outside of Boston was an infirm negro. The bishop found him out, and without informing any one every evening after his day's duties quietly made his way to the cabin and spent his time with this afflicted creature, washing and dressing his sores, making his bed and providing for his various wants. A servant, who remarked that on the bishop's return his coat was covered with dust and feathers, wondered where his master went, and followed him afar off on one of his excursions. Looking between the loose timbers which made the wall of the cabin, he saw the man of God engaged in his work of mercy.

Dr. Gannett told me this story with a kind of admiration for such devotion on the part of a prelate. Little did he suppose that I myself would surprise him in the exercise of a no less humble and Christlike charity.

I had been told that a certain German teacher, Professor Sherb, was lying ill in a cold and comfortless attic in a miserable quarter of the city, and had no one to take care of him. At my first free moment I sought the lodging of this poor man, but Dr. Gannett was there before me. I found him at the door with a broom in his hand, with which he had been sweeping the room of the invalid. I entered and found the sick man sitting up in front of a newly lighted fire, carefully rolled up in a blanket, eating grapes which had been brought him by the good Samaritan. The mattress had been removed from the bed, the sheets had been put out to air, the meager furnishings of the room had been put in order, and all this by the hand of my excellent friend, who appeared quite confused when caught in the act.

Owls In Chicago.

Chicago has a novel trade in owls, the supply coming to the commission merchants from the farmers' boys in the nearby states.

The first owl which came to Chicago in this manner was sent as a venture by a farmer boy, who had somehow managed to entrap it alive. It proved so unexpectedly successful in ridding the warehouse of rats and mice—having been freed at night with the idea of making an experiment in this direction—that it was purchased by the man in whose care it was resting. The freedom from rodents which it brought induced other commission men to look out for owls, and from the commission firms the idea gradually spread to the grocers, butchers and market keepers generally of the city. Now a large percentage of these men keep an owl down in the cellar during the daylight and bring it up to the store when darkness falls. It is said that the expense and care of maintaining owls are more than repaid by their services in vanquishing the rats and mice. The owners and janitors of the large apartment houses in the city are also beginning to realize the value of possessing an owl when rats, mice, cockroaches and vermin generally are to be exterminated.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Picking Pockets With Toes.

The gauchos, or dwellers in the extensive plains of Buenos Ayres, are marvelously dexterous with both hands and feet. Many of them have acquired through long practice such skill in using their toes as if they were fingers that they can fling the lasso and even pick pockets with them. Some time ago a Frenchman who was fishing in one of the rivers of Buenos Ayres was warned to be on his guard against the light fingered natives. He forthwith kept a vigilant watch on his companions, but nevertheless one day, when his attention was closely riveted on his float, a wily gaucho drew near, and, delicately inserting his foot, extracted, the Frenchman's hooks and other valuables from his pocket.—Boston Transcript.

—George Brown, a farm labourer, was allowed to go this morning, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, after spending the night in the cells.

—A correspondent wants to know the origin of the phrase "he isn't in it." It was first used by an editor who died and went to heaven and looked for the man who took his paper and then refused to pay for it.

—Mr. Jas. Holland, of Hastings, is missing. When last seen he wore a black felt hat, black blue coat and pants, and brown check shirt, had a weak eye, occasionally wearing a covering over it. He was about 55 years of age.

—Mr. Harry Peters, of Old Havelock, met with an accident on Saturday afternoon last, which might have proved fatal. He was caught between the wheel of a traction engine and a wall, while at Mr. R. Stacey's. He was severely bruised.

—Rev. P. Clifton Parker, of First Avenue church, Toronto, formerly pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, will preach the Sunday school anniversary services in the Park street Baptist church at three services, 11 a. m., 3 and 7 p. m. The school was established ten years ago during Rev. Mr. Parker's pastorate.

—An exchange says: "Cucumbers are a complexion beautifier and something very inexpensive for the toilet. To make cucumber cream, remove the soft parts from two or three cucumbers and warm sufficiently to make it squeeze through a colander. To half a teaspoonful of this add a teaspoonful of glycerine and five drops of salicylic acid. Both the latter are preservatives, but if the glycerine does not agree with the skin, the salicylic acid alone will be sufficient. Add a few drops of any perfume and the preparation is ready for use. Rub gently on the face before retiring at night.

LACROSSE.

The lacrosse club has lost money steadily all year and at present the finances are in such shape that it is hard to say whether the team will be able to finish the season in the C.L.A. In none of the league games was there a sufficient amount taken in at the gate to pay the expenses of the Peterboroughs when they went to play the return match. Whilst enough was taken in to pay the Tecumsehs when they came to town there was not sufficient over to pay for the advertising of the game. With such a team as Peterborough has this year it would be a shame if they have to drop out of the league for want of financial backing. At present the club has an empty exchequer with no visible way of being able to purchase the tickets for the team to go to Toronto and play Orillia on the 30th. It is to be hoped if an appeal is made to the citizens that a generous response will be made to help the boys out of the difficulty.

The challenge of the Campbellford team cannot be accepted unless the local juniors turn out more regularly to practice.

CRICKET.

Chesterfield, Eng., Aug. 19.—In the cricket match between Yorkshire and Derbyshire, which began here yesterday, Brown and Tunnicliffe, for Yorkshire, made the sensational score of 554 before the partnership was dissolved to-day. This is the world's record for first class cricket, the previous record being 398. The pair went in first yesterday, and batted all day long, the score at the close being 503. This morning Tunnicliffe mode his score 243 before he was dismissed, and Brown was not out with a score of 293 and 19 extras. Brown soon followed, having totalled 200.

To compile this score the men would have to run a distance of 6¾ miles. The foregoing record is unprecedented, though this same pair established a record last year. The "Yorkshire Giant" and the Yorkshire "Little 'Un" made in a match against Surrey, 378 for the first wicket, which stood at the head of the list till the Surrey one of 379 a month or so later.

THE TURF.

The second day of the Ingalls Park meeting was attended by 5,000 persons. The weather was cool and pleasant and the track in excellent condition and extremely fast, as evidenced by the fact that Star Pointer was started to beat the track record of 2.02¾, and the stallion paced the mile in 1.59¼. The time by quarters was as follows:—30½, 1.00¼ 1.29½, 1.59¼. This performance stamps Pointer as the greatest horse of the century, this being the second time that he has beat two minutes this year.

KEENE ITEMS.

Miss Maggie Foley, of Marmora, who has been visiting friends in Keene the past three weeks, has returned home.

Miss Anne Heffernan, of Peterborough, is visiting her uncle, Mr. P. Bolan.

School re-opened for the winter term with a fair attendance. Mr. T. J. Wallace is principal, and Miss Maggie Campbell, assistant.

Mr. Wm. Drummond's handsome new brick residence, station road, is nearing completion.

Careless campers are responsible for a serious bush fire that has destroyed the beautiful grove along the river bank at Sandy's Landing, and threatens the farm buildings and fences of Mr. George Eason and Mr. H. Newton in the vicinity. A careful watch has to be kept to prevent the fire spreading.

Master White of Orillia wheeled down from that town to Keene. He is visiting at Mr. T Wedlock's.

A Keene gentleman was wheeling to town on Thursday evening. About three miles out of the village his tire received a puncture. He was a man of ready resources, however, and conceived, and speedily carried out, the ida of stuffing the collapsed periphery of his wheel with hay, and thus safely made the trip to town. No charge is made for this pointer, which is not copyrighted, and may serve the purpose of some luckless wayfarer on his wheel.

Killed in the Grand Trunk Yard.

Windsor, Aug. 20.—At 8.30 yesterday morning William E. Jeffery, a switchman, was run over and fatally injured in the Grand Trunk yard here. He fell in front of two moving cars while preparing to make a coupling, and both passed over him, mangling him badly.

The Leahy Family Jonahed.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—Calamity still overhangs the Leahy family. About nine months ago Patrick Leahy and four children were burned to death in their home here. A short time afterward a fifth child died from burns received in the fire. A month ago Mrs. Leahy also died, leaving two children behind her, and yesterday morning one of the remaining children expired. A boy six years of age alone remains of a family of nine.

Scratched CONSTANTLY

Baby Badly Afflicted with Eczema. Hands, Face, and Clothes Covered with Blood.

Face Covered with Large Sores. Medical Treatment Useless. Cured by Cuticura.

SKIN NOW SMOOTH AND ROSY.

My niece's little baby boy, two years old, was so badly afflicted with Eczema that he needed constant watching. It was all over his face, and he scratched the sores constantly. Mornings, his clothes would be stained with blood, and his face and hands would be covered. His family never could take him out, as his face was always full of large sores. They had medical treatment, and tried everything they heard of. She commenced using the CUTICURA REMEDIES last spring and found that at last she had a wonderful healer. The sores left his face and he was entirely cured, and now his face is as smooth and rosy as though no sore had ever been there to mar it. MRS. L. J. ROOT, Feb. 16, 1898. New Scotland, N. Y.

NOT HEART DISEASE

But Dyspepsia is the Cause of "Stitch in the Side," etc.

Why Many People Think They Have Heart Disease—How Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Correct That Idea by Curing the Cause.

Thousands of cases of so-called "Heart Disease" are nothing more or less than a certain form of Dyspepsia.

The victim is afflicted with pain, or "stitch" in the side, palpitation of the heart, or painful shortness of breath, after running, walking fast or other exertion.

These are always looked on symtoms of Heart Disease.

But they are not necessarily so.

They are generally due to a much simpler cause.

In certain forms of Dyspepsia the stomach distends, or swells, after meals.

This is because it is unable to digest the food which accumulates, forming a hard mass. When fresh food is taken, the walls of the stomach are forced outward and upward, to make the extra room needed.

Soon this distention, or swelling becomes so great that the space in which the heart throbs is encroached upon.

The result is that the heart cannot work properly—its beat is shortened, as you would shorten the swing of a clock pendulum, by decreasing the space in which it moves.

Then palpitation, which is simply the short, rapid throbbing of the heart, follows.

The other symptoms named are due to this cause also.

Cure that case of Dyspepsia, and the so-called "Heart Disease" disappears.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only remedy known that can effect this result.

They cure Dyspepsia by digesting the food. The stomach, freed of its unnatural load, returns to its naturul size, the pressure is taken from the heart—and all is well.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by all druggists, at fifty cents a box, six boxes $2.50, or sent, on receipt of price, by The Dodds Medicine Co., Limited, Toronto.

A FARMER'S EVIDENCE.

Proves That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Only Cure for Diabetes.

St. Thomas, Aug. 15—Diabetes has carried off many of our valued and worthy citizens, of late years.

Many others would have been killed by that dread disease, if Dodd's Kidney Pills had not been used.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved many precious lives in our city, and are daily adding to the list.

Mr. M. Hollern, a farmer living near St. Thomas tells what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for him.

"I suffered horribly from Diabetes. All the remedies I took were useless, till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me quickly and thoroughly."

There is no case of Diabetes that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure. Try them, and be convinced.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders are easy to take, harmless in action and sure to cure any headache in from 5 to 20 minutes.

A DEATHBED CONFESSION.

Dying Woman Says Her Husband Fired His Employer's Barns.

Bolton, Ont., Aug. 20.—Last summer the barn and crops of Mr. Isaac Bowes, Albion township, were destroyed by fire and several of his cattle were poisoned about the same time. The guilty party was not detected. This week a young woman, a daughter of John Bowes of Albion, who was married some few years ago to a man named Charles Spofford, has confessed that her husband fired the barn and poisoned the cattle. Mrs. Spofford's husband was working for Isaac Bowes at the time. He afterward rented a farm, but threw it up this summer, deserting his wife, and his address is not now known. Mrs. Spofford is seriously ill and not expected to recover, hence the confession. She has kept silent until now because of threats made by her husband against her life.

A MOMENTOUS ISSUE.

England and Russia to Come to a Decision This Week.

PEACE OR WAR IN THE BALANCE

Lord Salisbury, Having Ascertained That China Does Not Object to Dismemberment, Will Hold Russia to a Sphere of Influence Carefully Delimited—British Fleet Ready for the Bear's Decision.

London, Aug. 22.—The New York Post's correspondent telegraphs to his paper the following: We may expect next week to hear that England and Russia have come to a decision as to their future relations, but the nature of the decision, peace or war, to-day hangs in the balance.

I hear on excellent authority that Lord Salisbury has at last decided that, since China does not object to dismemberment, it is idle for England to attempt to save her from that fate. Lord Salisbury falls back, therefore, on spheres of influence, carefully delimited. If Russia refuses to bind herself to remain within the limits agreed upon, she must take the consequences.

The British fleet is ready at this moment for all eventualities. Officers on leave have been warned to hold themselves ready to rejoin their ships on summons.

In the meantime Salisbury is awaiting Russia's decision, but Russia has not yet made up her mind.

Men who are in a position to know what is afoot are confident that Russia will climb down and accept Salisbury's terms, basing their confidence on their expert knowledge that Russia will not be ready for a conflict for three years at least.

A well-known Englishman, long resident of St. Petersburg, says that the Spanish-American war, coming so soon and unexpectedly after the Chinese-Japanese war, has upset Russia's plans in the far East entirely. The advent of a nascent great power at Manila on friendly terms with England has created consternation among the military advisers of the Czar, who urge European intervention, and hope that the disputes between Spanish and American delegates to the Paris Peace Conference will yet afford an opportunity for it. Men who know Sagasta well say that he reckons upon this, and that Austrian influence, against Count Goluchowski's urgent advice, is prompting him to this course.

The Advance on Khartoum.

London, Aug. 22.—Sir Herbert Kitchener's advance on Khartoum is conducted with clockwork. Khalifa has withdrawn from his entrenchments at Shabluka Cataract, but the War Office here is confident that he will fight at Omdurman. The country is rising behind him and he dare not now retreat.

BISMARCK'S WILL.

The Old Chancellor Left a Good Deal More Than First Reported.

Berlin, Aug. 22.—A Dantzig paper publishes an outline of Prince Bismarck's will. The paper asserts that the estate amounts to 20,000,000 marks, although it was sworn at 3,000,000.

Count William Bismarck inherits the Pomeranian estate, with the exception of Rheinfeld, which Prince Herbert Bismarck gets. Prince Herbert also receives the valuables deposited in the Bleichroders Bank, estimated at 1,000,000 marks, for which he pays Count William 300 marks. Countess Von Rantzau receives 900,000 marks, and each of Count William's three daughters gets 100,000 marks.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

Australian Premiers Met and Decided That They Would Chip In.

Sydney, N.S.W., Aug. 22.—Right Hon. Sir Hugh Muir Nelson, Premier of Queensland; Right Hon. Sir George H. Reid, Premier of New South Wales, and Right Hon. Sir George Turner, Premier of Victoria, met in conference on Saturday, and discussed the plans for a Pacific cable. They decided to make the definite offer that if Great Britain and Canada, collectively, would guarantee five-ninths of the cost of laying the new cable, they would recommend to their respective Legislatures to contribute one-ninth each, asking New Zealand to contribute the remaining one-ninth.

The Pope Held a Reception.

Rome, Aug. 22.—The Pope yesterday held a reception in honor of his saint's day. Many prelates, nobles and representatives of Catholic associations were in attendance. His Holiness appeared to be in good health and spirits, and in spite of the length of the reception, which lasted an hour and a half, showed no signs of fatigue. He was the recipient of a large number of gifts.

Is the Rate War Nearly Over?

London, Aug. 22.—The London Financial Times, in its editorial column, considers that the heavy purchases of Grand Trunk and Canadian Pacific stock by Montrealers seem to indicate that the rate war is settled, or at least points to a settlement of the trouble in the near future.

Her Majesty Will Honor Them.

London, Aug. 22.—The London correspondent of the Aberdeen Journal says that Hon. William Mulock, Postmaster-General of Canada, will be knighted, and that Mr. J. Henniker Heaton, M.P., so well known as an advocate of penny postage, will be made a peer.

To Exhibit the Princess Chimay.

London Aug. 22.—Alfred Aarons, the theatrical manager of New York, is now negotiating with the Princess Chimay for an American engagement. Manager Aarons offers $2,500 a week ago, Mme. Rigo is holding out for $500 a day. Manager Aarons is determined to take her to New York even at her own terms.

Lord Mayor Not Coming.

London, Aug. 22.—The contemplated visit to the United States and Canada of the Lord Mayor of London, Lieut.-Col. Horatio David Davies, which had already been postponed, is finally abandoned owing to the continued illness of the Lady Mayoress.

HONORS OF WAR

Accorded to the Spanish Forces at Manila by the Terms of the Capitulation—The Terms.

Washington, Aug. 22.—Gen. Merritt's cablegram gives the terms of capitulation. It shows that the Spanish, by express terms, surrendered the city and defences of Manila and its suburbs, together with the Spanish forces stationed therein. The Spanish are permitted to retire with the honors of war.

Terms of Capitulation.

Following are the terms of the capitulation:

1. The Spanish troops, European and native, capitulate with the city and defences, with all honors of war, depositing their arms in the places designated by the authorities of the United States, remaining in the quarters designated and under the orders of their officers and subject to the control of the aforesaid U. S. authorities until the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the two belligerent nations. All persons included in the capitulation remain at liberty, the officers remaining in their respective homes, which shall be respected as long as they observe the regulations prescribed for their Government and the laws in force.

2. Officers shall retain their side arms, horses and private property. All public horses and public property of all kinds shall be turned over to staff officers designated by the United States.

3. Complete returns in duplicate of men by organizations and full lists of public property and stores shall be rendered to the United States within ten days from this date.

4. All questions relating to the repatriation of the officers and men of the Spanish forces and of their families and of the expenses which said repatriation may occasion shall be referred to the Government of the United States at Washington. Spanish families may leave Manila at any time convenient to them. The return of the arms surrendered by the Spanish forces shall take place when they evacuate the city, and when the American army enters.

5. Officers and men included in the capitulation shall be supplied by the United States according to their rank, with rations and necessary aid as though they were prisoners of war, until the conclusion of a treaty of peace between the United States and Spain. All the funds in the Spanish treasury and all other public funds shall be turned over to the authorities of the United States.

6.—This city, its inhabitants, its churches and religious worship, its educational establishments and its private property of all description are placed under the special safeguard of the faith and honor of the American army.

(Signed) Merritt.

TWO SERIOUS BICYCLE ACCIDENTS.

An Ottawa Barber and a Manotick Farmer Probably Fatally Injured.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—There were two bicycle accidents on Saturday, which will probably prove fatal. William E. Charbonneau, a barber, while wheeling, collided with a milkman's rig. He had his chest bone broken into five pieces, the vessels and arteries of his chest ruptured, and the veins about his heart severely injured. He is now lying between life and death at his residence.

Peter Cavanagh, a farmer from Manotick, while rushing to catch a street car, was run into by Alfred Templeton, a bicyclist. Cavanagh was thrown to the asphalt pavement and he is now in a precarious condition, suffering from concussion of the brain.

Mr. Leighton McCarthy Gets It.

Toronto, Aug. 22.—The McCarthyite convention in North Simcoe will be held at Stayner on Aug. 31, when Mr. Leighton McCarthy will be given the unanimous nomination. It is understood that Mr. McCarthy will not be opposed by either the Conservatives or the Government.

An Oft-Tried Foolish Act.

Windsor, Ont., Aug. 22.—John Feenan of Chatham attempted to jump from a train three miles east of Windsor last night, and was badly injured in his head and one hand. The hand was amputated. He will recover.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

American Commissioners Arrive at Quebec.

THE SESSION MAY BE LONG.

An Adjournment, to Enable Visitors to Settle Their Canadian Homes, Probable—The Cases Well Prepared—Canada's Trade With the British Markets—The Discussion May Be General.

Quebec, Aug. 22.—Mr. Dingley, Senator Gray, Mr. Coolidge and Sir James Winter are the only members of the International Conference who are not already in town awaiting the opening. The American commissioners have evidently come prepared for a long stay. Senator Fairbanks has his family with him, and it is understood that before the end of the week there will be a considerable accession of ladies to the diplomatic colony. The ordinary tide of American travel in the vicinity of Quebec reaches its height in the last week of August, but the conference will undoubtedly result in lengthening the season. It is understood that if there is no serious objection from the British commissioners the American representatives will suggest an adjournment for a few days to enable them to get settled down in their temporary home.

Cases Well Prepared.

There is little need of adjournment for purposes of preparation for the work of the conference. On both sides everything possible has been done to gather the necessary data. The American commissioners did a good deal of work at Washington, and they have at hand plenty of expert assistance, even the messenger of the American commissioners, a colored brother, is an expert in his department and comes from the office of the Secretary of State. The Canadian staff is not so elaborate as the American, but it is composed of men possessing most detailed knowledge of the subjects to be considered. The work of preparation has entailed immense labor. It was a matter of importance, for example, to prove to the American commissioners the truth of the assertion that while our imports from the United States are largely increasing the expansion of our export trade is chiefly toward England, and that therefore the American market is becoming less important to us relatively than ours is to the United States. In establishing this trade returns have been carefully prepared showing the exact position of affairs, and no less than 38 printers have been kept busy at Ottawa on the work turned out by the trade department officials. It has unfortunately been found impossible to gather in detail the results of the year ending on June 30, 1898, during the greater part of which the Dingley tariff was in operation.

The British Market.

The general statement, however, shows that the expansion of our exports last year was far greater in proportion than was the expansion of the exports of the United States, and that Great Britain is absorbing a larger percentage year by year. Even in the case of forest products, the largest market for which has heretofore been found in the United States, the statistics prove that Great Britain is steadily increasing its demand, which in 1897-98 was far greater in volume than that of the United States. The decline in lumber purchases by the United States was due, no doubt, in part to the Dingley bill and to the congestion of the market with lumber sent in duty free before the bill became law, but it is believed to be due in part also to the increasing competition of southern red pine, which is out under very favorable conditions. It is regarded as probable that exports of spruce and spruce pulp for paper-making, a raw material in which the United States is decidedly deficient, will be a subject of close examination during the discussion of reciprocity. It must not be forgotten, however, that Mr. Dingley is from Maine and that Maine has still spruce to sell.

A General Discussion.

As to the time at which the various questions coming before the commissioners will be considered there can be no certainty, and deputations desiring to place their views before the representatives of their country will find it difficult to so arrange their visit that the subject they are interested in will be under discussion while the deputation are in the city. The commissioners will in all probability not attempt to take up each subject and discuss it without interruption until a conclusion is reached. Sir Wilfrid Laurier thinks it will facilitate affairs to pass from one subject to another and consider the situation as a whole before making a decision on any one question. In the making of a treaty in which so much give and take is necessary this seems to be the only course open.

Sir James Winter Coming.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 22.—Sir James Winter, Premier of Newfoundland, left to-night for North Sydney, en route to Quebec, to attend the international conference there next week. Premier Winter will arrive in Quebec at noon on Wednesday, and he has arranged with Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Dominion Premier, that nothing positive shall be done until his arrival.

Shot in the Body.

Hamilton, Aug. 22.—Arthur, the 7-year-old son of Mr. Charles Raymond, reporter on the Herald, this city, was shot in the stomach Sunday morning at Mr Raymond's home in Guelph. The boy was flourishing a revolver, when it went off and the bullet lodged in his body. Mr. Raymond happened to be visiting his family at the time. It is feared the shooting will end fatally.

CANADIAN BUTTER IN ENGLAND.

No better evidence of the success of the cold storage system instituted by the Dominion Department of Agriculture could be wished for than that furnished by the improvement of the Canadian export butter trade. This year the reports have been numerous of the Canadian article selling for as high a price in England as the Danish, which has heretofore had its own way in the market. Naturally this betterment of price has caused an increased activity in production, as is evidenced by the heavy shipments from Montreal. In the week ending Aug. 13th there were shipped from Montreal 9,523 packages, while in the same week last year the total was 4,079 packages. This improvement has been going on steadily for nearly two months, the result being that the total shipments to date aggregate 71,552 packages, against 57,449 last year, a very gratifying improvement. More especially is this true in view of the fact that American shipments are falling off noticeably. In the week ending July 23rd only 900 packages were shipped from New York, as against 9,619 from Montreal. It is quite probable that, owing to a sound business policy being set in operation by the Department of Agriculture, one which covers every operation from the farm yard to the consumer's table, Canada may soon do in the butter trade what has already been done in the cheese trade, displace all rivals in the British market, and build up a trade worth fifteen or twenty millions annually. The movement is all in that direction.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A KINGSTON lady is reported as having given birth to four living children. This is a literal fulfilment of the Divine command to increase and multiply and replenish the earth?

"ON our side men like Lord Herschell and Sir Wilfrid Laurier represent a singularly powerful equipment of statesmanship," says the London Chronicle referring to the approaching conference at Quebec.

MR. WHITNEY, in his mock heroic vein, expects the Government to trust the people, and he shows his trust of them by a stupid attempt to deprive 3,000 of them of the right to vote, which they have enjoyed half a century.

SIR ADOLPHE CARON, ex-Postmaster-General, says he approved of the idea of reduced Imperial postage long ago, but "could not see how Canada could bear the cost of it." Of course, remarks the Montreal Herald, Sir Adolphe Caron could not. And as a matter of fact Canada could not bear the cost, at one and the same time, of Sir Adolphe and Imperial penny postage. The difference between the Postmasters-General of the old administration and Mr. Mulock is that while they preferred to pension their party friends on the department, Mr. Mulock has inaugurated a system of strict economy and efficiency.

There is no doubt whatever that the Honourable Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, and Professor Robertson, Commissioner of Agriculture for Canada, are doing a good and patriotic work for the Dominion in England.—Quebec Chronicle.

This is, the Ottawa Free Press suggests, surely, as "flat burglary" as ever was committed. The Chronicle is a Conservative paper. How dare a Conservative paper say anything of the kind? It ought to be read out of the party—and perhaps will be. Has it not the fear of Sir Charles Tupper before its eyes? Has it forgotten how that statesman deals with those who presume to differ from him. Remember the New Brunswickers and tremble Chronicle.

THE BRAIN AND LONGEVITY.

In endeavouring to discover the secret of longevity, how to live to a ripe old age in the full enjoyment of all the senses—feeling sight, hearing, smell and taste, mankind eagerly devours everything written by the known great and great unknown. Recently, the British Blue Book furnished statistics designed to show that the tota. abstainer is a plum for insurance companies, whereas it is claimed by equally good authorities, and proved by examples that the man who drinks "the usual loyal and patriotic toasts," even in port of ancient vintage, is an equally good risk, and is not by an occasional obeisance to Bacchus courting an early death from cirrhosis of the liver. Total abstinence as a means of prolonging life seemed to be beyond question, although the appearance of its votaries does not always commend them to medical examiners, until another writer on longevity declared "the use of cold water to any great extent is bad."

Now we are confronted with another difficulty in the road to a proper understanding of how to live without upsetting some of the cherished beliefs of those who prepare mortality tables or without shattering the statistics submitted annually by those who classify the causes of death. Sir James Crichton-Browne has stated in a lecture that medical men, adapting themselves to the needs of the time" (how charmingly plaint the physician can be in humouring his patients) had felt it incumbent on them to insist mainly on the misuse of the brain and the excessive strain too often put on it; but, he added, that there were also great evils attendant upon the disuse of the brain. He, Sir James Crichton-Browne, knew no surer way of inducing mental decay than for a man of active habits to retire and do nothing when just past the zenith of life; and on the other hand, he knew no safer road to a green old age than to keep on working at something till the close.

He referred to Galileo, who lived to seventy-eight, Newton to eighty-five, Franklin to eighty-five, Buffon to eighty, Farnday to seventy-six, Brewster to eighty-four years in harness and with unimpaired powers. He declared that hard-working judges habitually lived to a ripe old age, and were more exempt from dotage than any other class of the community.

Although the great majority of men are compelled by stern necessity to keep on working until grim death appears, it is a relief to be assured by so good an authority as Sir James Crichton-Browne, that what is defined in dictionaries as "the whitish, soft mass which constitutes the anterior or cephalic extremity of the nervous system in man and other vertebrates" may be used by any citizen of active habits so long as life lasts.

It is moderation by which this world stands, and, when we have learned this gracious lesson of moderation in all things, we have mastered the great secret of longevity, and distanced Rasselas in the search for happiness.

TRIUMPH FOR OUR BUTTER.

Cheering news for Canadian farmers comes from Great Britain. Big British dealers now assert that they are able to sell Canadian butter at as high a price as has hitherto been obtained for the Danish product, which has ruled the roost for years. Canadian butter is really excellent value, the English expert says, and it is the most profitable article on the market to-day, the packing and general get-up being highly complimentary to our shippers. This very high commendation is, of course, only extended to first grade butter; there is still marketed in Canada much butter that resembles the consistency of axle grease. Now that the lesson has been learned, that for well-made butter, properly put up, a good, paying price will always be paid, there should be a constant endeavour on the part of our farmers to improve and to maintain the standard of their dairy products. Let it not be forgotten that it is about as easy to produce a first-class article as a poor one, and very much more profitable.

CABINET COMPLETE.

The New Ministers Gazetted and the Premier Receives a Deputation—Pacific Coast Briefs.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 22.—The appointments are gazetted of Hon. Messrs. Semlin, Cotton and Martin, as Chief Commissioner of Lands and Works, Minister of Finance and Agriculture, and Attorney-General respectively, also of Hon. R. E. McKechnie, M.D., as a member of the Executive Council. Mr. Cotton has also been appointed acting Minister of Mines until further notice, while Mr. Joseph Martin is acting Provincial Secretary and will attend to all matters arising under the Public Schools Act till further orders.

Already the new Government has had its experience of deputations. A deputation appointed by the Victoria Board of Trade waited upon Hon. Mr. Semlin, the Premier, and urged upon him the importance of appointing a British Columbia representative at the Quebec Conference. The Government had the subject under consideration, but was not yet prepared to give any definite answer.

Pacific Coast Briefs.

Messrs. W. McKenzie and D. D. Mann, the well-known railway contractors, arrived in Vancouver on Friday by the Pacific express. It is understood that Mr. McKenzie is here on railway matters.

The salmon canners will finally decide on Tuesday whether or no they will ask the Dominion Minister of Fisheries to grant an extension of the sockeye salmon season.

With regard to the pack, the latest available information is that the 48 canneries on the Fraser have less than 200,000 cases. An estimate of the Columbia River salmon pack up to Aug. 10 places the amount up to 375,000 cases.

Though the fish outlook is bad on the coast, other industries appear to be enjoying an unusually good season. The fruit prospects are very good, and home-grown apples, plums etc., are being placed on the market in good shape and quantity.

The steamer Manuenz has been libelled at the suit of Mr. Cook, who claims $7,000 for breach of contract and expenses, caused, he alleges, by the failure of the owners of the vessel to land him at Dawson.

The Cabinet Completed.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 22. — It is officially announced by the News-Advertiser of Saturday morning that the swearing in of J. H. Hume, M.P.P., as Provincial Secretary, completes the arrangement of the different portfolios in the new Cabinet. Hon. Mr. Hume represents Kootenay in the Ministry.

MARKETS FOR SEVEN DAYS.

Wheat Futures Still Continue Depressed—An Unprecedented Decrease in the Visible—The Latest Prices.

Saturday Evening, Aug. 20.

The speculative wheat markets on both sides of the Atlantic have been characterized by some irregularity this week, but they have on the whole shown a sagging tendency—and this in face of an unprecedented depletion of stocks and a marked reluctance on the part of farmers to bring forward their new crop. How low old stocks have fallen may be judged from the statement that the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States a week ago was only 6,887,000 bushels, and that next Monday's statistics are expected to indicate a further shrinkage of over 3,000,000 bushels. This last reduction will make the visible some 6,000,000 bushels below the previous lowest record, and there are only two points on this continent where stocks exceed the half-million mark, viz., Minneapolis and Duluth.

In the above conditions and in the very large incoming crop are to be seen the reasons for the present premium in cash and early deliveries over the September and December options. Chicago traders who are bulls on near-by deliveries maintain a bearish attitude towards next month's and the more remote options.

It is pointed out, however, that farmers are showing an unusual reluctance to market their new crop, and that unless the volume of shipments phenomenally increases there will be an active scramble for wheat before the end of September, and a consequent advance in prices. The farming community with the year's big crop seem to hold the key of the situation largely in their own hands.

THE TRADE OF CANADA

Total Exports and Imports Exceed $300,000,000.

THE BALANCE IS FAVORABLE.

Our Trade Relations With Great Britain —A Decrease in Our Exports to the United States Offset by an Increase of Our Products Sent to Great Britain.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—The trade figures for the year just ended are available in a sufficiently detailed form to show not only the increasing volume of Canada's business with the outer world, but the tendency of her commerce towards certain countries and the lines in which development is taking place. The returns give Canadians abundant cause to feel satisfied with the progress which is being made, not only on account of the tremendous increase in the aggregate trade of the country, but in the fact that our commercial relations with Great Britain are rapidly broadening. The total trade of Canada, taking into consideration all imports and exports, including coin and bullion, and making allowance for the estimated amount short returned at inland ports of goods taken to the United States from Canada, reaches the enormous sum of $304,091,720, as against $257,168,862, making an increase for the fiscal year just closed of $46,922,858. We imported during the year $140,305,950 and exported $159,485,770, by which it will be seen that there was a favorable balance of trade of almost $30,000,000.

Trade With Great Britain.

During the year just closed we took from Great Britain goods to the value of $39,897,000, as against $29,398,000 for 1897. For home consumption we took from Great Britain $23,398,000, as against $20,401,000 in 1897, $22,824,000 in 1896, $21,059 000 in 1895, $27,685,000 in 1894 and $42,829,000 in 1893. It will be observed that while our exports to Great Britain have increased there has not been a proportionate increase in imports from the mother country, but this state of things will be corrected by the operation of the British preferential tariff, which is now in full force. While we took from Great Britain $39,897,000 worth, we sent her $104,787,000 worth, there being a balance in our favor of $71,960,000, a condition which is reversed in our trade with the United States. Despite tariff barriers we took from the United States $80,587,000 worth and sent them in return $41,128,000 worth, there being an adverse balance in our trade with the republic of $45,464,000. The United States sent us a large quantity of raw material for manufacturing purposes, and kept out by high duties our exportable surplus of agricultural products and manufactures, so that we are obliged to find a market in free trade England and other countries for our goods. The effect of Dingleyism is seen in the fact that there has been an actual decrease in our exports to the United States as compared with 1897 of $811,000. Great Britain took from us $63,664,000 worth of goods more than the United States imported from Canada, and we purchased of the goods of Great Britain $53,760,000 less than we received from the United States, and this in the face of the fact that Great Britain admits our exports free of duty, while the United States raises against them a tariff wall so high that it is only because of the inexorable demands of trade that we are able to surmount it.

Ran Past the Semaphore.

Ingersoll, Ont., Aug. 22.—A collision took place in the yards of the Grand Trunk Railway at this place Saturday evening, between express train No. 5, going west, and a through freight special, loaded with Chicago meat. The freight engine is a complete wreck and the passenger engine is partially wrecked. Several cars of meat were ditched. The fireman of the passenger engine was slightly injured, scratched about the head. Traffic was delayed six hours. The wreck was caused by the passenger train passing a semaphore while full against it. Many of the passengers were shaken up, but no one was hurt.

A RAILWAY WRECK.

Five Known to Have Been Killed—A Number Injured—Later Account Says 40 Victims.

Canton, Mass., Aug. 22.—Word was received at 7.30 last night of a fearful railroad accident at Sharon, on the New York, New Haven & Hartford road, and an urgent request was made for physicians and undertakers' wagons.

Telescoped the Rear Cars.

Sharon, Mass., Aug. 22.—In the darkness and terrible excitement, little headway appears to be made in clearing away the wreckage to determine the loss of life and limb.

The accident is now explained as follows: The first section of a train from Mansfield, called the Mansfield local, was due to arrive here at 7.15. It got in 13 minutes late and had just stopped when the New Bedford train came in on time and crashed into the rear of the local, telescoping the rear cars.

MISSING MR. PAMBRUM.

Business Affairs in Good Shape and Home Relations Happy—Have New York Thugs Got Him?

Winnipeg, Aug. 22.—An afternoon paper says that W. H. Pambrum, manager of the Bank of Hochelaga in this town, has disappeared, leaving no trace of his whereabouts. He arrived in New York from England on June 4 and forwarded his baggage, which arrived all right, but he himself did not arrive at the time specified in his letter. It is understood that the disappearance is entirely inexplicable, as there was nothing whatever to warrant it. His business affairs are in good shape, and his home relations most happy. He carried a large amount of insurance on his life, but no action can be taken until something definite is learned of what happened to him. In the meantime his wife and family are suffering the most intense suspense on account of having no trace of him.

Campbellton, N.B., Aug. 22.—Supreme Court of Bonaventure is sitting at New Carlisle, and the case of Theodule Poirier of St. Alexis is being tried on a charge of murder. On April 3 last Theodule Poirier of St. Alexis de Metapedia, County of Bonaventure, stabbed and killed Jerome Martin about 10 o'clock at night. In a dispute between the two, young Martin struck Poirier and in return Poirier stabbed him in the neck, severing an artery. Death was almost instantaneous. Poirier is about 20 years old. A true bill was rendered by the grand jurors. The trial will begin to-day.

British Steamer Went Down.

Falmouth, England, Aug. 22.—The British steamer Toledo, Capt. Wishart, which sailed from Galveston on July 20 for Rotterdam, struck on Grim Rock, Scilly Islands, Saturday night in a dense fog, and foundered almost immediately in 25 fathoms of water. There was just time to launch a boat, and all were saved, many clad in their night clothes.

Particulars of the sad drowning of Rev. W. G. Lyon, Anglican missionary to the Klondike on June 24, have been received at Kingston. His canoe was swamped and himself and servant were drowned.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

The Opening Attraction.

Kelly & Mason, two unctious comedians, will open the Opera House Wednesday evening, Aug. 24, in a new comedy of a complicated nature, "Who is Who." There is a happy combination of the humourous and the serious that runs all through the piece, and every word and action counts for something in unravelling a very intricate plot. The great liking for music, song and dance by the general public will not be overlooked by Kelly & Mason. Besides their own fetching singing and talking specialty; Goggin & Davis, the best of acrobatic dancers; Eddie Giguere and Blanche Boyer, sketch artists and warblers; and the sisters Whiting, cornet duettists, there will be two taking specialties by eight pretty girls, entitled "We Flirt with the Man in the Moon" and the "Saucy Typewriters." A German Saengerfest by the gentlemen of the company will also be another of the big specialty numbers. 1d

C. P. R. WASHOUT.

The Trains Had to Run Over the Grand Trunk Line Between Here and Toronto.

A terrific rainstorm in the shape of a cloudburst, which took place yesterday afternoon between Agincourt and Locust Hill, completely tied up traffic over the C.P.R. line between here and Toronto until this morning.

The east bound C.P.R. midnight express reached Peterborough last night over the Grand Trunk rails, and from this point went on east over the C. P. R. The early morning express from the east was transferred to the Grand Trunk rails here, and went on to Toronto via Port Hope. By the time the 7.10 a.m. local went through the washout had been temporarily repaired.

When the way-freight passed through yesterday afternoon at four o'clock the conductor stated that the rails were two feet under water when he passed the point at which the washout occurred.

Paragraphs Picked Up and Pencilled for Public Perusal.

—No session of the police court this morning.

—It is rumoured that Duncan is not the only Peterborough man implicated in the issue of bogus money.

—There was not a quorum present at the meeting called of the Street and Bridge Committee on Saturday evening.

—The eighteenth session of the Synod of Canada meets in Montreal on Sept. 14th. Among the delegates from this diocese are Rev. H. Symonds and Ven. Archdeacon Allen, Millbrook.

—Mr. R. M. Roy has a number of views of the recent Stony Lake regatta, taken with his panoramic camera, on view at his studio. The photos are excellent ones, and are novel from the fact of the extremely wide angle of the lens.

—Citizens who have had occasion to drive through the country of late say they never before saw so much grain stored in stacks. Barns are packed full, yet most of the farmers have from one to three stacks in addition. One farmer, we are informed, threshed for three days from one stack, and has the barn yet to attack. The threshers will turn many an honest dollar this season.

—There is a good deal of truth in the following remarks from an exchange:—A nation can declare war and murder thousands of innocent people who have done it no injury; but an individual must not strike with his empty hand or he will be dragged before a judge. A nation can act like a common hoodlum and retain its "national honour," but an individual must carefully guard every act if he wishes to maintain his reputation."

PROHIBITION AND THE PLEBISCITE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR—I would like to ask a number of questions through your valuable paper about prohibition. I know there are many who will feel prepared to answer me, but I want nothing but good, sound arguments and convincing facts. Nothing less will be of value, and as I am not the only one interested in this all absorbing question, I alone will not be the judge as to the efficiency of the answer. There are three classes looking on at the time—those interested in the liquor traffic and those who do not particularly care for liquor nor do they see the needs of prohibition. The first mentioned are made up of several conditions of people. First, those who have directly suffered through strong drink. Second, those who have been made to suffer through this traffic; and third, that class of citizens who are convinced that the liquor traffic is a curse and not a blessing to society. Now, we are all aware that these first mentioned people—the friends of prohibition—are prepared to give us a reason for their position on this question, and that after remembering the loss of revenue they argue that they are prepared to pay this revenue in some way other than to lend their aid to the liquor traffic. Now they are not looking at this from a financial standpoint, but from the position of the most good for the country. Now these prohibitionists claim that the results of the liquor traffic cost too much for the paltry revenue derived therefrom. Health, life and property are suffering too greatly as the consequences of drunkenness for them to consider the loss of the liquor revenue. Now the second class—the friends of the liquor traffic must meet these arguments, and how are they going to, and with their answers remains the convincing of the prohibitionist that they are wrong, and the unconcerned that they should support the traffic. Now, what I want answered is, "What good has whisky, beer and rum drinking done for us?" I also want some facts proving that the use of strong drink is worthy of a place in our society. Making the revenue more valuable to us than the results of the liquor traffic are injurious. I also want some facts as to why a national prohibitory liquor law will not be effectual. Now, do not want the threadbare Maine liquor law as a sample, for we are aware that there are two opinions on this. The temperance Christian members of society in that State say the Maine law is a blessing to society, while the rumseller, distiller and man whose capital is invested in the liquor traffic say it is a failure. We know all this; leave us to believe who we will. You say Dr. Grant, of Kingston University, says prohibition is not workable. Yes; granted. But the General Assembly of his own church in Montreal voted almost to a man against the learned doctor and you or I would blush to have the meagre following he had on the question if the learned doctor did not. You have evidence enough in your large town to either convince us that you in the liquor traffic are right or that you have a bad cause and no sound reasons why prohibition should not carry. Let us hear from you.

Yours,
PROHIBITIONIST.

THE CONTRACT LET.

AT ST. PETER'S CATHEDRAL.

Two Practical Sermons by Rev. Father Cassidy, S.J., of New York.

Yesterday the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary was observed in St. Peter's Cathedral. At the 8 o'clock and 10 30 o'clock masses Rev. Father Cassidy, of New York City, a member of the Jesuit Order, preached two eloquent sermons appropriate to the occasion. He chose his text from the Book of Ecclesiastics. xxiv., 11 20. The sermon was an eloquent and scholarly discourse on the virtues of the mother of God, who was honoured more than all the angels and saints, although of an inferior nature to theirs. The Feast of the Assumption was an occasion in which the angels rejoiced, because it was the day of her joy and triumph. She is the source of all grandeur and power possessed by her Son, and she was favoured above all the saints on account of the merits of her beloved Son, and honoured on account of her nearness to God. Rev. Father Cassidy pointed to the life of Mary and the many incidents connected therewith as an example to his hearer to emulate and follow. The sermon was a beautiful word picture of the purity of life of the mother of God.

THE ARCHDIOCESE OF KINGSTON.

A Successor to the Late Archbishop Cleary Not Yet Appointed.

The last issue of the Catholic Register contains the following in reference to the appointment of a successor to the late Archbishop Cleary:—"Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, is now the senior bishop of the ecclesiastical province of Kingston. Newspaper reports published more than a week stated that a successor to the late Dr. Cleary had been appointed to the vacant See of Kingston, but there would be some delay in making the announcement. The unexpected death of Archbishop Walsh was mentioned in connection with this reported delay as a possible cause. The absence of Dr. O'Connor would in itself be sufficient explanation why no announcement could be made, as it would be his duty to open any letter expected to arrive or that may have come from Rome. We desire simply to offer a correction of the newspaper reports to this extent, without any reference whatever to the proportion of accuracy or error they may have contained. If they had any foundation the announcement of the filling of the Kingston diocese will not be longer delayed, as the Bishop of Peterborough is not a man who allows important business of any nature to wait."

INFORMATION WANTED

Concerning the Late Isabella Valancy Crawford.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am desirous of obtaining some information concerning the late gifted Isabella Valancy Crawford, whose untimely death removed from us one of brightest stars in the galaxy of Canadian writers. It has seemed to me, as to many others, a matter of regret that Miss Crawford's little volume of verse, "Old Spooks' Pass," should have been allowed to go out of print. I hope some Canadian publisher will have the enterprise to reissue the volume. I have learned that Miss Crawford resided for some time with her father, the late Stephen Crawford, M.D. I should be glad to hear from any of the readers of the EXAMINER, who may remember the family, and can give me information concerning them.

Yours truly,
E. S. CASWELL,

LIVE STOCK NOTES.

Last week Mr. H. P. Kennedy made a total shipment of 15 cars of live stock. The principle part of this stock was feeding steers and light stockers, four cars being shipped to Buffalo, 6 cars to Toronto, and 5 cars (consisting of 221 light cattle) being shipped to Iowa, part of this shipment being purchased in Toronto, as Mr. Kennedy says he finds it hard to get stock in the sections he has been buying in suitable lots for his customers.

Mr. Kennedy intends being in the market all fall buying these light feeding cattle, and in order to thoroughly understand the class of stock required he is going to spend a couple of weeks travelling in the Western States.

PARK ST. SUNDAY SCHOOL TENTH ANNIVERSARY.

SPECIAL SERVICES WERE HELD YESTERDAY.

Rev. P. C. Parker, of Toronto, Delivered Three Sermons During the Day—An Historical Sketch of the School.

The Park street Baptist Sunday school celebrated its tenth anniversary yesterday by special services appropriate to the occasion. Rev. P. C. Parker, of First Avenue church, Toronto, who was pastor of Murray street church when the school was organized, was present, and preached morning and evening to large and appreciative congregations, and also addressed a large gathering of the Sunday school and its friends in the afternoon. A very pretty floral offering was made by the children, which was sent to-day to the hospital. Miss M. Mann read the subjoined historical sketch.

This Sabbath School, which to-day enters on its second decade, was organized on the second Sunday of August, 1888.

Some time previous to this the late Rev. Alex. Grant, who was then superintendent of Home Missions, while taking a walk in the south end of the town along with the then pastor of the Murray street church, Rev. P. C. Parker, said to Mr. Parker: "Here is a good place for a mission." Very shortly after this, on the suggestion of Mr. Parker, those interested residing in the South Ward, met on the above date in the brick building known as situated on the north side of Dalhousie street, between Rubidge and Stuart streets, to begin the work we to-day review.

Mr. R. J. Kidd was elected superintendent, and Mr. E. Mann secretary-treasurer, with the following as teachers: William Stock, Miss Maggie Mann, Miss Lily Minore, Mr. E. A. Kemp, Mr. and Mrs. Cuckoo and Mrs. Fitzgerald. The attendance the first Sunday was 20. There was a gradual and steady increase in attendance week by week. The school from the very beginning was self-sustaining. On the 24th January, 1890, the first social was held, which has since become an annual affair, being held on or about the same date each year. From reports read the school was shown to be in a flourishing condition. The receipts from all sources for the year was shown to be $127.60. Shortly after this the school was called on to lose its first secretary, Mr. W. E. Mann, who removed to British Columbia, and also the pastoral care of Rev. Mr. Parker, who removed to Toronto to his present charge. The second annual social was held 3rd Feb., 1891, Mr. Hy. Grundy, superintendent, presiding. From reports read we glean the fact that the school reached during the year the average being fifty-five, with a staff of of nine teachers.

The librarian, Mr. Milton Minore, reported 278 volumes in the library. During the year the school came into possession of a legacy bequeathed by the late Mrs. Charlotte J. Nicholls, amounting to $500.

At the third annual social in February, 1892, and the last in the old building on Dalhousie street, progress was reported although much hampered by accommodations.

The largest attendance during the year was 90. At this meeting Rev. J.E. Trotter, of Murray street, was present and gave an address. The sum of $170, out of the Nicholls bequest, was expended at this time in the lot we are at present located on, and during the summer of 1892 a building was erected which forms the main part of our present edifice.

This began a new era in the school's history. Increased accommodation and a more favourable locality gave a decided impetus to the work. The opening services were held on the second Sunday in Oct. 1892. The pastor, Rev. John Trotter, preached taking for his text the 31st verse of the 3rd chapter of Judges. In the afternoon the Rev. John Craig, a returned missionary from India, and also Mr. Trotter addressed a large gathering, and an offering was taken in aid of Foreign Missions. Mr. Craig also preached in the evening, taking for his text, Gen. 43, 2.

On Monday evening following an opening tea was given in the new building at which addresses were given by resident clergymen and the late lamented Rev. H. J. Ware, who was then pastor of the Lindsay church.

In January, 1893, Mr. Grundy resigned his position as superintendent and Miss M. Mann, our present superintendent, was unanimously elected in his place. During this year the highest attendance reached 116 and the lowest 75, with an average of 96. This year Rev. J. J. Reeves, of McMaster University, was engaged for the summer months to work in the field. His faithful labours were of great help to the school and quite a number of the scholars were brought to know the Lord Jesus as Saviour. A very great advance was made in 1894. Bro. W. J. Pady, of McMaster University, laboured in the field, and his services in the Sunday school

WERE GREATLY BLESSED.

By his efforts a large number who attended no school were induced to join ours and the attendance mounted up to 142. During this year a goodly number of the scholars were brought to Christ, of whom 10 were added to the church by baptism. In 1895 and 1896 both showed progress, especially the latter year, when the attendance reached its highest point, 201, with an average of 168. During this year twenty-eight from the school were baptised and added to the church. Brother Jas. Chapman, now of Collingwood, spent the summer in the field and his assistance in the school was of great benefit. Of the last two years we need not particularize. Their history is of too recent date to review. Suffice to say under our present beloved pastor, Rev. O. C. Elliott, they

ALSO SHOW PROSPERITY.

Our hearts have been cheered from time to time by seeing many from the school giving themselves to the Lord Jesus Christ. We can truly say, "The Lord has done great things for us whereof we are glad." Since the organization of the church three years ago, 54 have been baptized. Of this number 45 were from the Sunday school. Large numbers have gone forth to carry blessing to other localities and other climes. The great Northwest, British Columbia, the Western States and far away California hold to-day many who in our school were brought to Jesus or were here first drafted into Christian service, and there are labouring as preachers, superintendents and teachers. "To Him be the praise."

What of the future decade whose threshold we have just crossed? It is kindly veiled, and yet we have our Father's promise, "Lo I am with you alway," and unhesitating we step forward, knowing that "in due season we shall reap if we faint not.

Go, labour on; enough while here;
If He shall praise thee, if He deign
Thy willing heart to mark and cheer,
No toil for Him shall be in vain.

The church choir, under the leadership of Mr. J. Steers, and also the Sunday school contributed special music. One piece in the morning entitled "Sing to the Lord with grateful hearts," being especially fine.

LACROSSE.

Lacrosse practice Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings. It is requested that all the players turn out.

The Peterboroughs will have to enter the senior series before the intermediate series are completed. When the schedule of matches was drawn up it was thought that the intermediate series would be finished early enough in the season to allow the club to afterwards enter the senior series. This not being the case, the Peterboroughs will have to begin playing in the senior series on Thursday next, when they go to Orillia for the first game. This game will not in any way affect the match on the 30th in Toronto, when the two clubs play off their tie in the intermediate series.

Jack Mein, who broke a small bone in his ankle in the match against the Tecumsehs, will soon be out on the field again.

The Rochester Democrat of the 20th says:

The lacrosse game between the Canadian team from Peterborough and the Rangers, of this city, at Culver field, may not have been a revelation to the majority of the 400 people who witnessed it; to those who were seeing the famous Indian sport for the first time it was an introduction to a pastime full of possibilities, strikingly picturesque and intensely exciting.

A comparatively unknown game wherein the essential points can be grasped so quickly and which yet has the power to bring the spectators to their feet and hold their interest throughout an hour and a half of actual play and several intermissions, is a novelty to those blase with the general run of contests in the world athletic, and speaks for itself.

The game yesterday was open, of course, as every one would expect lacrosse to be, even before having seen a game. The close play and the intricate formations which characterize the American game of football, and which veils its finest points to all except those of trained eye and familiarity gained by having played it, were absent. Every spectator could see every player, the distinctive colouring of the airy clothing revealing at once when Peterborough was rushing the ball to the Rochester goal and when the opposite was taking place. The fine team work in passing, which the visiting players displayed, was quickly comprehended and equally so was the skill in catching on the long lacrosse sticks, while the wind power necessary for the long runs at top speed, quickness on foot and coolness of head were all apparent even to the novice. The green sward at the field, which is in excellent shape, set off the game in fine style, against it showing the goal posts decorated with American flags and the Union Jack, the British flag on one set of posts, Uncle Sam's colours on the other. There was no suspicion of "slugging," as rough play with the sticks is called, the teams being on friendly terms, a condition which does not always prevail. The visitors excelled the local men in team work and passing, while they were under the command of their field captain at all times and his coaching was promptly obeyed. This is a feature of the play in which the Rangers have suffered from lack of a coach. But the Rangers are amateurs while the Peterborough team is ranked as a professional organization, and the Rochester lads played well to keep the score down to 4 to 2, the ultimate result. The excellent play of Surridge, in defense of the local goal, was responsible for this. But for him the Canadians would have scored oftener, as their ability to rush the ball down from their goal and harass the posts of the home team was in evidence from start to finish.

They started play at 4 20. At 4 30 the visitors scored their first goal, at 4 40 their second. At 5 Rochester made a goal and at 5 20 its second and last. At 5 35 Peterborough scored its third goal and at 5 55 its fourth. After each goal an intermission of ten minutes took place, according to the rules. The regular playing time is an hour and a half, exclusive of rests. Duncan attracted special notice among the home players by his excellent play. The positions were played as follows:

Peterborough,		Rangers.
Dobbin	goal	Surridge
Lynch	point	Bennett
Brown	cover point	Graham
Glover	1st defense	Howden
McDonough	2nd defense	Marshall
Rubige	3rd defense	Sharpe
King	centre	Dunlavey
Hogarth	3rd home	Brooks
McLabe	2nd home	Haugh
Phelan	1st home	Duncan
Lipsett	outside	Laird
Mooney	inside	Eleman
Dolan	field captain	Forster

The local team is highly delighted with its treatment at the hands of the Rochester boys, who could not do too much for them.

The Globe says: Decidedly the keenest and most interesting lacrosse match seen Toronto in many a day was that at Hanlan's Point Saturday, when the Dufferins, of Orangeville and the Elms-Tecumseh team met in the senior series of the Canadian Lacrosse Association. Both teams played good lacrosse, and there was but little rough work, though a couple of times Referee Stark had to send players to the fence temporarily. The score was a see-saw throughout and kept the spectators on edge to the very last moment. At four games it was two all, at six it was three all, and at eight it was four to 4. The ninth game settled the match, for but 15 seconds remained to play, and victory was with the Tecumseh Elms by five to four.

A feature of the match was the desperate an sustained attack of the local team on the Dufferin goal in the last four games. Orangeville put up a very stubborn defence, Dowling, Irwin and Kearns working like Trojans, and they saved the game over and over again. Snell played a useful game, though he was pretty roughly checked by Angus. Telford was another hardworking and useful man for the team.

For the local combination Fred Moran was the star and looks like developing into a player of the highest class. Kelly also performed brilliantly. The whole team worked together in splendid style and lasted out a very fast game to the finish. The match was such a good exhibition that another meeting between these two teams should fill every seat in the stands. The teams were:

Elms-Tecumsehs—(5)—Goal, Shoemaker; point, Patterson; cover point, Angus; defence, Read, Soules, Hartley; centre, Slattery; home, Moran, Kelly, Lennox; outside home, Kyle; inside, Greatrix; field captain, McIlroy.

Dufferins (4)—Goal, Fauquier; point, W. Dowling; cover point, Kearns; defense, Irwin, Menary, Claridge; centre, Telford; home field, F. Dowling, Hay, Carmichael; outfide home, Snell; inside, Henry; field captain, Dr. Henry.

Referee, W. J. Stark, of Stouffville. Umpires—G. R. Fish, of Orangeville, and Mack White, of Toronto. Timekeepers—Dr. Hunter, of Orangeville, and D. A. Rose, of Toronto.

Summary of games:

First — Elm-Tecumsehs, Greatrix, 9 minutes.

Second—Dufferins, Henry, ½ minute.

Third—Elms-Tecumseh, Lennox, 1½ minutes.

Fourth—Dufferins, Henry, 4½ minutes.

Fifth—Dufferins, Snell, 2½ minutes.

Sixth — Elms-Tecumseh, Kelly, 11 minutes.

Seventh—Elms-Tecumsehs, Greatrix, 10½ minutes.

Eighth—Dufferins, Henry, 13 minutes.

Ninth—Elms-Tecumsehs, Slattery, 17½ minutes.

THE DOUBLE HULL.

The Americans have taken the Seawanhaka cup incident extremely well. Their press is indeed lovingly adopting Canadians and all their works as American, and fraternally boasting about us. Some hotheads on the sailing committee of the Seawanhaka Club itself almost precipitated an impasse which would have left them in a most painful position by telegraphing to their representatives here to refuse all social invitations, intending thereby in the most insulting manner to put the stigma of chicanery on a race the terms of which had been formally accepted and which had been loyally and most pluckily run by their best sailor. Mr. Crane saved them from humiliation by refusing their advice. If the sailing of the 'Dominion' was open to be denounced as an ungentlemanly trick this should

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,
Signed, MR. & MRS. CLARK, Victoria St., Glencoe, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

Guelph, Aug. 20.—Mr. James Hutchson, City Engineer, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon about 2.30 o'clock. He was up some 50 feet in the old rolling mills to superintend the fixing of a block and tackle to take down railroad rails, and he fell to the floor below, alighting on his back. He was immediately taken to the General Hospital. He is quite conscious and no bones are broken. The only fear is for internal injuries, and it will take till to-day to discover if there are any.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

WHEAT OPTIONS DOWN.

And This Despite the Expected Decrease in the Visible Supply—Small Farmers' Deliveries—The Prices.

Friday Evening, Aug. 19.

Farmers' deliveries of new wheat continue very small, and next Monday's statistics are expected to show a decrease for the current week of over 1,000,000 bushels in the visible supply in Canada and the United States. Nevertheless, with the prospects of very large shipments to market later in the season, the market exhibits weakness. On the Chicago board to-day the August delivery receded 1½c, and the September and December options 1¼c and 1c, respectively. The close was at about bottom quotations.

On the Liverpool board to-day spot wheat declined ½d to 1d per cental, while the September and December future deliveries advanced ¾d and ½d per cental, respectively. Paris futures closed 5 centimes lower to 15 centimes higher for the day.

MURDER THE CHARGE.

Andre Riopelle Listens Sullkily to Damaging Testimony—Will Be Committed for Trial.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The preliminary examination of Andre and Louis Riopelle on the charge of complicity in the murder of Leon Boyer of Eardley is progressing in the Hull Court House. The deep interest manifested in the case is shown by the constantly increasing attendance, the court room, outside of the bar enclosure, being crowded at each session.

It is agreed that already sufficient testimony has been adduced to warrant the commitment of Andre Riopelle for trial in a higher court, on the serious indictment against him. But the most damaging evidence in the possession of the prosecution remains to follow.

The testimony of the physicians who conducted the autopsy on the body of Boyer will be to the effect that the man was murdered. The testimony so far has been wholly against Andre Riopelle, but the assiduity displayed by officers of the Crown has not been fruitless in so far as connecting Louis Riopelle with the occurrences on the eventful night of August 5.

Andre Riopelle follows the proceedings with an attitude of sulky indifference. He speaks to no one, not even to the counsel by whom he is so ably defended.

High Constable Groulx testified that the prisoner had made a statement to him of the circumstances attending Boyer's death which he had afterward satisfied himself to have been impossible. The defence took the objection that as the jury had brought in a verdict of accidental death the Crown could not bring in evidence to prove murder. This was refuted by the Crown, and the court rose before giving judgment.

H. A. Goyette, who is conducting the case for the Crown, said yesterday that the Crown were endeavoring to locate a witness who, it is alleged, was an eye-witness of Boyer's last hours. This witness is a Jew peddler, and is said to have told persons in the vicinity of Quoin that he saw the men fighting in the road at the place where the body was found.

Many of the vegetables in daily use on our dinner tables were known to very remote times. It is known, for instance, that asparagus was grown 200 years B. C., while lettuce was cultivated so far back as 550 B. C.

The statement is made that during the 97 years since the establishment of the state university of Georgia there have been only five deaths among the students.

TREMBLED LIKE A LEAF

A young lady prostrated with nervousness and heart trouble restored to perfect health by MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE PILLS.

THERE are too many pale faces, palpitating hearts, weak, nervous, run down constitutions among the young women of this generation. More nerve force, more rich blood, more vital energy for the heart is what they need, and Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills is the very remedy that meets all the requirements necessary to give them bounding health.

"To prove these statements we give an account of her daughter's cure, supplied us by Mrs. Jas. Scott, 221 Emerald Street, Hamilton, Ont.: "Five years ago my daughter had a severe spell of sickness and has been an invalid ever since. She had no strength and could not sleep at night, often having to sit in a rocking chair all night on account of the shortness of breath. She suffered greatly with pains in the heart as well as palpitation, and was very nervous and easily startled, so much so that any noise or excitement would make her tremble like a leaf.

"She commenced taking Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and has now taken three boxes in all. Constant improvement has been the record of this medicine in her case. She finds no difficulty in walking down town and back, something she was unable to do for many months. She sleeps well, eats well and is not troubled with the distressing shortness of breath which afflicted her before she took the pills. I am thankful we tried this valuable medicine as the results in my daughter's case have been gratifying in the highest degree." (Sgd.) Mrs Jas. Scott.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all druggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash.....	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for.....	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.	2,060 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endownment at the end of the Investment period.

When we read of a railroad wreck in which a hundred people are killed, we are filled with pity and horror. There are other dangers in this life a thousand times greater than that of the railroad wreck, only we do not have them brought so forcibly to our attention. Consumption does not kill a hundred people at once in one train. It does kill tens of thousands for every one that is killed by accident.

If a sufferer will resort to the right remedy before it is too late, consumption can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures 98 per cent. of all cases if taken in the earlier stages. It has maintained this record for thirty years. Many of those whom it has rescued from the verge of the grave have permitted their names, addresses, experiences and photographs to be printed in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This useful book is free, and any sufferer who wishes to investigate may procure it and write to those who were once sufferers themselves. For a paper covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N.Y. The "Golden Medical Discovery" is the great blood-maker and flesh-builder. It restores the lost appetite, corrects the impaired digestion, makes the liver active and the blood pure. Any medicine dealer who offers you something else said to be "just as good" is thinking about his pocketbook and not about your health.

"I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and 'Favorite Prescription' with wonderful results," writes Mrs. Annie M. Norman, of Equinunk, Wayne Co., Pa. "I had consumption; the doctors said I'd die. The 'Golden Medical Discovery' cured me."

"I MIND THE DAY."

I mind the day I'd wish I was a say gull flyin far,
For then I'd fly and find you in the west,
And I'd wish I was a little rose as sweet as roses are,
For then you'd maybe wear it on your breast,
Achray!
You'd maybe take and wear it on your breast.

I'd wish I could be livin near, to love you day and night,
To let no throuble touch you or annoy.
I'd wish I could be dyin here, to rise a spirit light,
So them above 'ud let me bring you joy,
Mavrone!
If them above 'ud let me win you joy.

And now I wish no wishes, nor ever fall a tear,
Nor take a thought beyont the way I'm led.
I mind the day that's overbye and bless the day that's here.
There be to come a day when we'll be dead,
Achray!
A longer, lighter day when we'll be dead.

BILINGUAL TELEPHONES.

A Story at the Expense of a Milwaukee Millionaire Brewer.

J. G. Nolen, who is an old timer in the electrical construction business, tells a story on "Val" Blatz, the millionaire brewer of Milwaukee.

"Our company had had some correspondence with Mr. Blatz regarding the putting in of a telephone plant in his big brewery establishment, and I was sent up to try to close a deal.

"I took a couple of phones with me in order to make a practical demonstration should one be required, and I went with the intention of making a sale.

"I got to talking with Mr. Blatz and showed him the advantage of putting in our intercommunicative system throughout his establishment. He listened attentively, and finally said:

"'Yes, that is all so; very true. But,' and he spoke with the conviction of one who was putting a poser, 'but my men down in the malthouse and the warehouses and cold storage are all Dutchmen.

"'I, myself, though a German and a graduate of Leipsic and Heidelberg, can speak English, but what would your telephones be to my Dutch workmen, who cannot speak English at all?'

"Well, I saw how the land lay. Old Val could not get it through his head that the telephone would transmit anything but the language of America. I was bound to make the deal, as I said before. So I remarked to Mr. Blatz:

"'I can put on some German receivers if you so desire. I have some with me.'

"I connected up the phones, made a show of changing the receivers, and in half an hour Mr. Blatz was talking to one of his Dutchmen down in the malthouse. He was delighted.

"'You may put them in,' he said, 'and I shall want one German one in the malthouse, one German one in each warehouse, English ones in my office and the business office and a German one in the cold storage house.'

"We closed the deal and Mr. Blatz was glad to pay $2 extra for each German enunciator we put in. When the phones were shipped from the factory, I had them labeled German and English respectively, and the big brewer was perfectly satisfied.

"It was five years before I saw Blatz again," concluded Mr. Nolen. "He recognized me at once and said with a hearty German laugh: 'You are the accommodating gentleman who put in the German and English telephones for me. Well, you are a good one.'"—Milwaukee Telephone.

A Negro Turning White.

A curiosity rarely witnessed in this country was seen at the office of the pension examiners in this city today. It was a negro man turning white. The man's name is Sam Smith. He is 67 years old and came here today from Georgetown to stand an examination for a pension, he having served in the Union army. More than three-fourths of the man's entire body is white, the skin fairer by far than that of the ordinary white man. The dark skin remaining on the body is only in small spots. Smith says that his skin began turning white in 1867, and the dark skin has been disappearing from the body ever since. The physicians who examined him today think that should the old man live a few years longer he will be entirely white save perhaps the face. A peculiar feature of the case is that the face has not been turning white along with the rest of the body, the white only showing at a few places beneath the hair on the forehead, and not on the face at all.—Lexington (Ky.) Letter in Cincinnati Enquirer.

To Examine the Eye.

If anything gets into your eye, don't rub it. Good advice, but a little difficult to follow, for one instinctively rubs the eye under these circumstances. Nevertheless, don't do so. Get some one to turn the upper eyelid gently over a thin penholder, so that he may see the ball of the eye thoroughly. If lime gets into the eye and if you see the substance at once, wash out the eye with vinegar to two parts of water. If, however, you don't see the particle immediately, simply put sweet oil or olive oil into the eye and send for the doctor.—New York Ledger.

A FARMER'S EVIDENCE.

Proves That Dodd's Kidney Pills are the Only Cure for Diabetes.

St. Thomas, Aug. 15—Diabetes has carried off many of our valued and worthy citizens, of late years.

Many others would have been killed by that dread disease, if Dodd's Kidney Pills had not been used.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have saved many precious lives in our city, and are daily adding to the list.

Mr. M. Hollern, a farmer living near St. Thomas tells what Dodd's Kidney Pills did for him.

"I suffered horribly from Diabetes. All the remedies I took were useless, till I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cured me quickly and thoroughly."

There is no case of Diabetes that Dodd's Kidney Pills will not cure. Try them, and be convinced.

ANIMAL ODDITIES.

The offensive weapon of the ostrich is his leg. He can kick as hard as a mule, and it is a remarkable fact that his kick is forward, never backward.

The elephant does not smell with his trunk. His olfactory nerves are contained in a single nostril, which is in the roof of the mouth near the front.

When the barn owl has a young family, it hunts diligently and brings to its nest about five mice in an hour. As both of the parent birds are actively employed both in the evening and at dawn, 40 mice a day is a low estimate for the total capture.

Butterflies, besides being inconstant and frivolous, are now said to be addicted excessively to drink. They will suck up moisture for an hour at a time. Entomologists assert that they do not need so much. It is the males alone who indulge in these copious libations while the females are away laying eggs.

Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Three Years in Bed.

From Kidney Disease—Although a Man of Three-Score and Ten, Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills gave him back perfect health.

This is to certify that I was sick in bed the most of the time for three years with kidney disease. I took several boxes of pills—different kinds—and a great many other kinds of patent medicines; besides that I was under treatment by four different doctors during the time and not able to work. I began to take Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and since that time have been working every day, although a man nearly 70 years of age. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me.

Blanco—Sogebal.

Aid (appearing in doorway)—Here, excellency.

Blanco—Did you send that urgent message to Cervera directing him to leave Santiago at all hazards?

Aid—Yes, excellency.

Blanco—Strange I hear nothing from him. I never met a man so obstinate. Instead of steaming out of the harbor he flies there with his hulks rotting. Have you any idea, Sogebal, why he does this?

Aid—I think, excellency, it is because he fears the Yankee fleet.

Blanco—Nonsense! Fear the Yankee fleet? Preposterous! Ha! ha! ha! What put that ridiculous idea in your head?

Aid—Admiral Cervera's actions, excellency.

Blanco—You are all wrong. I tell you it is pure obstinacy. He wants to cross me. He—what does that clattering horse mean?

Aid (looking out of the palace window)—It is a messenger, your excellency.

Blanco—See what he wants.

Aid (reappearing)—He brings news from Admiral Cervera, your excellency.

Blanco—Well, what's the old fox up to now?

Aid—He has left Santiago.

Blanco—Good!

Aid—With all his fleet.

Blanco—Good!

Aid—Steamed straight through the entrance.

Blanco—Good!

Aid—In accordance with your instructions.

Blanco—Good!

Aid—He—he left his flagship.

Blanco—Eh? What for?

Aid—He thought it wise to do so.

Blanco—Well, I suppose he knows his business. To which ship did he transfer?

Aid—To one of the Yankee ships, excellency.

Blanco—Wh-what's that? And the Spanish fleet?

Aid—There is no Spanish fleet, excellency.

THE ROYAL BOX.

The coming child of the Princess Helene of Aosta, if it prove to be a boy, stands a good chance of succeeding to the throne of Italy, as the Prince of Naples has as yet no children.

It is reported from The Hague that on the occasion of the coronation of Queen Wilhelmina several Dutch Indian princes are expected to be present at the festivities. The sultan of Siak, with a large suit, will attend.

When Emperor William wanted to order a motor car lately for the short distance between the new palace and the Wildpark station, a French design was shown him, which he is said to have rejected with the remark, "You cannot expect me to buy and use a foreign carriage here."

The Prince of Wales has taken a great fancy to a pretty little villa at Cannes, belonging to Comte St. Priest, and arrangements will probably be made so that his royal highness may become the owner. The maisonnette is of very modest dimensions, but charmingly situated and commanding lovely views.

Green Garnets.

Green garnets are more valuable than diamonds because they are so exceedingly rare. They are of an unsurpassed rich shade far beyond that of an emerald and are very brilliant. On the other hand, red garnets are so common that they cost next to nothing.

SPORTS AND PASTIMES.

have been done before the race. Such conduct after the race was a piece of bad temper which any gentleman will rue till he has apologised for it. We have repeatedly seen the assertion that double-hulled boats have always been accounted a separate class, but we have nowhere seen any evidence of this by the citation of either rule or precedent. Double hulls have gone aside because they could not compete with single hulls. There has been no other monstrosity in the outlines of the hulls which has not been admitted to trial. There is no obvious reason why re-entrant curves should not be admitted or why the bottom which has gradually been changing from a deep wedge to the last degree of flatness, should stop that process when it reaches the level line. Were the racing machines admitted to running real boats capable of carrying passengers and cargo, it might be reasonable to demand that they should compete with none other, but the challenger in this race is notoriously such a shell that she needed repairs almost every time she touched anything. She delayed the first race because she had a hole stove in her, and no one knew what dit it or just when exactly. It is almost wrong to use the sailor's word 'she' of such a construction. 'It' would be more appropriate. So long as all that is wanted is a racing machine it seems to be proved that Mr. Duggan has discovered the best yet known. So great indeed is his advantage that the question rather is whether the [single] hull will not yet be ruled out, not because it is unfair, but because it is a failure. Nay, more, there is no saying what effect the success of Mr. Duggan's device may have not only on larger sailing craft, but on naval architecture generally. The New York writers seem to hint that the new ninety-foot defender of the 'America's' cup may be a double hull vessel in view of Mr. Duggan's success with that type. Indeed, New York critics seem to be satisfied with the result of the races from a yachting standpoint. Whatever in racing craft gives ideas to useful shipbuilding has a dignity about it that the greatest success in point of speed won by a thing whos passenger accommodation is all outside its gunwale can hardly give it.

THE RING.

The Corbett-McCoy fight has been postponed from September 10th to September 24th or October 1st, and it is stated will be decided in the new clubhouse near Buffalo on one of these days. This was decided on Wednesday, after the announcement of the tragedy in Corbett's family, which caused the former champion to break training and leave for San Francisco to see to the burial of his father and mother, victims of the father's temporary insanity. As soon as he reaches San Francisco Corbett will notify his manager, George F. Considine, as to his ability to enter the ring on September 10th, and the dates will be left open until that time. McCoy has made friends by refusing to seize the $2,500 forfeit money put up by Corbett, and will wait until the latter can get in condition again. Martin Julian has issued a letter to the press in which Champion Bob Fitzsimmons and his manager, old-time enemies of Corbett, have done the handsome thing, extended condolence to the unfortunate Californian. "Should Mr. Corbett be compelled to abandon his engagement with Mr. McCoy, and all parties are agreeable," says Julian, "Mr. Fitzsimmons will readily step forward and fill the vacancy. We will meet Mr. McCoy and his club's representatives at any time to make satisfactory arrangments." Tom Sharkey, through his manager, Tom O'Rourke, and Tommy Ryan, the welterweight, are both anxious to take Corbett's place against McCoy, if he drops out. But the Hawthorne club will have none of these. It will be Corbett or nobody. Secretary Wilson says he will fight Tommy Ryan himself.

Milburn's Sterling Headache Powders are easy to take, harmless in action and sure to cure any headache in from 5 to 20 minutes.

NEW BATTLESHIPS.

H. W. Wilson, author of "Ironclads in Action," in an article, "The Navies and Naval Construction for 1898," in the Engineering Magazine for August, shows that activity in the building of warships is general with all the nations struggling for sea power, and that it behooves the United States to do its part. In England the era of naval development opened in 1885. In Russia and France the period of great increase began in 1890, and in Germany in 1888. Japan discovered the value of a navy in 1894, and has embarked upon an enormous programme. In the ten years ending with 1897 the seven chief naval powers of the world launched forty-nine battleships; in the next ten years the same powers launched seventy-nine. At the close of 1897 the seven naval powers had seven battleships on the stocks; at the close of 1897 they had twenty-five.

In the present year Germany leads in the building of warships. Her fixed programme, to be completed in six years at a cost of $102,500,000, calls for twelve ships, two large cruisers and nineteen small cruisers. France in 1898 increased her naval appropriation by $5,000,000, and provided for the construction of two new battleships, six large armoured cruisers, three small armoured cruisers, seven destroyers, and thirty five torpedo boats. In the same year Russia appropriated $15,000,000 for a naval programme, to be spread over seven years. This provides for five battle-ships, one armoured cruisers, and twenty-eight destroyers.

The ordinary programme of England for 1898 provided for three battleships, eight armoured cruisers and four destroyers. This is to be increased by several light draught battle-ships. Japan has projected for 1898 one battle-ship, three armoured cruisers, eight destroyers and twelve torpedo boats. In the United States the programme calls for three battle-ships, four monitors, sixteen destroyers, and twelve torpedo-boats.

The lessons of the war between the United States and Spain, Mr. Wilson believes, are in favour of the large battleships. Vessels of the Indiana and Oregon class have stood the tests of war well, although the English expert claims that the United States is the only nation that has been able to get satisfactory results on a comparatively low displacement. The displacement of the Indiana is 10,269 tons. Japan has advanced to 15,000 tons and England's latest battleships range from 12,450 to 15 000 tons. One result of the war, Mr. Wilson believes, will be a demand for cruisers of very high speed and of great coal supply for the purpose of scouting.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

AN ACCIDENT.

A man was asked the cause of his father's death and replied that "while addressing a large outdoor assemblage of people, who were listening to his remarks with the greatest interest, a portion of the platform upon which he was standing gave way beneath him, whereby he was precipitated several feet with such violence as to break his neck." The man's father was hanged.—Chamber's Journal.

SUNDAY'S BIG STORM.

Lightning Struck Three Places in Markham, and Dr. Trowle Is Prostrated—C.P.R. Washout Near Locust Hill.

Markham, Ont., Aug. 22.—One of the fiercest and most peculiar electric storms seen here in years passed over this town yesterday. Only once in eight weeks has rain fallen here, and everything was parched. At about 4.30 yesterday the storm broke in all its fury and for five hours the rain came down in torrents, accompanied at times with hail as big as robin's eggs. The observatory of Mrs. Burk's residence was struck and badly shattered; the chimney of Mrs. Thomas' house, 40 feet away, was also struck. The residence of Dr. E. T. Trowle was struck, lightning entering the house and prostrating the Doctor, who is still under a physician's care. Three transformers in the town's electric light system were burnt out and last night the town was in darkness.

A large fire is seen burning about two miles to the west. The bridge to the south of the village was swept away with the flood, and Milne's bridge over the Rouge River is in danger.

Washout Reported Near Locust Hill.

Toronto Junction, Aug. 22.—A washout occurred between Locust Hill and Agincourt, the result of the downpour of rain yesterday afternoon. A request was received here for an engineer to go out and bring up Engineer Foley's train, as he was unable to do it. Whether he was injured by accident or took sick on his journey could not be learned. No damage is reported and it was expected that the track would be repaired in three hours.

Altogether five and one-quarter inches of rain fell.

The Thin Edge of the Wedge.

Detroit, Aug. 22.—Hon. D. M. Dickinson, who is now in New York, will appear before the joint commission of Great Britain and the United States, which begins its sittings in Quebec to-morrow. It is understood here that his mission is to lay before the commission certain papers which he has prepared praying for a modification of the Rush-Bagot treaty, so as to allow lake ship builders to build vessels of war for the United States Government, and for other Governments, if they so desire.

All the Hands Were Discharged.

Chatham, Aug. 22.—When the Erie & Huron Railway directorate met the old Board resigned and were succeeded by the directors of the Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway Company. This finally consummated the purchasing deal of the E. & H. Railway by the Walker road. All the heads of departments of the Erie & Huron have been dispensed with. The Lake Erie officials at Walkerville have assumed full control, the agents being instructed to report direct to Walkerville instead of Chatham as heretofore.

Cured at Ste. Anne de Beaupre.

Ottawa, Aug. 22.—Patrick J. Holmes, who for the past five years has been a cripple, returned on Saturday from Ste. Anne de Beaupre, practically cured. Ten days ago he went to Ste. Anne. He was then unable to walk, having to drag his feet, with the aid of two crutches. To-day, however, he was able to plant both feet firmly on the ground and had nothing to aid him but a cane. Moreover, he is able to kneel down, a thing which, since he was crippled, he was never able to do. Holmes was a trainman on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Fisherman's Boy Drowned.

Port Stanley, Aug. 22.—Mr. Bruce Howe, fisherman of Port Bruce, took his 4-year-old son fishing Saturday down to Lake Erie. About 6 o'clock Mr. Howe told the boy to go home. He started, and in stepping from one pile to another fell in and was drowned. The boy was not missed for an hour afterward, when the father went home. A search was instituted and the body recovered.

Was It an Accident?

St. Thomas, Aug. 22.—The body of George Bennett, who mysteriously disappeared last Tuesday night, was found in the Port Stanley harbor Saturday morning. It is supposed he either stumbled and fell overboard, or met with foul play while the Str. Flora, on which he was night watchman, was tied up at the port.

Killed by an Ice Wagon.

Point Edward, Aug. 22.—About 3.30 p.m. Saturday a boy about 7 years of age named Kee, son of Engineer Kee of the G.T.R., at Point Edward, was run over by an ice wagon and instantly killed.

Little George Tune Drowned.

Ingersoll, Aug. 22.—On Saturday evening Maxwell, the two-year-old son of George Tune, Victoria street, was drowned in the cistern at his parents' home.

Evading the Issue.

"Mr. Addemup," said Mr. Spotcash severely, to the bookkeeper, "I have spoken to you before of your careless manner of smoking in the office. You threw a lighted match in the wastebasket a little while ago and it set a lot of papers on fire. Such work as that might start a big blaze some day."

"It was heedless," replied the book keeper. "I will see that the office boy keeps that wastebasket emptied hereafter."—Chicago Tribune.

THE ACT IS CONSTITUTIONAL.

How Mr. Hardy Shows That the Federal Power Does Not Extend to Making Timber Laws for This Province—United States Lumbermen Will Be Opposed at Quebec Conference.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—Immediately after prayers in the Legislature yesterday Mr. Whitney asked the Premier how long he intended adjourning the House in order that they might discuss the estimates more intelligibly.

Mr. Hardy said he had not arrived at any definite opinion on the subject. He agreed that it should be sufficiently long to enable the election trials to take place and for the termination of appeals and the holding of bye-elections. One suggestion was that the House should adjourn subject to a call by proclamation, as though it was the beginning of the session.

"Oh," said Mr. Whitney, "I see; and the estimates to be submitted now will have reference to public services after the first of January?"

Hon. Mr. Hardy—And they will take you along perhaps for six weeks or two months.

Speaker's Friday Night Ruling.

Mr. Whitney said that while he had no desire to question the justice of the Speaker's decision on Friday night, the English House of Commons precedent for it did not require the substantive motion until after the division, when the votes of the eight members could be challenged.

The Attorney-General said he had been ready with facts to refute the point raised, but as the Speaker was prepared also he had not submitted them. He argued that as the question was a matter of public policy the precedents sustained the votes of members unchallenged.

New Legislation Introduced.

The Attorney-General introduced a couple of amending bills, one to rescind legislation which prevented city clerks from posting up voters' lists before the Court of Revision had passed upon the assessment, and the other to correct certain clerical and typographical errors discovered since the revision of the statutes.

This Year's Deficit $651,000.

Then the House passed in committee, with Mr. Stratton in the chair, all the estimates brought down Friday night, with the exception of the $60,000 asked for "civil government," which, by Mr. Whitney's request, was allowed to stand.

Mr. Matheson said there was no statement as to how much of this was to tide the province over the year 1898, and how much was intended to provide funds for 1899. This was a loose way of presenting the interim budget. The additional $425,000 would make the total estimated expenditure for 1898 to be $3,944,760, while the Government's estimate of total receipts was but $3,293,373. This left a round deficit of $651,000. In the face of this the Government should either cut down expenses or put on taxation.

Provincial Treasurer Harcourt remarked that estimates so brought down were never known to be challenged, as a search of British or Canadian Parliamentary journals would show. It was always known as a vote of credit, and the very fact of its being presented in the rough bulk forbade the estimates being challenged. They were not brought down to cover 1898 expenses at all, but only for forty days of 1899. It was but a repetition of what had been going on for the past seven or eight years without objection.

To Have Counsel at Quebec.

Questions on the order paper elicited some interesting facts, connecting the timber question with the Quebec Conference.

The Attorney-General, in reply to questions by Mr. Whitney, said that his Government had received intimation that American lumbermen holding timber limits in Ontario had presented to the United States Government objections to the Act of last session respecting the manufacture of pine cut on the Crown domain. These representations had been forwarded to the Imperial and Canadian Governments. The correspondence had been transmitted to the Provincial Government by the Federal Government for an answer, but not for publicity at present. Despatches answering the complaints had been forwarded to the Federal Government on behalf of the province, in which the contention of the American lumbermen was opposed throughout. The Government understood that certain American lumbermen had retained counsel to appear on their behalf before the Quebec Conference with reference to the complaints against the new Ontario Timber Act.

Watch Lumber Interests at Quebec.

Mr. Whitney moved for a return of copies of all correspondence between the Ontario and Federal Governments relating to the complaints of the American lumbermen, and their reported intention to have eminent counsel voicing their protests before the Quebec Conference. In moving it the Opposition leader spoke of the vast importance infinitely enhanced by what was to transpire before the International Commission. He called upon the Premier to see to it that the Government would be adequately represented at Quebec to answer the arguments of the Yankee lumbermen.

Mr. Hardy said he would be unable to bring down the correspondence, since secrecy had been enjoined from Ottawa. He had asked to be allowed to give it publicity, but the Federal authorities had not conceded the point. The petition of Don M. Dickinson of Lansing, Mich., and a fellow-lumberman of Detroit, called upon the Dominion Government to consent to disallow the late Ontario timber legislation at the Quebec Conference. The Attorney-General stated that he had taken the ground that such disallowance would be ultra vires of Federal power, in that the British North America Act placed the Crown lands and timber thereon within the jurisdiction of the provinces exclusively. The lumbermen were taking the ground that their rights were being confiscated, while he contended that he was acting solely in pursuance of conditions imposed and in accordance with terms of sale. But, above all, he held that his Government alone had the right to say as to what would be their timber policy. The provincial interests would be safeguarded and its case presented before the conference.

In reply to Mr. Miscampbell Mr. Hardy said 200,000,000 feet of lumber in logs would be the outside figure of logs taken to the U.S. before the time the Act of last session came into force.

The order was then discharged.

The Price of Binder Twine.

On the motion for a return of copies of correspondence between contractors and the Government relating to the manufacture of binder twine at the Central Prison,

Messrs. Barr (Dufferin) and Hoyle (N. Ontario) said the increase in price was due to the inactivity of the Government in repairing the prison since the fire.

Hon. Mr. Davis in reply related the difficulties which had been encountered after the fire in getting important machinery from the States, and how, when that was nearly completed, the war sent the price of the raw material up to almost prohibitive prices. Then the prisoners had all been engaged in perfecting the prison water supply system for use in case of fire. But that was about completed, the war was over and prices of raw material were resuming their normal level. Therefore, the prison manufacture of binder twine would shortly be resumed.

The motion of Mr. Duff (W. Simcoe) for a return of copies of all correspondence between the County Council of Simcoe and any member of the Government with relation to the injurious effects of the barberry shrub or hedge on grain crops, was also agreed to.

GRAND TRUNK WILL KICK.

Want to Know Why Their Travelers Were Stopped.

Ottawa, Aug. 23.—A number of Canadian farm laborers going to North Dakota have been returned at Port Huron by the United States officer because they had an agreement with the Grand Trunk Railway Co., that if they returned by November they would get back for $18. They were going to work harvesting. They have applied to the Dominion Government for compensation, as their case was not one within the terms of alien labor law. The matter has been put in the hands of the company's solicitors at Port Huron and Chicago, and will be investigated.

The Government Not "In It."

Toronto, Aug. 23.—At Osgoode Hall yesterday judgment was given by the Divisional Court dismissing the appeal against the judgment of Judge McDougall in the suit over the succession duties payable to the Crown by the estate of the late G. R. Renfrew. By this decision the Government cannot collect.

A Boy With a Vicious Temper.

Beachburg, Ont., Aug. 23.—Willie Taugher, aged 18, Sunday night stabbed James A. Beach in four places with a jack-knife. Beach is in a critical condition. Taugher was arrested and sent to Pembroke to await his trial.

Another Powder Mill Explosion.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 23.—A tremendous explosion at the plant of the Chattanooga Powder Company at Oltowah Station, 18 miles from the city, killed two men and wounded seriously, if not fatally, six others.

Saved Others, But Drowned Himself.

Warkworth, Ont., Aug. 23.—George Yule, aged 25, and three others were playing with a boat in Mr. McClary's pond, two miles from here, Sunday, and accidentally upset it. They all went into the water. Yule, being the only one that could swim, got his friends safely upon the bottom of the boat and then sank and did not rise. His body was recovered about two hours afterward.

A CRAZY GIRL'S CRIME

Minnie Sexton Kills Her Sister Susan at Newmarket.

A STRANGE TALE OF DEVOTION.

Rather Than Be Parted From Her by Marriage the Mad Girl Shot Four Bullets Into the Body of the One She Loved Best in the World—A Very Sad Tragedy.

Newmarket, Ont., Aug. 23.—An awful tragedy was enacted here yesterday morning about 7 o'clock, when Minnie Sexton deliberately put four 32-calibre bullets into the body of her elder sister, Susie Sexton, killing her instantly. The girls were orphans, and lived together. Susie was at the wash tub at the time, while Minnie was preparing toast for breakfast.

George Partridge was passing the house when the shots were fired, but hearing joyous laughter from the house, thought that the sisters were amusing themselves. Minnie dressed herself and went to Barrister Widdifield and told him what she had done. Mr. Widdifield at once started for the house, accompanied by the girl. On his arrival he found that the girl's story was only too true. Susie Sexton was lying on the floor dead.

Minnie was at one time incarcerated in an asylum for the insane, and it had been noticed for some time past that she was acting rather queerly. No particular attention was paid to the fact, however, as the girl was believed to be harmless. The dead woman was about 35 years old, and was to have been married shortly. Minnie, however, was violently opposed to her sister marrying, and had been heard to declare that she would never allow her to do so. Minnie is now in charge of the police.

COULD NOT HELP IT.

Compelled to Do the Deed by an Uncontrollable Impulse.

Newmarket, Aug. 23.—"I could not help it; I was compelled to do it by some impulse," remarked the murderess calmly, as she told some of the neighbors of the dreadful tragedy.

While the two girls were engaged in their household avocations, Minnie suddenly left the kitchen and ran upstairs, where she secured a revolver that was kept in the house. Returning to the kitchen, she placed the revolver close to her sister's back and pulled the trigger. Susan fell back on the floor, when Minnie deliberately fired three shots into her breast, killing her instantly. After the deed was committed, she placed the revolver on the kitchen table, walked composedly to the office of Mr. W. T. Widdifield, barrister, and told what she had done. She laughed while explaining how she shot her sister, and did not in any way seem to realize the terrible position in which she was placed.

The Love of the Sisters.

It is said that the love of the two girls for each other was touching, they being very seldom apart if they could help it. Minnie, who committed the murder, was in particular passionately fond of her sister, and would hardly let her out of her sight, following her when she went anywhere. Minnie, however, was known not to be strong mentally, and about three years ago was placed in the Toronto Asylum for the Insane, where she remained for three months. She was discharged as cured, and while she had never since shown any signs of violence, still it was noticed that at times her mind appeared to be wandering. The jealousy of her sister that rankled in her mind until it ended in murder was noticed, however, whenever Susan had company at the house. Minnie objected to this and it was the cause of many a hot quarrel between the two. Minnie would always run out of the house whenever Susan had company, and, more recently, a report that Susan was to be married aroused Minnie's jealous passions, and she was heard to declare that she would never allow her to do so.

Left $10,000 Each.

When she late Mr. Sexton died he left the two girls $10,000 each, and there was a mutual arrangement that whoever died first should leave the money to the other. It is reported that Minnie brooded over the idea that this money would go out of the family in case her sister died, and that this may have led her to commit the crime.

The sisters are daughters of J. B. Sexton, an old and well-known resident of Newmarket, who for many years carried on the business of jewelry. He died September 25, 1896, leaving a will dated December 2, 1893. There were two Mrs. Sextons; the first died many years ago, and the second seven or eight years since. There is a boy in the family, named Fred Sexton, but he is not named in the will.

County Constable Savage arrested the sister who fired the shots, and has her under close surveillance.

An Inquest To-Day.

An inquest will be held to day at 10 o'clock before Coroner Scott. Mr. Raney of the County Crown Attorney's office will conduct it for the Crown.

Took Gas to Die.

Toronto, Aug. 23.—James Stevenson Martin was found dead yesterday morning at his father's workshop. The surroundings pointed to the fact that the man had deliberately committed suicide by inhaling gas. Martin was 31 years of age and unmarried. He has lately been brooding over an order issued by Magistrate Denison some time ago ordering him to pay a certain amount towards the maintenance of an illegitimate child. Coroner Young decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

BUREAU OF INDUSTRIES.

The annual report of the Provincial Bureau of Industries is very interesting. It shows that in 1896 the rural area in the province amounts to 23,172 acres, an increase of 59,093 acres as compared with the previous year, of which about a million acres are non-resident. There is a percentage of cleared land of 54.7 as against 53.8 per cent. in 1895. The acreage under crop has risen from 8,080,206 in 1892 to 8,511,444 in 1896, more than in any previous recorded year. First comes hay and clover 2,526,711 acres, then oats with 2,425,107, next fall wheat showing 876,955 acres, peas 820,601, barley 462,702, husking corn 317,667, fodder corn 178,962, spring wheat 255,361, compared with 651,302 in 1892. There were 966,522 acres of fall wheat in 1892. The average yield of fall wheat per acre was 17.0, in this outdoing all the chief grain growing states in the Union, the highest being Illinois with 14.7. Of spring wheat the average yield was 13.8; barley 27.4, Ontario again outdoing Manitoba and all States of the Union except Wisconsin, with which she tied. Of oats the average yield was 34.2, the State of Wisconsin being second with 35.0. The cheese factories in the Province in the year 1896 numbered 1,147 as compared with 1,164 in 1895, the decrease being due to the drought. In 1896, 104,393,985 pounds of cheese was made, compared with 109,230,340 in 1895, though the make of 1896 was greater than in any other year and better prices prevailed to the extent of 40 cents per 100 pounds, while the patrons realized 63.5 cents per 100 pounds of milk as compared with 59 cents in 1895. The total farm property in Ontario in 1896, including land, buildings, implements and live stock, was valued at $910,291,023. In 1896 the aggregate value was $989,497,911, the highest figure reached. Farm land values showed a steady decline from 1886 to 1896, but the "good times" which have come with such a rush since have made a change for the better.

THE attack of the Opposition leaders upon the financial policy of the Government at the last session of Parliament consisted chiefly of the complaint made and reiterated in season and out of season, that the total expenditure had increased under Liberal rule. It was useless to explain that the expenditures were expected in all cases to be met by increased receipts. The critics of the Opposition preferred not to set themselves right. One instance of their perversity is illustrated by a return just issued, giving the receipts from the Yukon. Funds had to be provided for the administration of that Territory; no Conservative would venture to argue otherwise. But when the funds were provided they howled about the addition to the total expenditure which was thus made necessary. They would not listen to statements that the receipts from the Yukon would considerably mitigate this expenditure, if not nullify it altogether. As yet only a preliminary statement is forthcoming of Yukon revenue, nothing definite being known of the amount collected on royalties, which may be a quarter of a million or more. But the handsome sum of $331,817 has been derived from timber leases, mining leases and permits. It is hard to believe that anyone was imposed upon by the arguments of Mr. Foster and his fellow-critics, but, if so, the answer is here in the conclusive form of money received.

THE information comes from trade sources that the United States has placed an order for ten million military cartridges with a Birmingham firm for immediate delivery, and that Russia, Japan and Britain have been inviting tenders from Chicago houses for enormous supplies of canned mears for their armies and navies. In this there may or may not be indications of forthcoming troubles. It serves, however, to recall attention to the part Japan may take in any war that may be entered upon for the control of China. It is notorious that Japan regards China as her own peculiar field of enterprise, and, one would be disposed to say, quite rightly so. The chagrin of the Japanese statesmen, when the European powers stepped in to despoil them of the fruits of their conquest may well be imagined. Manufacturing establishments are springing up with wonderful rapidity in Japan, and a network of railways will soon enable the manufacturers to make the best of the natural resources of the Islands. Particular attention is devoted to cotton manufacturing, and China is the best and nearest outside market. What the Japanese think of the proposition to partition China into spheres of exclusive influence, leaving Japan out of count, is easy to conjecture. If Britian and the United States are really serious in their desire to deep the trade doors open, Japan is their natural ally and the combination would be practicall irresistible.

A REUNION MOVEMENT.

London Times, Standard and Sunday News Hope the Conference Will Be a Success.

London, Aug. 23.—The Times this morning, referring editorially to the approaching International Conference at Quebec, says:

"It is possible that future historians will mark Aug. 23, 1898, as a date of considerable importance in the chronicle of the relations between Great Britain and the United States. It may be hoped that the Quebec Conference will clear a number of irritating difficulties, and view the impending peace negotiations and the prospect of a better understanding between England and the United States as extremely important.

"The conference has an imposing list of subjects to deal with, and if any real business is to be done there must be a very active tendency to conciliation among the commissioners.

"We may be sure the United States will do their utmost to make the conference a success."

The Standard publishes a similar editorial. It declares that anything bringing Canada and the United States into closer and more amicable relations is a gain for both England and the United States.

The Sunday News says: "It is a happy augury that the conference meets in the capital of old French Canada, which city years ago was the seat of the conference that led to the federation of British North America. To-day's gathering may be the first step in a reunion movement before which even the making of the Dominion would pale into insignificance."

THE SOUDAN EXPEDITION.

Khartoum May Fall in September—The Sirdar Within 50 Miles.

Atbara, Aug. 23.—The transport column of the Soudan expedition, which left Camp Atbara on Aug. 16, marching along the left bank of the Nile to an advanced post at Nasri Island, arrived at Metemmeh on Sunday last. Metemmeh itself, a town of 5,000 houses, is now a city of desolation, its houses in ruins, its alleys blocked with skeletons and its courtyards putrid with corpses. The few natives seen are disposed to be friendly.

The Sirdar, having already reconnoitered the river to Shabluka, evacuated by the Dervishes a fortnight ago, within 50 miles of Khartoum, found the passage easy for the gunboats. A full advance is expected to begin shortly and it is not unlikely that Khartoum will be captured by the middle of September. The heat is trying, but the expedition is in good condition. Practically the whole force is now encamped at Wadhemid, 55 miles from Khartoum. The Sirdar has arrived there.

THE RECALL OF COL. MAY.

Britain and the United States Will Act Together in the Far East.

London, Aug. 23.—The Manchester Guardian says: We understand that United States Ambassador Hay's recall to Washington to accept the post of Secretary of State is due to his special fitness to carry out a policy in regard to which negotiations have been proceeding for some time between Washington and London, and upon which a substantial agreement has been reached, whereby the two countries will act together in the far East, or wherever American and British interests are identical.

There is no intention of binding the nations in an alliance. Each is to be free to pursue its own destinies in its own way, but the Governments will act together diplomatically where their common interests are concerned.

A RAILWAY THAT FAILED.

Fate of the Brantford & Woodstock Line—Alleged to Be a Fraud.

Woodstock, Aug. 23.—For some weeks much interest has been taken in the proposed Brantford & Woodstock Railway, and the promoter of the line, who went by the name of R. L. Middleton, and was described as its chief engineer, was exceedingly popular in town here. Yesterday, however, the scheme appears to have fallen to the ground, and in the afternoon a warrant was issued by a local merchant, with whom Middleton had been dealing, for the arrest of the promoter, the charge being obtaining goods under false pretences. Middleton's horse and cartiage have been retained by the Oxford House to satisfy a board bill. To complete the sensation, he is charged with being the same man as P. A. McDonald, who is alleged to be guilty of bigamy, the victim being a Woodstock girl, Miss Maggie Thomas.

WHEAT SLUMP AT LIVERPOOL.

Chicago Went Down Because of Increasing Northwest Receipts—Decrease in the Visible Supply—The Prices.

Monday Evening, Aug. 22.

Liverpool's wheat market to-day responded to Saturday's fall in prices at Chicago, the September option declining 1⅞d per cental, and the December option ⅝d. Spot wheat went off ½d there.

These low cables and increasing receipts of new spring wheat in the Northwest kept Chicago wheat weak all day, and in the face of a decrease of over a million bushels in the American visible supply, futures receded ⅝c to ⅞c. At the close September and December options were both about half a cent below Saturday's final figures.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has decreased 1,047,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 16,000 bushels, and that of oats has decreased 171 000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 24,010,000 bushels, against 25,217,000 bushels a week ago and 25,529,000 bushels a year ago.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

It Will Begin in Historic Old Quebec To-Day.

A POSSIBLE CHANCE OF DELAY.

Spanish-American Peace Negotiations May Take the American Conferees to Washington—Canada's Attitude on the Trade Question—Powderly Practically Stops Canadian-Hunting—Log Legislation.

Quebec, Aug 23.—The International Conference begins this afternoon and all the members will be present except Sir James Winter, Premier of Newfoundland, who may not reach Quebec till late to-night. The American commissioners are interested in contradictory reports, sent out from Washington, regarding the possibility of an extra session of Congress. One story is that President McKinley expects that the peace negotiations soon to open between Spain and the United States at Paris will be concluded very quickly and that an extra session of Congress will be called in October or November to ratify the treaty and make arrangements for the government of the colonies of the United States. Any one with knowledge of the Spanish habit of delay must regard as extremely improbable an early conclusion of the Paris negotiations. If, however, they should be concluded in time to call an extra session, it would probably involve the adjournment of the Quebec conference and Messrs. Dingley, Gray and Fairbanks are sanguine enough to think the conference will be over by October and would scarcely remain away from Washington during such an important session. The regular meeting of Congress is on December 4, and the extra session would run into it, requiring the attendance of the members of Congress now at Quebec till March 3. It is doubtful whether the Canadian delegates could resume the sittings then because of their Parliamentary duties. The hope is expressed here that the Paris negotiations will be protracted sufficiently long to permit of the continuance of the Quebec conference in session till its business is completed.

Canada's Attitude.

There can be no mistaking the air of confluence with which the Canadian commissioners go forward to a consideration of the trade relations between the Dominion and the United States. Their attitude is that of representatives of a prosperous and contented people, who have no objection at all to increasing their prosperity by a judicious bargain, but who are not depending either for national existence or their daily bread upon the favor of the United States.

Canadian-Hunting Practically Stopped.

Mr. T. V. Powderly, United States Commissioner-General of Immigration, who has been here for several days, leaves for home to-morrow. Mr. Powderly has practically stopped the Canadian hunting formerly practised at Buffalo. He says that Senator Fairbanks is Chairman of the Immigration Committee of the Senate and needs no expert assistance in dealing with the alien labor question.

Ontario's Log Legislation.

Mr. Don M. Dickinson saw the Premier last evening at 8 o'clock, and laid before him the views of the Michigan mill-owners as to the log legislation of the Ontario Government.

Lord Herschell will have Mr. Charles Russell, son of the Chief Justice of England, as his secretary.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

HOMESICK AND DISGUSTED.

American Troops Don't Want to Remain at Manila.

New York, Aug. 23.—The World's special cable from Manila says: The American troops are homesick and disgusted. They hope the Philippine Islands are not to be retained by the United States.

Aguinaldo is in an ugly mood. The insurgents would have pillaged Manila and confiscated the property there had they not been stopped from doing so by the Americans. They are kept under surveillance.

The natives control the water supply of Manila, and refuse to allow the water to run except for a few hours each day.

Business is booming in Manila. The whole number of prisoners taken proves to be 13,000.

The Beginning of the End.

Philadelphia, Aug. 23.—Notices have been posted at the Frankford arsenal to the effect that the services of all the extra men who were put to work since the outbreak of the war will be dispensed with on Sept. 1. About 700 persons are effected by the order. The reduction in force will reduce the daily output from 150,000 to 40,000.

Policy of Resistance Urged.

Madrid, Aug. 23. — The Opposition parties, supported by the press and public opinion, are urging the Government to resist the American pretensions in the Philippines. The belief is general that Germany, Russia and France will oppose America's annexing any considerable portion of the archipelago.

Spanish Ships May Enter.

Washington, Aug. 23.—The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that, under existing conditions, there is no reason why Spanish ships should not enter, load and clear to ports in the United States. Collectors of customs were instructed to this effect yesterday.

Perhaps It's Yellow Jack.

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 23.—Admiral Schley is confined to his summer home in Westport by illness, and no one except his attendants is allowed to see him, or have any conversation with him. The illness is of pronounced fever, the character of which is not yet known.

Sampson at Washington.

Washington, Aug. 23.—Admiral Sampson arrived here yesterday and reported at the Navy Department at 4 o'clock. Soon afterward he went to the White House, accompanied by Acting-Secretary Allen.

Perfect Order at Manila.

Manila, Aug. 23.—Perfect order has been maintained in Manila under American control. The city is quiet and seems almost to have resumed its normal business and social activity.

Brooke Will Be Boss.

Ponce, Porto Rico, Aug. 23.—Major-General Miles has decided to leave with his staff for Washington. He will turn over his command to General Brooke, who is expected to reach here to-day for a conference.

WARSHIPS EN ROUTE TO HALIFAX.

Rich Find of White Sapphire on the Labrador Coast.

Halifax, Aug. 23.—Warships Talbot and Pallas, and torpedo boat destroyers Quail and Sparrow Hawk, are en route from Bermuda to Halifax. The Talbot and Pallas will accompany the battleship Renown to Quebec, leaving her on Sept. 18. The Renown will not go to Montreal as announced.

Lieut. Dumble, R.E., and six sappers will leave by the I.C.R. Friday or Saturday for Toronto, where they give exhibitions of submarine mining at the big fair.

A big find of valuable mineral deposit is reported from Labrador Coast. Two men named MacBain of the city, with Rev. Mr. Clay, in the schooner Cambridge, discovered a bed of white sapphire, which is largely used for manufacturing purposes. It is scarce and is worth a lot of money. In appearance it resembles mica, and is easily broken.

Yesterday afternoon Sir Rivers Wilson and party, and Hon. Mr. Tarte were entertained by the Board of Trade to a harbor excursion.

The Johnson Women Released.

Detroit, Aug. 23.—To get possession of the famous Windom plates United States secret officers found it necessary to enter into a deal with the noted Johnson family of counterfeiters, whereby one of them was given absolute liberty and another released on nominal bail. Mrs. Kate Johnson, wife of David H. Johnson, the noted counterfeiter, was discharged from custody by United States Court Commissioner Graves to-day and will not be prosecuted. Mrs. Frank L. Baylis, her sister-in-law, was released on $200 bail.

The plates were not found in Detroit, but were secreted in Canada.

Children's Kidneys

Are often so weak that they cannot retain their water. Don't scold or punish the little ones. Give them Doan's Kidney Pills and soon everything will be all right and the beds sweet and dry.

Tell the Deaf.

Mr. J. F. Kellock, Druggist, Perth, writes: "A customer of mine having been cured of deafness by the use of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, wrote to Ireland, telling his friends there of the cure. In consequence I received an order to send half a dozen by express to Wexford, Ireland, this week."

STUMP PENCILS MASCOTS.

Members of Gotham's Stock Exchange Superstitious About Lead Sticks.

"Talking about hoodoos and mascots," said a member of the Stock Exchange, "the boys on the floor of the exchange are as superstitious as a lot of sailors. If you don't believe it, you look at the lead pencils they are using the next time you are in the building.

"You won't find a man using a long lead pencil. Why? Because a long pencil is a 'hoodoo' of the worst kind. They always cut a new pencil in half before they sharpen it. Some of these pencils acquire the reputation of being lucky.

"Less than a week ago I came down without my pencil, which, by the way, is a lucky one—every memorandum made with that pencil results in a profit for me—and I borrowed one from a friend on the floor. He handed me a stump about an inch long and said, 'You can use that; it's a lucky pencil.'

"Sure enough, I made two deals in the morning, and each netted me a handsome profit.

"I was about to make a memorandum of some stock I had bought when my friend approached and said:

"'Here, take this pencil and let me have mine again. I've lost on every deal since I loaned it to you.'

"Sure enough, I lost on that deal, and the luck went back to the owner of the pencil.

"When you get hold of a lucky pencil, you want to hang on to it.

"Some of the boys have little lucky pencils not more than an inch long, and they guard them as if they would their lives.

"If you, through carelessness or accident, cause them to break the lead point they lose whatever regard they have for you and forever afterward regard you as inimical. Some of them wouldn't take $5 for a little piece of pencil worth considerably less than a cent."—New York Press.

STING OF THE BEE.

Poisonous Properties That Lurk In the Honey Maker.

The chemical and toxic properties of the poison of the honeybee have been a subject for long study by a German scientist, Dr. Joseph Zanger. During his investigation Dr. Zanger employed 25,000 bees. He found that the fresh poison is clear, like water, of an acid reaction, bitter taste and of a fine aromatic odor.

On evaporating and drying at a temperature of 100 degrees centigrade (212 degrees F.) a gummy residue is left. It is soluble in water; with alcohol it forms an emulsionlike mixture. The aromatic odor is due to a volatile substance, which disappears on evaporation and is not poisonous. The poisonous constituent is not destroyed by short boiling nor by drying and heating the residue to 212 degrees F. nor by the diluted acids or alkalis.

Dr. Zanger has proved the existence of formic acid, but he has also proved that that is not the poisonous principle. The latter is an organic base, soluble, with difficulty, in water, but kept in solution by an acid. On the healthy skin neither the bee poison nor a 2 per cent solution of the poisonous principle has any effect, but they act as powerful irritants on the mucuous membranes.

His tests made on rabbits and other animals show that when the poison is brought in contact with the eye there follow lachrymation, hyperemia, chemosis and croupous membrane or conjunctiva. The general condition is also affected; the animals become melancholy, take no food, but are very thirsty, and the urine shows small amounts of albumen.—Philadelphia Record.

A Louisville Slander.

Not long ago there was put in at the Louisville telephone exchange a switch board run entirely by a battery, so that the amount of calls was definitely indicated by expenditure of force. The chart showed correct business conditions up to 10 a. m., and then there came a most unaccountable drop. The electrician was bothered. There must be a leakage, a weakness, somewhere. Again and again the same remarkable and instantaneous drop showed on the chart, and the perplexed telephone engineer went from Chicago to Louisville to investigate.

He was with a group of anxious managers and directors waiting for the significant hour to approach, when suddenly some one looked at his watch and called, "Gentlemen, we are losing time," whereupon one and all arose and passed to the nearest buffet. That was crowded, and they tried another, only to find it also thronged. Then the electrician looked at the hour. It was just past 10 o'clock, and a daily scene was being enacted. All Louisville was out taking a drink.—Chicago Times-Herald.

A Sound Stomach Means a Clear Head.

The high pressure of a nervous life which business men of the present day are constrained to live makes draughts upon their vitality highly detrimental to their health. It is only by the most careful treatment that they are able to keep themselves alert and active in their various callings, many of them know the value of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills in regulating the stomach and consequently keeping the head clear.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Circumstances are still much in the habit of altering cases. It is said that a Yorkshire socialist was explaining to a friend the principles of his belief, and that he made the statement at the outset that all possessions should be shared equally.

"If you had two horses," said the friend, "would you give me one?"

"Of course," said the socialist.

"And if you had two cows, would you do the same?"

"Of course I should."

"Well, suppose now," said the friend slowly, "that you had two pigs, would you give me one of them?"

"Eh, tha's gettin ower near home," said the other slyly. "Tha knows I've got two pigs."—Youth's Companion.

North American Life
ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO.,
17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, sue policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endownment at the end of the Investment period.

GOLDEN CITY BURNED TO WATER'S EDGE.

The Popular Steamer Entirely Destroyed.

ORIGIN OF THE FIRE IS UNKNOWN.

The Flames Broke Out Shortly After Midnight, and the Crew Narrowly Escaped with their Lives, Having Not a Moment to Spare.

Special to the Examiner.

Lakefield, Aug. 23rd—At one o'clock this morning the fire bell on the English Church rang out, awakening the citizens to a knowledge that a fire must be in progress.

It was easy to see where the fire was from the bright sky towards the wharf. The steamer Golden City was a mass of flames.

Messrs. Tuffield Morin, mate, and Charles Bowen, deck hand, were sleeping on the boat. Morin awoke with the smell of smoke, and wakened his companion with the remark that there must be a fire aboard. On jumping out of bed he discovered the "City" to be a raging conflagration. Both men just got off the boat, grabbing their clothes and dressing themselves on the wharf, in time to escape being burned alive.

The mooring ropes were soon burnt off and the burning boat slowly moved down the river.

It was a beautiful sight to look at, but also caused a good deal of sorrow to those who have always enjoyed their trips on the "City" to Stony Lake.

The steamer was like a thing of life as it moved down the river and apparently turned into her old landing place at the village wharf, reminding those who witnessed the incident, of a human being coming to the old home to die.

Mooring ropes were placed on the rudder post and the "City" was fastened alongside the island in the middle of the river, where it was burned entirely to the water's edge.

Capt. Reynolds has the sympathy of the whole community on his loss.

It is not known how the conflagration started, as when Morin and Bowen went to bed, about eleven o'clock, there was no sign of fire.

The life boat was all twisted up into a tangled mass of burnt iron.

We understand there is an insurance on the boat, but at the present writing cannot learn in what companies.

BAD MONEY.

Charles Pogue Gets Into Trouble Through Handling It.

The Mail and Empire says:—Chas. Pogue, a young man who boarded on Richmond street west, was arraigned in the police Court to-day on a charge of stealing $10 from Mrs. Mitchell, 102 Richmond street west.

It is alleged that he paid the woman for board with worthless bank bills.

Prisoner wept when charged with the offence, and pleaded not guilty, and was remanded until to-day.

The detectives believe that Pogue was a "blind" for one "Scotty" Duncan, of Peterborough, who was arrested in that town on Saturday and was brought back last night by Detective Burrows.

Duncan, it is alleged, passed the bills of the Bank of Commerce of Newburn, North Carolina, an institution which broke in 1890. These bills, the detectives state, were brought from curio dealers in Toronto at five cents each, and they think that it is time that the law stepped in and prevented the sale of such articles.

A CURIOUS COIN

Which was Found Beneath the Sidewalk on George Street.

Mr. Harry LeBrun has come into possession of a very curious old copper coin which was found in front of his store door when the sidewalk was being removed for the laying of the granolithic walk.

On the reverse side is a figure representative of Justice, with the scales in one hand and a sword in the other. Around the edge on this side are the words "Leslie and Sons, York, Kingston and Dundas."

The coin is in a good state of preservation and Mr. LeBrun would like to know more about it.

One of Them, who Hails From Otonabee is Liable to be Shot.

Saturday's telegraphic despatches contained an account of the liberation of five alleged Spanish spies from Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga. Among the number was a man named Mellor. Another alleged spy, Elmhirst, was sent to his regiment to be court-martialed. Both Mellor and Elmhirst, it is said, were engaged by Lieut. Caranza, at Montreal, and supplied with money. Both are ex-members of A Field Battery, Kingston, and served through the North-West rebellion with that corps. Elmhirst claims to be an American citizen, although it is understood his home is at Lakefield, Ont. He is a clever young man, and made a study of law, but gave it up to go soldiering. He was a member of the Durham Field Battery, but afterwards connected himself with A Field Battery, securing a second-class certificate. It is expected he will be shot, as he entered the American army with the purpose of spying for the Spanish Government. A third member of the alleged spies is a son of an army official in Kingston. He came to Kingston on the Sunday preceeding May 24th. He was supplied with a roll of bills and railway ticket for San Francisco, but his friends persuaded him to give up the scheme, which he did, returning to Montreal. Officers and members of A Field Battery were aware that these men were sent out by Lieut. Caranza, but were not privileged to divulge the scheme.

NOTE—Both young men are well-known in Peterborough. Fred Elmhirst is a son of Philip Elmhirst, of Otonabee, and studied law for some time in town in Mr. E. B. Stone's office. Mellor, who is a Lakefield boy, was Elmhirst's room mate at Croft's Hotel for some time. The relatives of the two unfortunate young men will have the sincere sympathy of the community.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

THE CAMP IS OVER.

Members of the Canadian Canoe Association Leave for Their Homes.

The 1898 camp of the American Canoe Association is now a thing of the past, much to the regret of the members who were present in camp. The meet opened at Stave Island, on August 5th, and Commodore Dunnell, chairman of the Camp Site Committee as well as Secretary Scuyler, were on hand the day before and had every arrangement made for the accommodation of the campers. Club camp sites were laid out, tent floors erected and canoe docks built at different parts of the island, so that a member had nothing to do upon his arrival but put his tent up and arrange the interior.

The excellent manner in which Commodore Dunnell looked after his duties as commodore told wonderfully in the splendid attendance at camp. Almost every section of Canada and the United States was represented at some time during the meet, while the number of visitors to the camp placed other years away in the shade.

Secretary Scuyler was also a busy man and he attended to his duties right up to "de limit."

The camp site as laid out by the officers was very fine. In the bay right in front of Jack's Horn light the headquarters was situated. Here all the officers' quarters, the mess tent, circus tent and steamboat docks were situated. To the north of the headquartess, and in another very picturesque bay, Squaw Point was located and the ladies were more than pleased and were never done casting credit on the popular camp site committee chairman, Capt. Thoro, of Buffalo, for looking after their interests so carefully. To the south of the headquarters on a number of different points were located the main camp and the fun round camp fires and other festal occasions will long be remembered by the number present.

To Peterborough-Stave Island had many charms. In 1889 Col. H. C. Rogers, then commodore of the A. C. A., selected the island as the location for the camp of that year and this year many of the older members of the association made a point to get to camp and it was a great delight to the younger element to see Messrs. H. C. Rogers, E. B. Edwards, L. Stavey, R. J. Welkin, M. T. Bennet, C. V. Scuyler, F. H. Dobbin and others, meeting in different places of association history and relating tales of the former camp.

It will be unnecessary to go into the individual compe, but Canada was well represented, both by ladies as well as gentlemen, and while the famous trophy paddling race was won by Mr. Allen of Trenton, N. J., it remained for a lady, Miss Montizambert of Kingston, to hold up the Canadian record for paddling by winning both of the ladies' paddling events quite easily.

There are many little incidents which were amusing, and they will be given to our readers at another date.

Just a word about the officers for next year. The executive committee met at the camp, and as it was the turn of the Eastern Division to elect the Commodore it was offered to them. They failed to get a man to take it, so the turn passed on to the Central Division and the choice fell on popular Capt. Horn of the Buffalo Canoe Club, and the popular commodore of the same canoe club will act as Secretary-Treasurer. We know both of these gentlemen and it is needless to say that they are deeply interested in the success of the A.C.A. and will do everything in their power to make next year's meet a record one.

The location of the 1899 meet is a matter for the decision of the Executive Committee in October, and if they are guided by the feeling at camp they will bring the members back to Stave Island once more and start on the twentieth century with cruising grounds anew.

We will have something more to say later and we hope that Peterborough will be well represented at camp of the American Canoe Association next year.

OUR PLEBESCITE COLUMN.

THE CAMPAIGN BEING CARRIED ON WITH VIM.

The Prohibitionists Down in the Province of Quebec are Organizing for the Big Fight.

Probably because it has been said that the Province of Quebec would vote in a mass against Prohibition, the temperance advocates are organizing and working more actively there than in any other part of the Dominion and are making preparations to put up a big fight.

The Plebiscite Executive has prepared two very effective cartoon posters for use in the campaign. One is headed "Have you a boy," and represents the license voter feeding boys to the saloon alligator. The other deals with the revenue question and shows how the forty million dollars spent in liquor is divided and what the people get in return. The prohibitionists think they are certain to make votes for prohibition. The executive are issuing them at less than cost—twenty-five cents per hundred. The size of the posters are 18x12. Orders should be sent to the secretary, Mr. Carson, 214 St. James street, Montreal.

Appended is the campaign song which is already ringing over Canada:

There's one thing that we are determined to do—
We're going to banish the bar;
Its work of destruction is nearly through,
We're going to banish the bar;
Whatever else may go undone,
We'll stick to the task that we have now begun;
This battle MUST be fought and won,
We're going to banish the bar,

Chorus.

We're going to banish the bar
We're going to banish the bar
For kindred and country,
For God and the Right—
We're going to banish the bar.

The word of warning we give to all,
We're going to banish the bar;
The temples of Bacchus shall shortly fall,
We're going to banish the bar;
Too long we have borne with habits of vice,
Our children we've given in sacrifice,
Our homes have been bartered to pay the price,
But we're going to banish the bar.

Some other employment will have to be found,
We're going to banish the bar;
No more high living and loafing around,
We're going to banish the bar;
The men who have bled us to live in style
Can afford to rest for a little while,
And watch us save our own little pile,
We're going to banish the bar.

Strong drink is the curse the country o'er,
We're going to banish the bar;
It's a duty that should have been done before,
We're going to banish the bar.
In a million graves our dead are laid,
Proclaimir the havoc that drink has made;
It's time th hand of the slayer was staid,
We're going to banish the bar,

To save our young men and maidens so fair,
We're going to banish the bar;
To take from their pathway a dangerous snare
We're going to banish the bar.
How many for life have been ruined and wrecked!
Through the wine cup they've suffered from want and neglect;
Our loved ones to shield and our homes to protect—
We're going to banish the bar.

For the sake of the drunkard who lies in the ditch
We're going to banish the bar.
That the labouring man may get happy and rich,
We're going to banish the bar,
You'll see a big change in this country soon,
Every day in the year will be bright as June,
We have done for all time with the licensed saloon—
We're going to banish the bar.

The poets have sung, and the prophets have said:
We're going to banish the bar.
That the naked be clothed and the hungry be fed,
We're going to banish the bar.
The day may come slowly, but none the less sure,
For youth sorely tempted and childhood still pure—
We're going to banish the bar.

The cause is noble, the course is right,
We're going to banish the bar;
Come, brothers, and help us, in union is might—
We're going to banish the bar.
This evil no longer shall blight and blast,
And o'er our Domidion its shadow cast,
Its doom is sealed, it shall cease at last—
We're going to banish the bar.

By the vote of the people—the sovereign voice
We're going to banish the bar;
The majority rules and by their choice
We're going to banish the bar.
Shall the children of poverty cry in vain?
Shall wives and widows in sorrow remain?
Oh husbands and fathers, your manhood maintain,
And help us to banish the bar!

There was a splendid practice on the P. A.A.A. grounds last evening. Every man was out, and the prospects are that the team will be in the pink of condition when it goes to Toronto to put Orillia out of the business.

Percy Rubridge, Fred Logan and Walter Wesley will all figure on the Rochester lacrosse team for the rest of the season, that organization having procured the boys good situations in the Flower City.

As arrangements are being made for a cheap rate to Toronto on August 30th it is expected that several hundred citizens will go up to witness the lacrosse game between the Peterboroughs and the Orillias.

WINTER WHEAT.

Leading Varieties Successfully Tested in 1898 on 191 Ontario Farms.

One million acres of winter wheat will likely be sown in Ontario within the next three weeks. As the variety sown has a marked influence upon both the quality and the quantity of the crop produced, it is very important that the very best kinds be used. An increase in yield of one bushel of winter wheat per acre means a total increase of one million bushels for the province. The average annual yield of winter wheat per acre in Ontario for the past fifteen years is about twenty-seven per cent. lower than that of Great Britain and Ireland and about thirty-one States of the American Union: The aim of Ontario should be to approach the record of the former rather than that of the latter. The average yield of winter wheat in Ontario for the eight years ending with 1898 is 21.6 bushels per acre, and that for the eight years ending with 1890 was 18.5 bushels per acre. Hence the change in average yield of winter wheat per acre in Ontario is moving in the right direction.

The growing of this important crop has received a good deal of attention in the Experimental Department of the Ontario Agricultural College within the past ten years. Varieties obtained from the United States, England, Germany, France and Russia are being carefully tested along with those secured from the wheat growing sections of Canada. After the varieties have been carefully tested in the experimental plots at the College in each of five years, the leading kinds are selected for co-operative experiments throughout Ontario. It has been found that the varieties which have given the best average results in the experiments conducted at the College for a few years in succession have nearly always given good satisfaction on the farms of the province.

Seven varieties of winter wheat were sent out for co-operative experiments in the autumn of 1897. These were divided into three sets with three varieties in each set, the Dawson's Golden Chaff being used in all the sets as a basis by which the results of all the varieties could be compared with one another. We have received 191 full and satisfactory reports of carefully conducted winter wheat experiments for 1898.

The following table gives the comparative yield of straw and grain per acre of the varieties of winter wheat tested in 1898 on 191 farms.

	Straw per acre (tons).	Grain per acre (weigh'd bushels).
Dawson's Golden Chaff	1.8	30.6
Imperial Amber	1.9	29.3
Early Genesee Giant	1.7	28.2
New Columbia	1.6	27.5
Early Red Clawson	1.7	26.9
Pride of Genesee	1.5	25.8
Poole	1.5	24.6

This table should be of great value to the wheat growers of Ontario, as none except the 191 good reports are included in the summary. Much credit is due to the careful experimenters who sent us the reports of the tests made on their farms.

CONCLUSIONS.

1. In the average yield of winter wheat per acre, the Dawson's Golden Chaff stood highest among 11 varieties tested over Ontario in the year 1893, among 9 varieties in each of the years 1894, 1895 and 1896, and among 7 varieties in each of the years 1897 and 1898.

2. Three of the varieties of winter wheat have been tested over Ontario for five years in succession with the following average yields of grain per acre: Dawson's Golden Chaff, 32 bush.; Early Genesee Giant, 28.9 bush.; and Early Red Clawson, 28.7 bush.

3. Dawson's Golden Chaff was the most popular variety with the experimenters in each of the past five years.

4. In the co-operative experiments for 1898 the Dawson's Golden Chaff and the Early Genesee Giant came through the winter the best and the New Columbia the poorest.

5. The Early Genesee Giant, Dawson's Golden Chaff, and New Columbia possessed the strongest straw, and the Poole and Imperial Amber the weakest straw in 1898.

6. In the co-operative experiments of each of the past five years, the Dawson's Golden Chaff was one of the least and the Early Genesee Giant was one of the most affected by rust.

7. In 1898 all varieties were practically free from rust, which is nearly all the case when no smut is sown with the wheat.

8. The Pride of Genesee and the Imperial Amber produced the longest and the New Columbia the shortest straw.

9. The New Columbia, Early Red Clawson and Dawson's Golden Chaff were the first and the Early Genesee Giant and Pride of Genesee were the last to mature.

10. The Dawson's Golden Chaff and New Columbia produced the plumpest and the Poole the most shrunken grain.

The following leading varieties of winter wheat will be distributed this year for co-operative experiments:

Set 1. Dawson's Golden Chaff, Early Genesee Giant and Early Red Clawson.

Set. 2. Dawson's Golden Chaff, Imperial Amber and Golden Drop.

Set 3. Dawson's Golden Chaff, Bearded Winter Fife and Stewart's Champion.

Any person wishing to conduct a careful experiment with one of these sets should apply to the Experimentalist, Agricultural College, Guelph, for the desired set and one half pound of each variety together with instructions for testing and the blank form on which to report will be furnished free of cost to his address. The supply of some of the varieties is limited but we will be enabled to furnish a large number with this seed before the supply is exhausted.

A bulletin giving the results of 92 varieties of winter wheat grown in the Experimental Department of the Ontario Agricultural College is now in the printer's hands and will be mailed from the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, as soon as printed.

THE CHOICE OF PAINTS.

Two-thirds of the cost of painting consists of the item of labour, so that economy in painting consists in using a paint that will last and look well for a long time. Then there is the point of preserving property. Poor paint that cracks and peels off alows moisture to penetrate, and the thing painted rots or rusts as quickly, if indeed not more quickly, than if it were unpainted.

When the question arises as to what kind of paint to buy for painting a house, or a barn or a plow, or a floor, many people are content to leave the selection to the paint dealer or the painter. This sometimes results in loss, because painters make mistakes in mixing or are deceived in the materials they buy, and dealers sometimes sell inferior goods for the sake of a little temporary profit. The safest plan for the purchaser is to go by the label. If the label bears the name of The Sherwin Williams Co. the paint in the can may be depended upon. The Sherwin-Williams ready-mixed paints have behind them a successful record of 29 years, which is a very satisfactory thing for the paint user to think of when he invests his money in painting. These paints are not limited to either zinc or lead in their making, but use the best of both in the right proportions, together with the best oil and best drier, so that the user gets all the paint value there is in each of these ingredients. The Sherwin Williams' paints are prepared for every purpose, a special paint for each, and by getting the proper paint for his purpose, the paint user practices the best economy and gets the best effect. Different qualities are needed in a paint for painting a house and one for painting a farm wagon, and the paints for interior decoration in the home are very different from those prepared for use on buggies and carriages. A paint that would wear best and look best for one purpose might be entirely unsuited for another. A postal card sent to the Sherwin-Williams' Company, 21 St. Antoine street, Montreal, will secure a book containing valuable hints on paint and painting.

A WINNIPEG SUICIDE.

Bookkeeper A. T. Low Made Away With Himself While Despondent.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 23.—A. T. Low, an accountant, committed suicide by shooting himself in the head at his boarding house yesterday. Low was about 45 years of age. About 8 o'clock the unfortunate man was found lying on his bed in a pool of blood insensible, but not dead. The bullet had entered his right temple. He was removed to the General Hospital, but he died at that institution shortly after his arrival. He was very despondent and continually complaining of the ill-luck which pursued him. Low came to this country from Australia about 15 years ago with the intention of farming. His family are still in Australia.

Captain Swinford, father of H. Swinford, general passenger agent of the N. P.R., died yesterday, aged 75 years.

Walking on Air.

The feeling of buoyancy produced by the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills is remarkable. One feels bright and active, energetic and full of snap and vim. Rich red blood fills the veins, and the nerves tingle with the sensation of youthful life and vigor.

TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY. A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE.

DEAR SIRS,—

I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of masculine vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system, have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the results from the use of four boxes of these Pills. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man.

Yours truly,
THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

CHINESE SHOES.

Most of Those Seen Here Come From Canton—Their Construction and Cost.

The thick soled, white edged shoes seen upon the feet of the Chinamen in this city are all imported from China, most of them from Canton, where they are made by hand. The white edge is of a thick, rigid sole, made of a material resembling plaster, and if it becomes dirty can be cleaned and whitened again. Some shoes have the wide white edge of this sole finished with a glazed or polished surface, which can be cleaned by rubbing it with a damp cloth.

The bottom soles of these shoes are made of a number of layers of rather thin leather placed one upon another, making a built up sole. This sole is stitched through and through in many places on regular lines, giving the bottom of the sole a sort of quilted effect. This work is neatly and trimly done, even on the cheap shoes. There are some Chinese shoes without the characteristic thick white edged soles and provided with soles of leather only.

The top of the Chinese shoe is of cloth or silk or satin and the lining of the same material. Velvet is often used on the top, cut in patterns that are laid over the body of the shoe, which may be of silk or satin in some bright color, while the velvet may be of black, producing picturesque and striking effects. Costly shoes are made of fine materials and are often richly embroidered. Chinese shoes of the regular style, with the thick, white edged sole and the leather bottom sole and cloth top, may be bought for as little as $1 a pair. Handsome Chinese shoes may be bought for $2 and upward a pair. Chinese shoes worn by persons of rank may be much more expensive, costing for shoes worn with court dress from $20 to $50 and more.—New York Sun.

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

Coffee Culture.

Coffee culture is a long time investment. The expenditures for the first year on a plantation of 100 acres come to $6,955, with no return. At the end of the fourth year the total expenditures will have amounted to $17,795, with total receipts of $14,400, leaving a net deficit of over $3,000. To any one who can hold out the seventh year brings a credit of $21,775.

SUNK INTO THE SEA.

THE FEARFUL DOOM OF PORT ROYAL THE PROFLIGATE.

For Two Centuries the Stately City Has Slumbered Beneath the Blue Caribbean, Yet Even Now In Calm Weather Her Submerged Buildings May Be Seen.

Under the clear blue waters of the Caribbean sea sleeps the sunken city of Port Royal, and lazily rocking on the waves is a red buoy which marks the spot where the old city's cathedral sank and where the spire still reaches up nearly to the surface.

The traveler who visits the capital of Jamaica should pray for clear weather, without wind. When the water of the harbor is ruffled by breezes, the hidden city is obscured from view. But on a cloudless, still day, when the surface of the sea is perfectly smooth, the ruins of the phantom city may be plainly seen in the depths of the transparent water.

The spire of the old cathedral is the most prominent object. In the clear water you can see the fishes lazily swimming in and out among the ruined turrets, more suggestive of owls and bats than of the finny inhabitants of the sea. Occasionally glimpses can be had of the ruins of other buildings—buildings which for more than two centuries have kept their ghastly secrets and will keep them until the end of time.

Down there in that peaceful depth lie the bones of 8,000 men, women and children, carried down into the sea with their homes on that awful June day in 1692. An earthquake suddenly and without warning smote the profligate city of Port Royal, which slid into the sea. The waters opened and swallowed it up, and there beneath the silent waves was hidden the wickedness and debauchery of a community described by historians as being almost without parallel.

The survivors said it was the vengeance of God and likened it to the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah. And in very truth the history of the city seems to show the unceasing wrath of Divine power. From the richest city of its time it has dwindled into insignificance, until now it is a most wretched place, used only as a naval station. Disaster after disaster has overtaken it.

After the earthquake the town was rebuilt, only to be completely destroyed by fire in 1703. On Aug. 23, 1722, it was swept into the sea by a hurricane. It was once more reconstructed, but again, in 1815, it was reduced to ashes, and as recently as 1880 it was visited by another hurricane. Every disaster was attended by great loss of life.

The city of Port Royal was originally built upon a narrow strip of land extending out into the sea, which accounts for its strange disappearance at the time of the earthquake. Like the house of the foolish man of Biblical lore, which was builded upon the sand, it literally slid into the water when the earthquake shock came.

Previous to that fateful 7th day of June, 1692, Port Royal had been known as "the finest town in the West Indies and the richest spot in the world." It was, as it now is, a British colony, but there was little either in its government or its customs of British morality. We are told that it was a place of luxurious debauchery, that in their excesses the colonists rivaled the profligates of ancient Rome.

Buccaneering and piracy were recognized industries. The treasure ships of Spain were legitimate prey. The riches of Mexico and Peru were levied upon, and the people of Jamaica were literally rolling in wealth and splendor. Vice and debauchery held sway. Bacchanalian revels which might put to shame the dwellers in the orient were of nightly occurrence. There was no virtue.

And like the crack of doom came the earthquake. The thunder of the elements sounded in the ears of the heedless revelers. The earth opened in great fissures and closed again like the jaws of a mighty trap, and in closing it gripped many of its victims in the middle, leaving their hands above ground. Then came the awful sliding, grinding noise as the city, built upon its foundation of sand, sank into the caressing embrace of the sea, which forever closed upon its wickedness and will forever keep its dread secrets.

The shock came close on to midday. The air was hot and sultry. The sky was without a cloud. A great stillness seemed to hover over the city, and then, without warning, the earth trembled. Men and women left their houses and ran into the streets, only to meet death in the bowels of the earth or in the hidden recesses of the sea.

In his "Annals of Jamaica," published in 1828, Rev. George Wilson Bridges quotes from a letter written by one of the survivors, a rector, two or three days after the disaster, which is in part as follows:

"After I had been at church reading, which I did every day since I was rector of this place, to keep up some show of religion, and was gone to a place hard by the church where the merchants meet, and where the president of the council was, who came into my company and engaged me to take a glass of wormwood wine as a whet before dinner, he being my very good friend, I staid with him, upon which he lighted a pipe of tobacco; before that was out I found the ground rolling and moving under my feet, upon which I said unto him, 'Lord, sir, what is that?' He replied, being a very grave man: 'It is an earthquake. Be not afraid; it will soon be over.'"

Despite the president's assurance, he disappeared and was never heard of again. Continuing, the rector wrote: "I made toward Morgan's fort, because I thought to be there securest from falling houses, but as I was going I saw the earth open and swallow up a multitude of people, and the sea mounting in upon them over the fortifications. Moreover, the large and famous burying ground was destroyed, and the sea washed away the carcasses. The harbor was covered with dead bodies, floating up and down."—New York Herald.

B. Blanco's Soliloquy.

Blanco (sitting bolt upright in bed)—
I cannot sleep.
The air is heavy and my breath comes thick.
Grim specters haunt the curtained room and roost
Upon my bed and give to me the laugh.
I know them not, and yet I muchly fear
One is Sapphira with her ancient spouse,
While drooping in their rear do swiftly come
The liars famed in days that are no more.
Methinks they beckon as they bid me come.
Why should I tremble at these lying spooks?
Our fleet lies low in far Manila bay.
Our fleet lies low beside the Cuban strand—
And I lie here—
Gee, whizkers!
What was that?
Methinks it called me with a rude heehaw!
Again, ye gods, and yet, and yet, again!
I know it now! It is—it is the dead Matanzas mule!
Yes, yes, I come—heehaw, I come, I come!
(Falls in a dull stupor. A cannon booms from the castle. In a neighboring room a typewriter clicks on.)

A Severe Punishment.

A Washington man who put in ten years of soldiering in the regular army of the United States, five years of it on the frontier with the cavalry in Indian campaigning and the other five in the heavy artillery, was recently appointed a captain and assistant adjutant general in the volunteer service, and he is now attached to the staff of General Miles. He is a man of ability and great unpretentiousness. A few days before he donned his uniform he went over to Fort McHenry, Baltimore, on official business. A war department clerk went along with him. When the two men arrived at Fort McHenry, the new captain pointed to a long shell road that runs through the post.

"Do you see that road?" asked the captain.

"Yes."

"Well, I made that whole road myself. It was as tough a job as I ever performed and as bitter a period, but it did me a heap of good. I was serving with an artillery regiment, part of which was stationed here, and one night when I was on guard the officer of the day crept up on me unawares and found me sitting down on a pile of gunny sacks, neglecting my post. I got a general court martial for neglect of duty on post and was sentenced to six months in the guardhouse. My sentence tickled the old provost sergeant mightily, for he was in need of a steady prisoner to build that road. I built it and crunched many a million oyster shells building it. I never find myself feeling chesty and high and mighty, and all that sort of thing, that I don't shut my eyes and think of this shell road over in Fort McHenry."—Washington Star.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

If every woman who expects to become a mother would heed and read that great book, "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., there would be stronger mothers and healthier, happier children in this world.

In this grand volume several hundred of its thousand pages are devoted to teaching women how to take care of themselves during every trying and critical period of their lives and especially at the time of approaching motherhood.

The author of this remarkable work has had a lifetime of practical experience in treating the special diseases and weaknesses of women, and is recognized as one of the foremost of living experts in this particular field of practice. His "Favorite Prescription" is the most wonderful medicine ever invented to restore natural organic strength and power to the delicate feminine structure which is most intimately concerned in motherhood.

Taken during the time of anticipation it deprives this ordeal of all its accustomed terrors and dangers; makes the coming of baby absolutely safe and comparatively painless; renders the mother strong and cheerful, and helps to endow the child with a strong, healthy constitution.

Mrs. Mabel Jordan, of Swofford, Lewis Co., Washington, writes: "I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription until the very last day. We now have a fine, plump little girl over two weeks old. I suffered less pain than with any of the others, this being the sixth child, and she has good health. I got up on the tenth day and dressed myself—something I could not do with the other babies. Have been gaining in strength every day and feel well, all due to God and to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription."

For the "Medical Adviser," send 31 one-cent stamps, to cover cost of customs and mailing only, or for cloth-covered copy 50 stamps, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

A THRILLING MOMENT

THE DARING ACT OF HEROISM OF AN OIL WELL SHOOTER.

He Played Back Stop In the Game Between Life and Death, With Nature In the Box and Twenty Quarts of Nitroglycerin Doing Service as the Ball.

One of the most thrilling experiences recorded in the annals of shooters' careers was that in which Dick Singleton, an old time Bradford shooter, played the role of hero. He played it well too. That the sensational drama did not turn out to be a tragedy in which six lives were taken in the last act is due to the hero's cool head, quick decision and superb nerve in the face of almost certain death.

Singleton was one of the best known shooters in the Bradford field. He had all the qualities which enter into the make up of a successful juggler with death's agencies. He had shot hundreds of wells and transported glycerin all over roads which at certain seasons had no counterpart for all round villainy anywhere, but his reckless caution had always averted a catastrophe.

One day Singleton started out to shoot a well located near Bradford. The well had been "drilled in" two or three days before, but the shooter had been too busy to put in a shot.

Arrived at the well Singleton proceeded to fill the shells with glycerin from his cans. That is a proceeding of some delicacy, as glycerin allows no liberties to be taken with it. Care must be exercised in pouring the stuff from the cans into the shells.

The well was about 1,800 feet deep, and during the interval since drilling had stopped about 1,000 feet of fluid had accumulated in the hole.

There was nothing unusual about that, but something unusual did happen speedily and most inopportunely; something calculated to turn one's hair gray and make such an impression on the memories of the men present as time could not efface.

The glycerin shell had been lowered several hundred feet, and Singleton was slowly playing out the cord, when he felt the line slacken. Immediately he heard an ominous roar. It was a sound to appall the stoutest heart.

The well had started to flow!

Singleton knew the meaning of that sound. He knew that a column of oil 1,000 feet high, obeying the impetus of the mighty forces of nature, then in convulsion 2,000 feet underground, was forcing to the surface with a velocity of a cannon ball a shell containing 20 quarts of glycerin.

He realized that the propulsive energy of that column of oil would project the shell against the timbers of the derrick with tremendous force. No need to speculate on what would follow the impact.

All this was flashed upon Singleton's consciousness as he stood leaning over the hole. The thought flash and the signal of peril were coincident in point of time.

It was an awful moment—such a moment as no man had ever experienced and lived to describe.

Singleton's companions understood the import of that terrifying sound. Acting upon a natural impulse, they turned to flee, seeking in flight the safety which they knew it was futile to hope for. Almost before terror could impart motion to their limbs the catastrophe would befall.

If Singleton had lost his head or hesitated for only a fractional part of a second, six men would have been blown into eternity, and another horror would have been added to the long list charged to the account of nitroglycerin.

But he did not lose his head. He knew that flight was useless. No time for that. Whether he should run or stay, death seemed to be inevitable.

If he should stay, there was one chance—only one. It came to Singleton like an inspiration. The one chance decided him. Desperate as it was—a million to one that it would fail—he resolved to take it.

Who can say what passed through the man's mind during the inappreciable fraction of time that he waited to put his plan into execution?

Perhaps Singleton himself could not describe what his mental vision beheld in that brief interval between the warning and the appearance of the messenger of eternity.

He was conscious of nothing but the peril which was rushing upon him and his companions and of the stern resolve to stand at his post and do all that heroic manhood could do to avert the impending doom.

Men think quickly at such time. Singleton's mind acted with the celerity of lightning. His muscles obeyed the mandate of the will with electric promptitude.

He made his title clear to heroism on that eventful day. He braced himself, and as the shell shot from the hole he threw his arms around it, not knowing but the sudden arrest of motion would explode the charge and not knowing that he could hold the shell at all.

Desperation gave him strength. There he stood, victor over death, surprised to find himself alive and smothered in the thick, greasy fluid which flowed from the well and fell in torrents upon him. But he held fast to the prize which his alert mind, quick eye and prompt action had won in the hand to hand grapple with the forces of destruction.

Singleton is still living somewhere in the lower oil country, and he occasionally tries his hand at a shot, but if he should live until the final day of judgment he could never forget the day when he played back stop in the game between life and death, with nature in the box and 20 quarts of nitroglycerin doing service as a ball.—St. Louis Republic.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made by Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

A Disastrous Ending.

Two Detroit merchants were sitting on adjacent stools and taking a 15 cent lunch, when one asked the other if he consulted his wife in his business affairs.

"Can't do it," was the response. "I've tried it a dozen times a month for years, but it always winds up just about as it did yesterday. I asked her if she thought she could discuss a little matter of business calmly and dispassionately. She said she could, but had never known me to be able to do so. I complimented her sarcastically on her 'angelic' temper, and she at once accused me of being angry. I told her that I was regarded among men as having a very equable disposition and that my employees called me Old Suavity. She called attention to the fact that her pet dog, that weighs about a pound, was called Danger. Then I told her straight from the shoulder that I declined to be made angry by her taunts and odious comparisons, but served pointed notice that I was going to have the respect due the head of the house. She laughed cheerily and declared that I was entirely too touchy."

"But what about the business conference?"

"Oh, I slammed the door and left."—Detroit Free Press.

Ice Broke the Spell.

There is a curious little tale about Captain Bagot, M. P. for South Westmoreland, which cannot fail to interest those superstitiously inclined. It is said that, some generations ago, a witch cursed Levens Hall, the seat of Captain Bagot, and said that there would be no direct male heir to the estate as long as the Kent—the river which runs through the grounds—flowed. Such has indeed been the case, until in 1895, when, owing to the severe frost, the Kent was, for a time, entirely frozen up, and a few months afterward Mrs. Bagot presented her husband with a little boy.

Scott's Emulsion is not a "baby food," but is a most excellent food for babies who are not well nourished.

A part of a teaspoonful mixed in milk and given every three or four hours, will give the most happy results.

The cod-liver oil with the hypophosphites added, as in this palatable emulsion, not only to feeds the child, but also regulates its digestive functions.

Mr. M. T. Wigle

Of Kingsville, Essex Co.

CURED OF ITCHING PILES OF 23 YEARS STANDING

M. T. Wigle, better known to every one in the vicinity as "Uncle Mike," was troubled for over 23 years with itching piles. At times he was so bad he would have to quit work. The irritation became so intense with constant rubbing that they became ulcerated and would bleed. He had been treated by many physicians, but found nothing that gave him relief. Reading in the paper the cure of a friend who had suffered in a like manner, and been cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment, he procured a box. After the third application he got such relief that he had the first comfortable night's sleep he had enjoyed in years. The one box made a complete cure, and he says he would not be without it for $50 a box if it could not be replaced. Mr. Wigle is a wealthy farmer, well known in the community in which he resides. It is over two years since he was afflicted, and he has never been troubled since.

Physicians fail to make a cure when Dr. Chase's Ointment gave Immediate Relief. . . .

FALSIFIED HER AGE.

A Court Trial That Disclosed a Queer Phase of Russian Society.

Even in Russia, it seems, despotism does not go the length of forcing a woman to tell her age or of punishing her for stating it inaccurately. A certain Princess Eugalytcheff was recently tried at Moscow and sentenced to life-long internment in the province of Olonets for embezzling 140,000 rubles. After the proceeding in court had come to an end and after the noble lady had retired to the country for her somewhat prolonged rest from urban gayeties and temptations a too careful official discovered that among the papers in the case was the princess' certificate of baptism, and that she had changed the date of it from 1847 to 1867. Instantly this grave crime was brought to the notice of the authorities, and the convicted embezzler was summoned to meet the charge of falsifying an official document. Then a curious fact was disclosed, and a surprising amount of light was thrown on Russian society.

The Prince Eugalytcheff, who was cited as a witness by the prosecutor, said that whether his bride was 20 years older or younger than her certified age was a matter of absolute indifference to him. All he could say was that he received the sum of 3,000 rubles for giving the lady his name, that immediately after the marriage ceremony he procured for her a separate passport, and that since then he has known nothing more of his wife or her private affairs. The jury gallantly declined to convict the accused princess on the "trivial charge about a woman's age," and she was sent back to her provincial exile.

Princes evidently come cheap in Russia, and this is perhaps the most interesting bit of news in the whole story.—New York Times.

A MINISTER'S WIFE SPEAKS

Feels It is Her Duty to let People Know About Doan's Kidney Pills.

Many people are suffering from kidney diseases and disorders — don't know the right remedy—frittering away their money and their health on something that does them no good. Listen to the advice of Mrs. Phillips, wife of Rev. C. T. Phillips, Woodstock, N. B., who says:

"A member of our family took cold from exposure and over exertion, which brought on severe kidney trouble, and suffered intensely from pains in the back and distress while urinating.

"We tried Doan's Kidney Pills, and they removed the trouble at once. I do not hesitate to recommend a remedy that does its work so faithfully. I have proved them to be a specific for weakness of the urinary organs, general debility and other distressing troubles. I can therefore recommend them, feeling assured that those giving them a fair trial will find the result most gratifying."

PERTINENT COMMENTS ON LIVE ISSUES.

PRESENT DAY POLITICAL QUESTIONS DISCUSSED.

The Constables' Bill—The Department of the Interior—A Much Needed Reform—Westward ho!

After long and wearisome debate, inordinately drawn out at the dictum of Mr. Whitney, who urged all his followers to "say something," the address has been adopted in the Provincial Legislature and the Government majority of eight definitely established. Beyond demonstrating the fact that the Opposition is stronger in talking power than it has been for many parliaments, very little of interest developed, for the two main questions, of the right of poll constables to vote, and of ministers to retain their portfolios while temporarily without constituencies have been so thoroughly cancaved in the press that the ingenuity of man could have devised nothing new thereon. Now the "Constables' Bill" is before the House and the fiat has gone forth from the Conservative caucus that it is to be obstructed at every stage. No doubt Mr. Whitney and his advisers know their own business best, but the average elector is at a loss to discover what good purpose this policy will serve.

THE CONSTABLE BILL.

In introducing the bill the Attorney-General made a clear and concise statement of its provisions, at the same time demonstrating the fact that there had been no "retreat" in the action of the Government as alleged by the Opposition, but that the bill as now presented was exactly upon the lines originally intended. While depreceating retro-active legislation upon general principles, he contended that the peculiar circumstances in the present case, by which the votes of some three thousand qualified electors were threatened, warranted the law now proposed, for both justice and equity demanded that their rights should be conserved in the surest and most undeniable manner. Mr. Hardy pointed out that while much had been said of the rights of a small number of candidates who were claiming disputed seats in the House, no weight was attached to the equally important rights of the three thousand who were in danger of disfranchisement. Reference was very naturally made by the Attorney-General to the fact that during the many years the constables had voted without protest, such eminent lawyers as Sir Matthew Crooks Cameron and Sir William Meredith had led the Opposition in the Legislature, while others scarcely less learned in the law, had been numbered among their supporters; but there had never been a hint of any doubt in their minds upon this qustion.

AN IMPORTANT POINT MADE CLEAR.

The Opposition argument that because the clause in the Election Act specially provides that the deputy returning officer and poll clerk shall vote and does not mention the constable, therefore the former have the right and the latter has not, was answered conclusively by reference to the fact that when the Sandfield-Macdonald Government amended the election law in the Session of '68-'69, the deputy returning officers and the poll clerks were disfranchised, but the constables rights were left in statu quo The latter had been voting for a quarter of a century before that and ever since. Sir Oliver Mowat amended the election law by restoring the vote to the deputy returning officer and poll clerk, but again no mention was made of the constable because he was already in full possession of the franchise.

Finally the contention that the matter should be left to the courts was disposed of by the fact that the Bill proposed to enact along these lines. The courts would decide upon the question at issue but, in fairness to all parties, if an election was voided through the disallowance of the constable vote, another opportunity of choosing a representative should be given to the electors in that constituency.

ANOTHER DEPARTMENT BOOMING.

Following the most satisfactory report of the Post Office Department of a week ago, comes the Annual Report of the Department of the Interior, and it, too, shows a condition of affairs more satisfactory than has ever appeared before. The revenue for the year is $819,951 as against $250,087 for 1897, a net increase of $568,864 or over 200 per cent. This very large increase is not entirely due to the revenue derived from the Yukon, for the business in the Dominion land agencies, with the exception of Battleford and Calgary, have increased, showing the improvement in the settlement of the Northwest cash receipts in this branch are $75,000 in excess of the previous year while the expenditure has been brought down over $20,000 by economical business reform. Ordnance lands receipts have increased more than $12,000 and the collections on account of seed grain liens have gone up 50 per cent. in the twelve months, and from registration fees 70 per cent. since 1895. The net increase in the Yukon receipts to date is $320,000 and this will probably be largely augmented when the returns are fully completed.

A MUCH-NEEDED REFORM.

Not the least important statement made by the Attorney-General in the course of his speech introducing the Constables' Bill, was the promise that when the House next meets, an amendment to the election law will be submitted which will remove the present scandalous condition that allows election petitions to be filed by men of straw. The effect of the present law after the late election is shown by the fact that over two-thirds of the members of the Legislature stand to fight for their political lives against men who lose nothing if beaten, as they have no means whatever to pay their own costs, let alone the cost of the interested candidate.

A PRETTY OLD-FASHIONED TRICK.

For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is no longer alone! An ingenious device now being practised by the ultra-Conservative papers to create trouble, if possible, in the Government camp, is the free insertion of Government advertising. One of the most effective methods of judiciously distributing patronage practised by the late Administration was the lavish awarding of advertising contracts to their newspaper supporters, while of course it was an unheard-of thing "for a dollar's worth of business to find its way into a Grit office. The present administration has adhered in this matter as in all others, to principles of rigid economy, and care for the public money, that was so reaklessly squandered by their predecessors, but what has been spent has very properly been put in the way of supporters of the administration, who are able to give at least as good and often far better value for the money received. The dodge therefore, and one cannot call it anything else, of devoting $300 or $400 worth of the most valuable space in its advertising columns to Government notices, for the sole purpose of creating the impression that the departments are favouring opponents to the injury of their supporters, is one that perhaps can only be appreciated in its subtlety by members of the newspaper fraternity.

WESTWARD HO!

The harvest excursions to the Northwest are now in full swing, and hundreds of labourers are now on their way to the prairie harvest fields. Twenty-five hundred people left Tuesday, and probably as many more on Thursday. These were not all men looking for work, for there was a goodly contingent of wives and families going out to husbands and fathers who had preceded them and are now settled in the West.

Boyer Murder Case.

The final evidence for the prosecution in the case of Andre Riopelle, charged with complicity in the death of Leon Boyer was given yesterday.

Mr. Foran, Q.C., one of the lawyers for the defence, says that they intend to call about five witnesses. Part of their evidence will go to contradict that given by Drs. Fontaine and Paquet. The rest will be from parties who saw the deceased and the prisoner, Andre Riopelle, driving along the Eardley road on the night of the tragedy in the position Riopelle has all along said they were in. That is that Riopelle was asleep in the bottom of the wagon, while Leon Boyer was driving. Dr. Church of Aylmer gave evidence for the defence. He said that he examined body of deceased a few hours after death and that Boyer's death was accidental. There was no evidence on the body of violence. An adjournment was made until to-day.

BANK'S PART IN FARMING.

How the Traders In Money Enable Soil Tillers to Work.

How does a bank help the farmer?

With the approach of the time for plowing and planting, seeds and fertilizer will be necessary. How can the farmer buy them if the last season was a poor one? He has spent all of his earnings in running the household during the long winter. He goes to the dealer in fertilizer in the nearest village and asks, "What is the price of fertilizer a ton?"

"Fifty dollars," the dealer replies.

"Well, I will need two tons, and that will amount to $100."

"Yes. Take it along now?"

"I haven't the ready cash just now, but"—

"Oh, that's all right. I know you're good for it. Take it along and give me your note payable in four months. By that time your crops will be yielding a profit."

The farmer gives his note; the dealer indorses it and gives it in payment to the wholesaler from whom he gets the fertilizer; the wholesaler sends it to the manufacturer of the fertilizer, who in turn takes it to his bank and borrows the money on it less the interest.

The farmer gets his seed in the same way and at the time of the expiration of the notes is able to meet his obligations.

Thus, instead of the farmer being compelled to wait until he can get the cash to pay before he can buy the fertilizer and seed, he obtains them when he needs them. The dealer, instead of having to wait until the farmer gets the money before he can sell his goods, sells them in the proper season and receives what is to him practically cash. The wholesaler receives from the retailer what is as good as cash to him, and the manufacturer receives virtually cash from the wholesaler.

How would all this be possible were it not that the bankers had collected the idle money of other people and were able to lend it out to good advantage? The farm would go unplanted; the ground would go untilled; there would be no crops to yield a profit.

That's where the bank helps the farmer.—New York Press.

Friendship For Friends.

The dogs of Constantinople are the scavengers of the city. For this reason, as well as from innate humanity, the Turks are tolerant of them, although visitors to the city find them unamiable. As a proof of their intelligence and recognition of friends Major Johnson relates this experience of his own:

One evening I was walking with an English officer, when a dog came up and licked his hand. He told me to notice that she would follow us to the boundary of her district, as he had once petted her and she had never forgotten it. Exactly as he had said, she followed us a little way and stopped short in the middle of the street. She wagged her tail and looked wistfully after us, but did not stir when we called her.

A few nights afterward, returning alone to my hotel, I passed the same spot, when I suddenly felt a cold nose put into my hand and a tongue licking my palm. I looked down and saw the same dog. She had recognized me as having been with her friend, the officer, and as before, she followed me to the boundary of her district.

MIDDLETON'S ARREST

Took Place at The Close of His Burford Reception.

PROMOTER OF B.&W. RY. IN JAIL.

Looking Up the Prisoner's Record—His Talents Seem to Be Varied and Versatile—He Is Alleged to Have Been Especially Strong as a Marrying Man—Court Proceedings.

Woodstock, Aug. 24.—Middleton, alias McDonald, the projector of the Brantford & Woodstock Railroad, gave a grand reception to the residents of Burford Village and vicinity Monday evening, and at its conclusion was arrested and taken to Woodstock jail, charged with fraud. He was before Police Magistrate Field at 10.45 yesterday morning and was remanded for eight days, but, owing to other accusations, such as bigamy, which are pending, bail was refused.

A charge of bigamy will be laid against Middleton and some sensational evidence may be looked for. Additional proof is to hand that he is McDonald, who married Maggie Thomas, but still his right name is Middleton. In Toronto Maggie Thomas was known as Mrs. Middleton. Seven or eight years ago the prisoner, who had called himself "Lancelot Mydleton," was time-keeper down east on the C.P.R. under Foreman Murphy of Woodstock. A Toronto contractor recognized him yesterday from a photograph. It is said that Middleton served two years in Auburn Penitentiary for forgery committed at Niagara Falls. If he is the same man he had some shady exploits in Indianapolis.

The Crown think they will have good grounds for their prosecution of Middleton on the bigamy charge. Last night Crown Attorney Ball said there was an additional wife in Clinton, which makes four in all—Miss Thomas of Woodstock, Miss Smith of Sarnia, a Toronto lady, thought to be a Miss Langmuir—but the authorities will neither affirm nor deny this—and a young lady in Clinton, Ont.

Middleton is in the same cell Birchall occupied, and is evidently afraid that some one will come to identify him, for when a visitor looked into the cell last evening he held a book up right in front of his face. In conversation with a guard yesterday, he admitted that the photos of McDonald, being shown around town, were those of himself, and said they were not McDonald at all, and that he knew nothing of the man. He said that he was only married to one woman, but maintained that he had a right to live with as many other women as he liked.

Yesterday the police received a communication from the Auburn Penitentiary, enclosing a photo of Lancelot Middleton, alias A. McDonald, with a full description of the man. The subject of the photo was in 1893 sentenced to three years in the State prison for forgery. There is no doubt whatever that the photo is that of the man now in Woodstock jail. Middleton was also in trouble in Richmond, Va., and Indianapolis. Communications have been received by the police from both places, but the authorities are for some reason very reticent, and beyond saying that the communications are the man's record, they maintain silence.

That the Brantford and Woodstock Railway was a huge fake and a most daring piece of swindling is established by an interview last night with Mr. John R. McKay of Hamilton. Mr. McKay was Middleton's private secretary, and one of his victims. He is a young man, but has had considerable railway experience. He left a responsible position with the T., H. & B. to take the alleged situation on the B. & W. One of the first instructions Middleton gave Mr. McKay was that he was to open no letters. He also said the C.P.R. was providing money for the building of the road. All the secretary's work Mr. McKay had to do was to reply to letters from contractors and applications for positions. Of the latter some 300 were to come round on Sept. 15 and get work. Mr. Mackay's wages were soon increased from $90 to $125 a month, but he owed to give $30,000 bonds. Middleton said he would give $10,000 security himself, and Mackay was to supply the other $10,000. Mr. Mackay formed a poor opinion of Middleton as an engineer, but as the work seemed to be going on all right, he did not get suspicious. Middleton never paid one dollar to any of his 53 employes, who have worked for nothing. In fact the surveyors are still working, but where they hope to get their money is a mystery.

On Monday night after Middleton had heard there was a warrant out for his arrest, he went to Burford, where he and his surveyors were giving an at home. Middleton shipped the wife who was living with him to Hamilton. At the at home the Burfordites had not heard of the warrant for his arrest, and he denied any rumors that might be afloat. Those present sang, "For he's a jolly good fellow" when the party was dispersing about an hour before Middleton's arrest.

Mr. E. M. Bland, son of Canon Bland of Hamilton, was in town last night. He is one of Middleton's victims. Mr. Bland was one of the surveyors on the Crow's Nest Road and says he never heard of Middleton in the Northwest, although the latter claims he had played a prominent part in building the road. Middleton told Mr. Mackay that he got the charter for building the B. & W. Road from Robert Henry and others of Brantford, but he could never show it.

Employes Unpaid.

Brantford, Ont., Aug. 24.—The all-absorbing topic is Middleton's Woodstock and Brantford Railway. There seem to be board bills and numerous other bills unpaid.

Forty young men employed as engineers, assistant engineers, chainmen, photographers, and others connected with the survey, have not been paid for six weeks.

IN TORONTO.

Middleton Supposed to Have Figured There Ten Years Ago.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—From the description of Middleton or McDonald given in the morning papers the local Detective Department believe that he is the man who some ten years ago, under the name of Dent, defrauded Matt Evans, the well-known hotel proprietor, out of $22,000, as well as relieving a barber named Saker of $6000. The man Dent had a mammoth fruit farming scheme in the Northwest, which, after the Toronto men's money was invested, turned out to be a myth. On the fraud being discovered Dent skipped out, but returned three years later, when he was arrested. He was arraigned and admitted to bail, but escaped to the States again before the date of his next appearance in court.

Will Send A Government Detective.

Mr. A. Pattullo yesterday morning waited upon the Attorney-General to ask that the Government take steps to bring to justice the parties who have been exploiting what is believed to be a bogus railway project for connecting Woodstock and Brantford. The Attorney-General promised to send a Provincial detective to make inquiries.

London, Aug. 24.—The Daily Mail's Copenhagen correspondent reports that a compromise has been arrived at between England and Russia, the latter getting her way in the railway question in China, and England securing concessions in other directions. THE FUTURITY STAKES.

Wm. Hendrie's Martimas Wins the Great Race at Sheepshead Bay.

New York, Aug. 24.—Fifteen thousand people witnessed William Hendrie's Martimas, at the long odds of 40 to 1, win the great Futurity Stakes at Sheepshead Bay yesterday, High Degree coming in second, while the public choices were nowhere. The day was excessively hot. The delay at the post was the longest on record in this country, even beating Pettingill's Chicago Derby, which was an hour and thirty minutes, Rey El Santa Anita then upsetting all calculations and winning just as an outsider did on this occasion.

Capetown, South Africa, Aug. 23.—In the Cape Colony Assembly general elections now in progress Cecil Rhodes and Mr. Oates, candidates of the Progressive party, opposed to the Afrikanderbund, which is largely representative of President Kruger's interest in South Africa, have been elected by an overwhelming majority in Little Namaqualand, a maritime district in the northwest of the colony.

NEWMARKET ELOPEMENT.

Mr. Charles Codling Is After Fred Haddleton With a Warrant.

Newmarket, Aug. 24.—Mr. Charles Codling, a farmer of Goodwood, has sworn out a warrant here for the arrest of Fred. Haddleton, who has eloped with Mrs. Codling, and rumor says is living in Toronto. It appears that for some time past Haddleton had been living chiefly on the proceeds of his wife's industry as a domestic servant in Toronto, while he was paying attentions to Mrs. Codling. His wife becoming tired of that arrangement, ceased her contributions to his support, and he finally left these parts along with his neighbor's wife. There are no children in either family.

PONTON AT HOME.

He Goes Straight Home to His Mother When Released on Bail.

Belleville, Ont., Aug. 24.—W. H. Ponton, who was released from Napanee jail yesterday on bail, arrived here in the afternoon. He was met by his mother and a few friends and went to his home.

Ponton Out on Bail.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 24.—Barrister Porter, accompanied by James Cummings and Thomas McGuiness of Belleville, came here yesterday forenoon, and the latter two gentlemen gave bail for W. H. Ponton to the extent of $5000 each; and Ponton's own bail being accepted for $10,000. He was released at noon by Magistrate Daly.

Sackville, N. B., Aug. 23. No. 1 train from Halifax ran over and killed a man and a woman between Sackville and Dorchester at a place called Cape Crossing. The dead are Capt. MINNIE SEXTON IS COMMITTED.

Will Have to Stand Her Trial for The Crime of Murder.

CONCLUSION OF THE INQUEST.

Testimony of Various Witnesses—What She Told Mr. Widdifield—Her Hysterical Confession Before His Household—Evidence of Mrs. Martin, Her Closest Friend—Pleads Not Guilty.

Newmarket, Ont., Aug. 24.—The inquest upon the body of Susan Saxton, who was shot and killed by her sister, Minnie, yesterday morning, was opened in the Town Hall yesterday at 10.30 o'clock by Coroner Scott. Mr. H. W. Maw, from the Crown Attorney's office, conducted the case for the Crown. High Constable Jones was also present. The jury went to view the body of the murdered girl, County Councillor T. J. Woodcock being foreman.

After viewing the body at the house of the terrible crime, the jury returned to the hall, when the more serious business of the day began. At this time the prisoner, Miss Minnie Saxton, came into the hall in custody of Chief Anderson, and was accompanied by her half-brother, Mr. Fred Saxton, and female attendant, Nurse Playter. The prisoner was neatly attired in black, and wore a stylish sailor hat. She looked very pale and subdued. She had passed a comfortable night and eaten a hearty breakfast at the house of her friend, Mrs. Martin.

The first witness called was Constable Savage, who, being sworn, said he had visited and saw the body at a quarter to eight. He showed the revolver, which he explained had one unexploded cartridge in it still. The revolver was of the British Bulldog pattern, of 38 calibre.

Mr. W. C. Widdifield, barrister, being the next witness called, stated that Miss Minnie Saxton, the prisoner, came to his house in great distress, and, seizing him by his arms, said: "Susie is dead." Witness objected to say all she had said to him on the grounds of being her legal adviser.

At the suggestion of the court, Mr. Widdifield further stated that Minnie said to him that "I have shot Susie, and shot her dead."

Witness said: I went to the scene of the murder, and called Susie three times, and got no answer, and then went in and found her lying on the floor dead, but did not think she had been dead very long.

After finding things in this state I notified the coroner, Dr. Scott. The prisoner said to witness that she did not care for getting her sister married. Witness further said she (Minnie) would always submit to what he would advise when talking on matters of business.

Mrs. Rebecca Greensides, a servant of Mr. Widdifield's, said that Miss Saxton rushed frantically to their house. She (Minnie) said: "I have killed Susie and could not help it." Prisoner repeated the words several times in an agitated manner. She seemed frightened more than nervous when she first came to the house. Witness said she always seemed to be all right when she had seen her.

Mr. George Partridge told of the shots which he heard. He was in doubt, on cross-examination, whether or not the loud laughter was not caused by the parrot in the house, and thought it might have been the bird that made the unearthly laugh.

Mr. James Noller told of the appearance of the kitchen and the body when he came up to the house at 7.45. He said he would always conduct his business matters with the deceased girl.

Dr. D. M. Campbell, who conducted the post mortem, read his report, giving the positions of the various wounds and described the organs of the body. He found the body in a normal condition with the exception that one lung was slightly congested. The Doctor produced three of the bullets. One of them had passed through the heart. The first shot, the one that struck the spine, would cause paralysis of the lower parts, and anyone of the shots would be sufficient alone to cause death.

At this stage the court adjourned for luncheon.

On resuming at 3 o'clock, Mrs. Martin, a particular friend of the prisoner's, went on the stand. She said: I first saw the prisoner at Mr. Widdifield's residence on the morning of the tragedy, about 8.20, upon her request to see me. She was lying on the lounge, and, on entering the room, she greeted me heartily, calling me by name. Had a short talk with her, and she told me that she had shot her sister Susie.

Mrs. Martin stated further that the prisoner had told her that she was impelled by some outside power to the temptation to take her sister's life. She said because her sister wanted to get married was the principal cause of her action; they had had some words on Saturday night about that, but both girls got up in the morning in good spirits and began their domestic duties as usual. She said there were no cross words used between them that morning. Again she had said, in spite of herself, the subject of killing her sister was always uppermost in her mind, and for that reason she had purloined her sister's revolver in secret and had used it that morning. She also said at Sunday evening's service the Ten Commandments had been recited in church, and when the commandment was read, "Thou shalt not kill," she felt more resolved than ever to commit the fatal deed.

The witness repeated the prisoner's detailed account of the shooting, and added to the known part the fact that before firing the first shot she had put the milk can on the front steps.

This finished the case for the Crown. Then the jury were charged and went out. After an absence of about 10 minutes they returned with the following verdict: "We find that the said Susan Saxton came to her death on the 22nd August, inst., through wounds by a revolver in the hands of Minnie Saxton."

A magistrate's court was then held immediately after. The court was composed of: Mayor Cane, Messrs. J. J. Pearson and T. J. Robertson, who assumed the bench. The prisoner then stood up on the charge of murder, and in a trembling tone pleaded, not guilty. The depositions taken at the inquest were taken as evidence.

The prisoner was asked if she had anything to say, and, being duly warned, she had nothing to say. After going over the evidence, the magistrates committed the prisoner to trial for murder. She was taken to Toronto on the evening train to await the November Assizes, when full enquiry will be made into the case.

THE TALE OF A RAM.

Every political campaign brings into relief some humorous or semi-humorous story that travels up and down the country, across the concessions, into the back townships, every once in a while appearing in the weekly or daily press with an altered appearance, sometimes in an entirely new and unrecognized dress. The story adds variety to the campaign, though frequently it does injustice to some quite innocent politician, and often brings lasting chagrin to some unfortunate and inexperienced tyro, who for years after, profits by the experience that he thus gains. Old campaigners, looking back over thirty or forty years of political strife, will recall many such tales. Younger politicians need not be reminded of those of more recent date—the grass still grows green over the graves of these eccentric yarns and fabrications that pass muster only when solid arguments are of no avail. But, as the French say, ravenous a nos moutons, (let us return to our sheep.)

We tell the tale of a ram—a poor, innocent ram that skipped about as a playful lambkin on the Shropshire hills of England, some seventeen years ago. He must have died many years ago and passed to the happy grazing grounds, but his ghost was made to walk during the late campaign and the seance was repeated at the present session. This ram will not down, it comes to the fore again and again, changed in form, till the story has become the one bit of humour of the members, and some one is likely to become the butt of the House.

On February 9th last a meeting was held in Collins' Hall, West London. The "rattling speeches" had all been delivered, and cheers were about to be proposed, when Mr. T. D. Hodgins stepped to the front to "tell a story." Here it is, in the words of the Free Press, of February 10th:—

"Some years ago, at Guelph, he was shown the sheep pens. The caretaker was dilating on a fine old buck, and which he called by name, and said he had been imported at great expense, but would vastly improve the stock of the country. Mr. Hodgins examined the animal's ear marks and discovered that he was an animal he had himself imported, but, becoming played out, he sold him to a good Reformer, who had turned him over to this farming school. T. D. Hodgins got $25 in trade for him and he was worth away up in the thousands when he got to Guelph. (Laughter.)

This all happened, as Mr. Hodgins himself says, in 1886, and the story, told in 1898, forms Chapter I. of the romance. It had lain dormant for 12 long years, but the deed was brought to light at last. In passing, it may be mentioned that the editor of the Mail and Empire always skips this chapter, for, even after the Provincial Secretary made an explanation of the whole matter in the House on the 18th of August, and stated that the Government knew nothing about the existence or purchase of such a ram, it says, on the 19th:

"It seems that the Government bought a remarkably old ram from a friendly politician, at an exorbitant figure, and that when Mr. Hodgins was running in Middlesex its election agents falsely represented that Mr. Hodgins was the vendor and that he had boodled in connection with the transactions." The Free Press says Mr. Hodgins started the yarn himself—in fact calls it a "Good Story by Mr. Hodgins."

But let us on with the tale.

Chapter II.—Shows how the story grew, in travelling from London to Oshawa, where the sturdy ex-member, Major McGillivray, on February 19th, took hold of the weakling and put life into it. He was not to be outdone by any novice like T. D. Hodgins, in campaign story telling. So he enlightened the people of Oshawa as to how Hon. John Dryden had, in the previous year, bought a worthless ram for $1,000 for the Agricultural College—and it was so, for Mr. Hodgins had seen that very ram at the college in 1897. This is only one version of the story—there are many others.

Chapter III.—The House opens, and a question is put on the paper as to whether the Government ever bought a ram from T. D. Hodgins in the past five years, what it cost, etc., etc. To show that it was meant seriously, notice of motion even was made for the production of copies of all correspondence relating to the purchase of a ram by the Government, from T. D. Hodgins. In view of the story at west London by Mr. Hodgins himself, the House is still in a quandary to know why such a motion was proposed. There was no purchase, of course, so the motion was changed and the name of James Glennie, of Guelph, inserted in the place of T. D. Hodgins. Now it was known that Mr. Glennie was the unfortunate upon whom the mysterious, but useless, ram had been unloaded.

Chap. IV.—For a while in the early days of the session, the ram was known as Dan. This Mr. Hodgins corrected to Instant. Now it is generally understood that the real name was Instone, and that he was imported in 1881 by Geary Bros., of London, and that he and some of his descendants are duly recorded in the Shropshire herd book. But what became of Dan-Instant-Instone? He cannot be found in the Public Accounts, he cannot be found in the Farm or College records—he appears to have disappeared most mysteriously, leaving no trace behind. In 1884 Prof. Brown brought over from the British Isles his large importation of cattle and sheep, including some choice Shropshire rams. Was it one of these rams that Mr. Hodgins saw and mistook for his own beloved Dan or Instone? Had the London ram changed his name, re-crossed the ocean to his native heath, and returned with the pedigreed stock to end his declining years amid the companionships of royal offspring? In all romances something must be left to the imagination. Amid the many perplexities of this world, and the unsolved questions of earthly life, we leave the fate of this historic ram to the imagination or fancy of the reader—we are undone. When Dan or Instant or Instone—what's in a name—was a little lamb his tail was suddenly cut off; it was lost; no one knows what was the ending of that tail. So it is with the end of this tale.

CONFERENCE OPENED.

Quebec Welcomes Her Distinguished Visitors—The Preliminary Organization—A Spirit of Friendliness.

Quebec, Aug. 24.—The first meeting of the Quebec Conference, which the press of Europe and America heralds as an epoch-marking event in the reunion of the Anglo-Saxon race, was singularly lacking in dramatic features. It took place yesterday morning precisely as the noon gun boomed out its message from the citadel. The first to arrive in the legislative chamber of the Parliament buildings was Lord Herschell, who stood unnoticed for a few minutes while the attendants were completing arrangements. The Canadian commissioners reached the building next, and at five minutes to 12 Senator Fairbanks, General Foster, Mr. Kasson, Senator Gray and Mr. Coolidge arrived, accompanied by their staff. The doors of the chamber were at once closed, and everybody was excluded except the plenipotentiaries, Messrs. Chandler P. Anderson, the American secretary; Cartwright, of the British diplomatic service, and Bourassa, M.P., the British and Canadian secretaries.

The Presiding Officer Appointed.

After the exchange of greetings Sir Wilfrid Laurier, referring to the question of appointing a presiding officer, quoted the precedent of the Washington treaty negotiations, when the British delegates proposed that an American be chosen as Chairman, and the Americans declined, on the ground that the Chairman was not needed. This set a precedent that he presumed might be followed.

Gen. Foster, for the Americans, said the custom in Europe was that the visiting commissioners should nominate from among the commissioners receiving them a gentleman to be Chairman. In accordance with this practice Senator Fairbanks nominated Lord Herschell. After consultation the representatives of her Britannic Majesty waived their objection to the appointment of a Chairman, and Lord Herschell was chosen.

The Secretaries were then appointed, and it was decided to take an adjournment till Thursday at 11 o'clock, when the delegates, having informally consulted with each other, will be able to arrange a programe for the conference. The question of a brief adjournment for the convenience of the American delegates is already under discussion.

An Address of Welcome.

Mayor Parent read an address of welcome from the historic City of Quebec first in English and then in French at 12.30 o'clock, when the commissioners adjourned.

Senator Fairbanks' Response.

Senator Fairbanks, in replying to the address, said: The American Commissioners, in whose behalf I have the honor to speak, are deeply sensible of the high tribute of an address from the historic city of Quebec, and we take pleasure in expressing to you our gratitude therefor. It is a source of immeasurable gratification to us, and to our countrymen that the narrow traditional prejudices which so long divided us have disappeared. Recent events, which sharply enlisted the attention of the world, have served to emphasize our kinship and to increase the bonds of affection which should exist between the two great English-speaking nations. We indulge the hope that the joint high commission which you have so honored with your cordial welcome may by its deliberation still further promote that feeling of amity and good-will which we desire should ever continue between the Kingdom of Great Britain and the Republic of the United States.

Lord Herschell's Expressions.

After Senator Fairbanks, Lord Herschell replied on behalf of the British commissioners. He expressed his appreciation of the honor, and said he was sure that the British commissioners were not behind their American friends in hearty wishes that the conference about to begin would result in cementing the friendship and an everlasting union between the two English countries.

Notes.

At the suggestion of the United States delegates, Lord Herschell was chosen as president of the conference.

Mr. Cartwright, private secretary to Lord Herschell; Mr. Chandler Anderson and Mr. Bourassa, M. P., are to act as joint secretaries of the conference.

The sittings of the commission will be secret.

SUPPLY BILL PASSED.

Opposition to Constables Bill Has Been Dropped.

MEASURE THROUGH COMMITTEE.

Some Trifling Amendments Made and the Bill Stands for a Third Reading —Mr. Whitney Makes Some Enquiries About the Printing Contract—Hon. Mr. Harcourt's Reply.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—The first portion of the first session of the ninth Legislature is rapidly drawing to a close. The constables bill passed through committee yesterday with practically no opposition, and stands for third reading to-day. There are several other bills standing for third readings, and, with the exception of a few questions by members, and one or two minor measures, the business on the paper has been practically cleared off.

London Normal School Site

The Government has chosen the Mackenzie lot of 4 1-10 acres in London South for a site for the new Normal School. The price paid was $7500, and tenders for the erection of the school building will be called for immediately.

The Clinton Loan By-Law.

Mr. Garrow (West Huron) presented the report of his special committee, appointed to examine into the bill to confirm a bylaw of the town of Clinton, granting $25,000 to the Doherty Organ Company. He moved its second reading and explained that the grant was a loan and not a bonus, and the bill was allowed to pass the second stage.

That Printing Contract.

Mr. Whitney asked what truth was in the rumor that the printing contract was upon such specifications as made it a bonanza to Warwick Bros. & Rutter, who secured the last one, and would the new contract be a similar one.

Provincial Treasurer Harcourt said he was surprised that the Opposition leader should take up the time of the House with such sea-serpent fiction. The new contract should be more advantageous than the preceding one, and he vouchsafed that it would be. As to whether exorbitant prices had been paid only expert evidence could say, but he advised the other side not to place too much credence in newspaper inaccuracies about contractors getting rich. There was one thing he could say, and that was that in the past thirty years each successive contract had been awarded on much more favorable terms than the preceding one. Taking it altogether, the last five-year contract to Warwick Bros. & Rutter had been 60 per cent. more favorable than the one awarded in 1868 to Hunter, Rose & Co. Of course, he admitted, trade conditions had altered in the Government's favor. Compared with the contract of 1878, the last one was 40 per cent. more advantageous as regards binding, while the press work only cost one-quarter as much. The last contract was 36 per cent. cheaper in composition, 25 per cent. in press work, and 70 per cent. in binding. The Government had four and a half months to act before the present contract expired, and would advertise for tenders. He pledged also that the lowest tender, if it were that of a responsible man, with a plant capable of doing the work well, and with sound sureties, would be accepted. There would be every publicity about it, so that every firm wishing to acquire wealth suddenly would have its opportunity.

It'd the Extras That Count.

Col. Matheson said he allowed that the press work and the binding, etc., might be getting cheaper, but held that the plum for the contractor was in the extras on the binding. This was a swindle on the province. In voluming the Revised Statutes, for instance, the contractor got 3c extra on each section of 16 pages, for every copy. Instead of getting about $1,375 he got about $5,000, because the book was about a quarter of an inch thicker. If Mr. Hardy had not ruled that the Revised Statutes were not included in the printing contract, the work would have cost $75,000 instead of the $30,000 they did cost.

The Attorney-General and the Treasurer said they considered this last a point in their own favor. The former told how he had taken exceeding pains to ascertain if he was paying too much for this contract. He had consulted a city expert, along with one employed by the then Conservative Government at Ottawa, and both had agreed that the cost was reasonable.

Why the Supply Vote Was Asked.

When the House was asked in supply, with Mr. Stratton in the chair, to pass the remaining supplementary of $60,000 for civil government, Mr. Kribbs (Waterloo) asked, as a new member, what way the money was to be expended.

The Treasurer explained that the grant of $60,000 was for the first two months of next year. He did not think it would necessarily be spent; perhaps only $50,000 would be needed. The Forestry Department and Bureau of Mines each required additional expenditure in order to keep up the policy of development of resources.

The supplies were then concurred in.

Constable Bill First Amendment.

The remainder of the afternoon was taken up in consideration in committee of the constable bill. Section 1 was amended to permit of the appearance of three, instead of two, counsel to present either side of the question, when the right of constables to vote was being argued before the Court of Appeal.

THE EVENING SESSION.

In the evening the consideration of the bill by sections was continued.

In the preamble, which says: "And whereas electors so acting have always exercised the right to vote, and such right has always been heretofore acquiesced in," Mr. Whitney objected that legally it was not acquiesced in. The amendment finally read: "Has not hitherto been questioned in proceedings."

Mr. Graham of Brockville wished a clause added that the sending of newspapers and other campaign literature should not be regarded as illegal acts. This the Attorney-General considered a good suggestion.

The Attorney-General introduced a clause that those holding fishery licenses should be considered on the same plane as those holding timber licenses, as regards eligibility to be elected to the House.

In questions stated for the opinion of the Court of Appeal, question 1 was amended, technically reading, Ontario Election Act, changed to "or any other act."

The bill, as amended, will be read a third time to-day.

A Suggested Amendment.

Mr. Barr (Dufferin) recalled to Mr. Hardy's mind his promise to bring in legislation to prevent "men of straw" petitioning against the return of members. The Attorney-General intimated that the matter was too important to be merely ingrafted on the bill in hand and added that he proposed bringing in a special bill to cover such matters.

Mr. Whitney, while agreeing that some such act was necessary, did not desire to see wealth made a qualification and the poor man shut out from the right to petition.

The Premier, while concurring in this suggestion, held that it would be a misfortune to have a man's goods and chattels and in fact his all placed at stake by the action of some wretched adventurer, who had nothing at stake and therefore no costs to lose.

The Attorney-General introduced another bill amending the Municipal Act to enable urban municipalities to spend money outside of such municipalities in purchasing lands to construct embankments or make other protections against spring floods. At present many towns had suffered from floods because they were not permitted to spend money in protections outside of their corporation limits. Messrs. Whitney and Carscallen cordially consented and the bill was read a first and second time.

O.A.C. RIFLE MATCHES.

The Attendance This Year Is Very Satisfactory—First Day's Firing.

Toronto, Aug. 24.—The Ontario Rifle Association began its annual meet at the Long Branch ranges yesterday. Firing began at eight o'clock in the morning, and the last bullet will find its billet somewhere about sunset on Friday night.

The attendence this year is quite gratifying to the officers of the association. There are 300 entries, thereby more than last year, and even the Maritime Provinces and the great Northwest are represented among the visiting riflemen.

British Columbia sends a team from the Fifth Royal Canadian Artillery, Nova Scotia a team from the 78th Battalion, and Manitobia a team from the 90th Battalion. There are also firing parties from the 1st Prince of Wales Royal Fusiliers, Montreal, and the 8th Royal Rifles, Quebec.

Ontario, of course, is numerously represented and nearly all the crack shots are in attendance. Among the famous marksmen present are: Sergt. Armstrong, Capt. C. L. Mitchell, Lieut. John Ogg, Capt. Crow, Sergt. Drysdale, Sergt. Broadhurst, Capt. Sutherland, Capt. Dover, Lieut. Blair, Surgeon-Major Ross, Capt. King, Lieut. Ross and Color-Sergt. Michell.

The Canadian Company's match was fired, the first prize being won by Pte. N. Rickman, 77th, with a score of 47; the Gilmour match, first prize to Pte. W. J. Armand, 43rd, with a score of 36; and the team competition resulted as follows:

1st—77th, Wentworth, $30	248
2nd—Royal Grenadiers, $25	243
3rd—48th Highlanders, $20	240
4th—39th, Norfolk, $15	235

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT ROBBED.

The Heathen Chinese and the Wily Jap Worked Double Invoices.

Vancouver, Aug. 24.—(Special.)—Chinese and Japanese have been defrauding the Canadian Government at Vancouver by false invoices for six years past. The aggregate amount is probably $150,000. This announcement was made yesterday by Canadian Customs Inspector McMichael, who has just finished a special inspection at this port. As a result Deputy Collector Warnup has been placed temporarily in charge of the port.

As there was no regular system of appraising goods, the Mongolians easily deceived the customs officers. Exporters in China sent two sets of invoices, one for the merchant's own use, and one for use at the customs. The latter invoice was invariably "cooked," goods being in many instances grossly undervalued. In one case an overcoat was invoiced at 90 cents, which sold here for $7, and in China for $4. For the same period, Mr. McMichael says, not a single trifling charge can be brought against Canadian merchants for undervaluation.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, sue policy participating in future profits.	2,080 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to-day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Mrs. Jas. Bradley and party have returned from Sandy Lake, where a most enjoyable time was spent at Mr. Purser's cottage. Over forty fish fell to the lot of the indefatigable anglers.

The Cobourg Post says: Mr. James Metcalfe and Miss Metcalfe of Keene, are in town visiting their numerous friends and relatives. Mr. Metcalfe was a resident of Cobourg before moving to Otonabee sixty-five years ago. He is well acquainted with our oldest inhabitants, though he has not visited Cobourg for twenty years.

Among those present were the following: Mr and Mrs A M Snelgrove Misses Gertie and Edna Carss, Miss Nina Caswell, Miss Bella Fraser, Miss Effie McLean, Messrs Lingar Cooke, Dr J G Moore, E B Cameron, H Cooke, jr, W J Dusty Russell Thompson.

TRAMPS AGAIN.

A Quartette of Them All Went up to Gaol for a Month.

Four tough looking tramps were up before the beak this morning. They gave their names as John Hammond, of New Brunswick; Henry Huffman, of German descent, but born under the English flag at sea; John McDonald, making his way from Toronto to Montreal, and Jas. Whitton, who had nothing to say for himself.

Mr. Jas. Fegg, baggageman of the C. P. R. laid himself under the ban of the "Weary Willies," by identifying Hammond and McDonald as having been loafing around town for the last three or four days drinking beer. Hammond was especially loud in his denunciation of Mr. Fegg, and had to be called to order several times before he ceased declaiming what he would do to get even with the baggage master.

The Chief suspected McDonald of working the "sore arm" racket, as he had a raw spot on it caused by a burn, and carried cards setting forth his trouble. Huffman and Whitton were arrested by the Chief and Detective Ross of the C.P.R., in the rear of Bowman's Hotel. They had no money on their persons, no place of abode, and no visible means of support. All four were sent up to the county goal for a month.

ACKNOWLEDGES HIS GUILT.

Stole Two Pails of Lard and a Box of Bluing at Different Times.

Hector Baker, who was brought down from Toronto last evening by Chief Rossel, was before Magistrate Dumble this morning charged with the larceny, in May last, of two pails of lard from Robt. H. Kerneghan, and repeating the offence on August 17th by the theft of a box of bluing.

The prisoner elected to be tried summarily and entered a plea of "Guilty," asking for the clemency of the Court on the ground that he had taken the articles whilst drunk and that he had a wife and child to support. The goods, he stated, had passed from his hands into those of a town merchant, who had purchased the lard for a small sum and given him a quarter for the bluing.

Baker was remanded for sentence until to-morrow and a summons was issued for the other man.

THE PRETTIEST LAWNS.

A Committee From the Horticultural Society Decided This Question Yesterday.

The judging in the lawn competition took place yesterday, when a committee composed of Messrs. Adam Hall and D.W. Dumble visited the various lawns entered in the competition, and decided as to their relative supremacy.

At the conclusion of a long afternoon's work the following report was drawn up for submission to the Horticultural Society under the auspices of which the competition was held.

Your committee appointed to adjudge and award the prizes for the four most tasteful lawns or grounds of members of the Horticultural Society beg to report as follows:—

The competitors were James Stevenson, Joseph Cobb, Frank Wice, William Thompson and Richard Hall.

Your committee, after careful examination, recommend as follows:- 1st prize, Frank Wise; 2nd, William J. Thompson; 3rd, Joseph Cobb; 4th, Richard Hall.

Your committee have in mind that the object of the society is to encourage the beautifying of homes, the cultivation of flowers and the display of skill and good taste in artistic treatment of grounds—and in this the humblest home may compete with the more pretentious, the one making the most of what he has, deserving greatest credit.

Your committee found Mr. Wise's ground, No. 333 George street, very small but exquisitely neat, the beds of flowers and foliage plants the best of their kind, the vegetable garden in perfect order and worked harmoniously into the whole, the entire treatment displaying a high order of skill and good taste.

Mr. Thompson's grounds, No. 165 Smith street, was also small, open to the street, artistically treated in good order right out to the highway, and altogether making a surrounding for a house, suggesting cleanness, neatness and originality of treatment, at once artistic and pleasing.

The other grounds examined were well kept, neat and a pleasure to look at.

In conclusion we would add that those persons who thus make their homes attractive, besides gratifying their own refined taste, do much to incite their neighbours to like effort, and add much to the pleasure of the people and the beauty of the town.

Dolan & Sheehy Will Undertake the Charlotte Street Work This Fall—The Matthews Company Extending Their Business—Exemption Asked For.

At a meeting of the committee of the whole council last evening, it was moved by Councillors Dawson and McWilliams, that only the Charlotte street permanent walk, from George street to Aylmer street, be constructed this fall, and that the work be given to Dolan & Sheehy, provided they can complete it soon enough to avoid frost; and that in the event of their being unable to comply with these conditions, the contract be left open until next year.

Moved in amendment by Councillors W. H. White and Wm. Langford, that the Charlotte street contract be awarded Dolan & Sheehy, provided petitions are not received for permanent walks on Hunter and Simcoe streets, but if walks are petitioned for on these streets, then that tenders be asked for the whole work.

The amendment was lost and the motion carried.

All of the deposited cheques of the unsuccessful tenderers for the construction of permanent pavements were ordered to be returned.

As the majority of the Council was opposed to allowing business men to use the new pavements for advertising purposes, the terms of the contract will be strictly adhered to, and those who have already utilized the pavement for this purpose will be compelled to remove the signs. It was pointed out that if this method of advertising became general, every time a store was vacated and afterwards occupied by another firm that a change of the sign would be necessary and cause endless trouble.

A communication was received from Mr. Peter Hamilton asking that the walk from King street to the C.P.R. station be eight feet wide instead of six feet as proposed.

Moved by Councillors Dawson and Denne, that the granolithic walk on George street, from King street to the C. P.R. station, be eight feet wide instead of six feet—Carried.

The following communication from the George Matthews Co., Limited, was read:

Peterborough, Aug. 23, 1898.

Mayor and Council, Peterborough.

GENTLEMEN,—At a meeting of the directors of our company held here last evening, it was decided to enlarge our premises and erect new buildings in order to about double our present capacity, provided that assistance be obtained from the town. You are no doubt aware that the export business in bacon has wonderfully developed during the past few years and it is the feeling in our company that we should either enlarge in Peterborough or build elsewhere, where there is a larger population, in order to keep pace in the growing demands of the trade. We should here state that we have received substantial offers if we would move our business and plant from Peterborough. However, this we are not prepared to do if you will assist us to the extent of:

1. Exemption from taxes on all buildings, plant and stock, south of Wolfe street, east of George street, owned by us in Peterborough.

2. Permission for the C P R to construct, operate and maintain a railway siding from a point on their track between George and Aylmer streets, down Wolfe street, to enter our property at a point a few feet south of Wolfe street.

If their are any points upon which you want information we would be pleased to appear before your committee.

Kindly give this matter your early attention, as it is necessary that we should begin operations at once if anything is to be done this fall

Yours truly,
THE GEORGE MATTHEWS CO., Ltd.,
per T. F. Matthews, Sec.-Treas.

Moved by Councillors Best and Allen, that the matter be referred to the Manufacturers Committee.

At a subsequent meeting of the Manufacturers Committee Mr. Matthews was present and his request was discussed in detail. The committee decided to take no action in the matter until they had gone over the ground where it is proposed the siding shall be laid.

WASN'T TWOMEY'S MURDERER.

He Had Lost the Wrong Leg to Fall to Fall Under Suspicion.

A peg-legged tramp dropped into the police court this morning to establish his identity and prevent the possibility of being run in as Twomey's murderer. He was perfectly safe, however, as whilst he has lost his right leg, it is Twomey's murderer's left stump which is missing.

The man was given permission to peddle lead pencils in the streets.

There is an epidemic of enthusiasm in our Boys' Clothing Department. New Fall Styles are arriving daily from our workrooms, and in a few days the stock in will be complete. GRAFTON & CO., Clothing Manufacturers.

THAT DEFICIT.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR.—It is rumoured around town that there is a strong likelihood of the lacrosse team disbanding for the season owing to financial distress. They have not been supported at the home games in the manner they should have been—not enough money taken in to pay the running expenses of the team. In consequence there is no supplies to draw upon to pay travelling expenses to the other towns in the league which have to be visited. In the "intermediate" series there is only one game to play to decide the championship of the Midland District, as I understand it. The senior series follows on at once.

During the last two years I understand two young fellows have gone down in their pockets to the extent of $150 to pay the deficits of those two years. They can't be expected to keep this up—even if they are lovers of the game and officers of the club.

What I want to suggest is this—let every clerk and merchant who has any liking for manly sport and who takes an interest in pure amateur athletics contribute his little mite towards a fund to put the club on its feet. Fifty cents a head is not much, but two or three hundred contributions of that amount will keep the club going for the balance of the season and we may see our boys finish "on the top of the heap"—a good living advertisement for the town and in fact the only thing that does advertise the town in the summer time.

Yours,
OLD TIMER.

DEER HUNTING.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—The season is approaching when the hunters will again be going to the woods for their annual outing. To many of them this is the event of the year. They love the woods, with its eloquent silence and its many voices; they love the fishing, the tongue of the dogs, the hard day's work, the well-earned and welcome dinner, the short camp fire, and the sound sleep 'mid the sweet hemlock—all fitting them for another day of life that makes the blood tingle in their veins, and after two weeks sends them home strong and glad.

There is, however, before every hunter the unpleasant consciousness that he goes out under conditions that mar his anticipations and rob him of half his joy. He realizes that under the existing law the short season compels all hunters to be in the woods together, and with bullets that will kill at a mile and repeating guns, the chance of a perforated skin is anything but a pleasant contingency. In fact, many old hunters deny themselves their greatest pleasure rather than face the chance. Then the law forbidding shooting in the water is utterly repugnant to the general judgment of the hunters; for, while as sportsmen they feel bound in honour to uphold regulations for the preservation of game, they do not respect one which they realise as a great mistake, and so they will go to their outing desirous of keeping the law, but knowing that it will not be observed. Individuals may feel bound, but they will see it broken on every hand; they will see deer shot on the runway, wounded to death, yet escaping to die in the woods; they will see venison spoiled by being shot and torn in the body; they will find deer blazed at by hunters on this side and hunters on that side, the sound of the gun borne over the hills from all directions, and wounded and hunted deer escaping from one party to fall into the hands of another, or, perchance, they will come across the spoiled carcass of the deer, which, though riddled, had yet enough vitality to run for miles before it lay down to die. The deer are then pairing, and the merciless results of all shooting crowded into two weeks sadly interferes with them, and results in the great increase of dry does.

Everything is wrong. The hunter feels it, so instead of helping to maintain a good regulation, he learns to disregard a bad one, and comes out of the woods blunted and reduced in his standard of honour, and robbed of that pleasure that a clean and self-respecting hunter should always possess.

Chief Warden Tinsley is the laughing-stock of the hunters. After the first year of the new regulations he is reported as claiming that 2,000 less deer were killed than under the last year of the old law. How does he know? The hunter makes no returns to the Government. No man knows how many deer were killed in the woods, or how many were killed in the water, or how many wounded deer died in the woods. Then the two seasons were different. One year was a beautiful hunting season, the following was wet and rough, and hunters kept in the camp rather than go through dripping woods.

The press credit Mr. Tinsley with the statement that there are in Ontario a million deer. How does he know? Has he rounded them up and conted them? Has he put paint spots on their tails? As well might Mr. Tinsley say there are a million herring in Lake Ontario. This man's pretence of knowledge is absurd. He talks about still hunting as if he were stalking deer in the Highlands of Scotland, where every hunter had his gillies to carry his guns, spy-glass and champagne lunch, and stretchers to carry home the fatted buck.

Who knows most about hunting and proper hunting regulations for Ontario, Mr. Tinsley or the hunters? The present law is condemned. It is a dead letter, but it is injuring the morale of the hunters and effecting no good, and the sooner it is changed the better. Let the season be 15th October to 15th November, and let men shoot deer in or out of the water as they please, there will be no more killed.

There is no objection to licenses. They may be used to bring back to the Government much useful information on which to perfect the law. Let every holder of a license make a return of the number of deer shot in his party and over his own gun; how shot, on land or in water; the age, sex, etc. And on these returns regulations could be made to suit the hunters, who are the only men interested. They want the deer preserved, and if the law is right they will do more to enforce it than all the game wardens in the country.

Yours, etc.,
D. W. DUMBLE,
President of Central Ontario Fish and Game Protection Society.

How it Counts up in a Year.

Those who have taken advantage of the 10 per cent. discount off for cash offered by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, are cheerfully admitting the substantial advantages accruing therefrom. Messrs. Henry & Co. are giving this 10 per cent. off in coupons for other goods to encourage the cash system, which they are finding to work very successfully. Any family who would like to have an object lesson in what they can save by this plan can easily multiply 10 by the total amount of money they pay out every year for groceries. It creeps up wonderfully in a year.

A SUSPECT DEAD.

A Lakefield Young Man. who was under Arrest as a Spy.

An Atlanta, Ga., despatch says:—The papers of Frank Meller, who died of typhod fever at Fort McPherson yesterday, have been examined by the officers there. Meller was arrested at Tampa several months ago for fraudulent enlistment and suspicious actions, and was in the guard house awaiting trial. A number of documents and telegrams, all from Montreal, indicated that he had acted as agent for one A. Siddell of that city. Among his papers was an official discharge for Frank Meller, gunner, Battery A, Royal Artillery of Canada. Naturalization papers made out to Frank Meller show date of May 18th, at Tampa, Fla. The telegrams for the most part indicated that the sender was supplying Meller with funds. One of them reads: "I cannot telegraph you money to-day. Move at once to some other town. Write fully regarding stocks at once. Will wire money and instructions at once. (Signed), A. SIDDELL."

Meller has an aunt in Montreal to whom his effects will be sent.

There is little doubt but that Meller is from Lakefield, and was Elmhirst's companion.

[Concerning Elmhirst his relatives are determined not to abandon saving him from court martial until the last minute. Mr. John Lang, M. P., was in town to-day communicating with Ottawa in regard to the matter, and the Dominion authorities will likely interfere.

FRUIT WILL BE SCARCE.

Peaches, Plums and Winter Apples are a Short Crop.

The prospects of a plentiful fruit crop the balance of the year are said not to be bright. Advices from fruit-growing districts indicate that the prices for best qualities may be high. Pears and grapes are the only class that look likely to come in heavy quantities. Plums will advance in price, as the crop is only 15 to 20 per cent. Peaches also are said to be very light, the outlook being that there will be scarcely 16 per cent. gathered. While the stock of harvest apples will be strong, winter apples are scarce, and in some sections there is barely any.

Several members of the Ottawa Fruit Auction Company, Mr. S. E. De la Ronde and Mr. C. E. Plain, when spoken to yesterday by a Free Press reporter, confirmed the above statements.

Mr. Plain said reports from Prince Edward county gave the apple crop as a failure. Through Trenton and Brighton and as far west as the fruit district extends, there is almost an entire absence of Spies. There is a fair crop of harvest apples, but the fall stock is only fair, being but very little better than the winter stock.

In the Niagara district the same conditions prevail. This is generally a great peach-growing country, but this year the crop is light and prices will rule high before the season is finished.

Tomatoes, on the contrary, are plentiful, in fact the market has become so overstocked that choice baskets are selling in some places for 10 cents each.

To make the peach and pear market much more serious the canners are buying all the choice stock they can find. This week has seen some rare bargains in apples on account of the over supply rushed in by the growers, but it will never occur again this year. The shippers have been notified of the poor market and are shipping elsewhere.

Blackberries have held on for a considerable longer time than formerly, but are dropping off now. The public have become tired of them and prices have fallen considerably. In many cases scarcely enough profit is received to pay the freight on shipments.

LETTER FROM KLONDYKE.

Mr. Sam Munro Writes to His Father in Scotland.

The Weekly Scotsman, Glasgow, of Saturday, August 6th, contains the following letter written from Skagway by Mr. S. Munro, of the Peterborough party, to his father in "Auld Scotia":

April 25th, 1898.

DEAR FATHER,—No doubt you are wondering how I am getting along in this part of the world. Well, we have all our goods over the Chilcoot Pass, (6½ tons) and I am now back here waiting for our canoes, which were delayed for three weeks on the prairie, somewhere between Winnipeg and the Rockies, owing to a big snowstorm on the first of this month.

We made splendid time here, and the difficulties to be overcome are nothing like what you read about. The weather is perfect, more like what we have in the month of May in Ontario, but the mornings and evenings are cold, and on the top of the Pass it is very cold. Everything is very reasonable; in fact, the hotel rates and fare are as cheap and as good as we have in Ontario, though the buildings, of course, are very rough, but comfortable. This town is only eight months old and it has electric light and waterworks. Even the little towns in the mountains of a few months have electric light.

I understand that there are over 30,000 people in here now, i.e., in the Yukon country, but hundreds come here with nothing, and, of course, are stranded. These are the people who carry back the tales of woe, as they have to give some reason for their failure. There are eight in our party and most of us are used to roughing it. We have a doctor and about $200 worth of drugs and instruments, which we intend to use for the benefit of our company and the good of suffering humanity as well.

We are all Canadians and most of us have Scottish blood in our veins, which help us to overcome all difficulties. The names of the party are as follows:—Wm. T. P. Byers (36 years of age), P. McCoy Clark (40), Hugh C. Byers (33), Charles Gladman (34), Dr. Wm. Douglas (29), Edward S. Neil (34), Frederick S. Harstone (34), Samuel Munro (36).

You can give the above information about the country to the "Weekly Scotsman" if you like. Hundreds of people have arrived from the Old Country, Australia and New Zealand, but in another week or ten days the snow will all be gone and it will be very expensive as well as hard work to get over the summit. No one should think of leaving home unless he can arrive at Vancouver with £200 or £250; or better still, form a company and put up £250 pounds each, and all expenses to come out of the same. A company of eight or ten men is enough.

LACROSSE.

The following team has been picked to go to Orillia to morrow to play the first match in the senior series: Dobbin, Lynch, Brown, Glover, McDonough, King, Jack McCabe, Hogarth, Phelan, Lipsett and Mooney. Bert Dolan will field captain. This game will not effect either club in any way, as regards their standing in the intermediate series, the tie in which is to be played off in Toronto on Tuesday next. If the Peterboroughs win at Toronto they will play home and home matches with the winners of the Newmarket-Markham tie, and the victors of that series will play in the finals for the intermediate championship against the team which wins out in the west.

The senior series matches consist of home and home games with Orillia and the team which scores the most goals in the two games will play the best senior team in the west for the senior championship. It will thus be seen that by striking a winning streak both the senior and intermediate championships are within reach of the Peterboroughs. As stated before the only thing which is troubling the boys is lack of funds and if the exchequer can be replenished sufficiently to enable them to play the scheduled games, Peterborough will be well advertised from one end of the Province to the other.

GOLF.

Yesterday the return match between Mr. J. H. Burnham and Miss Hamilton vs. Mr. Hartshorne and Miss Macdonald and Mr. Campbell and Miss Boucher vs. Miss Worts and Mr. Dennistoun, took place at Chemong. Last Tuesday Mr. Hartshorne and Miss Macdonald beat Mr. Burnham and Miss Hamilton by one hole, which gave Chemong the match, but yesterday the tables were turned, Mr. Burnham and Miss Hamilton winning from the same opponents by four holes. Mr. Campbell and Miss Boucher, who had played a tie with their opponents last time, won by one hole yesterday. After the game the players sat down to a very pleasant tea at Fobert's Hotel. Whilst a very difficult game golf is a very fascinating pastime and the numerous expensive club houses and elaborate links testify to the popularity of this healthful recreation.

The Result of Mr. Jenkins' Two Years Spent in the Klondyke.

Mr. J. Jenkins, of Maganetewan, has been in town for the last few days making arrangements with the Peterborough Canoe Co. for the construction of a steam launch.

Mr. Jenkins is just fresh from the Klondyke, and was one of the lucky ones, bringing out over $65,000 with him as the result of two years work. He was one of the many who made the long weary march to the coast on foot. During his short stay in town he has been the guest of Mr. Wm. Irwin, for whom he used to work in the Muskoka lumbering districts, and he tells many stories concerning his sojourn in the gold fields.

With a party of six he struck it rich within eighteen miles of Dawson city and after two years' work sold out his share in the claim, the results of which, together with his savings, have enabled him to buy considerable property at Maganetewan and to still have $50,400 to his credit in the Bank of Montreal. The watch chain which he wears is composed of nuggets about the size of beans connected by gold links and a pocket piece consists of a nugget of virgin gold weighing several ounces.

Mr. Jenkins intends establishing a summer hotel at Maganetewan and is purchasing the steam launch for the accommodation of his guests.

CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best Sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also,—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

DR. FRANKLIN IN FRANCE.

The American Envoy Was Received With the Highest Honors at Court.

Mr. H. A. Ogden writes of "A Great Republican at Court" in St. Nicholas. After telling of the arrival of Benjamin Franklin in France Mr. Ogden says:

He was then over 70 years of age, and his fame as a printer, editor, inventor, philosopher and statesman—for the old gentleman was a many sided genius—was well established. The learned societies of the civilized globe were proud to enroll his name among their members. The French people, from the nobles down to the servants, all were familiar with his quaint and witty sayings, as translated from "Poor Richard's Almanac," as well as with his love of liberty and his broad sympathy with his fellow men. Silas Deane, the agent of the American congress, then living in Paris, afterward said, "Here is the hero, philosopher and patriot who at the age of 74 risks all dangers for his country."

To show that the enemy fully realized his power as an advocate for the cause of independence, the Marquis of Rockingham, one of King George III's advisors, remarked that he considered "the presence of Dr. Franklin at the French court more than a balance for the few additional acres which the English had gained by the conquest of Manhattan Island." This was said not long after the battle of Brooklyn, whereby General Howe had secured possession of New York.

Shortly after his arrival in Paris the doctor was invited to make his home at Passy, then one of the little towns outside of the city, although now it is inside of the fortifications. Here on a hill overlooking the river Seine as it flows past villages, chateaux and palaces, stood the Mansion Valentinois, the owner of which insisted on Franklin's sharing his apartments with him without cost, saying, "If your country is successful in the war and your congress will grant me a small piece of land, perhaps I may take that as payment." Wherever the doctor went crowds followed him. He was cheered in the streets or at the opera. His sayings were quoted, and engravings, miniatures, medals, snuffbox lids and souvenirs were made to bear his kindly features. He wrote home to little Benjamin's mother that they had "made her father's face"—by which, of course, he meant his own—"as well known as that of the moon."

Nowadays when women are trying to do everything, it is not strange that many things are over-done. It is not strange that there are all kinds of physical and mental disturbances. If the woman who is a doctor, or a lawyer, or a journalist, or in business would not try to be a society woman, too, it might be different; but the woman who knows when she has done a day's work has yet to be born. Usually a woman's way is to keep doing until she drops. Working in this way has manifold evils. The most common trouble resulting from over-exertion, either mentally or physically, is constipation of the bowels, with all it attendant horrors.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the most effectual remedy in the market. They work upon the system easily, naturally. There is no unpleasant nausea after taking them. No griping—no pain—no discomfort. They are composed of materials that go through the system gradually, collecting all impurities and, like the good little servants that they are, disposing of them effectually.

PENMAN'S WONDERFUL FEAT.

He Addresses Envelopes With Both Hands at the Same Time.

Wrapper writing is, it would seem, a popular way of earning a livelihood with the inmates of Rowton House, a sixpenny hotel. Here is an amusing story of the perfection to which it may be brought by practice and a strong will:

"There is a tradition lingering among the elder brethren of the wrapper writing profession to the effect that once upon a time when the work was better paid than now a young man from Australia turned up and ventured as a last resource into their sphere of labor. He spent his all and found himself stranded until funds should arrive from the antipodes. So on the suggestion of an acquaintance he applied for a job at the world famed firm of Schmidt & Co. On being duly installed and supplied with 500 envelopes and some pages from a directory he looked around and asked for a pen.

"'But you have one already,' said the young man in authority.

"'I want two,' said the Australian, and an interested and obliging fellow scribe supplied his need. The scene which thereupon ensued baffles description, for the colonial, separating the pile of envelopes into two equal lots, began copying the addresses by writing simultaneously with both hands. So runs the legend, at least, and, furthermore, it is averred that his rapidity was such as to put the 'sloggers' to shame. Fifty pens dropped from the nerveless grasp of those who but a minute before had been writing against time and as if for dear life. A hundred eyes were fixed in astonishment on the unknown one. Presently the young overseer who superintended the labors of many old enough to be his grandfather rose and timidly said he would consult the 'governor.' The latter arrived, and, the situation being explained, the Australian was turned into a loose box all by himself and fed with another thousand or so of envelopes. At this rate he earned enough in two or three weeks to enable him to last out comfortably till his remittances arrived, then he went home and Schmidt's knew him no more. We asked the old gentleman who told us this yarn to fill his pipe and have another cup of tea, for we thought he deserved both."—London Telegraph.

SHOT IN BATTLE.

The Surprising Manner In Which Wounds Affect Different Men.

"I have been reading some stories about wounded men," said a doctor who had been a hospital steward in the civil war to a reporter, "and many of them are interesting. One of the strangest cases I saw was at the battle of Corinth. It was just after the Confederates had made a terrible charge. I began to load up an ambulance with the wounded, taking those that seemed to need the most immediate care. The hospital was about half a mile away.

"Just when I was about to start the ambulance an orderly sergeant asked me to take him in. I asked if he was wounded, and he said he was. I never saw such a ghastly face on any man, and after he had spoken he seemed to lose all consciousness of where he was. We put him in and started. One man, a large, fine looking fellow that I knew well and who had always been quiet and reserved, kept up a constant chattering. He had been shot in the breast. He was almost hysterical, and I could not quiet him. When we reached the hospital, he called out to the surgeon, a very dignified man: 'Hello, doc! We licked 'em! Gee whiz, but we made them fly!' He kept that up until they had him under chloroform, when they found that a bullet had gone clean through his body. The doctors had no hope of his recovery, but he did recover.

"But my greatest surprise was when I went to take out the orderly sergeant. He was dead. We examined his body and found that he had only a slight flesh wound in the thigh. It had bled very little and the surgeons did not think he died from heart disease. But there it was—a man with a flesh wound dead and a man with a bullet hole clean through him alive and chattering like an excited schoolgirl."—Washington Post.

Naval Nomenclature.

The animal world has been extensively drawn upon to furnish names for various things on shipboard. Such, for example, are: "Flemish horse," a short foot rope under the yardarms; "lizard," a short rope with a ring in the end for use in "tripping" one of the lighter yards; "hounds," a part of the mast; "bull rope," a rope used in hauling small spars into the rigging; "cathead," a protuberance from the bow to which the anchor is hauled up; "cat," the tackle used to haul the anchor to the cathead; "fish," another tackle used in securing the anchor; the "leech" is the side of a square sail; "dolphin striker," a short spar perpendicular to and under the bowsprit; "dog's ear," a piece of sail projecting when sails are furled; "snake," to join two ropes by zigzagging a smaller rope between them; a "jackass" is a big stuffed ball used to plug up holes to keep the water out.—Harper's Round Table.

ROSARY BEADS.

They Were In Use Among the Hindoos Before the Era of Buddha.

The prevailing idea in regard to a rosary is that it belongs solely to followers of the Catholic religion. But take away the cross that is hanging to the beads and we find that one must turn to the dim, mysterious east for the origin of the rosary, for it is among the temples of India, China and Japan that the first sign of the practice is to be found. Ancient pictures of the Hindoo gods depict them with chaplets of beads in their hands, and it is believed that this method of keeping count of their many prayers was in use among the Hindoos before the era of Buddha, or at least B. C. 500.

The use of the rosary seems especially suited to an eastern clime and to the repose of an oriental mind. The Buddhists are fond of using very smooth beads of glass, polished jade or coral, and it has been thought that the smooth, cool beads gliding through their fingers as they murmur the holy name for thousands of times help them to arrive at that state of holy abstraction from earthly things which is so much prized among the followers of Buddha.

The favorite Japanese rosaries are made of polished wood, crystal, onyx and chased silver, and the Japanese Buddhists repeat in endless devotion "Namu Amida Butsu" ("Save us, Buddha"), while their Chinese brothers have the blessed name "O-Mi-to-fu" forever on their lips. A rosary of very great size was recently brought from a temple in Kioto, Japan. The largest bead is about six inches in diameter, and the rosary entire is about 24 feet long. The huge beads are of dark brown polished wood. They are hollow and have each a figure of a god inside the little shrine, which can be seen through a lattice of brass work.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Humors of the Dublin Gallery.

The humor of the Dublin gallery has long been proverbial. Macready, in his "Reminiscences," relates that on one occasion when playing Otway's "Venice Preserved," Jaffier's long and rather drowsy dying speech was interrupted by one of the gallery, in a tone of great impatience, calling out very loudly, "Ah, now die at once!" to which another from the other side immediately replied, "Be quiet, you blackguard," then turning with a patronizing tone to the lingering Jaffier, "Take your time."—Cornhill Magazine.

Tells of relief from suffering by Dr. Fowler's Ext. of Wild Strawberry.

There are many people martyrs to bowel complaints who would find Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a wonderful blessing to them. It not only checks the diarrhoea but soothes and heals the inflamed and irritated bowel, so that permanent relief is obtained.

Mrs. Andrew Jackson, Houghton, Ont., sends the following letter: "For the past two or three years I have been a martyr to that dreadful disease diarrhoea. I tried every remedy I heard of and spent a good deal of money trying to get cured but all failed until I happened to read of a lady who was cured by using Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry. I purchased a bottle and commenced taking it according to directions and was cured in a very short time. I cannot praise the remedy too highly for what it did for me."

Father Time's scythe is a weapon that no man can escape. Sooner or later it must lay all men low.

With premature death it is different. Nature intended that every man should live a long and useful life, and die a peaceful, painless death. Men defeat the intention of a beneficent Providence by the manner in which they live, their disregard of the laws of health and their utter failure to protect health when it is threatened and restore it when it is lost. The most common result of neglect of health is that dread disease, consumption. Not many years ago it was considered incurable. Now it is known that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure 98 per cent. of all cases if taken in time. That is its record during a period of thirty years. Many of the thankful patients have permitted their names, experiences and photographs to be reproduced in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. Any sufferer who wishes to investigate these cases may secure a copy of this book free, by sending 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only, to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and then write to the patients themselves. In consulting Dr. R. V. Pierce by letter, the sufferer consults a skillful specialist who for thirty years has been chief consulting physician to the great Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. With the assistance of a staff of able physicians, he has successfully treated tens of thousands of cases of bronchial, throat and lung affections. He will cheerfully answer letters from all sufferers, without charge. Address the Doctor as above.

"I had bronchitis for eighteen years and I was treated by three physicians, but all failed," writes David Wartzenluft, Esq., of Shoemakersville, Berks Co., Pa. "They told me there was no cure for me. I then used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and was entirely cured. My weight is now 172 pounds."

JACK AND HIS GROG.

SAILORS' DEVICES FOR SMUGGLING LIQUOR ABOARD SHIP.

Ingenious Schemes That Are Invented Only to Be Squelched — What It Means When Jackie Combs His Mustache With a Marline Spike.

"There is perhaps less drunkenness among the enlisted men of the United States navy than among the men forward of any of the world's big sea fit outs," said a naval officer of experience to the writer. "Drunkenness passed with the old navy. In the days of the old Tuscarora or the Tennessee, as the sailors put it, it was a common enough thing to see about three-quarters of a ship's company returning from shore liberty in such a state that they had to be hoisted over the side in bosun's chairs to save the trouble of carrying them up the gangway. But that sort of thing is no longer endured. Men who go ashore after having remained aboard ship for a considerable period are expected by the officer of the deck to return just a trifle exhilarated, but they never return quite incapable.

"Men who exhibit the slightest indications of being addicted to drink are turned down flatly by the examining surgeons when they present themselves for enlistment nowadays. The surgeons tell me that they can tell from a man's eyes whether he has ever suffered severely from excessive drinking, no matter how long the man may have abstained from drink before seeking enlistment.

"If men addicted to drink do happen to get by the examining surgeon and reveal their weakness by going on tears every time they go ashore, the navy gets rid of them by simply 'beaching' them—that is, by putting them on the beach with their bags and hammocks wherever their ship may happen to be in a home port. A man cannot be 'beached' for any cause in a foreign country.

"There are, of course, any number of men in the navy, and rattling fine sailormen, too, who have a natural predilection for drink, and these men the officers keep an eye on for their own good. Sailors are bound to try to smuggle liquor aboard ship. If they drink considerably on their shore liberties, they know that when they return aboard they are in for 'big heads' when they awaken in their hammocks the next morning, and in trying to safely bring a bit of liquor off to the ship they have in mind the taking of 'a hair of the dog' to sort of ease them up when they turn to at 'all hands' the next morning.

"Sometimes they get the liquor safely aboard, but generally they do not. Every enlisted man on a United States man-of-war, except the chief master at arms and the top sergeant of marines, is searched at the gangway upon his return from shore liberty by the gangway corporal of the marine guard, under the inspection of the officer of the deck, for the purpose of ascertaining if he has any liquor concealed about his clothes. The men have picked up some ingenious schemes for smuggling liquor in such a way that the corporal of the guard is fooled. For example, the men on the China station buy long eelskins from the coolies, fill the skins with about a quart of liquor and wind them around their necks beneath the collars of their shirts.

"It took the officers on the China station a long while to get on to this scheme. Then the men who felt that they surely needed a drink the next morning after returning from liberty discovered the plan of filling a rubber bag with liquor while ashore and of stowing the bag next to their waistbands. The liquor smugglers, who observed that the searching corporal only passed his hands up and down on the outside of their clothes, then resorted to the plan of tying bottles of liquor with string on the inner side of their legs, beneath their trousers, but any searching corporal knows all about this one nowadays.

"The cox'un of the steam cutter, who makes dozens of trips ashore a day when the cutter is 'running boat,' has to be carefully watched, for he is liable to be tampered with by the men who want liquor pretty badly, and his opportunities for getting liquor aboard are many. Every once in awhile, upon the cutter's return to the ship, it is searched by the officer of the deck, and the latter often finds liquor neatly stowed among the cutter coal, in the cutter bilges or even in the boiler tanks. When this happens, the cox'un of the cutter is in trouble. He gets a big rake off from the men for his liquor smuggling, which accounts for the chances he will take.

"The ship's painter has to be watched too. He is a petty officer, and he has charge of the ship's alcohol, which is chiefly used for the making of shellac to paint the lower decks.

"Some of the sailors like a dose of alcohol mixed with coffee for 'toning' and sobering up purposes, and as the ship's painter is occasionally corruptible and carries the keys of the alcohol tanks there is quite a little drinking of this mixture on some of the ships where old timers predominate. The old flat feet have indeed been known to drink the shellac after it has been prepared for the sake of the alcohol in it, and there is an expression in the navy among the enlisted men, 'If you see a jackie combing his mustache with a marline spike, you know what he's been at,' that is very significant.

"But for all this, as I say, there is an exceedingly small percentage of drinking men in our navy in comparison with similar figures for other big navies. The occasional drinkers in our service, when they return from the beach a bit under the weather, are merely put in the brig overnight and permitted to go to work without punishment the next morning."—Washington Star.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

Styles of Ladies.

Says the author of "Collections and Recollections:" "The house surgeon of a London hospital was attending to the injuries of a poor woman whose arm had been severely bitten. As he was dressing the wound he said: 'I cannot make out what sort of a creature bit you. This is too small for a horse's bite and too large for a dog's.' 'Oh, sir,' replied the patient, 'it wasn't an animal; it was another lydy.'" As the author justly observes, "Surely the force of politeness of urbanity could no further go."

The popular conception of "a lady" is well shown in another case: "A good woman who let furnished apartments in a country town, describing a lodger who had apparently known better days, said: 'I am positive she was a real born lady, for she hadn't the least idea how to do hanything for herself. It took her hours to peel her potatoes!'"

Glass Globes.

The breaking of glass globes is very frequent, as all housekeepers know. Their durability may be greatly increased if they are tempered beforehand. This is done by putting them in a large pan and covering them with cold water. The pan is then set on the range until the water boils. When that occurs, it is removed from the fire, and the globes are allowed to remain in the water until it is perfectly cold again. This is a common treatment for lamp chimneys and is equally efficient in the case of glass globes.—New York Post.

Dr. A. W. CHASE

COMES TO THE AID OF

Catarrh Sufferers

SUCCESS in life is almost impossible for a man with bad breath. Nobody wants to do business with him. Nobody wants to associate with him. He is handicapped everywhere. Offensive breath comes from Catarrh; sometimes from Catarrh of the Stomach, sometimes of the lungs, sometimes of the head, nose, and throat. It is from Catarrh somewhere, and Catarrh is another name for uncleanness.

Many men understand this, and make every effort to cure it, but it is beyond the reach of ordinary practice.

No self-respecting man can ignore Catarrh. If he has it in any form he makes constant effort to be rid of it.

There is something about the manner of life and the climate of Canada that seems to breed diseases of the mucous membrane. Medical science ordinarily doesn't try to cure Catarrh; it "relieves" it; but Dr. Chase has been curing Catarrh for over thirty years, and his name is blessed by thousands who have shaken off the grasp of this insidious disease.

RARE OLD DISHES.

Fried Grasshoppers and Scorpions Delicacies of the Arabs Long Ago.

An erudite Egyptian writes in The Revue des Revues of the diet of the ancient Arabs. Dog meat, it appears, was one of their favorite dishes, and young dogs were as precious in old times among the Arabs as spring chickens are among the people of today. They were also fond of cat meat. The flesh of a black cat had the virtues of curing them of the effects of a heodoo and the evil eye.

Fried grasshoppers and scorpions also formed a very choice dish. The naturalist, Al-Djahey, who lived in the tenth century, speaks of his visit to the Arabian tribes of Bassorah and of his surprise on discovering that they did not eat grasshoppers. "Nevertheless," says he, "there is nothing more delicious." He also says that when he went to see his friend, the poet Roobah, he found him seated on the ground enjoying a repast of roast rat. Afterward he had fried lizards.

Notwithstanding the almost religious worship which the Arabs profess for the horse, they ate horseflesh, but only the flesh of draft horses, never that of saddle horses. They ate all sorts of mollusks and insects. The Arabs were also very fond of black snakes, and they hunted them at the time when the reptiles were about to change their skins, the flesh in that season being extremely tender.

Good Blood and Sound Muscles.

Scott's Emulsion is a blood-making and strength-producing food. It removes that feeling of utter helplessness which takes possession of one when suffering from general debility.

Didn't Want Much.

Here is an advertisement from an old copy of an English provincial journal:

"Wanted, for a sober family, a man of light weight, who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must occasionally wait at table, join the household prayer, look after the horses and read a chapter of the Bible. He must, God willing, arise at 7 o'clock in the morning and obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands; if he can dress hair, sing psalms and play at cribbage, the more agreeable. Wages, 15 guineas a year."

GOLD FILLED TEETH.

More of the Metal Goes Into Them Than Can Be Got Out.

An example of some of the queer experiences people have when they are called upon to buy a thing with which they are not familiar and which they have need of only on rare and unusual occasions is thus set forth by the Milwaukee Sentinel:

A young woman who worked as a domestic went to a dentist to get her teeth repaired. He repaired them and sent a bill of $85. He justified himself for the charges by explaining how much the fillings cost him. In one hollow tooth, he said, he put $10 worth of gold. The bill was paid, and recently, when the little nugget (said to be worth $10) came out, the woman took it to a goldsmith and had it appraised. He weighed it scrupulously and valued it at 48 cents. She no longer has faith in her dentist.

It seems to be always good taste to "go shopping" among the dentists before having any considerable amount of work done. There is considerable humbuggery about the business in some quarters. The public is told that $15 is a fair price for a crown and stands ready to pay it, on the ground that good work deserves good pay. A few blocks away the same work was done last week for $5, just as well as if $15 had been paid, and it was done by a reputable dentist. One dentist figured on $85 for six teeth, and another 200 yards away performed the service for $30.—Philadelphia Times.

ECZEMA WORST KIND

Face and Neck One Inflammation. Not Able to See. Unable to Sleep for Weeks from Severe Pain.

Friends Did Not Recognize Me Face So Swollen and Hideous. Three Doctors Could Not Relieve.

CURED IN 2 WEEKS BY CUTICURA

I have suffered with a case of Eczema of the worst kind, my face and neck down to my shoulders were one inflammation, was not able to see out of my eyes for quite a while, and was unable to sleep for weeks, on account of the severe pain, which nearly drove me insane. My face and neck were swollen and made me look hideous. I hardly recognized myself in a mirror, and my friends would not have known me, only on account of my clothes and carrying myself.

Three doctors, of good practice, at different times were attending me, and not one of them could relieve me of my pain, swelling, and blotches. I gave all up. A friend advised me to try CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did, and there was immediately a great change, my shoulders and neck turning to their natural color. I used three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, four boxes CUTICURA (ointment), three cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and my friends and doctors are surprised, and asked "Who cured you?" and I tell them quickly "CUTICURA REMEDIES." SIX BILLS PASSED.

The Ontario Legislature Was Then Adjourned.

GOVERNMENT'S MAJORITY SIX.

Several Amendments to the Constable Bill Are Voted Down. The Bill Passed, But the Opposition Declined to Vote on the Third Reading —Indemnity of the Members.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—The Legislature concluded the business for which it was specially summoned yesterday afternoon and adjourned, to meet again for the regular session upon call by proclamation. The chief interest of yesterday's sitting was centered in the bill relating to the election laws, to which the Opposition offered a number of amendments. Upon the motion for the third reading they finally refused to vote at all, as a last protest against the bill.

Bills Read a Third Time.

The bill respecting the fisheries, the bill respecting the early posting of voters' lists, the bill to correct clerical and typographical errors in the Revised Statutes of 1897, and the bill amending the Municipal Act, by permitting towns to erect protections against floods outside their limits, were all read a third time.

The Constable Bill.

Hon. Mr. Hardy resolved the House back into committee of the whole to make certain amendments to the Constable bill. Section No. 5, which provides that the receipt of public money for public election services should not invalidate a vote, was then clothed in more satisfactory phraseology.

The committee rose, and the Attorney-General moved the third reading of the bill.

Mr. Carscallen moved in amendment that the bill be referred back to committee of the whole, with instructions to strike out section 18 thereof.

Mr. Carscallen said it was a most pernicious thing to provide that if a member be unseated by the disqualification of the constable vote, the other candidate shall not be entitled to the seat, but a new election shall be called. The bill was a political bill for political purposes, and one which would create a bad precedent. By it members were placed in the humiliating position of voting themselves into seats. The clause was a contravention of the vested rights of litigants in court; the bill was one framed to interrupt the course of justice. It was an ex post facto law in the interests of the dominant party

The Premier's Reply.

The Attorney-General said that the position he had maintained from the beginning, namely, that the constables had a right to vote, was, when it was taken into consideration that this right had not been questioned for 50 years, a complete answer to the contentions of the Opposition. "We nail our colors thus to the mast." Was there ever a question more absurd than that the seats of members returned by a majority vote of the electors should be protested after that election by the disqualification of voters whose qualifications had never before been questioned? The section objected to by the amendment was simply tentative. It would not go into effect at all unless the courts should go contrary to practice and declare the constable votes of March 1 to be illegal. He quoted from statute law by Wilberforce to the effect that where statutes are silent on one point usage should give the interpretation. The statutes were silent as to a position on the constable vote and therefore the statement could not be more appreciable anywhere than to the case in hand. The statement that the Government was running away from the courts he designated as monstrous in view of the fact that they were referring the matter to a full court and one of last resort. The cry that they were voting themselves into power was equally unfounded. There was not a line in the bill which gave a member a chance to vote himself into a seat. It provided on the other hand that if the basis of voting were altered from what it was before March 1, a new election should be held on the new basis. There was and had been for many years another Opposition cry—"let us get to the people." It had been shouted ad nauseam. The people had got sick of it. Yet now the Opposition were rejecting opportunities to get to the people.

Mr. Whitney Speaks.

Mr. Whitney said he sympathized with the Premier for being compelled to take a course which he knew to be out of tune with the ideas which prevailed at the end of the 19th century. He challenged him to go to the courts and prove the rights of constables to vote. Instead of doing so he proposed to take away from British subjects rights which they had to-day. The question was not whether the constables had a right to vote, but whether statutes giving men certain rights should be annulled by retrospective legislation. It was a proposition which would not be tolerated in any other legislature in the world. The usual procedure was that when men were disqualified at an election, and a candidate was thereby unseated, the other candidate got the seat. This right was taken away by the bill now proposed.

The Division.

The question was put on the amendment, resulting in the standard majority of six for the Government. The vote was exactly on previous lines, with the exception that Messrs. Loughrin (Nipissing), Guibord (Russell), and McKee (North Essex), Liberals, were paired with Messrs. Lucas (Centre Grey), Beatty (Leeds) and Jamieson (South Grey), Conservatives. Mr. Beatty (Parry Sound) again voted Government, and Mr. Tucker (Patron) Opposition.

Mr Foy in amendment now proposed to refer back the bill to committee, with instructions to strike out section 2, which provides that petitioners must give undertakings not to bring up the question of the right of constables to vote before the trial judges or otherwise be forced to wait the judgment of the Court of Appeal before the trial could be proceeded with.

Mr. Foy said this clause meant that the pistol was held to the litigant's head, holding him up and forcing him to draw back from a struggle for his rights.

This amendment was "Lost on the same division."

Mr. Whitney moved another amendment to the effect that a section be added to the bill to provide that none of the provisions of the bill should apply to pending litigation, and he particularly enumerated the cases of the eight constable members with the petitioners against their election.

A division was insisted upon this time, and the amendment was lost, the vote being the same as on the first amendment.

A fourth and final amendment was offered by Mr. Marter. It was to the same effect practically as his leader's, and it went down in the same old way.

On the third reading of the bill being put, the Opposition did not vote as a last protest against the bill.

The third reading was then carried.

His Honor Dismisses Members.

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Oliver Mowat, arrived, preceded by his aides, shortly after 7 o'clock, and, after the clerk had announced that he had assented to the six bills passed, the session adjourned.

God Save the Queen sung heartily by both sides closed the first half of the first session of the Ninth Legislature of the Province of Ontario.

Members' Indemnity.

The members, indemnity for a full session is $600. An agreement was reached whereby they received $250 each and mileage for the present session, and the balance will be paid after part No. 2 of the session has been held.

Englishmen Are Wary.

London, Aug. 25.—The Financial Times, in an editorial headed "Canadian Wild Cat," says that three times within a short period attempts have been made to foist upon the English public bonds of the Atlantic & Lake Superior Railway. It is doubtful, the Financial Times continues, whether these efforts will be successful, as underwriters are usually shy of enterprises that have become flyblown, and which frequently have gone the rounds without result.

The Plebiscite Ballots Printed.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—One million five hundred thousand ballots for the prohibition plebiscite have been printed at the Government printing bureau and turned over to the department of the Secretary of State for distribution throughout the Dominion.

Col. Strathy Reinstated.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—A special Militia Gazette issued yesterday afternoon reinstates Lieut. Col. J. A. L. Strathy of the 5th Royal Scots and transfers him to the reserve of officers.

Pacific Cargo Brought In.

Port Arthur, Aug. 25.—The steamer Pacific of the White Star Line arrived yesterday morning from Sault Ste. Marie, with the steamer Majestic's cargo of freight and merchandise. The Majestic broke her shoe at Algoma Mills, and the Pacific, which usually runs from Collingwood to the Soo, had to bring her cargo in.

Mr. Farrell of Forest Nominated.

Sarnia, Ont., Aug. 25.—The Liberal-Conservative party of West Lambton held a convention here yesterday in the Town Hall to nominate a candidate to contest the bye-election in this riding. Mr. John Farrell of Forest was the unanimous choice. The nominee, Mr. James Clancy and others made addresses.

POLISH EXILE DEAD.

Sir Casimir Gzowski, Queen's Aide-de-Camp, Passes Away.

HIS ROMANTIC LIFE STORY.

The Great Soldier and Publicist Expired in Toronto—A Polish Patriot Who Rose to Greatness in Her Majesty's Dominions—Sketch of His Distinguished Career—His Family.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Col. Sir Casimir Gzowski died yesterday morning at "The Hall," his residence on Bathurst street, in his 86th year. The deceased was one of those exiled Polish officers who in 1833, were sent to New York on board an Austrian frigate, given $40 and told to shift for himself. That was his reward for the part he took in the Polish revolt against the rule of Grand Duke Constantine.

In 1839 he married Miss Maria Beebe, the daughter of an eminent physician of Erie, Penn. She still survives her husband, at the mellow age of 75. In 1840 the deceased came to Canada. They had three sons. Casimir, a broker in Toronto, married a Buffalo lady and has a large family. Alexander was an officer in the English army, married and died. John died at Brockville when he was a clerk in a bank, aged 18. There were three daughters in the deceased's family. Helen married Col. Turner, R.A., and is a widow. Charlotte, deceased, married Capt. Northey, 60th Rifles, who was killed in the Zulu War. Maria married Gen. Sandham, and lives at Folkestone in England.

A Distinguished Career.

The late Col. Sir Casimir S. Gzowski was one of the most notable figures on Toronto streets. Tall and erect, he was a particularly handsome man, and attracted attention wherever he appeared. He was an engineer of worldwide reputation, and had been the designer of many of the most notable construction works in the Dominion of Canada, among the many monuments of his ability being the International Bridge over the Niagara River. He was a man of great culture, and was a universal favorite both among his social and his business acquaintances and friends.

Sir Casimir was a son of Count Stanislaus Gzowski, a member of an ancient and noble Polish family, and an officer in the Russian Imperial Guard. He was born in St. Petersburg in 1813, his parents being at that time residents of the Russian capital. He was, as is usual with all young Russian nobles, destined for a military career, and at the age of nine entered the Military Engineering College at Kremnitz, where he remained until 1830. He there evinced a strong liking for engineering, and, on his graduation, received a commission in that branch of the service. When the Polish revolution against the rule of Constantine took place young Gzowski threw up all his prospects in the army of the Russian Emperor, and took his place in the ranks of his fellow-patriots. He was present at the Polish triumph in Warsaw, and bore a worthy part in the engagements which followed, being several times wounded, and having on more than one occasion narrow escapes from the hands of the Russian forces. When the final catastrophe occurred at the battle of Boremel, General Dwernecki, to whose division Casimir Gzowski was attached, surrendered, and the officers were imprisoned in the fortifications for several months, being afterward exiled to the United States. The rank and file were allowed to depart.

Casimir Gzowski landed in New York in 1833, and there he found himself at a considerable disadvantage on account of his ignorance of the English language, which he heard spoken for the first time by the harbor pilot. He was, however, endowed with an indomitable will, and he set himself to the study of the English tongue with the same resolution which has characterized him throughout his career. Being an excellent linguist, and having a thorough knowledge of French, Italian and German, he gave lessons for several months, after which he went to Pittsfield, Mass., where he entered a law office. During his days as a student he applied himself to a study of the English language, and in 1837 he was admitted to the bar. He went to Pennsylvania, where, as a necessary preliminary to admission to the Supreme Court, he took the oath of allegiance. He had, however, little inclination for the study of law, and in 1841 he came to Toronto, where, through the influence of Sir Charles Bagot, he obtained a position in the Crown Lands Department, where he once more resumed his favorite profession of engineering.

During the succeeding six years Mr. Gzowski occupied this position, and at the end of that time he became chief engineer of the St. Lawrence & Atlantic Railway Company, leaving that position to form a partnership with the late Sir A. T. Galt, the late Hon. Luther H. Holton, and Sir David Macpherson, for the purpose of railway construction. The firm had the contract for the building of the Grand Trunk Railway between Toronto and Sarnia, besides many other important works.

Sir Casimir Gzowski always took a deep interest in military affairs. He was the first president of the Dominion Rifle Association, and was instrumental in sending the first Canadian team to Wimbledon. He was made a Lieutenant-Colonel in 1872, and in 1879 was appointed A.D.C. to her Majesty. In 1880 the honor of knighthood was conferred upon him in recognition of his many services. He never entered public life, but he was none the less esteemed by his countless friends and admirers, not only in Toronto, but throughout the entire Dominion.

THE LUMBER REGULATIONS.

The public will read with satisfaction the annuncement that Mr. Hardy will be heard before the Joint High Commission now sitting at Quebec. It is true that he is not bound to appear on the defensive before that body in connection with the course the Government and Legislature have taken in the matter of the Provincial lumber regulations. Our rights in the matter are beyond question, and the question which has been assumed legally and constitutionally unassailable. But the commission is sitting with a wide-reaching purpose in view. Never before have plenipotentiaries met to consider more important issues, and never before have plenipotentiaries representing the Crown of Great Britain and the American republic, met under conditions which promise so favourably and are an earnest of the happiest results. The good feeling now existing between Britain and the States seems so clearly defined, and the general sentiment in favour of closer and more amicable relations, so strongly expressed by press and people, that on our part nothing should be left undone which may tend to aid the commissioners in arriving at the ends they seek. Now the subjects which the commissioners will consider are not, perhaps, numerous. The list only comprises a dozen heads, but they involve a great many issues. One will be found to involve another, and numerous collateral subjects will arise at almost every point. But the end will be in great part attained if only some common understanding is arrived at with regard to what chemists term the basic elements of the controversy. The details will be a matter of secondary importance, so long as a solid foundation be laid for the construction of a system of unconstrained and harmonious relations, commercial, social and diplomatic between the two countries. The issues at stake are in fact more than local. The High Commission may be said to have in its power either to make or mar the great Imperial movement, which is sufficiently in evidence. It may help to strengthen the rivets of the chain which binds the Republic and Great Britain to an anchor of material alliance and interest. It may weaken it, and put the hands of the clock back for years. It will be well for both countries locally and for the cause of civilization generally if the commission does not lose the splendid opportunity it is afforded, and certainly every aid must be given it that may be calculated to promote the desired end. So the Province will be glad to learn from the Premier that its interests will be guarded at Quebec if necessary. And, as it may also be taken for granted that the lumber question will certainly be a matter of contention, no better champion of provincial rights could be selected than the Premier himself. Ontario may be assured that he will carefully defend her interests. The claims of the American lumbermen appear preposterous, but it is satisfactory to note that the government has "squarely planted itself" on the position that "the provincial authorities must be the judges of what is the best policy to be adopted for the preservation and perpetuation of the timber resources of Ontario with regard to the revenue to be derived from them and their enjoyment by the people of the province." This is true Liberal policy and the people of Ontario will support Mr. Hardy in the patriotic stand he has taken in their interests. He will be able to convince the commissioners without difficulty of the righteousness of his position, and that distinguished body is not likely to permit itself to become the mere agents of a few grasping lumbermen.

It is pleasing to note in the last report of the Bureau of Statistics that of the $13,561,716 recorded as the chattle mortgages in the province, the farmers of the St. Lawrence and Ottawa district stand third from the bottom, the East Midland District and the Northern alone being less indebted. The district has $437,000 in farmers' chattel mortgages. The highest is the Lake Ontario district with 1987 mortgages, $3,27,000; the West Midland District being next with $686,272. The increase over the previous year is small, especially when compared with the rapid increase between the years 1843-4-5. The past and present years of prosperity will probably witness a great change for the better.—Ottawa Free Press.

GALWAY.

From Our Own Correspondent.

On the night of the 11th inst the barns and stables of Mr. Jos. McGuire were destroyed by fire. Lightning struck the roof and going through, killed one of the hogs under the barn. Mr. McGuire's loss is a heavy one, including most of his grain and a considerable quantity of hay. They succeeded in saving a wagon loaded with grain on the barn floor. The property was not insured.

Another serious conflagration occurred the night of the 15th, when Mr. F. Dettman's large frame barn and all his stables were burned to the ground Mr. Dettman had his harvest all in excepting one small field. The origin of the fire is somewhat of a mystery, although there was considerable lightning and thunder that night, yet it was not thought to be sufficiently dangerous to cause any accident. Mr. Dettman had all his machinery and implements burned to ashes with very few exceptions. Fortunately the buildings were partially insured in the London Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

HEED THE DOCTOR.

Benefit by the Advice he Gave his Friend the Lawyer.

And You'll Never Have Dyspepsia—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets the Safest, Surest, Pleasantest and Quickest Cure Known—They Never Fail.

"Why are the business men so generally afflicted with Dyspepsia and Indigestion?" The question was asked by a prominent lawyer, the other day, of an equally prominent physician.

"My experience has taught me that business men and professional men in nine cases out of ten suffer from Dyspepsia and Indigestion," answered the doctor. "And when I was first struck by the circumstance, I began to look into the cause of this state of things. I have never ceased to investigate, so far as I can, every such case with which I come in contact.

"I have found that in the vast majority of cases the trouble is due to one of two causes."

"And what are they?" queried the lawyer.

"In the case of a merchant, for instance, you'll find that worry and anxiety, business cares, are the predisposing causes.

"In the case of a lawyer, who has little time to spare from business, the 'lunches' he eats every day cannot help but give him Dyspepsia. They are frequently ill-cooked; the bread, buns, etc., are only half-baked; the tea or coffee is swallowed almost boiling hot, the food is 'bolted' rapidly, and the lawyer rushes off to work again."

"There's not much hope of a change in that direction," said the lawyer.

"No, but if the lawyer and merchant were to carry in their vest-pockets a few of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets they would find that they would never again be tortured by Indigestion, or Dyspepsia, for Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets themselves digest the food. They are the only medicine I know of that will positively prevent and cure Dyspepsia, Indigestion, and all other Stomach Troubles."

CASE OF MR. MEAGHER

Taken From British Soil Across the St. Clair.

HANDCUFFED IN A BEDROOM.

A Resident of Port Lambton Illegally Detained and Subjected to Gross Insults—An American Boundary Official's High-Handed Action—Thrown Into Port Huron Jail Without Warrant.

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—News comes of an outrage committed by an American officer on a British subject on Canadian soil so gross in its character and so devoid of legal warrant as to call for prompt action and immediate reparation. Mr. Thomas Meagher, a British subject, resides near the village of Port Lambton, on the Canadian side of the St. Clair River. He is the owner of a small steam launch, in which a few days ago he crossed over into American water near the club house at Marshland. Henry Avery, United States Deputy Collector of Customs at that point, ordered Mr. Meagher into port. Mr Meagher disregarded his orders and went on to his destination on the Canadian side of the river.

Arrested on Canadian Soil.

He was followed by Avery and his assistant not only to the Canadian side of the river but upon Canadian soil, where they attacked him and without warrant and without any complaint being made against him placed him under arrest. Meagher was taken across the river to the Marshland Hotel, when he was handcuffed to a bedpost in a small room in such a way that he was compelled to sit on the side of the bed, being unable to recline or lie down. He was not taken before any Magistrate, and when a gentleman protested against the treatment of the prisoner he was answered by Avery with a volley of vile oaths and imprecations, and was told that he (Avery) knew his own business and that he would keep Meagher where he had him just as long as he pleased. Parties who desired to see Meagher were met with abuse and were refused access to him.

To Humiliate His Prisoner.

Meagher was afterward taken from the bedroom where he had been confined and paraded by Avery up and down the hotel grounds in the presence of bystanders, Avery's evident object being to humiliate his prisoner and display his own authority. This performance over, Meagher was returned to the bedroom and again chained up to the bedpost, where he was confined for upwards of twenty-four hours, although, if it had been the desire of the officer to send him to the Port Huron jail, he could have done so almost immediately after his arrest, as two boats passed up the river during the interval.

Immediate Attention Demanded.

If ever there was a case calling for immediate attention, providing the facts are as they have been represented, it is this one. A British subject has been arrested by a United States officer without a warrant, without legal authority, and violently abducted from British territory, from under the protection of the British flag and British laws. He has been manacled, insulted and imprisoned by an officer who is utterly unfit to be clothed with any authority over any human being. His friends have been excluded from any intercourse with him, and he has been thrown into Port Huron jail without having been taken before any Magistrate or Justice, and without any legal form of commitment. Had such a procedure been taken by anyone calling himself a public official in this country, no jailer would have received the victim of his insult without a warrant. If the facts are as they have been represented Avery should be extradited and surrendered.

A NEW ALLIANCE.

A Treaty Uniting Spain, France and Russia—Anglo-German Influence in Morocco to Be Counteracted.

London, Aug. 25.—The Madrid correspondent of the Times says: One paper here declares boldly on the authority of an anonymous French diplomatist, that owing to M. Hanotaux's exertions a treaty of alliance has been signed by Spain, France and Russia, with the object of counteracting the Anglo-German influence in Morocco. Other papers mention the matter, but without affirming that the treaty has been actually signed.

The idea of a permanent rapprochement between France and Spain is certainly in the air, and may in time assume considerable practical importance. It had its origin in France's role in the peace negotiations and reports of friction with England over Spain's military activity in the neighborhood of Gibraltar.

Many patriotic Spaniards, who apprehend further sacrifices during the forthcoming peace negotiations, regard the suggestion of a French alliance with much favor, especially as French help would be very useful, also in the great work of financial and economic reorganization which Spain must undertake directly peace is concluded.

At the same time it must be noted that the protocol, signed under French auspices, has produced a great deal of popular dissatisfaction because, while making the loss of the Antilles irrevocable, it may also result in the loss of the Philippines.

It remains to be seen whether France will render effective assistance.

ONTARIO'S MARKSMEN.

Phenomenal Shooting on the Second Day of the Ontario Rifle Association Matches—A Marker Hurt.

Toronto, Aug. 25.—Phenomenal shooting marked the second day of the O.R.A. meet, notwithstanding the threatening weather. The air was delightfully cool and the wind, which was light, blew right across the ranges.

The sensation of the afternoon was the sudden rise of the danger signal at target No. 2 in the 600-yard range shooting of the Toronto Corporation match. Firing was immediately discontinued along the line, and Surgeon Ross and a number of officers rushed to the spot. Stunned behind the target, with his face covered with blood, was Marker T. Walker of the 12th Battalion. The wound, on the top of his head, was bandaged, and Secretary Cartwright will give him the bullet as a watch-charm. A wall three feet above his head furnished frontal protection, and the ball inflicted its injury by rebounding.

At 3 o'clock, when the news of Colonel Gzowski's death reached the camp, the flag was lowered half-mast.

The Corporation of the City of Toronto match, the crack contest of the day, was shot off by 139 competitors. The number of rounds were seven at 500 yards and 10 at 600. It is here that the finest shooting of the whole series was made.

The first prize, $35 and gold medal, was won by Col.-Sgt. Robson, 7th, with a score of 84, and the second, $25, Capt. A. Elliott, Y.R., with a score of 86.

The first prize in the Gordon, a seven rounds match at a range of 600 yards was won by Capt. A. Elliott, Y.R., with a score of 35.

The team prizes, where the first prize is the Toronto Ladies' Challenge Cup, valued at $150, was won by the Q.O.R., score 388, with the 48th and Grenadiers second and third, with respective scores of 384 and 381. The other teams were 13th Battalion, Hamilton, 379; 77th Battalion, Wentworth, 379; Royal Grenadiers (3), 376; 9th Battalion, London, 376; Victoria County, R.A., 373; Q.O.R. FAMINE IN RUSSIA.

In a Large Section of the Country the Crops Have Failed.

London, Aug. 24.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says great uneasiness is felt over the repetition of last years' failure of the harvest. In several districts of the Province of Kazan, and largely in the provinces of Samara, Sarttoff, Simbirsk, Viatka and Perm, the crops are almost worthless. Even the landed gentry are beginning to ask the Government for relief, and the prospect of a famine is most grave.

The Ministers of the Interior and of Finance are sending out agents to make enquiries and to purchase corn. The Zemstovs are bestirring themselves to meet the situation. It is reported that in some districts the peasantry are breaking into the communial granaries and helping themselves.

The nine-year-old son of Peter Cyr of Gatineau Point was drowned in the Ottawa River.

The Larger Northwest Receipts Have This Effect in Chicago, While Liverpool Futures Are Easier.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 24.

The lower Liverpool cables and the larger receipts in the Northwest caused the Chicago wheat markets to rule heavy to-day. The September option at one time advanced sharply, but the close was near the low point of the day, this month's delivery showing a loss of ½c, next month's ⅝c and December ⅝c per bushel. At the decline New York took some 40 loads for export.

On the Liverpool board to-day September wheat declined ½d and the December option ¼d per cental.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

The First Chinese Baby Show.

The first Chinese baby show in the world has just been held here. There were 200 of them. From embroidered slipper to shaven poll they were arrayed in their best. They wore satin blouses that shone in the sun with a silvery shimmer. They wore embroideries of wonderful birds and bees and flowers never seen on land or sea. The little boys were shaven, and the little girls had their hair stiffened and polished and dressed as though for the grandest function, with little birdcages and fringes of beads and paper atop. There were great tinklings of metal and much shining of green jade. A new fashion in infant headgear showed a halo of stiff pompons that rose above the infants' somber eyes. Others were huge rosettes of silk on each temple, like a joss, and one little girl had a mane of black silk one strings hanging down from the back of her head. Even the baby complexions had been looked after. On the smooth, yellow cheeks appeared the most lovely patch of pink rouge, put on quite frankly in the Chinese fashion. The rosebud mouths were touched up, and the narrow brows beautifully penciled.—Penang Gazette.

An Excellent Performance.

The sparkling little comedy "Who is Who" drew a fair house last evening and the excellence of the performance warrants the assertion that a return date would result in the company being patronised in a manner which would be most satisfactory at the box office. The comedy fairly bristles with laughable incidents and every member of the company takes the fullest advantage of each new incident to present its funniest side.

First New Barley.

Mr. Harry Nell, manager of the Calcutt Brewery & Malting Co., bought the first load of this year's barley from Geo. Robb, Otonabee. It is a good sample, being nice and bright and good weight. The Calcutt Brewing Co., owing to the large business done this summer, will begin malting on the 1st of September, so farmers that have threshed their barley will have a ready market for it at the brewery.

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

New Rules for Trainmen.

Mr. C. H. Bevington, rule instructor with the New York Central R.R., has been travelling about from point to point on the Grand Trunk system since March 4th last, instructing the men in the American Standard Rules, which will come into effect in a few months. Mr. Bevington was here in June last, when he was assisted by Mr. Keely, of Barrie, and his present visit will be the last at which instruction will be imparted. Examinations will be held shortly to ascertain the men's proficiency in interpreting the signals of the new code of rules.

Capt. "Jack" Complimented.

A party of American gentlemen who have been summering in the vicinity of Peterborough and Rice Lake, presented Capt. "Jack" Martin with a handsome Union Jack as a token of their appreciation of the courtesies shown them by the "North Star's" popular proprietor. The party went down on Wednesday on the steamer, and took occasion to unfold the pretty piece of bunting on the "Star's" flagpole. There was a large party on board, who took in Gore's Landing, Idyl Wild and the Serpent Mounds. These regular trips are keeping up with increasing interest.

Activity at White's Old Foundry.

Since taking possession of White's Foundry and Machine Shop premises on McDonel street west, Mr. G. Walter Green, our enterprising pump manufacturer, has been very much encouraged by business prospects. He has kept the machine shop and foundry working constantly and his pump and cistern shop has had a full swing of work. Recently Mr. Green has taken over the foundry and now he controls the entire premises. He has the contract for supplying most of the iron grates and frames for the new permanent sidewalk, as well as being quite busy with the manufacture of plough point orders and other castings. Mr. Green has shown considerable pluck and perseverance since he commenced business in Peterborough and although he has suffered severely by fire, he pushes ahead and our citizens will be glad to hear that he is doing well.

THE PAVING CONTRACTS.

The Work Will Have to be Finished Before the Third Week in Sept.

At the council meeting on Monday evening in the discussion over granolithic pavements and the necessity of having them laid before the frost came, there appeared to be a difference of opinion among the councillors as to when that event did occur. The EXAMINER has been furnished with the following from the local weather observer, which will be of interest:

Last year frost made its first appearance on Sept. 21st; in 1896, on Sept. 23rd; in 1895 on Sept. 15th. It generally occurs in the third week of September, followed usually by a couple of weeks of fine weather—the Indian Summer. "Frost" in the above is not supposed to be the ordinary white frost, but a temperature of 32 degrees, or lower, when ice forms. After Oct. 15th the freezing point is generally reached two or three times a week, though in some years fine weather is experienced till the end of the month.

Verse and Prose Which Have Heretofore Been Unpublished.

In response to an inquiry regarding Isabella Valancy Crawford, a contributor furnishes the following:

The two following pieces were written impromptu in the poetry manuscript, and at the request of the undersigned on the last evening of a visit to the home of Miss Isabella Valancy Crawford, in Toronto, in the fall of 1883, and they have hitherto been unpublished.

A friend of Miss I. L. V. Crawford.

The body and soul should be like a "Chinese flower censer" which is formed of pure and dazzling ivory, and is full of the most exquisite flowers always emitting a kindly and delightful perfume. So let the soul be the flowers ever praising God, and pleasing man by their fragrance, and the body the chaste ivory, pure and stainless.

ISABELLA VALANCY CRAWFORD.

A star lean'd down and laid a silver hand,
On the pale brow of death;
Before it roll'd bleak shadows from the land—
That star was Faith!

Across fierce storms that hid the mountains far
In funeral cope;
Piercing the black there sail'd a throbbing star
The star was Hope!

From God's vast palm a large sun grandl rolled,
O'er land and sea;
Its core of fire, its stretching hands of gold—
Large Charity.

PROGRESS OF INVENTION.

The following information concerning patents is furnished by Marion & Marion, patent attorneys, Montreal:

The number of applications for patents received during the year 1897 is, as has been stated, the largest in the history of the office. Yet in all probability this number will be exceeded in the coming year. The increase in the number of applications filed is a steady increase. Throughout the history of the Patent Office, the number of applications filed in any one year has never fallen materially below the number filed in any previous year, and except in times of general financial depression has uniformly exceeded the number filed in any previous year. Taking the average number received for each decade since 1840, this increase is more striking:

From 1830 to 1840	1,186.9
" 1840 to 1850	3,881.2
" 1850 to 1860	11,724.5
" 1860 to 1870	20,299.5
" 1870 to 1880	28,442.9
" 1880 to 1890	47,479.0

The number of applications filed in 1897 exceeded by ever two thousand the total number of applications filed in the twenty-four years from 1836 to 1860.

SALVATION ARMY OUT IN KLONDYKE.

DAWSON IS A MODEL LITTLE CITY.

But Skaguay is Run on Different Lines —At Dawson the Army's First Collection Amounted to $90.

The man who has no "axe to grind" is the man who may be expected to give an impartial report of such things as he may see and hear, and, provided he is a man of observation and intelligence, dependence may be placed upon information imparted by him. Such a man is Adjutant George Dowell, of the Salvation Army, who has just returned from the Klondyke, and from whom the Montreal Witness obtained the following interesting particulars during his stay in the city yesterday.

The "Klondyke Contingent" of the Salvation Army left Toronto last spring to open operations at Dawson City. The party of eight officers were accompanied as far as Skaguay by Commissioner Eva Booth, who then placed them in charge of Adjutant Dowell, and returned home. They left Skaguay on the Chilcoot Pass route on May 27, and reached Lake Bennett on June 10. From Lake Bennett to Dawson, five hundred and sixty-five miles by water—a most dangerous route—occupied only eleven days, and they landed at their destination on June 22, in good condition and spirits. There is a great difference between the character of Skaguay and Dawson, the latter being a model of order and the former of a very different type. The Adjutant was at Skaguay when Soapy Smith and his gang were "rounded up." He had some conversation with the noted character, who declared his appreciation of the Salvation Army, and gave the Adjutant a donation of five dollars to help on the work. He also offered the Adjutant the use of his saloon in which to hold a meeting, but the meeting was not held. The Adjutant saw Smith's remains after he was shot. He was comic and rough, but very kind to the Army. The reception which the Army got at Dawson may be judged from the fact that sixty-five dollars in gold dust and twenty-five dollars in silver were given in the first night's open-air meeting—the first collection of the kind they had ever got in this country.

People there are not heathen, but are intelligent and respectable, used to churches, Army and all modern institutions. The Salvationists took in a number of musical instruments, including the only organ in the place.

The Episcopal church was the first established in the district, a bishop having been sent there to preach to the Indians in 1862. He has been there ever since, is quite happy, and never expects to come out. The Greek, Swedish, Presbyterian, Roman Catholic and Methodist churches are also now represented, a minister of the latter having arrived at Dawson about the time the adjutant left. The Roman Catholics have a hospital there which is available for all, and a new general hospital is being built, now nearly completed, the funds being raised by general subscription. The population when he left was about twenty thousand, and the boats from St. Michael's are expected to bring in ten thousand more at any time now.

There are said to be two hundred and fifty doctors in and around Dawson. About a dozen of them claim to have the run, though many are 'working hard' to get their share of the business. A sanitary system is being established, and the usual regulations governing the same are gradually coming into operation. Electric lights were being installed when the adjutant left, so people will not have to buy candles, at one dollar apiece, as they did last winter.

All houses there are log structures, and the sight of such fitted up with electric appliances will be a novel one.

The Roman Catholic church and hospital are in charge of two priests and four nuns, the latter coming from St. Michael's. The Salvationists now in the field consist of two sisters, who are trained nurses, and five men officers, one of whom, Ensign McGill, is now the leader of the party. In addition to building their own barracks, the officers hold nightly meetings and visit the people, the same as in older Canada.

Drinking water is scarce in Dawson City and is worth fifty cents a pail. The Salvationists arriving during the rush were advised by Major Walsh to settle temporarily in Little Dawson, across the river. They acted on the advice and staked out a double claim, one hundred feet square, close to a splendid stream. The government granted them the land, so they have plenty of good water, and, judging from what people in the vicinity are asking for similar lots, their property is now worth $5,000. This is on Fifth avenue. The barracks are in Dawson City proper.

There is one market garden in Little Dawson. Lettuce, onions, a certain kind of cabbage, and such dainties, have been successfully raised and brought extremely fancy prices at the market up-town. A few flowers are seen, the most common being similar to Scotch heather, and flowers familiar to the residents of the Newfoundland coast. A ferry line furnishes communication between the two towns.

Most of the food, however, is in the shape of canned and evaporated goods, ordinary fruits and vegetables being done up in tins. potatoes, onions, apples, etc., being evaporated. Prices of the same are quite interesting; canned milk, peas, tomatoes and such, are worth fifty cents to one dollar per can; beans, rice, sugar, and similar articles cost twenty-five cents per pound; tea, one dollar and a half; butter, one dollar; ham and bacon, thirty-five cents; meats, one dollar to one dollar and a half; eggs, two dollars per dozen; meals, one dollar and a half each; flour ten dollars per hundredweight. These prices are about half of what the same articles cost last spring. The common commercial value of gold dust is sixteen dollars per ounce. A pair of trousers will cost one ounce of dust; a pair of boots or a hat, the same; a coat, two ounces; a dozen of oranges or lemons, six dollars. There is one cow in Dawson, and she is nearly worth her weight in gold. There are two fine waggons and teams, and they are kept very busy. You can hire them at ten dollars an hour or sixty dollars a day. There are no horses on the trail, packing is being done mostly by mule train or men accustomed to the work. Firewood has brought as high as fifty dollars per cord. Saw mills pay fifty dollars per thousand for logs delivered, and sell lumber at two hundred and fifty dollars per thousand. Wood of course comes from many miles up the river, and is out only under a regular license system.

No wood can be cut without a permit. A man pays ten dollars to the Government for a claim, and gets with his title the right to cut enough wood from anywhere to build a cabin. Timber companies which make a business of cutting wood, either for lumber or firing, pay large amounts for limits. Last year Mr. Alex. McDonald, known there as the King of the Klondyke, and the Town Site Company, offered the agents of the government $20,000 for the control of the Yukon river front at Dawson City for one year. The offer was accepted in good faith and considered a good stroke on the part of the government. Fault has, however, been found with it. Mr. McDonald and the Town Site Company have relet large numbers of sites at six to ten dollars per foot, per month, and many buildings have gone up without a thought as to the result when the company's privileges shall expire. It is expected, however, that the government will come to satisfactory arrangements with parties occupying properties on the river front, and not renew the lease to McDonald & Co. at the expiration of the year. Mr. McDonald and the Town Site Company own one building, now used as a post office, for which they ask $36,000.

There are two four page papers published in Dawson. The Nugget is issued twice a week and The Midnight Sun weekly, and both sell at fifty cents per copy.

Books are rather scarce, and almanacs, dictionaries and other dry reading are eagerly devoured.

There is an American bank at Dawson, but the Canadian Bank of Commerce is the one that is doing the business. It is a common thing to see a hundred bags of gold stored in there, numbered and packed away for safe keeping. A man depositing a quantity of gold will get upon colour test fifteen dollars and fifty cents per ounce for dust from the Hunker Creek and fourteen dollars if from Eldorado or Bonanza. Whatever difference there may be in the value of his ore upon assay is settled, if he wishes to be exact, after the assay is made. There is a marked and surprising difference in the appearance of gold from from those three places. All large business places possess scales for weighing the precious dust. You go into a store to buy a coat, and pour two ounces of your dust into the merchant's scales, usually trusting to his honesty for a true balance. There is not that care and exactness here that may be seen almost any day in a Montreal store when a close-fisted customer is buying a half pound of tea. Neither are there any signs of covetousness, dishonesty, stealing, etc., that many would expect. The bank buildings there are like the rest, built of logs, and not very large.

The adjutant's opinion on the royalty question is very pronounced. He would first ask you whether you thought it would be fair for Ontario, Quebec and the other provinces to be taxed for years to keep up a police force to protect Klondike miners. You would naturally say no. He would next explain that there is no taxable real estate or other source of revenue in that country, outside of the royalty, that could meet the expense of protection as afforded by the present efficient police service. The Americans have nothing but the highest praise for the Canadian police, but there are some of them who hate to pay the Canadian Government for their protection. There are also some Canadian kickers—chronic kickers, whose motto is "take all you can get and look for more," but who rebel against paying their share for the support of the government. Most of the kickers do not possess mining shares enough to give them a vote, to say nothing of owning a mine. The men who are bringing out the most dust are heartily in favour of the royalty and hope it may be continued. It is not true that mines are shutting down because of the royalty. If they are closing it is because of the scarcity of water. This is the slack time in the Klondike.

Not one in twenty men around Dawson has yet struck paying claims. There are probably less than two hundred paying claims there at present. There is certainly an enormous quantity of gold in that country, but until railways get in, and fuel, machinery, wages and food are cheaper, comparatively few claims will be found to pay.

Most of those who are getting gold out are Americans. The royalty pinches them. There are two Canadians who have done well there, and they are satisfied with the royalty and what it secures for them. One of these is George Demmers, whose home used to be in this Province, near Montreal. George owns No. 9, Eldorado. The Adjutant speaks of him as a fine, pleasant fellow and he gave the adjutant a nugget or two to remind him of his visit.

George Burke, whose former home was near Belleville, brought out the largest nugget of any one so far as known this year. His total wash up this summer amounted to fifty-two thousand dollars. He has sold his claim for fifty thousand dollars to an English syndicate and is now on his way to the old land to complete the deal. Many, of course, are getting a living. Wm. Boyle, formerly of Woodstock, Ont., is also one of the lucky ones. He went in with a pioneer party last year, returning in the fall. This past spring he took his second trip, and came out along with the Adjutant. To show the improvement in the matter of transport, the Adjutant said that the trip from Dawson to Montreal, that used to take fifty days, he accomplished on his homeward journey this time in twenty days, and he would have done it in seventeen, only he was delayed for three days in Skaguay. While in the Klondike Major Welsh established provision stores, thirty miles apart, arranging for two of the police to guard each one. A man in Dawson having goods or money can get for either an order on those stores and on his way out can get what provision he needs at any of the stores, which saves him carrying two or three weeks' provisions along with him. This action is greatly commended.

A point of great interest to many will be the question of the best route.

The Stickeen route was the one taken by the soldiers, who left Ontario about four months ago, and they had not reached Dawson when the adjutant left there. It is a bad route, entailing hard packing and many dangers. This is otherwise known as the Teslin Lake route. Wrangel, on Telegraph Creek, Stickeen route, was booming when he went in, but deserted when he came out. The Edmonton route, he claims, is impracticable. The St. Michael's route, from Seattle, Victoria and St. Michael's to Dawson, he would not send a good dog over. He affirms, without doubt, that the Skaguay trail, also known as the White Pass route, will be the route of the future. The loss to Canada through the Senate rejecting the McKenzie-Mann railway bill he considers incalculable and irreparable.

The Americans are now building a road forty-five miles long, from Skaguay to Lake Bennett, which is expected to be completed by Nov. 1. There is talk of an English company starting to build from Bennett to Dawson in the spring, but if they do not, it is expected that the American company will continue their line through. The snow in that country is not much, if any, more than in Quebec province, but frost is the great key which turns the lock on all routes in winter at present. There is plenty of water on the Upper Yukon for the vessels plying on it all the season. From Bennett to Dawson takes eight days up and three days down, the difference being made by the current. The Lower Yukon is dangerous, particularly in the low water season. The Ora, Nova and Flora are run on the Upper Yukon by the Victoria Navigation Company. It is common to see a hundred and fifty boats pass down the river in a day. Adjutant Dowell's boat passed the customs on June 10, and was numbered 1,370. His party rescued the Rev. Dr. McDonald, a Presbyterian minister from Inverness, Scotland, after he had been two hours on the rocks.

The Dyea, or Chilcoot Pass road, from Dyea to Bennett, twenty-eight miles, is good, and can be walked nicely in a day. The distance from Selkirk to Dawson is called a hundred and eighty miles. The railway to be built next year is expected to

The New Granolithic Sidewalk

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Ends and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Clothes.
Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.
Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.
The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.
Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.
Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.
Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots & Shoes.
The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.
They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.
And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are out loose entirely from the values.

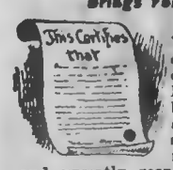
THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.



BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

A REPRESENTATIVE PIRATE.

Captain Kidd Was Utterly Without Any Sense of Honor.

It is said that Kidd showed no repentance when he was tried, but insisted that he was the victim of malicious persons who swore falsely against him, and yet a more thoroughly dishonest rascal never sailed under the black flag. In the guise of an accredited officer of the government he committed the crimes he was sent out to suppress. He deceived his men. He robbed and misused his fellow countrymen and his friends, and he even descended to the meanness of cheating and despoiling the natives of the West India islands with whom he traded. These people were in the habit of supplying pirates with food and other necessaries, and they always found their rough customers entirely honest and willing to pay for what they received, for as the pirates made a practice of stopping at certain points for supplies they wished of course to be on good terms with those who furnished them. But Kidd had no ideas of honor toward people of high or low degree. He would trade with the natives as if he intended to treat them fairly and pay for all he got, but when the time came for him to depart and he was ready to weigh anchor he would seize all the commodities he could lay his hands on and without paying a copper to the distressed and indignant Indians he would gayly sail away, his black flag flaunting derisively in the wind.

But although in reality Captain Kidd was no hero, he has been known for a century and more as the great American pirate, and his name has been representative of piracy ever since. Years after he had been hung, when people heard that a vessel with a black flag—or one which looked black in the distance—flying from its rigging had been seen, they forgot that the famous pirate was dead and imagined that Captain Kidd was visiting their part of the coast in order that he might find a good place to bury some treasure which it was no longer safe for him to carry about.—Frank R. Stockton in Century.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standord.

GRAND TRUNK COLLISION.

Fireman Killed and Train Hand Fatally Injured.

Montreal, Aug. 24.—A serious accident occurred on the G.T.R. yesterday morning between Lennoxville and Waterville. A freight going south and a local from Coaticook came into collision. Fireman Paroche of Richmond was caught between the engine and the tender and crushed to death. Amongst the wounded so far brought to Sherbrooke are: John Kelly, arm broken; William Court, leg broken;—Irwin, both legs broken and fatally injured. All of the wounded are freight hands, and were brought to the hospital in Sherbrooke. It seems that there were no passengers on the train from Coaticook, and all of the injured were on the freight.

LIGHTNING CAUSES FIRES.

Barns Burned at Georgetown—Great Loss at Thamesford.

Georgetown, Ont., Aug. 24.—(Special.)—A fierce thunderstorm, accompanied by a deluge of rain, swept over this town at 1 a.m. The lightning flashes were incessant and several buildings were struck. James Kennedy's two barns are now on fire, and will be totally destroyed, despite the efforts of both fire brigades.

Great Loss at Thamesford.

Thamesford, Ont., Aug. 23.—About 9 o'clock to-night, during a terrific electric storm, the big flour and saw mills of Joseph Cawthorpe of this place were burned to the ground; also the cooper shop belonging to James McKay. The residences of George Hamilton, James McKay and Oliver's Hotel narrowly escaped destruction. The loss will be fully fifty thousand dollars. Insurance unknown at present.

A Severe Electrical Storm.

Toronto, Aug. 24. Early this morning an electrical storm, accompanied by heavy rain, which fell in torrents, caught many pedestrians unawares. The fire brigade was called to a building on Pape-avenue, which was struck by the lightning, but no damage was done. The electric lights were nearly all out, and the city was in darkness. The motor in the Central Press, in The World building, blew out and the machine operators had a scare. Several other places were reported to have been damaged, but no serious results happened.

The telegraph companies had a general disorganization to contend with on both sides of the line.

WHEAT FUTURES RECOVER.

The Rise Was Owing to the Great Cash Demand for Both Foreign and Domestic Requirements.

Tuesday Evening, Aug. 23.

Wheat futures rallied again in Chicago to-day, and at the close this month's delivery stood 1½c per bush. higher than yesterday's final figures, and the September and December options had gained ⅞c and ⅝c respectively for the session. The market had been over-sold yesterday, and the good foreign and domestic demand, together with light receipts, gave prices a higher tendency.

On the Liverpool board to-day spot wheat declined ½d to 3d per cental, the extreme loss being in red winter. As for futures, the Sept. delivery fell off ½d, while the December delivery firmed up to the extent of ½d per cental. Paris futures closed 10 to 20 centimes down.

A Detective's Play With a Big Bill In a Faro Bank.

"I've seen many a funny play come off in a faro bank," said an old time gambler the other day, "but of all the plays that I can remember the cheekiest came off in Colonel Bolly Lewis' game a long time ago. It was in the fall of 1869, and Colonel Bolly had the biggest game in the west at 212 West Fourth street. There was plenty of money around here in those days, and cotton and tobacco planters dropped in day after day, sold their crops and then played the bank. When a man was known as a gambler, the limit was the sky, and I've seen turns made for small fortunes. Another big thing around Cincinnati in those days was the making of counterfeit money. Just as soon as a new counterfeit bill made its appearance the government would send officers to this city to locate the plant. This city was the distributing point, and every one knew it. Early in 1869 a $500 counterfeit bill made its appearance out east. The first one was detected on one of the race tracks and was forwarded to Washington. Secret service agents were sent at once to this city. One of the crowd was Chris Hogan, who was as well known among sporting men as Billy Pinkerton is today. Just as soon as Chris reached town he hunted up the gang, and they had many a good night.

"They all took a turn at the bank. Sometimes they were lucky, but at the wind up all were as good as broke, and this included all of Hogan's expense money. One afternoon Hogan, with Eph Holland, who ran the Empire gambling house and managed the Goss-Allen fight; 'Bud' Reilly and a dealer called Little Henry dropped into Colonel Bolly Lewis' game. Bolly was sitting behind the layout, stroking his whiskers, when the boys dropped in.

"'How are you, colonel?' said Lewis as he began to shuffle up.

"'I'm very well. How are you?' replied Hogan.

"'Never was better,' said Lewis as he shoved the deck in the box.

"The colonel looked all around, and a few small bets were made. Hogan looked on for a turn or two and then threw down a $500 bill in the big square to win.

"'How much goes, colonel?'

"'Three hundred dollars,' replied Hogan.

"Colonel Lewis turned, and the big square won.

"'What goes?' asked Colonel Bolly.

"'Nothing. Give me the cash,' replied Hogan.

"Lewis gave him the money, and he walked out with his friends. When they got outside, Holland said:

"'Where'd you get that money?'

"'Why, that's some of those counterfeit bills I've been working on,' said Hogan.

"'Well, you've got your nerve. Suppose the big square had lost. What would you have done?' asked Holland.

"'Done! Why, I'd have got $200 change in good money and bought a few cold bottles,' was Hogan's reply.

"The next day Colonel Lewis was told that he had turned for counterfeit money, but he would not believe the story, but I know the bill was a counterfeit."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

British Navy Salutes.

A salute in the British navy between two ships of equal rank is made by firing an equal number of guns. If the vessels are of unequal rank, the superior fires the fewer rounds. A royal salute consists of (1) in firing 21 great guns, (2) in the officers lowering their sword points and (3) in dipping the colors.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR.—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd. or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, one policy participating in future profits.	2,080 28

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Woman's power is largely dependent upon her ability to interest, entertain, attract and please. It is for this reason that women strive to become accomplished. They study in order that they may converse intelligently on all subjects. They strive to become good musicians, graceful dancers and amiable hostesses.

All accomplishments are unavailing if a woman suffers from ill health in a womanly way. The special weakness peculiar to the womanly organism, will rapidly wreck the general health. The sufferer will lose her natural vivacity, her wit, her good looks, and the ambition and power to display the accomplishments at her command. Any woman affected in this way should resort to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a wonderful medicine for ailing women. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It aims to cure but one class of diseases, and claims to be good for nothing else. It imparts health, elastic strength, vigor and virility to the delicate feminine organs. It prepares a woman for wifehood and motherhood.

Mrs. Ramon Sanchez, Penasco, Taos County, N. Mex., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says. "From a grateful heart my voice goes up to God both night and day in a solemn prayer that He may guard your health and preserve your life. I hereby express my gratitude to you for the relief I have received from your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription.' After suffering years of misery I am to-day a healthy and happy wife, and can truthfully recommend to women the use of the 'Favorite Prescription' as a regulator of the monthly periods."

JAPANESE MUSIC.

There's Art In It That Cannot Be Analyzed by Occidentals.

To one who never heard it it is impossible to give a definite idea of Japanese music, and to one who hears it for the first time it must either repel or strangely attract; for its fantastic intervals and fractional tones demand a totally new sense of musical appreciation and call into being a new set of musical sensations. It is as if a hitherto closed door between sense and spirit had been suddenly thrown open. One feels that if reincarnation be true, one might through this door alone remember and reconstruct those vanished existences. Only in the tones of their own unguisu, a bird which has but three notes, have I heard anything so occult.

Japanese music is like Japanese art, which, with its unperceived spirit, sense and symbolism, its strange method of brush handling, might seem merely grotesque at first, but which gradually reveals to the initiated eye mysteries within mysteries of artistic form and perception, until presently one finds oneself encompassed by a new art world, where technic is subordinated to feeling and whose finest effects are obtained through the art of omission. As, for instance, in the greatest paintings of Fujiyama, the sacred mountain itself is discovered to be the bare, white, unpainted silk, as if color and line could be but the boundaries and outer confines of pure isolated idea. So in Japanese music, its methods are not ours, its climaxes come in crashes of silence, in sustained and soundless pause, the notes subordinated to a silent something, an inner sense, which, while restraining or even repressing sound, is the very ecstasy of musical sensation.

In vain we attempted to analyze this subtle effect, to reduce it to the terms of our musical consciousness. It defied and eluded us as spirit must always defy and elude sense, and we perforce contented ourselves with following the [illegible] rounded, isolated notes, sustained breathlessly on its [illegible] yielding to the [illegible] the singer, [illegible] markable, [illegible] effulgence [illegible] us an un- [illegible] star.

lawayo. The Matabele warriors, on the other hand, looked with suspicion on the missionary and all his works, but they knew better than to molest the friend of their king.

Time after time in passing the mission house they noticed a force pump at work, supplying water for the family and for irrigating the garden. Not understanding what it was for, their untutored minds concluded it was some sort of magic. It was "intagati," or bewitched, and they watched to see how it was managed that they might turn the white man's magic against himself.

One moonlight night a party of picked warriors repaired to the bank of the stream where the pump was. On trying it they were jubilant to find that two men at either handle could do the trick. Turn and turn about they kept the pump going for two hours, determined that the missionary should have all the magic he wanted and a balance in hand.

Then, exhausted, they went homeward, ignorant of the fact that they had filled the missionary's tank to overflowing. His good wife hoped that a similar supply of "magic" might be furnished every week. — New York Mail and Express.

Artificial Cream.

A cooking teacher tells of a manufactured cream that is worth knowing about in emergencies, when the real article is not to be had. It is made from the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, with a tablespoonful of sugar and a teaspoonful of cornstarch. Half a cup of cold milk is added by degrees and all beaten together very stiff. A cup of milk is heated over the fire, with a small butter ball melted in it. This is allowed to come just to the boiling point, when it is removed to a cooler part of the stove and the beaten egg mixture added. When it has all thickened very slightly to about the consistency of thick cream, it is taken off and strained and cooled. This may be used as cream for serving with fresh or preserved fruits, but it is needless to add it will not whip.—New York Post.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

Long Distance Steaming of Warships.

The recent performances of the United States battleship Oregon and the gunboat Marietta in steaming from high up along the North American Pacific coast around Cape Horn to the West Indies have very properly challenged the admiration of the whole world. Until quite recently much more had been heard of the failings of warships than of their good points, and one was almost tempted to believe that the average modern naval vessel was so delicately constructed and so complex a piece of machinery as to be scarcely fitted to withstand in due measure the rough usages of war or the knocking about of a protracted sea voyage under the pressure of high speed and with all kinds of weather.

When, several years ago, the United States cruiser Columbia crossed over from Southampton to Sandy Hook, at the entrance to New York harbor, in a little less than seven days, racing successfully against one of the crack Atlantic liners, her performance stood unparalleled in naval history. It bordered, in fact, on what had for long been considered the impossible. What the Oregon and the Marietta have done, however, is a worthy counterpart of that earlier magnificent performance and admirably demonstrates what may be accomplished by good engineering even when subject to the exacting conditions of naval restrictions.—Cassier's Magazine.

Market Quotations on Scalps.

The market price of "scalps," as agreed upon between the early French colonists of Louisiana and the Indians, with whom they bargained to fight out their battles with hostile Indians for them, varied with circumstances. At the time the French were at war with the Alibamons a "scalp" of one of the last named, when brought to them, was paid for at the rate of a gun, five pounds of musket balls and as much powder. "On the 14th of March (1704), writes De La Harpe, "a party of 20 Chicachos (Chickasaws) brought in four Alibamon scalps. They were given for each scalp a gun, five pounds of balls and as much of powder, according to the contract made with them."—New Orleans Picayune.

Sawed With Cables.

In the French quarries of St. Triphon stone is sawed with steel wire cables moistened with wet sand and passing in an endless rope over a series of pulleys. The wire, which runs from 1,000 to 1,200 feet per minute, is charged as it enters the cut with a jet of water and siliceous sand, which forms the cutting material. A running cable of 500 feet can make a cut 100 feet long.

WRITES A LETTER ON DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

"BURNING STICKS."

Columbus' Impressions on His First Introduction to Smoking Tobacco.

It was on the island of Cuba, in the autumn of 1492, that the use of tobacco was learned by Europeans. Columbus makes the first mention of the weed in his diary under date of Oct. 15. When he and his men landed on Cuban shores, the kindly natives, who mistook them for messengers from heaven, brought them numerous offerings. Among these, as stated by the admiral in his diary, were some "dry leaves, which must be something much prized by them (the natives), for they had already brought me some in San Salvador as a present."

Little heed was paid to these leaves in the beginning by the Spaniards. They were in search of gold and saw no possibility of converting miserable weeds into that precious commodity. In the course of time they began to notice that as the natives went to and from their villages and the shore smoke escaped from their mouths, "in a truly diabolical manner." Soon they discovered that these unclad children of the wilds carried in their hands a "burning stick," which every now and then they would put into their mouths and blow out a cloud of smoke. This had a most heathenish look, as it is recorded, to the Spaniards, and they inquired, as well as they could by signs, into the custom.

They learned that the burning sticks were composed of the dried leaves so treasured by the natives, and that the custom of smoking the fragrant weed was supposed to lessen fatigue on long journeys. They tried it for themselves and found this actually to be the case. On many a troublesome jaunt thereafter they were refreshed as the pleasant perfume curled upward from their own "burning sticks."—Detroit Journal.

Why He Didn't Finish.

Fred Buskirk was born at Portsmouth, O., and lived there until he was a young man. Fred naturally thinks Portsmouth is one of the nicest places in the state of Ohio. Fred said: "Everybody evidently doesn't think as well of Portsmouth as I do.

"Not long ago I went over the Chesapeake and Ohio road and when the train reached South Portsmouth, which is across the river from my native place, quite a long stop was made. Most of the male passengers got off the train and walked up and down the platform. It was after dark, and the many lights of Portsmouth were plainly visible. I stood looking across the river at the city, thinking what a fine place Portsmouth was, when a fellow passenger on the train came alongside of me and said, 'Can you tell me what place that is across the river?' Of course I could tell him, and I threw out my chest and with considerable pride said: 'That is Portsmouth, O. Have you ever been there?' My fellow traveler in a very weary voice, replied: 'Yes, I have been there. I spent about two weeks there one afternoon.' I had intended telling that man about what a charming place Portsmouth is, but after his rudeness I concluded not to."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this.

It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

Woman's power is largely dependent upon her ability to interest, entertain, attract and please. It is for this reason that women strive to become accomplished. They study in order that they may converse intelligently on all subjects. They strive to become good musicians, graceful dancers and amiable hostesses.

All accomplishments are unavailing if a woman suffers from ill health in a womanly way. The special weakness peculiar to the womanly organism, will rapidly wreck the general health. The sufferer will lose her natural vivacity, her wit, her good looks, and the ambition and power to display the accomplishments at her command. Any woman affected in this way should resort to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a wonderful medicine for ailing women. It is the invention of an eminent and skillful physician, Dr. R. V. Pierce, for thirty years chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y. It aims to cure but one class of diseases, and claims to be good for nothing else. It imparts health, elastic strength, vigor and virility to the delicate feminine organs. It prepares a woman for wifehood and motherhood.

Mrs. Ramon Sanchez, Penasco, Taos County, N. Mex., in a letter to Dr. Pierce says "From a grateful heart my voice goes up to God both night and day in a solemn prayer that He may guard your health and preserve your life. I hereby express my gratitude to you for the relief I have received from your wonderful medicine, 'Favorite Prescription.' After suffering years of misery I am to-day a healthy and happy wife, and can truthfully recommend to women the use of the 'Favorite Prescription' as a regulator of the monthly periods."

JAPANESE MUSIC.

There's Art In It That Cannot Be Analyzed by Occidentals.

To one who never heard it it is impossible to give a definite idea of Japanese music, and to one who hears it for the first time it must either repel or strangely attract; for its fantastic intervals and fractional tones demand a totally new sense of musical appreciation and call into being a new set of musical sensations. It is as if a hitherto closed door between sense and spirit had been suddenly thrown open. One feels that if reincarnation be true, one might through this door alone remember and reconstruct those vanished existences. Only in the tones of their own unguisu, a bird which has but three notes, have I heard anything so occult.

Japanese music is like Japanese art, which, with its unperceived spirit, sense and symbolism, its strange method of brush handling, might seem merely grotesque at first, but which gradually reveals to the initiated eye mysteries within mysteries of artistic form and perception, until presently one finds oneself encompassed by a new art world, where technic is subordinated to feeling and whose finest effects are obtained through the art of omission. As, for instance, in the greatest paintings of Fujiyama, the sacred mountain itself is discovered to be the bare, white, unpainted silk, as if color and line could be but the boundaries and outer confines of pure isolated idea. So in Japanese music, its methods are not ours, its climaxes come in crashes of silence, in sustained and soundless pause, the notes subordinated to a silent something, an inner sense, which, while restraining or even repressing sound, is the very ecstasy of musical sensation.

In vain we attempted to analyze this subtle effect, to reduce it to the terms of our musical consciousness. It defied and eluded us as spirit must always defy and elude sense, and we perforce contented ourselves with following the strange, rounded, isolated notes, sustaining ourselves breathlessly on its wonderful pauses and yielding to the irregular cadenced charm of the singer, whose face, at first so unremarkable, seemed to grow of a shining effulgence as she thus interpreted to us an unknown world.—Washington Star.

IN LEAGUE WITH MAGIC.

Some Heathens Who Did Good Missionary Work at a Pump.

Lobengula, the late king of the Matabele of South Africa, was afraid of Rev. E. Carnegie, an English missionary at Hope Fountain, several miles from Buluwayo. The Matabele warriors, on the other hand, looked with suspicion on the missionary and all his works, but they knew better than to molest the friend of their king.

Time after time in passing the mission house they noticed a force pump at work, supplying water for the family and for irrigating the garden. Not understanding what it was for, their untutored minds concluded it was some sort of magic. It was "intagati," or bewitched, and they watched to see how it was managed that they might turn the white man's magic against himself.

One moonlight night a party of picked warriors repaired to the bank of the stream where the pump was. On trying it they were jubilant to find that two men at either handle could do the trick. Turn and turn about they kept the pump going for two hours, determined that the missionary should have all the magic he wanted and a balance in hand.

Then, exhausted, they went homeward, ignorant of the fact that they had filled the missionary's tank to overflowing. His good wife hoped that a similar supply of "magic" might be furnished every week.—New York Mail and Express.

Artificial Cream.

A cooking teacher tells of a manufactured cream that is worth knowing about in emergencies, when the real article is not to be had. It is made from the whites of two eggs, beaten stiff, with a tablespoonful of sugar and a teaspoonful of cornstarch. Half a cup of cold milk is added by degrees and all beaten together very stiff. A cup of milk is heated over the fire, with a small butter ball melted in it. This is allowed to come just to the boiling point, when it is removed to a cooler part of the stove and the beaten egg mixture added. When it has all thickened very slightly to about the consistency of thick cream, it is taken off and strained and cooled. This may be used as cream for serving with fresh or preserved fruits, but it is needless to add it will not whip.—New York Post.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

Long Distance Steaming of Warships.

The recent performances of the United States battleship Oregon and the gunboat Marietta in steaming from high up along the North American Pacific coast around Cape Horn to the West Indies have very properly challenged the admiration of the whole world. Until quite recently much more had been heard of the failings of warships than of their good points, and one was almost tempted to believe that the average modern naval vessel was so delicately constructed and so complex a piece of machinery as to be scarcely fitted to withstand in due measure the rough usages of war or the knocking about of a protracted sea voyage under the pressure of high speed and with all kinds of weather.

When, several years ago, the United States cruiser Columbia crossed over from Southampton to Sandy Hook, at the entrance to New York harbor, in a little less than seven days, racing successfully against one of the crack Atlantic liners, her performance stood unparalleled in naval history. It bordered, in fact, on what had for long been considered the impossible. What the Oregon and the Marietta have done, however, is a worthy counterpart of that earlier magnificent performance and admirably demonstrates what may be accomplished by good engineering even when subject to the exacting conditions of naval restrictions.—Cassier's Magazine.

Market Quotations on Scarps.

The market price of "scalps," as agreed upon between the early French colonists of Louisiana and the Indians, with whom they bargained to fight out their battles with hostile Indians for them, varied with circumstances. At the time the French were at war with the Alibamons a "scalp" of one of the last named, when brought to them, was paid for at the rate of a gun, five pounds of musket balls and as much powder. "On the 14th of March" (1704), writes De La Harpe, "a party of 20 Chicachos (Chickasaws) brought in four Alibamon scalps. They were given for each scalp a gun, five pounds of balls and as much of powder, according to the contract made with them."—New Orleans Picayune.

Sawed With Cables.

In the French quarries of St. Triphon stone is sawed with steel wire cables moistened with wet sand and passing in an endless rope over a series of pulleys. The wire, which runs from 1,000 to 1,200 feet per minute, is charged as it enters the cut with a jet of water and siliceous sand, which forms the cutting material. A running cable of 500 feet can make a cut 100 feet long.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

WRITES A LETTER ON DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.

Sufferers are at liberty to correspond with the above address and will obtain full particulars regarding the great cure.

He says: My wife was most terribly afflicted with protruding piles, and contemplated a surgical operation. A friend of ours recommended the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment, and less than one box effected a complete cure. We were so pleased with the ointment that I tried it myself, as I have been troubled with an unsightly skin affliction which covered the lower part of my face.

For 25 years I suffered untold agony, and was treated by the best medical skill in the United States. I consider Dr. Chase's Ointment worth its weight in gold for piles and skin disease.

"BURNING STICKS."

Columbus' Impressions on His First Introduction to Smoking Tobacco.

It was on the island of Cuba, in the autumn of 1492, that the use of tobacco was learned by Europeans. Columbus makes the first mention of the weed in his diary under date of Oct. 15. When he and his men landed on Cuban shores, the kindly natives, who mistook them for messengers from heaven, brought them numerous offerings. Among these, as stated by the admiral in his diary, were some "dry leaves, which must be something much prized by them (the natives), for they had already brought me some in San Salvador as a present."

Little heed was paid to these leaves in the beginning by the Spaniards. They were in search of gold and saw no possibility of converting miserable weeds into that precious commodity. In the course of time they began to notice that as the natives went to and from their villages and the shore smoke escaped from their mouths, "in a truly diabolical manner." Soon they discovered that these unclad children of the wilds carried in their hands a "burning stick," which every now and then they would put into their mouths and blow out a cloud of smoke. This had a most heathenish look, as it is recorded, to the Spaniards, and they inquired, as well as they could by signs, into the custom.

They learned that the burning sticks were composed of the dried leaves so treasured by the natives, and that the custom of smoking the fragrant weed was supposed to lessen fatigue on long journeys. They tried it for themselves and found this actually to be the case. On many a troublesome jaunt thereafter they were refreshed as the pleasant perfume curled upward from their own "burning sticks."—Detroit Journal.

Why He Didn't Finish.

Fred Buskirk was born at Portsmouth, O., and lived there until he was a young man. Fred naturally thinks Portsmouth is one of the nicest places in the state of Ohio. Fred said: "Everybody evidently doesn't think as well of Portsmouth as I do.

"Not long ago I went over the Chesapeake and Ohio road and when the train reached South Portsmouth, which is across the river from my native place, quite a long stop was made. Most of the male passengers got off the train and walked up and down the platform. It was after dark, and the many lights of Portsmouth were plainly visible. I stood looking across the river at the city, thinking what a fine place Portsmouth was, when a fellow passenger on the train came alongside of me and said, 'Can you tell me what place that is across the river?' Of course I could tell him, and I threw out my chest and with considerable pride said: 'That is Portsmouth, O. Have you ever been there?' My fellow traveler in a very weary voice, replied: 'Yes, I have been there. I spent about two weeks there one afternoon.' I had intended telling that man about what a charming place Portsmouth is, but after his rudeness I concluded not to."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Nature makes the cures after all.

Now and then she gets into a tight place and needs helping out.

Things get started in the wrong direction.

Something is needed to check disease and start the system in the right direction toward health.

Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with hypophosphites can do just this.

It strengthens the nerves, feeds famished tissues, and makes rich blood.

SALVATION ARMY OUT IN KLONDIKE.

connect them. The elevated wire road from Dyea to Linderman is also good. It comes into competition with the Indians and the Park Horse Company. Rates, once a dollar a pound, have fallen to ten, nine, and in some cases even six cents per pound. The railway will do away with packing and charge a regular rate for transportation. It is surmised that the C.P.R. will operate the road.

Every creek in the district supports quite a "squatter" population. Wages are from ten to fifteen dollars a day, but a claim is expected to pay forty to sixty dollars to be worth working. Three months' hard work must be done yearly on each claim, to hold it. Work can be done six or seven months of the year. Operations usually commence in October and continue till April, when they "wash up" the dirt, then rest, or come out for the summer. There have been but very few samples of quartz found yet, and what has been found came from the the Hunker Creek district. The general opinion amongst experts is that the mother lode will be found in the mountains west of Dawson. There is a large coal deposit on the Yukon towards Bennett. Circle City has had its boom and is on the down grade at present.

Stampedes are a feature of the country. The adjutant saw two thousand people pack up and leave a camp one day and start on a forty-mile journey to Dominion Creek. He has not much faith in the present Tagish stampede. The summer there is similar to that of Montreal to day as regards temperature, and he did not find mosquitoes as big as dogs, as had been reported. In fact, he was not bothered by them there any more than in Ontario. They would not be noticed. Rivers start to freeze at the month and to thaw at the source. The postal system is being arranged very satisfactorily. Dawson may be called Dog-city on account of the number of canines that are found there. The Army open-air meetings frequently start with one, though not by their choice, and interruptions of like character are quite common.

The adjutant anticipates that when the railways are built, and things get down to a proper basis, Dawson City will become a favourite summer resort, but with its present dangers and disadvantages, he would not undertake an expedition, even with a fair prospect of clearing ten thousand dollars in a season. No one should go in there without good backing.

The adjutant left last evening by the Intercolonial Ry. for St. John's, Newfoundland, looking none the worse for his recent journey, and prepared if the Commissioner should send him, to start for the North Pole to hunt for Andree.

SPORTING PASTIMES.

Wheeling and Other Items of Local and General Interest.

LACROSSE.

Mr. Wm. Hall, of Markham, is refereeing to-day's game in Orillia.

In view of the straightened financial circumstance of the Lacrosse Club, Commodore Calcutt has generously come forward with the offer of the City of Peterborough free, for a moonlight excursion, through which means considerable money could doubtless be raised.

Hastings Civic Holiday is on Sept. 14th, and St. Mary's R. C. church is taking advantage of the occasion to hold a monster picnic. The church authorities are now making negotiations with the Peterborough Lacrosse club with the object of bringing the senior team to the village to play the Hastings team. Hastings has not been worsted at lacrosse this season, and the match would therefore be a premier attraction, bringing in large numbers from the neighbouring villages as well as from Peterborough. Commodore Calcutt intends running a big excursion down the river to Hastings on that day.

The following is clipped from the Havelock Standard, of the 18th inst.:

"On behalf of the Marmora Lacrosse Club, I hereby challenge the Hastings Lacrosse Club to play a decisive match at any date and at any place they may decide for ten cents worth of marbles or $400 a side. Both teams to be bona fide residents of their respective towns.

J. McWILLIAMS,
Mgr. M. L. C."

The Hastings Star makes the following reference to the challenge:

In reply to the above the following message was wired Mr. McWilliams on Saturday, 20th inst.:

"Challenge accepted. Have this day deposited $100 with Union Bank as a guarantee of good faith. Cover amount and let us hear quick.

E. WILCOX,
Secretary H. L. C.

Nothing further has been heard from them yet, so it is plainly evident they will take a back seat before they will go up against our boys for anything more valuable than marbles. A lacrosse team that will resort to such a low, mean trick as to try to win capital and renown through an advertising dodge is a disgrace to the game and should be given a wide berth by any and all honourable clubs. However our boys intend leaving the deposit up for a few days longer to give them ample opportunity of backing up their assertions or ignominiously taking a back seat.

Will Marmora take note of the fact that Hastings lacrosse team will wager anything from $100 to $1,000 that they can defeat them.

CRICKET.

The Toronto-Parkdale club did not arrive this afternoon and the match has been postponed until early in September.

WHEELING.

The matched race between Bradburn and Davidson, which was to have taken place this afternoon, will be run off to-night at 6 45 on the Nicholls Park track. The race was to have been for five miles, unpaced, but Bradburn refuses to ride this distance, and asks for a two mile paced race instead. Davidson is willing to ride any distance.

YACHTING.

The New York Herald says:—The New York Yacht Club will be fully prepared to meet the Shamrock. One defender will will surely be built and that by the Herreshoffs from the design of Captain "Nat." The latter and Mr. C. Oliver Iselin, who managed the Defender, have had their heads together for a long time, and when the word came that there would be a challenge received this summer it was intimated that matters were pretty well arranged for a new ship, which the designer has said will beat the Defender. How much she may beat the old boat, the shrewd Captain "Nat" has not ventured to say. Some smart yachtsmen are of the opinion that the Defender cannot be beaten much, but than a little would be enough.

It is now settled, or so reported, that the gentlemen in Newport who were moving in the matter of a second new boat will not proceed further with it. This is satisfactory, and now if they would join forces in skill, and money if necessary, with those represented by Mr. Iselin, there would be perfect satisfaction throughout the yachting world of America. To have Mr. Herman B. Duryea—who, by the way, is one of the New York Yacht Club's committee appointed to arrange the details of the match—on the deck of the new boat in the races would be a great acquisition. Mr. Duryea is one of the best of this country's yachtsmen, and in addition to being skilful at the helm, is a past master in all the practical points of yacht racing.

It is not to be supposed that anything is known by the outside world regarding the form and dimensions of the new Herreshoff boat. The designer is not a communicative man at any time, and to think that he would do much talking about his new creation at this time is somewhat amusing. The dimensions, of course, will be governed by the size of the challenger, and of that Sir Thomas Lipton is reported to have said that she will be ninety feet.

That Captain Nat will depart essentially from the lines of the old Defender is not believed. It may not be wise to do so, but then as a designer he is fertile in idea, and is apt to astonish the yachting world at any time by producing a craft radically different from any other ever turned out. The metal to be used in the construction of the new craft has not, it is said, been fully decided upon, or at least there is nothing definitely known about it. It is safe to say, however, that everything that will contribute to a second of time will be kept in view, and money will be spent as liberally as the importance of the case demands. So if it be conclusively proved that aluminum will add to her speed in any degree, it will be freely employed.

IRISH CATTLE FOR THE OTTAWA FAIR.

Senator Drummond's Celebrated Herd to be Exhibited.

Among the many special attractions at the Canadian Central Exhibition, none will be more interesting to the farmer than the exhibit of Irish cattle to be made by Hon. Senator G. A. Drummond. The cattle are in a class never exhibited here before, and are reputed to be about the highest graded cattle in Canada. The bull, "Bantam" was bred by his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and is an interesting animal. The herd will be given a special building, which will be placarded in such a way as to attract attention. Senator Drummond will also show a number of imported Southdown sheep.

The celebrated "Sherman's Band," of Burlington, Vt., is coming to Ottawa for the exhibition, and it is expected that a big crowd of excursionists will accompany it. The exhibition directors are endeavouring to arrange with the Canada Atlantic and Central Vermont railways to run a special train. The band had a tempting offer to accompany an Oddfellows' excursion to Boston for four days, but preferred Ottawa.

The R. H. Buchanan Co., of Montreal, are going to exhibit hot air pumping engines this year. A special position will be assigned the firm to give every advantage for showing the capacity of the pumps.

Work on the new building is being pushed rapidly and it will be completed in ample time for the exhibition.

The number of entries to date far exceeds that of any previous year.

ASHBURNHAM BREVITIES.

The Public School Picnic on August 30th.

The new Kindergarten room has been cleaned, painted, etc., and presents a very attractive appearance. It will open at the same time as the other rooms of the public school on Thursday, September 1. Miss Agnes Williamson will act as directress. The assistants have not yet been secured. It is expected that two will be required. Such assistants must possess at least primary standing and be seventeen years of age. The Kindergarten will be free to all public school supporters of the village. Others will be charged fees. An age limit will also be fixed by the School Board. The kindergarten pupils will attend in the forenoons only. In the afternoons the pupils of the junior first classes will attend and will be taught by the directress of the Kindergarten.

It is hoped that all pupils in all the classes of the school will be present on the opening day, Sept. 1st, supplied with all necessary books, etc., as classes will be arranged and work will begin at once. There will be no delay to accommodate those who come late.

The samples of writing of the Third and the Fourth Book classes have been examined by competent outside judges, and the prizes, kindly donated by Mr. H. Calcutt, will be announced and given at the Ashburnham Public School picnic at Jubilee on Tuesday, August 30th. As this is the last picnic of the holiday season, it is expected there will be a large crowd, as the rates are so low. The profits will go towards a school flag. There will be baseball, football and other sports at Jubilee. Everyone is welcome. The City of Peterborough will leave Peterborough at 8 calling at Ashburnham and at all necessary points along the river.

Good progress is being made at Mark street church. The basement is being plastered, and the work will all be done in good time for the re-opening in October.

It is expected there will be a large attendance at the prohibition plebiscite meeting next Monday evening, Aug. 29th, in the new town hall, under the auspices of Mark street E. L. of C.E. The general public are invited. Rev. S. J. Shorey, Rev. J. G. Potter and others, will address the meeting.

Mark street church choir intend holding a lawn social at Mr. Thomas Hooper's, North Monaghan, on Thursday evening, Sept. 1st. Proceeds in aid of organ fund.

SPECULATING ON SHIPS.

How Underwriters Gamble on Overdue Vessels Posted at Lloyds.

When a ship is overdue, an opportunity is sometimes afforded for a gamble at Lloyds. It can be readily understood that underwriters who are interested in the "overdues" are only too willing to get rid of the risk by paying a premium on the insured rate to those who are willing, on their terms to relieve them of their responsibilities. The premium varies with the chances of the vessel turning up; the smaller the chances the higher the premium and vice versa.

The rates paying on "overdues" serve as accurate barometers of the probabilities or otherwise of the ship ever being heard of again. These underwriters who speculate on "overdues" are generally known by the significant name of "doctors." The insurance on an "overdue" may pass through many channels before the ship is, on the one hand, "posted" at Lloyds as "missing," or, on the other hand, she arrives in safety.

A ship is never "posted" until the committee is thoroughly satisfied that her case is hopeless, and until the owner is of the same opinion. Before "posting" a notice is put up for a week inviting any information concerning the vessel. If this elicits no news, the committee at its next meeting votes the ship as "missing," and a notice is posted accordingly. The loss is then settled and paid for. It may be incidentally remarked that "posting" at Lloyds constitutes a legal death certificate for any one on board the missing ships.—Good Words.

Smallest and Oddest Republics.

Goust is the smallest republic as to area, but Tavolara is the smallest republic as to population. Goust is only one mile in area. It is located on the flat top of a mountain in the Pyrenees, between France and Spain, and is recognized by both of those countries. It is governed by a president and a council of 12. It was established in 1648 and has 130 inhabitants. The president is tax collector, assessor and judge. Goust has no church, clergyman or cemetery. The people worship in a church outside of their own territory, and the dead bodies are slid down to a cemetery in the valley below. In that valley all the baptisms and marriages are performed. Tavolara is 12 miles northeast of Sardinia. It is an island five miles long by a half mile wide. Its total population consists of 55 men, women and children. The women go to the polls with the men and elect every year a president and council of six, all serving without pay. The inhabitants support themselves by fishing and raising fruit and vegetables. The republic has no army and no navy.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Britishers Assaulted in China.

London, Aug. 25.—The Hong Kong correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "A British surveying party met with a hostile reception on Saturday between Deep Bay and Tai Moshan, near here. A thousand natives, beating gongs and shouting 'Foreign Devils!' closed the gates against them. Two Maxim guns and seventy bluejackets were ordered out, and the natives were given ten minutes to open the gates. They promptly complied with the demand."

GEN. KITCHENER AND THE KHALIFA

Will Likely Meet in Battle Shortly at Omdurman.

TWENTY TO SEVENTY THOUSAND

The March on Omdurman Begun Successful Advance of the Anglo-Egyptian Force to Wady Hamed —The English Camp Extends Three Miles—The Line 4,000 Yards Long.

Wady Hamed, Egypt, Aug. 24, via London, Aug. 26.—The whole Anglo Egyptian expedition has arrived here, and the advance is now commencing to El Hajir, where final concentration will be made for the march on Omdurman, forty miles distant, which will occupy two days, if the Khalifa decides to await attack at Omdurman, as now appears likely. Refugees are arriving daily from Omdurman. They all agree that the Khalifa means to fight. They report that he has 70,000 men. The attack is expected to occur Sept. 1. The English camp of 20,000 men, extending three miles, with the white gunboats and an immense fleet of native boats, presents a picturesque and animated sight.

A parade was held yesterday of the entire force which is operating against the dervishes. The sight was a magnificent one. The fighting force numbers over 20,000 men and the line was over 4,000 yards long. The artillery and camel corps occupied the centre of the line. The British troops were on the left and the Egyptians on the right.

General Sir Herbert Kitchener's achievement so far is a brilliant operation. Some weeks ago he announced his intention to concentrate his forces at Wady Hamed on Aug. 22. He arrived there to-day. Wady Hamed is a village 40 miles above Metemmeh, and between 50 and 60 miles from Omdurman. It is at the foot of the long sixth cataract, the head of which is at Shabluka. Considering the difficulties of moving 24,000 men and the impediments over the desert, and along the Nile under a blazing sun, the achievement is proof of the splendid organization of the expedition, and augurs well for the final overthrow of the Khalifa's power.

Major-General Archibald Hunter commands the Egyptian forces, which comprise two-thirds of the expedition, and which critics agree now form capital fighting material. Major-General William Forbes Gatacre commands the British forces.

TRAIN RUNS THROUGH FIRE.

An Engineer Makes a Perilous Dash for Safety Through a Blazing Forest.

Paris, Aug. 26.—Great forest fires are raging in the southwestern part of France between Bordeaux and the Spanish frontier. An excursion train returning from Sebastian to Bordeaux last night suddenly ran into a forest on fire on both sides of the track. The engineer stopped and reversed his engine just in time to save the lives of all the passengers. Later the train finally ventured to start and as before it was amid a furious fire. The carriages became so hot that the woodwork cracked, and the passengers were almost suffocated by the tempest of fire outside the windows. It was fully as dangerous now to retreat as to go on, so Engineer Lopez and his stoker, Duerte, drove ahead under full steam. The passengers were in paroxysms of panic. Some of them fainted through fright, while others yelled at the top of their voices. The sleepers under the rails were burning and the roofs of the carriages were crackling.

The train dashed along at a tremendous rate of speed and was soon out of danger. Then the passengers became hysterical, and laughed and cried, but were soon calmed.

LORD BERESFORD HAS STARTED.

Will Go to China to Look After British Interests There.

London, Aug. 26.—Rear Admiral Lord Charles Beresford, Conservative member of Parliament for the city of York, who was recently commissioned by the Associated Chambers of Commerce on a special mission to China, started on his eastern journey yesterday.

Lord Beresford goes to investigate the prospects of commerce and to report particularly as to the exact extent to which the Chinese Government will guarantee the safety of British capital already invested and of contemplated investments. He will probably be absent several months.

BRITISH FLEET ARRIVES.

All the Available Warships Congregated at Wei Hai Wei.

London, Aug. 26.—A despatch to a news agency from Shanghai reports that the entire available British fleet in Chinese waters has arrived at Wei Hai Wei to support the demands of Sir Claude MacDonald, British Minister to China. There is no confirmation of the report obtained from other sources.

Uncle Sam Must See It Through.

London, Aug. 26.—The Times yesterday morning says editorially: "If half the Cuban stories are true, it is no wonder that the Americans are disgusted with the insurgents' conduct. The insurgent leaders make a grave mistake if they imagine their conduct will go unpunished. It may be a troublesome business, but America having put her hands to the plow will not turn back."

Death Knell of the Government.

London, Aug. 26.—All the papers agree that Lord Skelmersdale's defeat is an expression of the electors' dissatisfaction with Lord Salisbury's Chinese policy The Daily Chronicle and Daily News declare that it sounds the knell of the Conservative Government.

Mrs. Curzon Wanted a Boy.

New York, Aug. 26.—The World announces that Mrs. Curzon and the new daughter are doing well.

Curzon himself was not as overjoyed as he would have been had an heir been born to him. He only sent news of the event to his nearest relatives.

French Shore Commissioners.

London, Aug. 26.—Sir John Bramston, former Assistant Under Secretary of State for the Colonies and at one time Attorney-General for Queensland, and Admiral Sir James Elphinstone Erskine, commander-in-chief of the British squadron on the North American and West Indian stations, have been appointed commissioners to investigate the French treaty rights in Newfoundland. The Earl of Westmeath has been appointed secretary of the commission.

A MARINE DISASTER.

French Schooner Sinks With Sixteen of Her Crew.

STORY OF CAPTAIN KNUDSON.

Says He Could Not Avoid a Collision and Steamed Ahead—Unfortunates on the La Coquette Pinned Under a Fallen Mast—Only Nine Seamen Were Saved.

New York, Aug. 26.—The Thingvalla Line steamer Norge sank the French fishing schooner La Coquette of Bayonne, France, on Saturday last, Aug. 20, on the Grand Banks. The captain of the schooner and eight seamen were saved, sixteen men went down with the unfortunate vessel.

The Norge sailed from Stettin Aug. 3. The weather was generally fine to the Banks of Newfoundland, when it became foggy, with patches of clear weather. On Saturday, Aug. 20, between 3 and 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the weather was foggy, but not so thick as to necessitate reduction of speed.

Story of the Collision.

Captain C. B. Knudsen of the Norge, when questioned at the Barge Office, said: "I saw at a glance that a collision was unavoidable. The Norge must run into the schooner or suffer the fate of La Bourgogne by being run into by the schooner. As the Norge had a large number of passengers on board, I preferred to take the chance, so I ordered the Norge to go at full speed. We ran into the bow of the schooner, and tore a hole three feet wide. As the sea was choppy, and the Norge rose and fell with the swell the hole in the schooner was made larger.

"Three of the men from the schooner clambered up on the Norge by means of the anchor chains. There were six or seven men floundering around in the water. Our second officer, Nicholson, lowered a boat and picked up the men, nine in all. The other sixteen men could be seen struggling in the choppy sea. The suction caused by the settling of the schooner drew them under. They could not be saved. The accident was unavoidable."

The lost vessel was the French fishing schooner La Coquette of Bayonne, which carried a crew of 25 men in all

Those saved from the La Coquette are: Captain Louis Berre, Henri Ruellan, Victor Cherelle, Jose Lacquec, Joseph Defever, Leon Ontin, Samuel Broquel, Jean Baptisto Lemenant and Eugene Guillette.

The captain and the crew saved were taken to the French Consul's office, where an official report of the collision will be made by Captain Louis Berre.

The anchor of the La Coquette made a mark on the bow of the Thingvalla liner on the starboard side.

At the office of the French Consul, the following names of the lost were given: Lemenant, Gannen, Allain, Lepron, Monsinet, Graffet, Curntin, Halmgont, Lescot, Morgnet, Gerard, Guenara, De Croix, Manguri, Baurel and Bonpere. All were fishermen.

Captain of La Coquette's Statement.

The report of Capt. Berre to the French Consul states that when the collision occurred, although there was a heavy fog prevailing, the men were all on deck fishing. Suddenly the Norge appeared, coming toward them head on for their side. It was impossible to do anything to get out of the way. The Norge, which was going at a speed of from 8 to 10 knots an hour, hit La Coquette in the side. Her aftermast fell towards the wheel. There were 16 men in that part of the vessel and the rigging, sails and mast pinned the men down so that it was inevitable death for them, as the vessel began to sink. The wheel was smashed by the fallen mast and the vessel was wholly lost control of.

The Norge cut La Coquette clean in half. The steamer backed as quickly as possible and her crew lowered boats and went to the rescue of the men in the water. It was impossible to save the 16 men who perished.

The La Coquette was of 105 tons burden. She sailed from Bayonne in May for Miquelon to fish off the Grand Banks. She made several trips to Miquelon to put off loads of fish and was to have remained off the banks to the end of the season, which would have been in about six weeks. Her crew was shipped at St. Servan.

The French Consul has notified the French Government and the authorities of the town of Bayonne of the loss of the vessel.

Attempted to Commit Suicide.

Hamilton, Aug. 26.—George Bevis, the 17-year-old son of William Bevis, attempted to take his own life by means of strychnine yesterday afternoon. Bevis had been employed as delivery boy for Grafton & Co., but on account of being found short in his accounts he was discharged. The disgrace was keenly felt by the boy, although his father had undertaken to return the money, and he made up his mind to commit suicide. Dr. Baugh responded and brought the boy out of the shadowy valley.

CANADA WELL REPRESENTED.

Canada is well represented at the great exhibition now being held at Omaha. The exhibit of the Dominion, in fact, is the largest of any. It occupies 5,000 feet of floor space and 6,000 feet of wall space, covered with the best the country can produce. It is an agricultural, mineral, forestry and dairy exhibit combined. The location is first-class, taking in the main entrance to the building. C. H. Myers, commissioner from the Dominion of Canada, is in charge, assisted by W. V. Bennett, the resident Canadian agent, and his daughter, Miss June Bennett. The exhibit is viewed by ninety per cent. of the Exposition visitors, a great proportion of whom are astonished by the great showing of this country's resources there shown. Wheat that grades "No. 1 hard northern," and is produced to the amount of thirty-eight to fifty-five bushels per acre all through the Dominion is the principal agricultural product shown. Commissioner Myers makes a point of impressing upon visitors that the Dominion can supply the breadstuffs for all of the nations of the earth. Not only wheat, but oats, barley, rye, corn and all of the cereals known to the United States grow and flourish in every locality, yielding abundantly. The corn is as large as that grown further south; the small grain has a lighter colour, the berry being more plump and larger.

The dairy business of Canada has grown with great rapidity during the past few years. Last year's shipment of butter to Great Britain aggregated 12,000,000 pounds valued at $2,900,000. Along with the butter goes the cheese, which last year amounted to 165,000,000 pounds, valued at $15,000,000. Honey and maple sugar are two other staple products of Canada shown in the exhibit.

The lumber industry of Canada is represented by numerous samples, one of the most interesting of which is a slab cut from a log of hard pine. It is six feet across, and it is vouched for that the tree from which this plank came from measured 150 feet to the first limb. A great showing of fruits and grasses is made, while in the mining department three large cases are filled with rich specimens of gold, silver copper, lead, zinc, tin, iron and other metals from the gray sulphates to the most beautiful and delicate forms of crystallization. A number of photographs of mining scenes from British Columbia and other camps are also shown.

Practical examples of this kind do much to advertise the resources of any country, and it is pleasing to be able to note that Canada's representatives are not behind in such work.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

POWDERLY, the American commissioner of immigration, declared a day or two ago that the alien law had not been worked since his appointment to the detriment of of Canadians. And he had hardly spoken until a band of Canadians, en route to the Northwest via Grand Trunk railway, were stopped at Port Huron and turned back. Now, Mr. Powderly is speechless.

AT the close of the last century Spain owned the greater portion of the western hemisphere. All of South America except Brazil belonged to Spain, Central America, and Mexico owed her allegiance, and Florida and North America west of the Mississippi were also under her flag. All this territory she has lost, and with the present ceding of the West Indies Spain's days as an imperialistic and colonizing power are over.

IT is said that the bicycle industry in England is suffering from depression. The postoffice department has invited tenders for the supply of 2,000 machines, which ought to give a spur to the bicycle business. The British Government, too, are increasing the number of bicycles supplied to the police of the metropolis, and between postmen, policemen and soldiers, the bicycle industry bids fair to be a pretty lively one for some time come.

THAT was a baby act of the most choice order played by Mr. Whitney and his friends yesterday at the third reading of the Constable's Votes bill, says the Ottawa Free Press. "Take your old bill, we won't vote for it or against it any more" was the valedictory of Mr. Whitney. What a pity the Opposition did not begin where they left off and so avoided the mortification of defeat and the demonstration of Tory political impotency witnessed during the last three weeks.

THE debate on the Constables Bill in the Ontario Legislature, says the Montreal Herald, had its entertaining side. First, there was the spectacle of the Liberals quoting the authority of Sir John Macdonald, Sir John Thompson and Mr. Dalton McCarthy, in approbation of declaratory legislation. It is true Sir Richard Cartwright and Sir James Edgar were quoted in the same way, so that it was not an absolute surrender to the light and leading of Conservative prophets of former times. But Mr. Whitney matched this with long quotations from the Globe of eleven years ago to the effect that constables should not be allowed to vote, laying great store by the resurrected editorials, although the Globe humbly protested that it could not subscribe to the doctrine of editorial immutability. Next Mr. Hardy frankly declared that he did not propose to drop into the same pit that had engulfed Sandfield Macdonald, who met the Legislature without a majority because certain bye-elections were pending, and who was driven from power in consequence. To this Mr. Whitney answers with a beautiful piece of "thou also" argument. Aha! says he, and who were the wicked, bad, ungenerous and unblushing opponents who thus took advantage of poor Sandfield in this shameful way? Who but the Blake-Mowat-Hardy Government and its supporters? There is some justice in the reproach, certainly, but Mr. Hardy has evidently no idea that Mr. Whitney would be one whit more generous or less unblushing if he had the chance. The chance, therefore, if Mr. Hardy can prevent it, he will not get.

THE MIDDLETON CHARGES.

Two Informations Against Him for Bigamy Preparing to Go to New Zealand.

Woodstock, Aug. 26.—Two informations will be laid against R. Lancelot Middleton, the B. & W. Railway fakir and alleged bigamist, to-day. Both will charge him with bigamy. One will be in connection with the man's marriage to Miss Sarah Smith of Sarnia, and the other will charge him with illegally marrying Miss Lillian Munroe of Toronto. Inspector Greer of the provincial detective force arrived Wednesday night, and it was after a conference with Crown Attorney Hall yesterday morning that Chief Will was instructed to lay the information.

Mr. J. J. Anderson of the C.P.R. ticket office, Hamilton, recognized from newspaper cuts Middleton as the man who recently came to his office and reserved berths for himself and wife on one of the company's boats for New Zealand. Middleton expected to leave with his wife on Sept. 22, probably hoping by that time to have made a few thousands out of his railway scheme. Mrs. Thomas said in an interview last night that her son-in-law intended to take a position in New Zealand, another indication that Middleton and McDonald are one and the same man, although Mrs. Thomas denies it.

FORTIFICATIONS AT ESQUIMALT

Examined by the Inspector of British Naval Stations in the Pacific.

Victoria, B.C., Aug. 26.—Considerable excitement is created here by the publication of the fact that Captain Edward Collister, inspector of British naval stations in the Pacific, paid a hurried visit to Esquimalt dock yard. He refused to be interviewed, but it has leaked out that the object of his visit was in regard to a projected increase in the fortifications at Esquimalt, with more than double the present capacity. Capt. Collister has also said that an island in the Pacific, near Honolulu is to be seized by Britain for a coaling station. Considerable work is already being done at Esquimalt, and it is known that the department is obtaining much more ground area by purchase from present offers.

ARE TAKING IT EASY.

Proceedings of the Quebec Conence Are Very Leisurely.

MEETING MAY LAST MONTHS.

An Adjournment Until Monday Next—At the Close of Next Week a Further Adjournment Will Be Made Till Sept. 30—The Conciliatory Attitude of the American Delegates.

Quebec, Aug. 26. — The conference promises to be a matter of months instead of weeks. The leisurely nature of the proceedings gives color to the remark made a few days ago by a gentleman with wide knowledge of party tactics in the United States, that the Republican party would take care that the conference and its work did not become an issue in the forthcoming State elections. The decision reached yesterday as to the procedure to be followed amply protects the Administration at Washington in this respect.

Lord Herschell at the close of yesterday's session, which lasted from 11 o'clock to 4, with a brief interval for lunch, announced that the commission would not meet again till Monday.

Will Adjourn Till Sept. 30.

The sessions will be resumed then for a week, and at the end of next week adjournment will be made till Sept. 30, when the commission will re-assemble in Quebec. This adjournment will enable Mr. Dingley to get through his election in the State of Maine. Senator Fairbanks and Mr. Coolidge have also affairs that require their attention. The suggestion is mooted, although not officially, that after the commission re-assembles a move be made from Quebec to the capital. Ottawa would be much more convenient than Quebec if the negotiations were to be extended through October into November, as now seems not at all unlikely, and the Ministers could attend better to the business of their departments in the intervals between the sittings.

Attitude of the Americans.

Yesterday's proceedings consisted chiefly of a general talk over the subjects to be taken up, and while the strictest reticence is maintained as to the particulars of the debate, it may be stated on authority that the American commissioners have taken an attitude that leaves no room to doubt their sincere desire to come to an understanding. The general discussion has been such as to make the prospect bright for a comprehensive arrangement. The American commissioners are hard at work studying up Canadian affairs, and in their social intercourse with the Canadian representatives are getting a better understanding of the situation than they had when they came to Quebec. The public men of the United States are so engrossed all the time with the affairs of their own great country that they have very shadowy ideas in the main regarding Canada and Canadian questions.

Some Don't Want Free Canals.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—A committee of the Board of Trade met yesterday to consider the proposition submitted to them for the abolition of all tolls, both on freight and tonnage, in vessels passing through the Welland Canal. The members of the Board of Trade are by no means unanimous on the question of abolishing the tolls on the Welland Canal. There are some interests, and not a few, said to be opposed to the scheme.

Will the Senate Upset Things?

London, Aug. 26.—The Graphic yesterday expresses the fear that, even if the Quebec conference arrives at an agreement on the difficult problems before it, the American Senate will upset its work unless American public opinion asserts itself.

WHERE IS THE CHILD?

Strange Action of a Man and a Woman at the Humber River.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—The County Crown Attorney has received advice of what the residents of the Humber think portends a serious crime which they allege was committed up the Humber River a couple of evenings ago. A man and a woman, accompanied by a little two-year-old child, arrived at the Humber, and, immediately hiring a boat from Captain Maw's boathouse, rowed up the river in the darkness. After an hour or so they returned, but without the child, and with a broken paddle. They then left the boathouse very hurriedly, as though fearing to meet anyone. The county police are investigating.

WHEAT DECLINES.

Liverpool Cables Went Down a Notch—Chicago Options Declined and Then Rallied—Prices.

Thursday Evening, Aug. 25.

On the Liverpool board to-day wheat ruled weak, and at the close spot red winter was quoted down to 5s 9d. Futures also declined sharply, the September delivery losing 1½d per cental for the day, and the December option ½d.

The Chicago market opened weak this morning on Liverpool advices to the above effect, and the rather large receipts in the Northwest, also exerted a bearish influence. This month's delivery dropped 1¼c per bushel, next month's ⅝c and the December option ½c below yesterday's close. Later, however, the strength of the Continental markets, the continued good domestic and foreign demand, and a consideration of the shortness of existing stocks combined to bring about a rally. The market closed strong with the September option ⅝c, and the December delivery ½c per bushel above yesterday's final figures.

The butchers were out in full force, but they were in no haste to buy, and as the supplies of cattle were greatly in excess of the demand, there was a general decline in prices; the decline being over ½c per lb. In the prices of common to good stock. Prime beeves sold at from 4¾c to 4¾c per lb., but none of them were of eating quality; pretty good cattle sold at from 3¾c to 4c and the common stock at from 2¾c to 3c per lb. There were over 100 hard-looking bulls on the market to-day; but four of them were sold during the early part of the day. Good calves are still in demand, at pretty high rates, at from $5.50 to $10 each, common veals being from $2.50 to $4.50 each. Shippers are paying from 3¾c to 3½c per lb. for good large sheep; good lambs sold at from $3.25 to $4 each. There were 600 rather lean lambs brought up from the vicinity of Quebec. Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

HURRAH FOR THE PETERBOROUGHS!

They Held the Orillias Down to 8 Goals to 5.

PLAYED ON THE ORILLIA GROUNDS.

The Local Team is in the Finest Kind of Shape and Confident of Winning the Deciding Game in Toronto on Tuesday.

The supporters of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club are enthusiastic over the close game which the team gave the Orillias yesterday in the first match of the Senior Series. The game was played in Orillia, and resulted in that club winning by eight goals to five. After the vaunted boast of Orillia made in the Toronto papers on Wednesday to the effect that the Peterboroughs were not to be allowed to score at all, the result was a crushing blow to the lacrossists of the northern town. The return match in the Senior Series will be played in Peterborough on September 9th, when the home team should be able to easily make up Orillia's lead of three goals.

In all the home and home games in the West the home team this season has almost invariably won out by a big margin, as in the case of the Tecumseths-St. Catharines matches, when each team won by the score of 8 to 0. Just such a trick as this the Orillias expected to play, but they were fooled, and fooled badly, when they ran up against the Peterboroughs on Thursday.

Those who witnessed the match state that it was the fastest and most scientific ever seen on the Orillia grounds, which is saying a good deal. The Peterboroughs were a little off in their shooting, perhaps, but the running combination work is described as being superb, and the boys were in such good shape that in spite of hard checking they came off the field almost as fresh as when they went on. The play was far cleaner than in any of the previous matches in Orillia, and the advantages of playing on their own grounds is all that saved Orillia from a defeat. The Peterboroughs to a man are certain of being able to win the game in Toronto when they meet the same team on neutral ground for the District Championship of the Intermediate series.

Mr. Wm. Hall, of Markham, refereed the game in a highly satisfactory manner, and the team was also well pleased with the decisions of the other officials. The teams lined up as follows:

Orillia.		Peterborough.
Hanley	goal	Dobbin
O'Connor	point	Lynch
Churchill	cover point	Brown
O'Connor	1st defence	Glover
Dunn	2nd defence	McKaig
Thompson	3rd defence	McDonough
Boyd	centre	King
Curran	3rd home	Hogarth
Wilkinson	2nd home	McCabe
Armstrong	1st home	Phelan
Grant	outside home	Lipsett
Watson	inside home	Mooney
Yeates	field captain	Dolan
Robins	umpires	Reilly

Referee, Wm Hall, Markham.

The Peterboroughs went out on the field confident of being able to give a good account of themselves, although they were unaccompanied by a single supporter. King took the ball at the face off, but there was a couple of quick mixups before the Peterborough combination got started, when the ball was passed quickly in on the Orillia flags and Jack McCabe scored first blood for Peterborough in 1½ minutes. There wasn't a hand clap, but it was results not applause that the red shirts were after, as shown ten minutes later when, after some hard play, Geordie Lipsett and the umpire's hand indicated that Peterborough had scored the second goal.

The Orillias were, as may be supposed, considerably upset by having a visiting team score the first two goals on them, especially when it was a team which they had boasted they would shut out entirely. To their credit, however, be it said, they made a great rally and did not lose heart, although defeat was staring them in the face. Striking a scoring streak in the next thirty minutes they tallied no less than five times in succession, making the score 5-2 in Orillia's favour.

The crowd woke up and enthusiasm was rampant until Jack McCabe put a damper on it by notching another point for Peterborough in 7½ minutes. Score 5—3. Three minutes later Orillia again increased its lead to three goals, but McCabe was once more instrumental in putting the ball into the net and to two goals. Time 8½ minutes. Score, 6—4.

In four and five minutes respectively Orillia notched two more points, giving them a lead of four goals. There was only three minutes left to play and it looked as though the match was to end with the score standing at 8 to 4, but in relieving the Peterborough flags from an attack Lynch started a combination which went straight down the field to Lipsett, who scored. The ball never touched the ground nor did it touch an Orillia stick. The play was the prettiest of the day and was a fitting termination to a match in which brilliant combination work and grand defence plays were of so constant occourrence as to keep the spectators worked up to the highest enthusiasm from start to finish.

The games were scored in the following order:

Team.	Scored by.	Team.
Peterborough	McCabe	1½ min.
Peterborough	Lipsett	10 "
Orillia	Grant	3½ "
Orillia	Armstrong	5 "
Orillia	Grant	½ "
Orillia	Watson	1½ "
Orillia	Wilkinson	13 "
Peterborough	McCabe	7½ "
Orillia	Grant	3 "
Peterborough	McCabe	3½ "
Orillia	Watson	4 "
Orillia	Grant	5 "
Peterborough	Lipsett	3½ "

The play of the two teams was so even that next Tuesday's match on Toronto Island will be SOMETHING WORTH WITNESSING.

A big crowd is going up with the Peterboroughs on the Grand Trunk. The cheap fare of $1.25 return has been secured. The team goes up on the 8.05 train in the morning and returns via Port Hope on a train leaving Toronto at 9.30 p.m. The tickets, however, are good until Sept 10th.

The Peterboroughs stayed at the Daly House in Orillia, and were well satisfied with their treatment.

Phelan scored a game which did not count. It was the result of one of his cyclonic shots, and went into the net with such violence as to tear its way through. The umpire did not see the shot, and as the ball had gone through the net, there was nothing to do but disallow the game. The net had to be repaired, which is significant.

It would be impossible to mention any of the boys, as playing a superior game to the others. All did well. The defence men in relieving passed out accurately to either King or Hogarth, and immediately a combination was started which carried the ball in on the flags. A good many shots were made and failed to score, but it must be remembered that Orillia prides itself on having the strongest defence in the league.

Some of the boys feel rather sore and stiff to-day after the hard match, but no one was seriously injured, although a ball which Dobbin stopped with his body nearly finished him.

This is the way that the Orillia correspondent of the Toronto papers tries to get back at the Peterboroughs:

The first of the senior series of games between Peterborough and Orillia was played here to-day before a fair-sized audience. The greater part of the time the grain poured down in torrents. The game was exceedingly rough on both sides, and Referee W. H. Hall of Markham failed to see the continual fouls and dirty plays of the visitors especially, and also of the home team.

The association should insist on all referees acting in the strictest possible manand assure to the public clean lacrosse.

The match, however, was of the fastest possible kind, but the beautiful combination of the home team completely outshone that of the visitors, who scored three of their goals by the most flagrant carelessness of the Orillia defence. The visitors scored their first two goals before the home team seemed to realize that they were playing. After this, however, Orillia woke up, and in twenty minutes, with five straights, made the score 5 to 2. During this time the Peterboroughs were absolutely out of the game. In the next game both teams were playing fast lacrosse, and Peterborough scored with one of the loosest kinds of a shot. Then the home team woke up again, and shot after shot was made on the visitors' flags, which Lynch or Dobbin passed out in beautiful order, until Grant, with an open chance, scored in three minutes. From this time out both teams showed the effects of the hard play, and each scored twice, Peterborough getting the last within about one minute of stopping time, leaving the score 8 to 5 in favour of the home team.

The teams meet to decide the championship of the North-eastern District on Tuesday next at Toronto Island, and a hot, fast game is assured to the spectators, as the rivalry between them is now at its greatest height.

Brampton has invited the Peterboroughs to play there Wednesday and arrangements may be made to that end.

A HOP AT CHEMONG.

It Will Take Place at the Conclusion of Tuesday's Golf Match.

Arrangements are being made by a number of young people for a dance at Fobert's Hotel, next Tuesday evening, at the conclusion of the final round of golf matches between some of the visitors at Chemong and the members of the Peterborough Golf Club.

A HEAVY FALL.

An Uneven Board in the Sidewalk Tripped up a Citizen.

A driver for Mr. T. Henry, the Hunter street butcher, met with an accident yesterday, from the effects of which he will feel rather sore for some days.

He was lifting a large quarter of beef from the wagon with the intention of carrying it into the shop when his feet caught in a raised board in the sidewalk and he fell backward on the plank with the beef falling across his chest. The weight was a heavy one, but no serious results will follow.

BROKE THROUGH THE BRIDGE.

A Horse Breaks Through the Planking on the Hunter Street Bridge.

On Wednesday last a serious accident was narrowly averted on Hunter street, when, as Mr. John McGlynn, baker, of No. 346 Stewart street, was driving across the bridge spanning the creek, his horse's front feet broke through the planking and as the animal stumbled and fell Mr. McGlynn was pitched clear from his seat over the horse's head, lighting on one shoulder. Fortunately he escaped without other injury than a bad shaking up.

The planking was repaired yesterday.

The Cash System the Rule.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy has decided that the business of Kennedy's meat market will, hereafter, be conducted on strictly a cash business, and, commencing on August 26th the rule will be made an imperative one. Mr. Kennedy deems that this change is for the best, and he is in a position to know but the advantage will not be wholly on his side. While insisting on cash payments he is prepared to make a substantial cut in prices that will recoup those who pay cash. Each Saturday will be a bargain day, in meats. This means that special prices will prevail. Mr. Kennedy claims, and no doubt he can make his claim good, that under the new system he can do better for the public than they can do for themselves at the farmers' wagon on the public market. On Saturday all you have to do it to go to Kennedy's ask the prices of mutton, veal, lamb, boiling meats, large roasts, shoulder steaks, etc, and find that by the quarter you can do better, and that in small lots you can be suited exactly. Then there is the additional fact that all meats are kept on ice until wanted and not out in the hot sun and dust. Watch for Kennedy's advertisement and see what will be offered, every day in the week as well as on Saturdays especially.

MORE HOT WATER.

A Special Meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Board Held Last Evening.

A special meeting of the newly elected Board of Directors of the Y.M.C.A. was held last evening. There was a large attendance, despite the fact that a number were absent from town on vacation.

Rev. E. V. Stevenson, 2nd Vice-President, occupied the chair.

A letter was read from Mr. J.W. Bennet, regretting that he was unable to act as president, to which office he had been elected.

The resignation was accepted with much regret.

After a lengthy discussion regarding the new chief officer and a number of likely men had been named, the matter was left to a special committee, composed of Messrs. Mallet, Rev. E. V. Stevenson and the General Secretary, the committee to report to the Executive for final action.

The following were elected to compose the Executive Committee: The President, Rev. E. V. Stevenson, J. W. Bennet, Alfred Parker and Dr. Scott.

The janitor submitted a lengthy report, dealing with the hot water apparatus for the shower baths, urging a change in the same to increase the capacity.

It was decided unanimously that a change was necessary in order to meet the demands of the increasing membership, and a committee was appointed to deal with the matter and have the change made at once.

The committee is composed of Messrs. Alfred Parker, W. L. Innes and A. S. Mallet.

Mr. Williamson informed the Board that Mr. McLeod, the new Physical Director, would arrive next week.

In addition to the heating, other improvements are being made in the building preparatory to the season's work, the plans of which are now being arranged by the various committees.

THE JOINT COMMITTEE.

It Met in the County Council Chamber Yesterday Afternoon.

Councillors Langford, Best and Allen met the members of the County Council Roads and Bridges Committee yesterday, when the matter of replanking and otherwise repairing the Hunter street bridge was considered. It was decided to undertake the work at once, as well as the repairs needed on the Pigeon Creek and Mud Lake bridges. The contract for the lumber needed was awarded to W. B. Kelly, of Bridgenorth.

Reeve Adams, of Ashburnham, appeared before the Joint Committee, asking permission for the pipe for the Ashburnham water supply to enter the river through or under the wall at the west end of the Hunter street bridge. The request was granted on condition that the strength of the wall be not impaired.

THAT MATCHED RACE.

Davidson on His Gendron Wins by About Ten Feet From Bradburn.

Quite a big crowd was at the Nicholls Park last evening to witness the matched race between Rupert Bradburn and Fred Davidson.

There was some trouble at the start, as thinking that the track would not be in good shape after the rain, Bradburn had not notified his pacers to be present. Shortly after seven o'clock both men got out on the track and were sent off.

The race was supposed to be for two miles, but as the track is not quite a third of a mile, the full distance was not ridden, the riders completing the circuit but six times.

Although a number of strong riders were present who offered their services for pacing, yet not understanding their work they broke no wind for the racers, keeping too far in the lead. As Bradburn had caught on to Davidson's rear wheel at the start the heavy work fell to the latter throughout. On the last corner of the back stretch in the sixth lap, the men spurted and made a pretty race around the turn and down the home stretch, Davidson winning by about ten feet.

The time was taken on two watches, but there is a big difference between them, one making it 5.39 and the other 7.38.

Bradburn complains of not being in condition through not having an opportunity of getting out on the track during the week. He would like to ride again next Thursday.

HALIBURTON GOLD.

The New Mines are Yielding an Average of Fifteen Dollars to the Ton.

Messrs. Donald Keith and W. H. Oliver, of the Dysart Mining Company, were in town yesterday making arrangements with the Wm. Hamilton Mfg. Co. to erect for them a ten stamp mill at the mines, which are located in Haliburton village.

In conversing with Mr. Keith, who is one of the quartette owning the mine, as well as the company's mineralogist, he stated that he considered the prospects in Haliburton to be superior to those in Rossland, whilst the railroad facilities were all that could be desired.

The vein which the Dysart Company is working is traceable for four miles and a shaft eighty feet deep has been sunk just in the rear of the town hall in the village of Haliburton. The ore is free milling and averages a yield of about $15 per ton, with four per cent. copper. When the new stamp mill is erected it is calculated that in the neighbourhood of thirty tons of ore a day can be taken out.

Mr. Keith has followed his profession as expert mineralogist through the mining fields of the world, and states that he was never better satisfied with a proposition than when he looked into the mining possibilities of Haliburton county. In his opinion it is an ideal mining country and as an evidence of his faith in the future of the district, he and his three partners have secured the options on a large section of the township. There is no stock for sale in the Dysart Mining Co., and the four gentlemen who compose it think they have struck it rich.

PROHIBITION COLUMN.

WHAT IS GOING ON IN DIFFERENT PARTS OF THE DOMINION.

Extracts From the Statements Made by Well Known Public Men and Prominent Women.

Dr. J. J. Maclaren, Q. C., chairman of the Dominion Alliance executive committee, having been asked by a number of representative temperance workers to give his opinion of the effect of a possible and much talked of prohibition reverse in the Province of Quebec, says:—"Sir Wilfrid Laurier has made no stipulation that every province should give a majority, neither has the Dominion Parliament, or any person in authority at Ottawa. The Premier's action in submitting the question of prohibition to the people for a plebiscite is logically connected with the previous resolutions of the House of Commons with respect to the question. Time and again," Dr. Maclaren says, "Parliament has passed resolutions at the instance of Mr. Jamieson, Mr. S. A. Fisher and Mr. Flint, committing the House to the passage of a Dominion prohibitory measure whenever the country was demonstrated to be ready for it. The Liberal Government is merely carrying out the spirit of those resolutions, and seeking to ascertain whether the country is now ready for the enactment of a prohibitory law. If any of the provinces should declare against prohibition, or if they should even all be overwhelmingly arrayed against it, parliament might even then legally pass a prohibitory measure. In any case, however, the Dominion Premier and his colleagues are bound by no pledge to any individual province. The attitude of the Dominion Alliance, as I understand it,' added Dr. McLaren, 'is that prohibition, to be completely effective, must embrace the entire Dominion, and the opposition of a single province—should there be such—would not alter the legal or the moral right of Parliament to enact a prohibitory law for the whole Dominion. The vote was not being taken by provinces. The plebiscite was on exactly the same basis as a Dominion general parliamentary election. If the Government had a majority of the whole country, the fact that they failed to carry one or two provinces would not imply that they were defeated. In the same way this is an analogous case. This is a Dominion election and even if one or two provinces should be found giving an adverse majority to prohibition that would not justify Parliament in declining to enact a law in accordance with the will of a substantial majority of the whole electorate."

The Alliance secretary coincided with the views of the chairman of the executive, and also says: "The electors of the Dominion of Canada are called upon to say whether they desire the liquor traffic continued under local sanction or prohibited by a Dominion law. This question is asked by a Parliament that has unquestioned power to prohibit, and it must obey the behests of the electorate, for it is the electorate's creature and servant. The leader of the House of Commons has declared that the people's expressed will shall direct the Government's action. We needed no such pledge. A Dominion majority vote in this contest means defeat and destruction for the traffic in strong drink in Canada."

THE REVENUE QUESTION.

Luxury, my lords, is to be taxed, but vice prohibited. Let the difficulty in the law be what it will, would you lay a tax on a breach of the ten commandments? Government should not, for revenue, mortgage the morals and health of the people.—Lord Chesterfield.

The government does not want the money raised by whiskey taxation for any of its legitimate purposes, and it has been proven a fallacy that the taxation helps the suppression of the drink traffic. The whole thing is unsavory, unwise, and unprofitable, and had better be cleaned out in the interest of healthy civilization.—Hon. Henry B. Metcalfe.

Gentlemen, you need not give yourselves any trouble about the revenue. The question of revenue must never stand in the way of needed reforms. Besides, with a sober population, not wasting their earnings, I shall know where to obtain the revenue.—W. E. Gladstone.

We have been selling our boys to pay the revenue.—Mrs. Letitia Youmans.

I cannot consent, as your queen, to take revenue from that which destroys the souls and bodies of my subjects.—Queen of Madagascar.

To sell drink for a livelihood is bad enough, but for a whole community to share the responsibility and guilt of such a traffic seems a worse bargain than that of Eve and Judas—Horace Greely.

If the loss of revenue should accrue to the United States from a diminished consumption of ardent spirits, she will be a gainer of a thousandfold in the health, wealth and happiness of the people—Justice Grier, United States Supreme Court.

No way so rapid to increase the wealth of nations, and the morality of society as the utter annihilation of the manufacture of ardent spirits constituting as they do an infinite waste.—London Times.

SECRET DRINKING AMONG THE ARISTOCRACY.

Dr. Norman Kerr writes: "I am amazed to hear that any one thinks that the "upper classes" do not need total abstinence. My observation as a physician has shown me that neither education or wealth is a barrier against inebriety. The great idleness of the rich is a strongly predisposing influence to intemperance, just as healthful occupation is the cure and reformation of the inebriate. Yet the worlds of wealth and fashion are the very worlds into which the light of temperance truth has only slightly penetrated. The present more decorous standard of 'society' behaviour has led superficial onlookers to the conclusion that intemperance has become rare among the rich and cultured, but, having had a lengthened professional opportunity of seeing 'below the surface,' I do not hesitate to state that there is a large sunken area of secret drinking, which, if known, would appal the stoutest heart in Christendom No class of children so much needs sound instruction in the dangers inseparate from a social use of intoxicating beverages. Yet no class has so little opportunity of learning the truth."

THE TURF.

Mr. Hendrie, the owner of the Futurity winner, is a Canadian gentleman of wealth, who races purely for the love of the game. He was, of course much pleased with the victory of Martimas, and while receiving the congratulations of his friends who crowded around him after the race, he told the history of the colt since he has been his owner. He said:

"I purchased Martimas at auction in the Easton Company's sales out of a consignment of Enright's, at the sale paddocks opposite the Sheepshead Bay track, on Futurity day last year. So he won the great race on the anniversary of his sale to his present owner.

"I paid $750 for the colt, and was prepared to give a larger sum for the handsome chestnut, and felt that I made a bargain when the son of Candlemas—Bigonet was knocked down to me. The youngster was immediately taken to Canada and placed in Trainer White's charge.

"He wintered well and in the spring was trained in the snow. His early preparation was so successful that I thought he might win the Futurity.

"When Martimas had received a thorough preparation he was sent to the races and faced the flag in Toronto, Fort Erie and Saratoga. Including the Futurity win, he has started six times and won four, all being stake events.

"At Saratoga he was defeated twice—once when Cash Sloan rode him in the first part of the Grand Union Stakes, when he was second to Kentucky Colonel, and again when he was unplaced.

"He was shipped from Saratoga on Saturday and arrived at the Sheepshead track Sunday.

"While I thought he had a chance, I did not bet on him. To say I am pleased is putting it mildly."

Harry Lewis, who rode Mr. Hendrie's successful colt, was all smiles while speaking of the great event of his life. He said:

"It was the first Futurity I ever had a leg up in, and as I've always wished to ride in the race, I jumped at the chance of having the mount on Martimas. I've exercised the colt in his work, and ridden him in most of his races. I've always believed him to be a great race horse, and I felt I had a good chance to-day. His weight should have been 115 pounds, but Mr. Hendrie neglected to claim three pounds that he was entitled to. So I had to weigh in at 118 pounds. At the post Martimas behaved admirably. The bad conduct of the other horses and the long delay at the post didn't bother him a little bit.

"As near as I can tell I broke no more than fourth at the start. My horse had plenty of speed all the way, and while High Degree seemed to have the foot of him at the bend I never lost confidence.

"My mount seemed to have something left all the time, and when I called on him at the finish I was not surprised that he responded, and won as he did by several lengths.

"Considering the large number of horses in the race there was little crowding. I think, and it was a true run race, with no kick coming from anybody.

HERE IS WHAT SHE SAYS:

At last, after eight months of physical weakness and nervous prostration, caused by over exertion and want of rest,—during which time I suffered greatly on account of the shattered condition of my nerves, and for which I was unable to find any relief. I have found a medicine (Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills) that in three months made my nerves strong, removed all nervous troubles, built up my physical system and made me strong and well. They removed despondency, and in consequence of taking your valuable Pills I look forward to the future hopefully. When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

WHAT LIGHTNING DID.

A Large Number of Barns and Season's Crops Destroyed—A $20,000 Fire at Elmira.

Waterford, Ont., Aug 25.—The early morning thunderstorm yesterday was the heaviest known in this section for years. No less than four fires were reported around the village. A large barn, with sheds, etc., belonging to Alex. Messecar, who lives about half a mile from town, was destroyed. Loss $2,600; insured for $1,100.

A barn and contents belonging to Samuel Walmsley, about four miles from the village, were also burned. Mr. Cicero Porter's barns at Rockford were burned. Loss $1,600; insured, $500.

Kingston, Ont.—During the thunderstorm yesterday the barn of Joseph Welsh, Howe Island, was struck by lightning, and went up in smoke. The loss is $1,200; no insurance.

Cobourg, Ont.—Lightning struck the stable of Undertaker Geo. M. Stephens. The building, with its contents of two horses, two wagons and one sleigh, was destroyed. Loss about $1,800; contents insured $1,200; barn, $200.

Uxbridge, Ont.—Lightning struck the smokestack at Beal Bros. tannery, completely destroying it and knocking it down, part of it crashing through the engine house in its fall. Damage probably $500.

Elmira, Ont.—Christmann's stable was struck by lightning, and his hotel and stables, Zilliax's hotel and stables and Hahn's dwelling house were burned to the ground. Zilliax's loss is over $10,000; insured, $3,700; Christmann's loss, $6,000; insured, $2,800. Hahn's loss is about $1,000; no insurance.

Hespeler, Ont.—Jacob Zeller's barn, near Breslau, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground, along with the stock and this season's crops. This is the third time a barn on this site within thirteen years has been destroyed by lightning. The last one was one of the finest buildings of its class in Canada.

Syracuse, N.Y.—The hurricane blew the roofs off four factories, and the roof of the Church of the Assumption and the statute of Virgin Mary was blown off and lodged in the cellar. An Italian laborer named Tony Metrone was struck by a falling electric light wire and killed. Several other men were injured.

CURZON'S SEAT WON.

The Liberals Have Captured the Southport Division of Lancashire by a Majority of 272.

London, Aug. 25.—The election for the seat in the House of Commons for the Southport Division of Lancashire, S.W., made vacant by the acceptance of Mr. George N. Curzon of the Viceroyalty of India, was held yesterday and resulted in the return of Sir Herbert Naylor-Leyland (Liberal), by a majority of 272 votes over his Conservative opponent, Lord Skelmersdale. The polling was: Sir Herbert Naylor-Leyland, Liberal, 5,100; Lord Skelmersdale, Conservative, 4,828. Liberal majority 272.

At the last election for the seat, Mr. Curzon, in the Conservative interest, was returned by a majority of 764. The defeat is a bad one, as Mr. Curzon has held the seat since 1886.

COAL MINERS ON STRIKE.

Negro Workmen From Alabama Have Been Put in Their Places.

Pana, Ill., Aug. 25.—Sheriff Coburn assembled 125 deputies yesterday, and gave them instructions to arm themselves and meet a number of negroes expected to arrive from Alabama to work here in the coal mines. During the day a special train arrived from Birmingham, Alabama, with 200 negroes. The train was rushed through the city to the Springside coal mine, where the negroes were unloaded under the guard of the deputy sheriffs. Several hundred miners were at the Union Depot to meet the negroes, but were unable to do so. The strike leaders have requested Governor Tanner to take action regarding the mining inefficiency of the negroes, and he has answered that he will send State mine inspectors to examine the men.

HAS THERE BEEN A DISASTER?

Ten Miles of Fire Island Beach Covered With Wreckage.

Fire Island, L.I., Aug. 25.—The beach here, for about ten miles, is covered with wreckage, consisting of parts of trunks, boxes, bedding and wire mattresses. There are no marks on them, but it is thought to be the same wreckage the steamer Algoa reported yesterday, and may be from off some of the United States transport vessels. Life saving stations east of here have no reports of wreckage on shore.

Didn't Fool the Banks.

Woodstock, Aug. 25.—Middleton's motives are hard to understand. How he expected to make money out of his schemes cannot be explained. He didn't secure any discounts from the banks here.

Detective Greer arrived in town last night.

The Sentinel-Review says: Middleton, the alleged engineer, and McDonald, the alleged swindler and bigamist, are one and the same. Mrs. E. G. Thomas came to see her son-in-law last night, and offered to settle the bill for which he is being held, but the Crown would not consent, and the disappointed lady went back to Hamilton at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

THE A. & L. S. RAILWAY.

Montreal Despatch Says It Has Been Successful in London.

Montreal, Aug. 25.—The promoters of the Atlantic & Lake Superior Railway scheme have met with complete success in the London market, and three-fourths of the entire issue, amounting to several million dollars, has been already underwritten. The immediate intentions of the company will be confined to completing the line of railway from Sorel, on the south shore, to Point Levis, and extending the road already built to New Carlisle, to Paspebiac and Port Daniel. When the company had been informed of Mr. C. N. Armstrong's success in London, Mr. James Shanley, C.E., began at once the construction of deep water terminal facilities at Paspebiac, a port at the mouth of the Baie des Chaleurs, which the promoters of the Atlantic & Lake Superior contend will be open all the year round, and will thus contribute to the solution of the winter port question within the old provinces of Canada. The operations of the company are not, however, confined to the railway scheme, for word has been received here from London to the effect that steamers have been chartered to go on the route between Paspebiac and a British port, the service to be inaugurated some time in October.

Big Storm at Paris.

Paris, Ont., Aug. 24.—The most severe electrical storm of some years passed over here about 4 o'clock yesterday, accompanied by high winds and some hail. The tower of the Arlington Hotel was struck by lightning and considerably damaged. Several trees were also struck and others uprooted by the wind, but beyond this not much damage was done.

A Duel in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 24.—John Restivo, aged 30, and John Muscolino, aged 33, quarrelled and agreed to fight it out with stilettos. They accordingly fought a duel, in an open field, in the presence of a single witness. Restivo was killed and Muscolino fled. The police are after him.

Montcalm's Engineer Dead.

Father Point, Aug. 23.—Despite the best medical attention, A. M. Lawson, the fourth engineer of SS. Montcalm, landed here on Saturday, suffering from injury to the skull, is dead. Concussion was the cause of death. The coroner, Dr. Fiset, decided that no inquest was necessary.

TOBACCO HEART.

HERE'S HOW IT CAN BE CURED.

HAVE you been smoking a good deal lately and feel an occasional twinge of pain round your heart or a skip beat now and then? Are you short of breath, nerves unhinged, sensation of pins and needles going through your arm and fingers? Better ease off a little on the tobacco and take a box or two of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and get cured before things become too serious.

Here's what Mr. John James, of Caledonia, Ontario, has to say about them: "I have had serious heart trouble for four years, caused by excessive use of tobacco. At times my heart would beat very rapidly and then seemed to stop beating only to commence again with unnatural rapidity.

"This unhealthy action of my heart caused shortness of breath, weakness and debility. I tried many medicines and spent a great deal of money since I became aware of my condition, but could not get any help.

Last November, however, I read of a man, afflicted like myself, being cured by Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. I went to Roper's drug store and bought a box. When I had finished taking it I was so much better I bought another box and this completed the cure. My heart has not bothered me since, and I strongly recommend all sufferers from heart and nerve trouble, caused by excessive use of tobacco, to give Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills a fair and faithful trial."

Price 50c. a box or 3 boxes for $1.25, all druggists. T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$3,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, the policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

It is a marvel how some men will risk their lives by sheer neglect. They sleep away entirely oblivious of the danger creeping upon them. Men can hardly be made to realize that a little sputtering spark of disease which might be stamped out in an instant may mean death if it is allowed to keep on.

Dyspepsia, constipation and liver complaint seem like trifling matters but they will eventually wreck the constitution as surely as a spark will blow up a keg of powder.

If your health is not strong and vigorous it is a simple and sensible thing to write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., and obtain from him and his staff of eminent specialists, without charge, professional advice which will enable you to put your constitution on a solid basis of health and strength forthwith, before these ailments have a chance to reduce you to a physical wreck.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is acknowledged as the most wonderful medicine ever devised for those diseases which are caused by imperfect action of the liver and digestive organs.

Mr. F. M. Robinett, of Xenophon, Hancock Co., Tenn., says in a letter to Dr. Pierce: "I can heartily recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for indigestion and torpid liver. I tried different doctors with but little result. I could scarcely eat anything—it would put me in such dreadful distress in my stomach. I had a dull aching pain in my stomach, and continual hurting behind my shoulders, bad taste in my mouth, tongue coated brown, had faint spells with a tired worn-out feeling. I took eleven bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and received great benefit. I am now able to work. If it had not been for this wonderful remedy I believe I would not be living to-day."

The most difficult diseases to cure are those which are aggravated by constipation. In such cases Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be taken in conjunction with the "Discovery." They never gripe. All good dealers sell them.

HUNGER IN WARTIME

HOW IT COMPELS EXPERIMENTS UPON QUEER MEATS.

The "Siege Venison" of Paris Is Usually the First Resource—Then the Flesh of Dogs, Cats, Rats and Even Wild Beasts Is Devoured.

It is only in times of siege and famine that men discover how many different kinds of food there are besides those usually consumed. Hunger drives them to experiments upon substances which they would shrink from eating on ordinary occasions, and they frequently find that these uncommon foods, generally considered unfit for human beings, are not only nourishing but agreeable in flavor once the prejudice against them has been broken and the palate accustomed to the new taste.

There have been at times in different countries associations of persons who made trials of odd foods for the purpose of ascertaining their fitness for consumption, but they have never succeeded in accomplishing their projected reforms. Most people cling fondly to their old ideas about what is good to eat and what is not, and only the prospect of genuine famine can persuade them to try ordinarily condemned things.

When any town or district has been besieged for such a length of time that its food supply runs short, the first proceeding usually resorted to in order to procure food for the inhabitants is the killing of horses. This meat seems to be preferred to any other of an unusual nature when the everyday beef, mutton and pork become unobtainable. The eating of horseflesh under such circumstances is a practice dating back to very early times, instances of it being mentioned among the Persians, the Greeks and other nations of antiquity.

Later it is recorded that at the siege of Antioch, in the first crusade, the horses of the besiegers were eaten in such quantities that in two months not more than 2,000 of the original 70,000 were left. At the siege of Metz 80,000 horses are said to have been eaten.

But the famous siege of Paris in the Franco-Prussian war furnishes the most interesting example of the variety of meats which may be used in great straits. During that terrible winter of 1870-1, while the German army outside prevented supplies of any kind from being brought into the unfortunate French capital, not only such familiar animals as horses, mules, dogs, cats, rats and mice supplied the tables of rich and poor alike, but even the menagerie of wild beasts in the Jardin des Plantes disappeared gradually, and neither doubt nor surprise was expressed at its destination.

Of the horses 65,000 were eaten during the siege. This meat, however, was not new to the Parisian taste—at least not to the taste of the working classes. Since 1866 it had been lawful to slaughter horses for human food, and horse butcher shops were common establishments in the city. But the entire number of horses killed in time of peace was trifling compared to this enormous total in wartime. The Parisians, with their irrepressible levity and disposition to smooth matters over, even under such circumstances as these, called the horse meat "siege venison," and there were few complaints regarding it.

According to the general testimony, not only of the French at this time, but of scientists in different countries who have tried the meat under many conditions, horseflesh possesses a flavor about half way between that of beef and game and is variously compared to venison and to hare. It is coarser in grain than beef and in this respect resembles bull beef more than any other. It has a peculiar smell, which is at first a trifle disconcerting, but which soon becomes familiar, and a certain sweetness of taste. It is darker in color and more moist than beef. Its fat, which is moist and yellow, is not generally mixed with the lean, and it soon melts and becomes rancid. One authority says that horse meat, being richer, is undoubtedly superior to beef for soup, and he goes on to declare that for roasting the best parts of a young horse are finer than any beef. The chief chemical difference between the two is that horseflesh has the greater quantity of the nitrogenous substance called creatine.

Besides the 65,000 horses eaten during the siege of Paris 1,000 asses and 2,000 mules are said to have been consumed. The flesh of the latter was pronounced delicious, excelling horseflesh in its quality. The number of rats and mice used is not computed, but of dogs there are said to have been 1,200 and of cats 3,000. From the testimony of many persons who have eaten the flesh of cats and dogs it is said to resemble that of rabbits and when well cooked to be extremely palatable.

Of the animals in the menagerie of the Jardin des Plantes the flesh of two bears which were eaten was likened to pork, both in texture and taste. Three elephants were consumed, and while there is no record of the way in which the Parisians prepared their elephant meat it is well known that it can be made pleasant to the taste when cooked in the proper way. African travelers and hunters have many tales to tell of the delicacy of baked elephant's foot. Elephant's heart and liver are also esteemed as food, and steaks cut from the animal are said to be juicy and tender.

Three kangaroos and a seal from the menagerie helped to vary still further the siege fare. The seal's flesh was compared to young lamb.

Although meat is desirable for its strength giving qualities, especially when men require unusual vigor for fighting, still vegetable foods will support life and energy for a long time. Rice is nourishing and has served as a war food. During the famous siege of Lucknow, in India, it was for a long time the only thing left to eat. The native soldiers generously requested that what little rice there was should be given to their British comrades. They would get along, they said, with the "soup"—that is, the water in which the rice had been boiled!—New York Tribune.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

Raw from Her Toes to Her Knees

DR. CHASE MAKES A WONDERFUL CURE

Mrs. Knight, 17 Hanover Place, Toronto, makes the following statement:—

MY mother, Mrs. Wright, who lives at Norval, near Doncaster, suffered a summer and winter with Eczema in her feet. She could not walk, and very seldom got any sleep. It became so bad that she was perfectly raw from the toes to the knees. After trying every available remedy without receiving any benefit, and almost hopeless of relief, she was advised to try Dr. Chase's Ointment. She has altogether used 8 boxes since commencing, but with the happiest results, for she is now completely cured. There is but one scar on one of her feet, a memento of her fearful suffering condition. Any person desiring further testimony in this case is at liberty to communicate with Mrs. Wright at her address, Norval P.O.

Mrs. Knight says after such a grand success, is it any wonder we recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment?

Vast Possibilities.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—At the convention of the American Association for the Advancement of Science yesterday Dr. Wilfrid Nelson, F.R.G.S., of New York, read an interesting paper on "Nicaragua and the Proposed Canal." Dr. Nelson held that America has vast possibilities within reach, by which the United States and Canada would be at least 12 days nearer the east than England and Europe. He counted the probability of the vast cost in money and lives in such an undertaking in the tropics, but urged that it be carried out.

LESSON OF THE LANTERN.

How It Came to the Assistance of Its Scornful Companions.

There was once a tiny Japanese lantern. It was so small and homely that no one wanted to buy it. It happened by mistake one day to be sold in an order of costly and beautiful lanterns. The little lantern was mocked by the large and handsome ones. It said nothing, but it felt very badly.

The man who bought the lanterns wanted to use them to decorate his seaside villa in honor of a great procession. The night came for the procession, and one after the other the lanterns were taken out and strung around the house. They were all much admired except the homely little lantern, which when first seen was laughed at by every one. From its obscure corner it looked out upon the gay scenes and said nothing, although it felt very badly.

The lanterns were all lighted, for the grand procession was soon to go by. They all danced gayly around in the evening breeze.

Suddenly there was a cry. "The procession is coming!" Just then there was a quick gust of wind, and, to the dismay of every one, one after the other each lantern went out—every one excepting the homely little lantern, which shone steadily on.

"Quick! Matches!" the master shouted. But for some reason none was to be had.

"What shall we do?" he shouted again. "The procession is just around the corner and here all is darkness."

The master glanced at the homely little lantern. The music from the procession was coming nearer.

He glanced at the little lantern once more. Its light was small, but still it was burning.

Quickly he took it, and, carefully going from one to the other, he relighted the darkened lanterns by its aid and was just hanging up the little one again when the procession appeared.

"The homely little lantern by its faithfulness has done more than all the rest," the master said.

The little lantern said nothing, but was very happy.—Zion's Herald.

Singular Coincidence.

"In 1884," says the Detroit Free Press, "just after Commodore Schley returned from rescuing the survivors of the Greely arctic expedition, the Massachusetts Humane society presented him with a handsome medal for his achievement, and Benjamin W. Crowninfield, one of the Bay State's great orators, was sent to Washington to make the presentation speech. On the way to the capital Mr. Crowninfield fell in with an old and prominent resident of Boston, who took the privilege of asking the orator what his mission in Washington was. In reply the old gentleman was shown the medal and told what was to be done with it.

"'Strange coincidence,' mused the venerable gentleman from the Hub. 'Forty-four years ago, in 1840, I rode over this same line and met General Winfield Scott. I was as inquisitive then as now and asked him where he was going. He said that a son of his friend, Mr. Schley, had been named for him and that he was going to Maryland to see the baby. Nearly half a century is past, and now I find you going to Washington to carry a medal to the man that General Scott visited when the man was an infant.'"

Some Lawyers' Bills.

A London solicitor recently tendered a bill in which the last item was thus stated: "To dining with you after the case was lost." A Gotha lawyer once threw a peasant out of doors because he did not wish to take up his case. He afterward sent him a bill for 2 marks "for his trouble." Another, on receiving the present of a hare from one of his clients, wrote to thank him and then charged 4 marks for the letter. On the Hamburg exchange a stranger once asked a lawyer, "Is this ducat worth 10 shillings?" "Yes," replied the lawyer as he put the coin in his pocket and took out 3s. 4d. "Here's your change; 6s. 8d. is my regular consultation fee, you know."—Chicago Post.

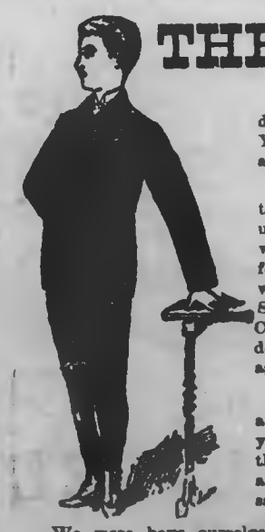
School Suits

. . . FOR . . .

THE BOYS.



In a few days the Holidays will be over, and Young Canada will begin another term of schooling.

Mothers know where they can always depend upon getting good serviceable School Clothing for their sons. They know whether or not the last Suit bought at the City Clothing Store wore as well as it ought to have done. And if it did, we deserve their patronage again.

We have all GOOD qualities in BOYS' SUITS, and all sizes and styles to fit any boy from 3 to 15 years of age. We sell the best clothes for Boys that are made by any manufacturer in Canada, and we know they have always given wide-spread satisfaction.

We were boys ourselves once—and have a weakness for getting the boys the best to be had.

The New Granolithic Pavements

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Lots and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Clothe.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots and Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

Supplies for the Yukon Delayed.

Vancouver, B.C., Aug. 26.—The receiver of the Boston & Alaska Transportation Company, which company had the contract for transporting the Government military and police supplies to the Yukon, has prepared a statement of the affairs of the company.

Receiver Carroll said that he thought the business affairs of the company would be straightened out in from sixty to ninety days. The delay at St. Michael has caused delay in delivering the Dominion Government supplies and, therefore, the company has not yet received payment from the Canadian authorities.

Tapped the Water Pipes.

Stouffville, Ont., Aug. 26.—Mr. Foote, farmer, who lives on the 9th concession of Whitchurch, was last evening fined $5 and costs or 20 days by Magistrates Dougherty and Johnston for illegally tapping the pipes of the Stouffville waterworks system. He will appeal.

The London & Port Stanley Railway.

Toronto, Aug. 26.—The statement that the London & Port Stanley Railroad has been purchased by the owners of the Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway is not correct. An official of the latter road yesterday gave an explanation of how the story originated. The Port Stanley Road has been under lease to the L. E. & D. R. for about six years, the lease being for a term of 21 years, and the Walkers, the owners of the L. E. & D. R., have thus the management of the Port Stanley Road. The latter is under the ownership of a joint stock company, of which the City of London has the controlling interest. It has not been sold nor has any change been made in the management.

Is This Spy a Canadian?

Peterboro, Aug. 26.—Mr. John Lang, M.P., is interesting himself in the case of the man Elmhirst, who is said to be arrested in the United States and is to be court-martialed as a Spanish spy, as it is feared that there is little doubt but that Elmhirst is the son of Mr. Philip Elmhirst of Otonabee. Mr. Lang is communicating with Ottawa to have the authorities there make enquiries into the case with a view to interfering in the young man's behalf.

New Arrangement

- - IN OUR - -

Dressmaking Department.

The Golden Lion's Dressmaking Department will re-open on THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

The very large yearly increase in this Branch of our business is one of the most significant signs of the favour with which our work is received by the ladies.

Commencing with the coming autumn season, we start a new arrangement, under which we will not be able to make up any garments, the material for which has not been bought at our store.

Our local and out-of-town trade grows so rapidly that the full extent of our capacity has been taxed, and some restrictions had to be made in order to give more prompt attention to orders sent from our own Dress Goods Department.

NEW AUTUMN STYLES

We are opening up our New French, German and British Costumes and Suitings. These have all been passed through Customs under the 25 per cent reduction in Tariff rates, which few merchants were able to take advantage of.

In consequence, our prices will be found much lower than those who were less fortunate in passing their goods after the increased duty was put on.

ULTIMATUM TO CHINA

Backed Up by a Naval Demonstration by Great Britain.

THE SITUATION IS NOW ACUTE.

The Spheres of Influence Must Be Recognized—Lord Salisbury Will Give as Well as Take, But the Time Has Now Arrived for the Latter Procedure—Cable News.

London, Aug. 27.—The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Mail says:

"The situation has suddenly become acute. The relations between the Tsung Li Yamen and Sir Claude MacDonald, the British Minister, are strained to the point of rupture. Sir Claude MacDonald has intimated that any failure by China to observe Great Britain's wishes will be accepted as a casus belli.

"In support of Sir Claude Macdonald, the fleet has been concentrated at Wei Hai Wei and Hankow, and all the warships under 5,000 tons have been mobilized in the Yang Tse River. The naval demonstration is solely directed against China, as it is semi-officially stated that the existing relations with Russia are cordial. Lord Salisbury has abandoned the policy of the open door, substituting for it a policy of spheres of influence.

"Diplomatic conferences have been of constant occurrence within the last few days. Lord Salisbury insists upon the recognition by the other powers interested in China of the boundaries of Great Britain's sphere of influence. In the same instrument whereby Great Britain recognizes Russia's position in Manchuri, Russia is required to acknowledge the paramouncy of England in the Yang Tse Valley and guarantee that our territorial requirements shall be permanently respected.

"Great Britain is willing to drop her protest in respect to the New Chwang Railway, but Russia is required to cancel her agreement with China that the country having the largest financial interest should arbitrate in disputes connected with the Pekin-Hankow Railway.

"The negotiations are confined to Pekin."

Pavloff Has Been Stifled.

The Times' correspondent says that M. Pavloff, Russian Charge d'Affaires in China, has been appointed Russian Minister to Corea. The appointment of M. Pavloff as Russian Minister to Corea would seem to indicate better relations between England and Russia, since Pavloff has been the active agent on all Russia's advances in China.

THE CLAYTON-BULWER TREATY.

The London Spectator Strongly Urges Its Abolition.

London, Aug. 27.—The Spectator this morning, in arguing strongly for the abolition of the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, says: "A movement must soon take place in America which will inevitably cause the United States to trip up against the treaty and make a vehement demand for its abrogation. That demand, unless it were properly understood and explained beforehand, might seem here unfair and unfriendly."

The Spectator suggests that England will not wait for America to ask for the abrogation of the treaty, but will arrange a treaty, by which America and England will mutually bind themselves to allow no power save the United States to make a canal across the Isthmus of Panama, the United States to keep it open on equal terms to all nations at peace with the United States.

The paper says: "If the diplomats must have a quid pro quo there are a dozen Canadian points which might be set against the tearing up of the treaty."

THE CZAR AND THE PRESIDENT.

Telegrams Exchanged on the Anniversary of M. Faure's Visit to Russia.

Paris, Aug. 27.—President Faure and Emperor Nicholas exchanged telegrams yesterday in honor of the first anniversary of M. Faure's visit to Russia.

The President's telegram to the Czar was in part as follows: "The declarations which were exchanged beneath the shadows of our flags in the roadstead of Cronstadt are memories so dear to us that I cannot let this anniversary pass without assuring your Majesty again of my very keen gratitude for the reception your Majesty gave the President of the Republic. Our sentiments have undergone no change. I am to-day, as I was then, a faithful interpreter of the French people, in renewing to your Majesty an expression of the ardent wish we entertain for your happiness, for that of the Imperial family and for the grandeur of Russia."

Emperor Nicholas replied: "The Empress and myself are deeply touched by the thanks you have been so good as to express on the occasion of the anniversary of our visit on board the Pothua. We like to revert in our thoughts to those historic moments, the remembrance of which will never fade. It gives me peculiar pleasure to be able to renew at this time an expression of the unchanging and unceasing good wishes we entertain for you, Monsieur Le President, and for France, our friend."

BRITISH VICTORY.

Anglo-Egyptian Expedition Seizes an Important Island in Egypt.

Wady Hamed, Aug. 27.—Yesterday the gunboats with the Anglo-Egyptian expedition seized the island of Gib El Royan, opposite El Hajir, about 40 miles north of Omdurman, the capital of the Khalifa. The island will be used as an advance depot for stores.

Soudan Expedition Advances.

Wady Hamed, Aug. 27.—The Anglo-Egyptian forces began the advance yesterday, moving in five parallel columns at deploying distances. They were led by the Jaalin guides and by bands of pipers who were playing. It was an imposing spectacle.

The Dervish scouts are active, and it is reported that the Khalifa is preparing to make a stand at Kerreri, seven miles north of Omdurman, and will defend the Mahdi's tomb to the last.

A Cunard Captain Dead.

Liverpool, Aug. 27.—William H. P. Hains, fleet captain of the Cunard line, died in this city yesterday. In his forty years' service with the Cunard line he had crossed the Atlantic more than 500 times.

CAGED ANIMALS BURNED.

A Serious Fire in Cross' Menagerie at Liverpool, Eng.

Liverpool, Aug. 27.—Fire occurred in Cross' menagerie in this city yesterday, resulting in heavy loss. The fire originated in the lion room. Five leopards, four lions, a tiger, a puma, a jaguar, twenty-eight prairie marmots and a black opossum were burned to death, all of the animals perished in their cages. Besides these two hyenas, a vulture, three leopards, four rare foxes, two Virginia owls and two eagles were suffocated.

A Big Colonizing Scheme.

Rome, Aug. 27.—A contract has been signed by the Italian Colonizing Society and the Government of Venezuela, under the terms of which the company will send 3,000 families of agriculturists to Venezuela in three years. The Venezuela Government promises to give each family fifteen acres of good land, and the association will provide houses, other buildings, animals and farm implements. After four years the houses will become the property of the colonists.

Australia Supplying Manila.

Brisbane, Queensland, Aug. 27.—Three thousand tons of Queensland frozen meat, valued at £61,500, have been shipped from here to Manila on board the steamers Urnston Grange and Duke of Sutherland.

CONFLAGRATION AT ST. THOMAS.

Still's Handle Works and the Pipe Foundry Burned to the Ground.

St. Thomas, Ont., Aug. 27.—The greatest conflagration that has visited this city in many years occurred last night. Two of the largest manufacturing establishments in this town were reduced to ashes. The fire started in J. H. Still's handle factory, and it had such a good start that the fire brigade could do nothing except save one of the warehouses. The flames crossed the L.E. & D.R.R. tracks, igniting the St. Thomas Pipe & Foundry Company. This frame structure also burnt very quickly. Mr. Stills' factory employed 60 or 70 men. His loss is $50,000; insured for $9,700. The pipe foundry is valued at $10,000 or $12,000; insurance, none.

Money for the Plebiscite.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Since the announcement that the prohibitionists were sorely in need of money, contributions have poured into Secretary Spence's office. Before polling day, the officials believe that Ontario will have rolled up $50,000 in aid of the temperance cause. Rev. W. H. Harvey, in organizing Northern Alberta in the temperance cause, has covered 416 miles. So well have Toronto people contributed towards the campaign fund, that the Alliance Executive has decided to present the local union with the half million pamphlets being distributed here.

On Wednesday evening last Cornwall Temperance workers held a rousing meeting in that town. Winnipeg has raised a plebiscite campaign fund, to which $2,600 has already been subscribed.

A HARVARD PROFESSOR SPEAKS.

Madrid, Aug. 27.—The Gazette gives the Cuban war expenses from January 10th to June 30th at 447,869,450 pesetas—over $111,000,000.

The U. S. Forced the War.

Ashfield, Ind., Aug. 27.—At the twentieth dinner in aid of Sanderson Academy here last evening, Prof. Charles Elliott Norton of Harvard University, said in speaking of the war with Spain:

"Flinging common sense and moral principle alike to the winds, under the influence of historical emotion, without decent deliberation, without due preparation, the representatives of the people rushed with childish precipitancy into war, and, what is worse, forced war upon a weak nation which, whatever it had done to provoke it, showed itself finally ready to make every reasonable effort to avert it, and to meet every legitimate demand of the United States."

SPANIARDS' RIGHTS IN CUBA.

Ramon Blanco Defines Them as Well as Those of the United States—What Cubans May Expect.

Havana, Aug. 27.—General Blanco has issued the following proclamation to the people of Havana:

"We have been vanquished and, without consideration of our birthplace, will be to-morrow as strangers in this country and as emigrants to this portion of the earth, which, until to-day and probably a few weeks more, is part of our Spanish fatherland.

"As strangers and as the vanquished, I counsel you, the people of Cuba, whose hearts are Spanish and who deeply feel the disgrace of their country, not to dispute any of the benefits which the triumph gives to the victors.

"It is our obligation now to be quiet; not to take any part in the different manifestations of a local political nature and even to decline participation in such affairs, even if the right of franchise be offered us.

"But you have one duty, which should be a duty of love; that is to undertake the task of reconstruction of all your interests, and it is your duty also to ask for, even appeal, if it becomes necessary, from your position as the vanquished, to the victorious for a guarantee of your personal safety and the protection of your proper interests.

"If you do as I counsel you the United States will take care of your lives and your interests. My mission here soon will be finished, as will the sovereignty of Spain, and anyone who feels that with honor to himself he may call himself a Spaniard, will have to register his name at the Spanish consulate, which will be established in this city.

"I am convinced that there will be no further disputes between the Cubans and the Spaniards in this island, for it is my belief that as soon as the Cubans begin to govern here they will find out how useful are the Spaniards to them, and finally will concede to them the place they deserve in the government of the island. Your compatriot,

"RAMON BLANCO."

Rioting at Manila.

Manila, Aug. 27.—There has been a very serious clash at Cavite between United States soldiers and the insurgents, the rioting resulting in the killing of one soldier and the serious wounding of another. George Hudson, a member of the Utah battery, got into a dispute with a native shopkeeper. Fearing trouble, he fired his revolver in the air to attract the attention of some of his fellow-soldiers. A great crowd of natives ran to the scene of the disturbance and at once began firing their revolvers, killing Hudson and seriously wounding Corporal William Anderson of the same battery, who had hurried to the assistance of Hudson. The disaffection is spreading to the outlying districts.

Shafter Goes Home.

Santiago de Cuba, Aug. 27.—General Shafter and his staff sailed yesterday afternoon on the United States transport Mexico. His departure was not marked by special incident. On arriving at Montauk Point he will go with Major Miley to Washington to meet President McKinley and Secretary Alger, afterwards proceeding to San Francisco.

A Boarding Mistress Gets Even.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Back in the spring two young men, who gave their names as Woodbridge, "did up" Mrs. Griffiths, a Division street boarding mistress. Now she has "done" them up to the Queen's taste in return. They applied for board at her new house on Simcoe street and she had them arrested. They turned out to be Fred. and Charles Ranney, sons of Dr. Ranney of Georgetown, and Magistrate Kingsford sent them to the Central Prison for six months. They will appeal.

THE PLEBISCITE CAMPAIGN.

THE EXAMINER throws its columns open to a full and free discussion of the merits of prohibition, pro and con. Any one having ideas to make public on either side of the question is at liberty to exploit them with reasonable space. THE EXAMINER, of course, does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

IDEAS ON SCHOOL LIFE.

At the vacation season draws to a close, and the preparations for school opening go on, various are the opinions advanced as to what constitutes practical education.

One writer has indulged in an expansion of thought on the ideal school as he conceives it. This institution is not graded as in the cities, for economical and other reasons, but the school of other days, when boys and girls of different ages studied and recited in the one room, and when the younger ones got an inspiration from the older ones, and a help in explanations which was not to be undervalued.

Another, dealing with the proposal to introduce domestic science into the schools, declares that education should, properly conducted, prepare the youth for usefulness to themselves and to society throughout life. "For this," he adds, many things are necessary besides the ability to read, write and cipher, and a knowledge of the written branches. No girls who expects to be the head of a house, hold when she becomes a woman can be considered properly educated unless she knows something about cooking and sewing, especially the former, and that regardless of whether or not she may ever be called upon to do her own work. Among the less well-to-do this knowledge is of even more importance. As the girls of such families grow up, many of them are obliged of necessity to do housework. With many such cooking and sewing becomes one of the chief occupations of life, and in too many cases it is entered upon without any preparation whatever. The ability to cook and sew is an accomplishment which may properly constitute part of education as well as any other. The teaching of domestic science in the public schools will do much to improve conditions in many homes, and to raise the standard of comfort and health without increasing the cost of living."

To all of which one may assent, in much if not all of which the school trustees concur, though for the present, on the ground of expense, leaving domestic service out of the curriculum and the reckoning.

THE ABOLITION OF WARDS.

Lindsay, a progressive Ontario town, too, has declared itself unmistakeably in favour of abolishing the ward system. In future, instead of electing twelve ward councillors that town will elect seven by a general vote. The large majorities polled for ward abolition in Peterborough, Belleville and Lindsay show that in these places the ward system has outstayed its welcome and outlived its usefulness. The new system may not prove any better than the old, but if so it will belie its promises. That the ward system has been a fruitful cause of extravagance and waste, every municipality knows to its cost. It has bred what is commonly known as ward-heeling and ward-grabbing, the object of every ward alderman being to get as large an appropriation as possible for his ward. The general good of the municipality has been forgotten in the aldermanic desire to serve sectional interests. This is not to be wondered at, for aldermen were elected to represent wards in particular and not the municipality in general.

The abolition of the ward system carries with it in all these cases a reduction in the number of aldermen, a change which must have a good effect. Not long ago, a magazine writer precipitated a lively discussion by declaring that ten men would spend twice as much public money in a given time as five men would. He exaggerated his case, but there is no doubt a great deal in his contention that the restraining influence is not so great with the ten men as with the five, since the burden of responsibility when equally distributed is not so heavy on the ten as on the five. It is argued to the contrary that a small council is easier to "work" than a large one, and that consequently the reduction in numbers facilitates the operation of the "manipulator." Taken all in all, we incline to the opinion that public business can be transacted more satisfactorily and economically by a small council than by a large one.

Where the greatest gain is promised is in the added dignity and importance which will attach to the position of alderman. Each alderman under the new system will be as truly representative of the city as the mayor will be. The fact that only a few will be elected will also add to the dignity and importance of the position. Not only will the office add honour to the man but it will induce men to come out who will add honour to the office. There is not a city or town in Canada where the complaint has not been made that the best citizens are not available for aldermanic offices. The cause may be found in the present system of large councils of small aldermen, and its removal will surely produce smaller councils of larger aldermen. Many of the best citizens in every town and city decline to risk defeat by entering into a campaign of petty issues, and sectional jealousies, such as cluster around a ward election, when the only inducement is the representation of a small section of a municipality. They may be induced to court victory, however, in a larger campaign of more important issues when the stake is the representation of the whole municipality. If these expectations are realized, the change will open an era of better civic government.—Ottawa Citizen.

A TOURIST'S STORY

How He and His Wife Made a Valuable Discovery.

They Were Both Martyrs to Rheumatism—Their Doctors Failed to Give Them Relief—But Dodd's Kidney Pills Cured Them.

Toronto, Aug. 26—Tourists, pleasure-seekers, business men, seeking relief from the strain of money-making; professional men looking for rest; clerks in search of rest and recreation; women of fashion seeking a change of scene and excitement—all classes of people who can afford it, are flocking to Toronto to enjoy our cool and refreshing breezes, and our bracing climate during this hot spell.

A "Society reporter," whose duty led him among these visitors, made an interesting discovery a few days ago.

He was talking to a lady and a gentleman—husband and wife—both of whom plainly enjoyed the blessing of perfect health.

It was just after dinner, and the visitors sat on the lawn, enjoying the beauties of the evening landscape. The gentleman drew from his pocket a small round box, around which was a red and blue label; opened it; took from it, and swallowed one of the pills it contained.

Then he handed it to his wife, who followed his example.

Seeing a surprised look on the reporter's face, the gentleman said: "Those are Dodd's Kidney Pills. My wife and I carry them with us everywhere we go, and wouldn't leave home without them.

"Some years ago we were both tortured by Rheumatism. We found that the evening dews, in summer, always brought on an attack from our enemy. We tried doctors' medicines and many 'patent' remedies, but got no relief from any.

"Finally we began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and have never had a twinge of Rheumatism since."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure Rheumatism always by causing the kidneys to do their work properly, and thus filter out of the blood the poison (Uric Acid) that causes the disease.

If you have Rheumatism, try Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cost fifty cents a box, and will positively cure you.

Charity For Publication.

A woman—she said she was a prominent society woman, and her name had a familiar and distant sound—came into this office one day last week to have printed a notice that she and a group of her friends, all prominent women, were about to do something for the soldiers. It was a charitable scheme, just like a score of others, but it happened that a reporter had just been telling about a case he had come across of a soldier in need. The woman was invited to hear his story. It did not touch her apparently.

Would she attend to the case?

"Well, if we take it up, will you put it in the paper?"

The reporter took care of it.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

The Prospects for Trade Reciprocity Not Very Bright.

HOW THE COMMISSIONERS WORK

The Americans Think They Hold Our Trade Now and Are Therefore Not Favorably Disposed to a Reciprocal Arrangement—Kind of Treaty That Would Pass U. S. Senate.

Quebec, Aug. 27.—The commissioners on both sides are hard at work preparing material for next week's meetings, at the close of which, it is thought, some definite idea may be formed as to the subject upon which substantial settlement can be reached by the conference. In effect the proceedings will take the form of showing the programme of each side to the other and discovering what parts are capable of being compromised and what parts develop differences incapable of solution. All this must be done before a conclusion is reached on any one subject, so that it may be taken for granted that no conclusion on any question will be arrived at before the conference reassembles after the adjournment.

Poor Prospects for Reciprocity.

A gentleman rather closely connected with the American commissioners and an intimate friend and confidant of the late Mr. Blaine, Secretary of State during the last reciprocity negotiations, in conversation made some remarks yesterday that leave little room to doubt the course likely to be followed by the American commissioners. They do not believe that a general reciprocity agreement can be made between the two countries at the present time, because the people of the United States are still indifferent to the advantages of trade with Canada, and the special interests that would be adversely affected would be able to knock the treaty out in the Senate. Their idea, therefore, is to try and settle up the minor irritating questions, such as sealing and the Atlantic fisheries, and in the same treaty to provide for reciprocity in certain sorts of forest products, for the free entry of fish in return for the participation of American fishermen in the use of our deep sea and inshore fisheries on the Atlantic, and for a few smaller trade betterments.

Would Pass U. S. Senate.

A treaty of such scope would, they believe, pass the Senate, and its passage would pave the way for special reciprocity negotiations on a much wider basis later on. This is probably the line they will follow during the negotiations, but it remains to be seen whether the Canadian delegates will consent to this procedure. The Americans want to use our fisheries in the east, to prevent our catching seals in Behring Sea, to dig our gold in the Klondike and to cut our logs in Ontario and tow them over to the States to be sawn. About all we want from them is the letting down of the Dingley fence, and it is probably Sir Wilfrid's desire not to throw away too readily the lever we now possess. It will be remembered that in Washington last fall he took the ground very strongly that in any conference all the causes of friction should be considered and if possible removed. It may be, of course, that with the preferential tariff in force the United States commissioners may not be disposed to frame a reciprocal schedule as wide as might otherwise be framed. They can scarcely blame Canada, however, for that tariff. It was but a mild answer to ten years of tariff unneighborliness at Washington.

TRADE RETURNS.

The July Exports and Imports of 1897 and 1898 Compared.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The trade returns for July, 1898, the month during which the preferential rate of 25 per cent. was applicable to the imports of Germany and Belgium and all countries having favored-nation treaties with Great Britain, will appear in to-day's Gazette. The total imports exceed those of July, 1898, by over seven and a half million dollars, but the exports show a net decrease of $2,860,000. The imports for 1897 were $9,887,131 and for 1898 $17,083,266. The exports for 1897 were $17,448,002, and for 1898 were $14,587,860.

The largest decrease in exports occurred in goods coming under the classification of animals and animal products, the shortage being about $2,000,000. In agricultural products the decrease was $700,000. There was a total decrease in the export of Canadian products of $8,536,000, but there was an increase of $676,000 in the exportation of foreign products, making the net decrease $2,860,000.

WONDERFUL ASTHMA RECOVERIES.

Clarke's Kola Compound Officially Tested by the British Columbia Government, at the Home for Incurables, Kamloops, B. C.—The Medical Superintendent Pronounces Long-Standing Cases Cured.

Many temporary relief asthma remedies have during the past few years been placed before the public, but until the introduction to the medical profession of Clarke's Kola Compound, nothing has been found to have any effect in preventing future attacks. The Medical Superintendent for the Home for Incurables in Kamloops, B. C., has had probably the best chance in Canada to thoroughly test this wonderful remedy for asthma. He reports that on the three cases of asthma where Clarke's Kola Compound has been tried, in not a single instance did it fail to cure, and on one particular case a lady had been confined to her bed most of the time for nearly a year previous to taking this remedy, and less than three bottles have completely cured here. Over one year has now passed and there has not been the slightest indication of asthma returning. Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure any case of asthma. Over 500 cases have already been cured in Canada alone by this remedy. Sold by Ormond & Walsh. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. Address The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, or Vancouver, B. C., sole Canadian agents.

If you are troubled with asthma try Clarke's Kola Compound; it cures. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, who will refund the money if it fails to cure.

THE LAST SHOT FIRED.

Royal Grenadiers of Toronto Capture the Gzowski Cup—Successful Meeting.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The last shots of the four days' meeting of the O.R.A. were fired yesterday morning, and the military occupation of Long Branch is over for 1898. The "Gzowski Cup" was the last event on the card and excited the greatest interest. The competition was in skirmishing and volley firing, the ranges being 200 and 500 yards. The prizes were won as follows:

1, cup and $40—Royal Grenadiers, 295 points; 2, $30—1st P.W.R., Montreal, 294; 3, $25—13th Hamilton, 284; 4, $20—48th Highlanders, 265; 5, $15—Q.O.R., 226.

Lieut. McNeill, Q.O.R., and his able corps of statisticians, had the winners of the Nursery Aggregate posted and the list was largely scanned.

The entries during the meeting in the extra series have been 2,800, netting $305. All the riflemen declared that the meet of 1898 was the best in the history of the O.R.A.

SUPREME COURT I. O. F.

Admits the Ladies to the Order—The Companions First Meeting.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The Supreme Court, I.O.F., yesterday adopted a report admitting women into the order by a vote of 133 to 16. There was a warm discussion on the report led by Judge Fitzgerald of Niagara Falls, who voiced the thoughts of the opposition in a sentence, saying that while their admission might increase the numbers of the order it would also increase the liabilities.

The afternoon session discussed and passed the constitutional amendment providing for an increase in the assessment rates.

After some further routine business, the Court adjourned to meet at Foresters' Island Park, Desoronto, to-day, whither the whole party goes by special train.

Companions' First Meeting.

The first official meeting of the Lady Companions as full-fledged members of the I.O.F., was held in the evening. There were present over 200 Companions from many parts of the American continent, and with them many members of the Supreme Court. The Supreme Chief Ranger addressed them.

There are still some Montreal and Toronto witnesses to be heard, and then the writs will have to be put into shape by the stenographer. Dollars In Diamond Dyes.

In scores of small country towns and villages in Canada enterprising men and women are adding to their yearly income by the work of dyeing for friends and neighbours around them who have not the time to do the work themselves.

These town and village dyers without exception use the Diamond Dyes in preference to all others, because they give the most brilliant, pure and unfading colors to all varieties of materials.

Hundreds of orders from these country dyers are filled every week by the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes. There are great possibilities for such work in all small parishes, and the statements just made may influence many who are seeking for a plan to increase their revenue. There are good dollars in Diamond Dyes.

The inquiry into the collision, which caused the loss of sixteen lives, will be held in Havre.

Dundas Will Help Bertrams.

Dundas, Ont., Aug. 27.—The bylaw granting a bonus of $1,200 to Messrs. Toronto, Aug. 27.—The funeral of Col. Sir Casimir Gzowski took place from "The Hall," Bathurst street, yesterday at eleven o'clock. The funeral was strictly private and consequently small, but many of the eminent men of the city were in attendance. There was but a very modest display of flowers. Rev. G. A. Kuhring, rector of the Church of Ascension, conducted the burial services.

Among those present were: Lieut.-Governor Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir George A. Kirkpatrick, Sir A. T. Galt, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Chief Justice Haggarty, Postmaster T. C. Patteson. Col. Otter, Col. Walked in His Sleep.

St. Thomas, Aug. 27.—Mr. Lee Smith, a drover, in charge of fifteen cars of cattle en route, via M.C.R. to Buffalo, had a most miraculous escape from death. Mr. Smith who, by the way, is a somnambulist, was sleeping in the caboose, and when the train was a mile this side of Mull he got up and walked out of the door of the way car. The train was running at a rate of 35 miles an hour at the time. Strange to say Mr. Smith escaped injury, excepting that his hands were slightly cut and scratched. The fall awakened him, and he walked down the track to Ridgetown and took a train for St. Thomas. In the meantime the section men had been called out and made a careful but unsuccessful search of the tracks for the corpse.

Nearly Caught.

A certain Greek adventurer some years ago undertook to palm off upon the public some false copies of the gospel manuscripts. Many learned men were deceived, but not Dr. Coxe, librarian of the Bodleian library at Oxford. How he detected the fraud is related in his own words in The Spectator:

I never really opened the book, but I held it in my hand and took one page of it between my finger and thumb while I listened to the rascal's account of how he found this most interesting antiquity.

At the end of three or four minutes I handed it back to him with the short comment, "Nineteenth century paper, my dear sir," and he took it away in a hurry and did not come again.

Yes, I was pleased, but I have handled several ancient manuscripts in my time, and I know the feel of old paper.

This is probably the line they will follow during the negotiations, but it remains to be seen whether the Canadian delegates will consent to this procedure. The Americans want to use our fisheries in the east, to prevent our catching seals in Behring Sea, to dig our gold in the Klondike and to cut our logs in Ontario and tow them over to the States to be sawn. About all we want from them is the letting down of the Dingley fence, and it is probably Sir Wilfrid's desire not to throw away too readily the lever we now possess. It will be remembered that in Washington last fall he took the ground very strongly that in any conference all the causes of friction should be considered and if possible removed. It may be, of course, that with the preferential tariff in force the United States commissioners may not be disposed to frame a reciprocal schedule as wide as might otherwise be framed. They can scarcely blame Canada, however, for that tariff. It was but a mild answer to ten years of tariff unneighborliness at Washington.

TRADE RETURNS.

The July Exports and Imports of 1897 and 1898 Compared.

Ottawa, Aug. 27.—The trade returns for July, 1898, the month during which the preferential rate of 25 per cent. was applicable to the imports of Germany and Belgium and all countries having favored-nation treaties with Great Britain, will appear in to-day's Gazette. The total imports exceed those of July, 1898, by over seven and a half million dollars, but the exports show a net decrease of $2,860,000. The imports for 1897 were $9,887,131 and for 1898 $17,083,266. The exports for 1897 were $17,448,002, and for 1898 were $14,587,860.

The largest decrease in exports occurred in goods coming under the classification of animals and animal products, the shortage being about $2,000,000. In agricultural products the decrease was $700,000. There was a total decrease in the export of Canadian products of $3,536,000, but there was an increase of $676,000 in the exportation of foreign products, making the net decrease $2,860,000.

WONDERFUL ASTHMA RECOVERIES.

Clarke's Kola Compound Officially Tested by the British Columbia Government, at the Home for Incurables, Kamloops, B. C.—The Medical Superintendent Pronounces Long-Standing Cases Cured.

Many temporary relief asthma remedies have during the past few years been placed before the public, but until the introduction to the medical profession of Clarke's Kola Compound, nothing has been found to have any effect in preventing future attacks. The Medical Superintendent for the Home for Incurables in Kamloops, B. C., has had probably the best chance in Canada to thoroughly test this wonderful remedy for asthma. He reports that on the three cases of asthma where Clarke's Kola Compound has been tried, in not a single instance did it fail to cure, and on one particular case a lady had been confined to her bed most of the time for nearly a year previous to taking this remedy, and less than three bottles have completely cured here. Over one year has now passed and there has not been the slightest indication of asthma returning. Three bottles of Clarke's Kola Compound are guaranteed to cure any case of asthma. Over 500 cases have already been cured in Canada alone by this remedy. Sold by Ormond & Walsh. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. Address The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, or Vancouver, B. C., sole Canadian agents.

If you are troubled with asthma try Clarke's Kola Compound; it cures. Sold by Ormond & Walsh, who will refund the money if it fails to cure.

The Newmarket Hotel Trouble.

Newmarket, Aug. 27.—The five licensed hotelkeepers of this town indignantly deny that they got up a purse to the License Inspector or that they made a deal not against the North American, and Chairman Cain of the License Board, and Inspector Hughes, deny all the allegations made against them for refusing a license to that hotel.

The Current Turned On.

Hamilton, Aug 27.—Power has been turned on by the Cataract Power Company. Last evening electricity flowed into the sub-station on Victoria avenue from the generating station at De Cew's Falls, 33 miles east of Hamilton. There will be a formal opening of the works next week.

THE LAST SHOT FIRED.

Royal Grenadiers of Toronto Capture the Gzowski Cup—Successful Meeting.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The last shots of the four days' meeting of the O.R.A. were fired yesterday morning, and the military occupation of Long Branch is over for 1898. The "Gzowski Cup" was the last event on the card and excited the greatest interest. The competition was in skirmishing and volley firing, the ranges being 200 and 500 yards. The prizes were won as follows:

1, cup and $40—Royal Grenadiers, 295 points; 2, $30—1st P.W.R., Montreal, 294; 3, $20—13th Hamilton, 294; 4, $20—48th Highlanders, 265; 5, $15—Q.O.R., 226.

Lieut. McNeill, Q.O.R., and his able corps of statisticians, had the winners of the Nursery Aggregate posted and the list was largely scanned.

The entries during the meeting in the extra series have been 2,300, netting $305. All the riflemen declared that the meet of 1898 was the best in the history of the O.R.A.

SUPREME COURT I. O. F.

Admits the Ladies to the Order—The Companions First Meeting.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The Supreme Court, I.O.F., yesterday adopted a report admitting women into the order by a vote of 133 to 16. There was a warm discussion on the report led by Judge Fitzgerald of Niagara Falls, who voiced the thoughts of the opposition in a sentence, saying that while their admission might increase the numbers of the order it would also increase the liabilities.

The afternoon session discussed and passed the constitutional amendment providing for an increase in the assessment rates.

After some further routine business, the Court adjourned to meet at Foresters' Island Park, Desoronto, to-day, whither the whole party goes by special train.

Companions' First Meeting.

The first official meeting of the Lady Companions as full-fledged members of the I.O.F., was held in the evening. There were present over 200 Companions from many parts of the American continent, and with them many members of the Supreme Court. The Supreme Chief Ranger addressed them.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—Mr. R. C. Clute, Q.C., who is at the head of the Royal Commission appointed to investigate the charges against the contractors of the Crow's Nest Pass Railway, says that some days will elapse before any of the evidence will be forthcoming. There are still some Montreal and Toronto witnesses to be heard, and then the write will have to be put into shape by the stenographer. The commissioner has the evidence of witnesses taken along the line of the C.P.R.

Dollars In Diamond Dyes.

In scores of small country towns and villages in Canada enterprising men and women are adding to their yearly income by the work of dyeing for friends and neighbours around them who have not the time to do the work themselves.

These town and village dyers without exception use the Diamond Dyes in preference to all others, because they give the most brilliant, pure and unfading colors to all varieties of materials.

Hundreds of orders from these country dyers are filled every week by the manufacturers of Diamond Dyes. There are great possibilities for such work in all small parishes, and the statements just made may influence many who are seeking for a plan to increase their revenue. There are good dollars in Diamond Dyes.

Inquiry to Be Held in France.

New York, Aug. 27.—Capt. The inquiry into the collision, which caused the loss of sixteen lives, will be held in Havre.

SIR CASIMIR AT REST.

Remains Interred in the Family Vault—A Very Quiet Funeral.

Toronto, Aug. 27.—The funeral of Col. Sir Casimir Gzowski took place from "The Hall," Bathurst street, yesterday at eleven o'clock. The funeral was strictly private and consequently small, but many of the eminent men of the city were in attendance. There was but a very modest display of flowers. Rev. G. A. Kuhring, rector of the Church of Ascension, conducted the burial services.

Among those present were: Lieut.-Governor Sir Oliver Mowat, Sir George A. Kirkpatrick, Sir A. T. Galt, Hon. A. S. Hardy, Chief Justice Haggarty, Postmaster T. C. Patteson. Col. Otter, Col. Sweeny, Col. George T. Denison, Hon. George Allan, Dr. Goldwin Smith, Hon. Frank Smith, Engineer Jennings, W. H. E. Massey, Donald McKay, H. P. Dwight, J. W. Langmuir, J. Ramsay of Hamilton; Dr. Baldwin, H. C. Hammond and J. Molson of Montreal.

Walked in His Sleep.

St. Thomas, Aug. 27.—Mr. Lee Smith, a drover, in charge of fifteen cars of cattle en route, via M.C.R. to Buffalo, had a most miraculous escape from death. Mr. Smith who, by the way, is a somnambulist, was sleeping in the caboose, and when the train was a mile this side of Mull he got up and walked out of the door of the way car. The train was running at a rate of 35 miles an hour at the time. Strange to say Mr. Smith escaped injury, excepting that his hands were slightly cut and scratched. The fall awakened him, and he walked down the track to Ridgetown and took a train for St. Thomas. In the meantime the section men had been called out and made a careful but unsuccessful search of the tracks for the corpse.

Neatly Caught.

A certain Greek adventurer some years ago undertook to palm off upon the public some false copies of the gospel manuscripts. Many learned men were deceived, but not Dr. Coxe, librarian of the Bodleian library at Oxford. How he detected the fraud is related in his own words in The Spectator:

I never really opened the book, but I held it in my hand and took one page of it between my finger and thumb while I listened to the rascal's account of how he found this most interesting antiquity.

At the end of three or four minutes I handed it back to him with the short comment, "Nineteenth century paper, my dear sir," and he took it away in a hurry and did not come again.

Yes, I was pleased, but I have handled several ancient manuscripts in my time, and I know the feel of old paper.

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

Arrested for Vagrancy.

Mr. H. Sharpe, of Hastings, says the Havelock Standard, who has been in and around the village since Saturday last, in company with a young girl by the name of Margaret Bowen, of Baltimore, was arrested on Wednesday noon on a charge of vagrancy, by Wm. Burns, who was sworn in as special constable. Sharpe was taken before Magistrates Mathison and Wiseman and was remanded to Peterborough until the day of trial, which has not yet been set. The girl was taken charge of here and will remain for the trial.

Sewing Machines Repaired.

W. Smith, practical repairer and expert adjuster of sewing machines, with over 20 years experience in the leading sewing machine factories and repair shops, has returned to Peterborough for a short time and those with machines out of order, should avail themselves of his services while here. Remember, there is no old sewing machine, no matter how badly used up, that he cannot make do as good work as when new, and so guarantees it, or no pay. A canvas of the town will be made. Orders left at shop of M. H. Quinlan, Hunter street, will be promptly attended to.

AWARDED THE CONTRACT.

For the Construction of a New Bridge At Comstock's, on the Ouse River.

Mr. Wm. Langford has secured the contract for building the concrete substructure for the new bridge in Asphodel across the river Ouse, which is to replace the present bridge at Comstock's. Mr. Langford left yesterday on the noon train for the bridge.

The contract for the superstructure will probably be awarded to the Hamilton Bridge Company.

IT NEEDS ATTENTION.

A Much Travelled Street which is in Bad Shape.

Crescent street is one of the town throughfares which stands in need of prompt attention. In the spring the street was "turnpiked," the ditches being cleaned and scraped, and the earth placed in the centre of the roadway.

Such material is not of the slightest use for a roadbed, working up into mud with every rain and throwing off great quantities of dust in dry weather.

Few streets in town are more used, as the traffic from Otonabee all comes around that way, and there are always a great many carriages constantly going to and returning from the cemetery.

The residents on the street think that the new roller should be given its first trial on this roadway.

WHERE IS MICK?

The Keeper of the Canal Boarding House at the Red Mills Disappeared on the 19th.

A week ago yesterday Mick Murphy, the keeper of the Trent Valley Canal boarding house at Nassau, suddenly disappeared. Nothing was thought of the occurrence at the time, it being thought that he was away on a short business trip. On his not returning last week, however, his creditors became somewhat anxious and on comparing notes ascertained that he was behind in his payments to such an extent as to aggregate a considerable amount.

That no harm has come to "Mick," is shown by the fact that his relatives are not all anxious about him, consequently it is supposed that at present he is merely keeping out of the way of his creditors, of whom an uptown butcher and a down grocer are hit for amounts in the neighbourhood of $300 each.

Murphy was formerly a cook in the lumber shanties and is well known in this vicinity. His prices to the men were $2.75 per week, but as he had to pay a considerable percentage to the contractors for the privilege of conducting the boarding house his profits could hardly have been sufficient to allow him to remain in business long unless he was a financier and manager of unusual capability.

None of the creditors speak of Murphy as though he willing defrauded them of their due, but think rather that he failed to make both ends meet and rather than face them quietly disappeared for a time.

Rev. Duncan George Harrison died this morning at the Nicholls Hospital, of Bright's Disease, after a somewhat short illness, having only been in the hospital two weeks.

The deceased was 27 years of age, and was a probationer in the Methodist church, his ordination not taking place until next spring. Last year he studied at Victoria University, Toronto, and during the summer was supplying near Bowmanville, when he took ill and came up to his brother, Rev. W. H. Harrison of Bridgenorth. Harrison of Thornbury, and the body will be taken to the family burying ground for interment, remaining until Monday morning at the George street Methodist church parsonage.

Important to Damaged Wheelmen.

The Cash System the Rule.

Mr. H. P. Kennedy has decided that the business of Kennedy's meat market will, hereafter, be conducted on strictly a cash business, and, commencing on August 26th the rule will be made an imperative one. Mr. Kennedy deems that this change is for the best, and he is in a position to know but the advantage will not be wholly on hisside. While insisting on cash payments he is prepared to make a substantial cut in prices that will recoup those who pay cash. Each Saturday will be a bargain day in meats. This means that special prices will prevail. Mr. Kennedy claims, and no doubt he can make his claim good, that under the new system he can do better for the public than they can do for themselves at the farmers' wagon on the public market. On Saturday all you have to do it to go to Kennedy's ask the prices of mutton, veal, lamb, boiling meats, large roasts, shoulder steaks, etc, and find that by the quarter you can do better, and that in small lots you can be suited exactly. Then there is the additional fact that all meats are kept on ice until wanted and not out in the hot sun and dust. Watch for Kennedy's advertisement and see what will be offered, every day in the week as well as on Saturdays especially.

Go to Toronto with the lacrosse boys, on Tuesday, per G. T. R. Tickets only $1.25, good to return the same evening at 9.30, or on any train up to Sept. 12th.

A CAMPBELLFORD WEDDING.

Nuptials of Miss Emma McKenna and Mr. D. J. Lynch, Formerly of Peterborough.

At the hour of six o'clock Wednesday morning, two of Campbellford's popular young people took the solemn vows in St. Mary Church which pronounced them man and wife, the Rev. Father McCloskey officiating. The bride was Miss Emma McKenna daughter of Mr. Chas. McKenna, of the firm of McKenna & Brady, while the groom was Mr. D. J. Lynch, barrister-at-law, and son of the late Francis Lynch, of Peterborough.

Shortly after six o'clock the bridal party entered the church to the music of a wedding march. The bride who was led to the alter by her father, was attired in a handsome wedding gown of white silk brocade, en train, trimmed with pearls and chiffon, while an her head she wore a most becoming hat trimmed with ostrich plumes and chiffon. Her flowers were white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Bella Gillmore, of Faribault, Minnesota, cousin of the bride, was gowned in heliotrope muslin, finished with white valenciennes, and carried a bouquet of white carnations. Miss Annie Brady, daughter of Mr. John Brady of Campbellford, acted as maid of honor. She wore pink muslin, and carried pink roses. The groom was supported by Dr. St. Charles, of Campbellford.

After the ceremony the bridal party were driven to the home of the bride's parents, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast had been prepared. After the customary congratulations were given, the happy couple left for Montreal and Quebec, by the 9.40 a.m. train, amid showers of rice and old shoes, accompanied by the best wishes of their many friends The presents to them were numerous and costly.

NEWS NUGGETS.

—Court Lakefield I.O.F. will run an excursion, on arrival of train from Peterborough, to Buckhorn, etc., per steamer Sunbeam, on Wednesday, Aug. 31st.

—Take a look in A. H. Melville & Co's window this evening, and see the Samples of the latest out in new Fall Styles of hats, just arrived by Express to-day.

—There were a large number of producers on the market this morning. The vegetables all looked well in spite of the recent drought and brought fair prices. An enormous amount of fruit was marketed.

—Police Magistrate Field, of Woodstock, says there is more profanity on the streets of that town than in any town he knows of. He would modify his views could he of some of Lindsay's adults or school boys, and we doubt if the records of our police court show a conviction for profanity in the last ten years.—Lindsay Post.

—Mrs. Hester Ann Wilson, the first white woman to enter Orillia, died on Sunday evening last. She was a daughter of the late Jacob Gill, of that town, who went there as government agent to erect schools, mills, etc., for the Indians, the present site of Orillia being at that time unbroken forest and part of the Indian reserve, which extended from Lake Couchiching to the Georgian Bay.

Mr. Cecil Rhodes Takes Water.

During his speech to the shareholders of the Chartered Company, Mr. Rhodes' voice was affected by his cold. One of his brother directors handed him a glass of water. PLEBISCITE ORGANIZATION.

The Otonabee Workers Getting Together—A Meeting Held Thursday.

A meeting was held in the Foresters' Hall, Otonabee, on Thursday evening last to organise the township for the plebiscite vote. There was a large gathering of ladies and gentlemen present. Mr. Wm. Yelland, County President, presided, and after prayer by Rev. Mr. McCauley of Keene, the election of officers took place as follows:

President—Mr. Geo. Stewart.
Vice-President—Mr. S. Armstrong.
Sec. Treas.—Mr. J. M. Drummond.
Executive Committee—Three from each of the six polling sub-divisions.

Mr. C. Munro acted as secretary of the meeting.

At the conclusion of the meeting speeches were delivered by Mr. Wm. Yelland, Rev. Mr. McCauley and others.

The executive committee met at the close of the meeting and decided to hold a mass meeting in the town hall, Keene, in the near future. A good deal of interest is being shown by the residents of Otonabee and the indications are that a large vote will be polled in the township in favour of prohibition.

PROHIBITION AND THE PLEBISCITE.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

Sir,—A copy of your issue containing a letter from Prohibitionist, has been shown me. Like Prohibitionist, I feel considerably interested and would very much like to hear or read of some good sound arguments as coming forth from the liquor traffickers' side of the discussion. If there has been any such presentation I have failed to observe it.

The solicitor of the Ontario L. V. A., at their annual meeting in London the Less seemed to be very bold, and expressed the hope that in view of the approaching plebiscite the question would be fully and freely discussed throughout the country, assuring his readers that if such were done the country would decide that there was no need for coercing the traffic. Now, with the Plebiscite so near at hand, where are the writers and orators in defence of the liquor traffice to be found?

Even Dr. Grant has been obliged to confess that part, at least, of the statistics quoted by him as convincing facts were unreliable. And now, so far as open, above-board, full and free discussion is concerned, we have on the part of the Liquorites a system of masterly inactivity. It is only another proof that "They will not come to the light, because (they know) their deeds are evil." To turn the white light of public discussion on their unholy traffic is to insure its condemnation. The injury and loss sustained through the liquor traffic is by no means confined to its (so called) victims. We are all, every one, in a very material sense victims of the liquor traffic. There never was a more deluding fallacy or a blacker lie penned than to say: "If you let it alone, it will let you alone." Therefore, we are all interested in the removal from our civilization of this traffic, which is the antithesis of everything which makes for liberty and progress. Christians, as such, are, and ought to be, specially interested. The Master said: "Ye are the salt of the earth." Christianity is not a negative, but a positive principle and life. Condemnation is meted out as to what we have NOT done, as well as to what we HAVE done.

Trusting this effort to still further spread the light may merit and receive your approval.

Yours,
ANOTHER PROHIBITIONIST.

LAKEFIELD TO LINDSAY.

INTERESTING DESCRIPTION OF A TRIP OVER THE INTERVENING CHAIN OF WATERS.

The Beauties of Stony Lake and its Many Islands—Fairy Lake, With No Apparent Inlet or Outlet—Points of Interest Along the Route Duly Noted—Eagle Mount and McCracken's Landing are Praised.

The following notes of a trip by steamer from Lakefield to Lindsay were written by a Bethany gentleman. It will interest those who know the route, and may induce others who deem it necessary to go elsewhere to view beautiful scenery to pay some attention to the charming trips close at hand:

Our boat left Lakefield at 9.30 a.m., sailing up Lake Katchewanooka. This lake is five miles long and all widths, from a quarter of a mile to a mile. It is slightly shallow and at present the dredge is at work in places. This is where we saw the booms. A boom consists of a wreath of logs connected by pieces of chain, and enclosing as many sawlogs as can well be put inside. It is really wonderful to see the drivers walking on these logs, which are continually rolling from side to side. The soles of their leather boots are provided with sharp brads to prevent them slipping. The booms are drawn by means of a horse-power, which is fixed in one spot on the lake. The home of the men who are at this work consists of a kitchen, which is also on the water.

A MOST INTERESTING PERSON

is the cook, whom we saw with folded arms, sleeves rolled up, and having a sprinkling of flour on his attire.

The shore in places is quite marshy, and at some distance up there are very pretty islands in a row, each covered with trees, and further still is "Polly Island," which I understand was presented by the government to Mrs. Traill. This lady resides in Lakefield, and is well known in literary circles as a brilliant writer and journalist, and who is still in full possession of her faculties at the age of ninety-seven.

At Young's Point, a small picturesque lumber village, we were raised by means of a lock about six feet and then entered Clear lake.

Clear lake is about five miles long and two miles wide, is perfectly clear of islands, and an almost continuous cluster of beautiful trees ornament its shores. Indeed beautiful trees cover the shores nearly all the way.

No one need tell us when we enter Stony Lake. It is completely dotted with islands, some rocky, some covered with trees, some large, some small, some high and some low, and nearly every island of any size having a beautiful cottage built upon it. This is with streets of running water, ranging from 100 yards to a mile in width, and going in every direction. The lights at night look especially beautiful, as every light has its duplicate in the water.

These islands have been sold to private individuals and since they have become improved and occupied by so many from far and near, their value has increased wonderfully. One island cost $18 and the owner holds it now at $1,000. Another cost $30 and half of it was sold for $600. The small summer cottages bring from $25 to $30 a month for rent. There is no gardening done, but some flowering plants are kept around the doors.

These are some of the islands—one owned by Mr. Wm. Hamilton, of Peterborough; another by Miss Ray, of Lakefield; 'The Shanty,' by Mr Geo C Buell, of Rochester; 'Headlands,' by F J Tate, of Lakefield; 'Fair Haven,' by Mr Atwood; 'Grassy Island,' by Mr Robert Graham, Lakefield; 'Wabuno,' 'Bona Vista'; 'Elfin Nook,' by Dr Bell, Lakefield; 'Horseshoe Island,' by Mr Guillet, M P, of Cobourg: one owned by Mr J R Stratton, M P P, of Peterborough; one by Mrs Trail; 'Black Rock,' by Mr Charles Reynolds, of Bethany; 'Syndicate Island'; 'American Island'; 'Idle Side'; 'Viamede,' on Mount Julian, which is open for guests and owned by Mrs Wm Graham, of Lakefield. Others are owned by Mr Sloan, Mr Hopkins, Mr Moore, Mr Best and Mr. Weir.

There is a small channel which must be proud of its name, and a turn around one of the islands called "The Devil's Elbow." At other points are Mount Rascal, Hurricane Point, Fairy Lake, Eagle Mount and Juniper Island, where there is a pavilion and a post office and store kept by Mr. Robinson.

"HELL'S GATE,"

Just at this point let us forget our round trip for a moment. In a subsequent trip we visited Grassy Island for two or three days. From here we rowed over to the Victoria House at McCracken's Landing. As the lake suddenly became very rough, we were unable to return by row boat, and we must not forget the kindness of Mr. Tully, the owner of a small steam yacht, "The Tramp," who brought us safely back to our cottage. This yacht is kept for the accommodation of visitors, and is capable of carrying from 15 to 20, and may be engaged at very reasonable rates.

From Grassy Island we visited Fairy Lake. Landing at Hurricane Point, we climbed a steep, rocky, rugged, crooked path, until as beautiful a view lay before us as ever delighted the eye of man. The surface of the lake is about 50 acres, I should judge, and is 40 feet above the level of Stony Lake. It has no visible outlet or inlet. The water is as clear as crystal, and the shore, which is almost round, is covered with a beautiful wreath of green trees. At the edge, but too far out to reach, are white water lilies. Many visitors portage their boats to this lake, and from the water they can enjoy the scenery to perfection.

FROM FAIRY LAKE

we came to Eagle Mount. This is one huge solid rock rising up out of the water, partly red granite, anything but regular in shape. I should consider it to be between 175 and 200 feet high. At one side is a derrick, and considerable quarrying has been done. With considerable difficulty we climbed to the top, and I think it will be pardonable if I remark the activity and courage of our hostess, who is comparatively an old lady, and who reached the top quite as soon as the rest. The view from here is well worth the painter's brush. But I need not describe it. We see see at a glance a "Canadian Venice," and wonder if Eden itself were more fair. I might mention that here and at Fairy Lake one might fill a large pail in a short time with fine huckleberries growing on low bushes on the shallow earth or out of crevices in the rocks.

Now to return to our round trip. Arrived at Burleigh, which is almost pure rock, we were raised by two instalments a height of 37 feet by means of a double lock, which consists of three sets of gates.

On passing through Burleigh locks we sailed through the new channel into a little lake which boasts of Lovesick. At this point one gentleman was quite sick, but whether he was love sick or seasick I cannot say.

Allow to me to add right here that our boat on going through the new channel scraped the bottom for a short distance, and it is supposed to be a finished job. One would suppose that our legislators at Ottawa intend to leave the channel as it is, a chain is really no better than its weakest link, and this is certainly a very weak link.

Lovesick Lake is about 1¼ miles long, and after being raised 6 feet higher through Lovesick lock, we entered Deer Bay.

Deer Bay resembles Clear Lake very much, and is four miles long. At Buckhorn or Hall's Bridge, we were raised 10 feet by another lock. At this point we saw a stoppage of logs, but did not wait to see them let loose. Here we met the "Sunbeam," an old resident of Lakefield. We must not forget that at almost every point the chorus is rocks, picnic grounds and low swing bridges.

ON BUCKHORN LAKE

are very few islands, but they are covered with fine trees. The north side is weedy and marshy, and at different points on the lake, small patches of wild rice can be seen. Occasionally we saw a canoe or a skiff with from one to five occupants, and as we passed one man he hauled out a 'lunge, and a stroke on its head acting as a narcotic, he held it up to view. It weighed probably 8 to 10 pounds.

Passing through Victoria Channel we entered Chemong, or Mud Lake, and through Gannon's Narrows, where there is a ferry into Pigeon Lake.

In this lake are Jacob's Island, having a fine picnic ground, and Oak Orchard, on the north side, where the trees are almost stripped by caterpillars.

The land in Douro and Burleigh township seems poor and rocky, but there is a marked improvement in Ennismore and Harvey. On the south side is "Little Bobcaygeon," commonly known as "Little Bob," where there is a sawmill. There does not seem to be much large timber on the whole route.

TOWARDS BOBCAYGEON

the islands are fewer and larger.

Bobcaygeon has a population of 1,000 and there are two very fine residences owned by gentlemen of the name of Boyd, and a fine hotel owned by Mrs. Goulais. In walking about half a mile from the village we cross four bridges. On the south side is a fine park, which is used as a picnic ground.

The lock at Bobcaygeon raised us five feet, and we found ourselves in Sturgeon Lake. It is necessary to pay toll for passing through the locks, and this is all done at Burleigh, and the amount is according to the number of passengers on the boat.

The water on the north side of Sturgeon Lake is higher in some places than the land and is held in by an embankment. The distance from Bobcaygeon to Lindsay is 22 miles.

Sturgeon Lake is much wider than the others. In the middle is Jackson's Island, consisting of 100 acres, and having the remains of an old frame dwelling. Opposite to the south we saw a party of picnicers enjoying themselves, but we had no time to call.

Sturgeon Point on the north is another beautifully-kept picnic ground. To the right is Fenelon Falls, and to the left is Lindsay.

And now we come to a broad expanse of several hundred acres of water literally dotted with stumps, and next a body of several acres completely covere with flags. And now we enter Scugog River, which takes us into Lindsay, and right at this point we will draw to a close. The total distance travelled by boat is sixty-five miles.

I endeavoured to begin with as few preliminaries as possible, and shall also make the conclusion quite as brief.

Thanking you for the space you have allowed me, I am very truly yours,

J. B. G.

Pronounced Incurable by Doctors, But Made Strong and Well by Paine's Celery Compound.

WELLS & RICHARDSON CO.,

GENTLEMEN,—Having been given up to die some time ago by some of the best doctors of the United States, I came to Canada last autumn terribly ill, and had lost all hope. Suffering agonies from inflammatory rheumatism, I was strongly urged to use Paine's Celery Compound. I gave it a trial as recommended, and the first bottle did me so much good I continued with the medicine until I had used seven bottles, when I found myself perfectly cured; indeed, I never felt better in all my life than at present.

I use every possible means to tell others of Paine's Celery Compound, and will always recommend it to those troubled with rheumatism.

Yours very truly,
WM. MORRISETTE.

CAN'T ENJOY LIFE

Because of nervousness, dyspepsia, heart trouble, etc. Lots of people just have to sit and look on while their healthy, vigorous friends have all the enjoyment of a strong and robust body. Dr. Ward's Pills will bring back health, strength, snap, vim and energy to even the weakest and weariest of suffering humankind.

A BAD INVESTMENT MADE GOOD.

I have half a gross of empty bottles upon my shelves. Everything my neighbors and friends would tell me to try I would go straight away to the drug store and purchase. I was in a terrible condition from dyspepsia and liver troubles and was getting worse all the time. I was so discouraged buying one medicine and the other and receiving no benefit that I was about giving up all hope of ever getting better, when my husband brought me home a box of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, which he said had been highly recommended to him. I began using them at once, when, to my great surprise, I felt better in a very short time and continued them for about two weeks more which cured me entirely. I have not the least sign of dyspepsia or liver troubles now, and have also gained several pounds in weight.

Signed, ANNIE E. GAUNTLEY,
King Street, Berlin, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

GOLD AND CRIMSON TROUT.

A Unique Variety That Has a Secluded Abode In a Creek In Kansas.

"There are trout in Whitney creek, a tributary of Korn river, in Kansas," said a veteran New York angler, "the like of which don't exist in any other water on the face of the globe. These trout have their abode in the upper waters of the creek, and it is not invaded by any other breeds of trout that swarm in the waters below simply because they cannot get at it. About six miles from the head of Whitney creek there is a waterfall 150 feet high. The rock down the face of which the water tumbles is solid and smooth from base to summit. There are no protruding ledges nor any hollows by means of which the other trout, with leap after leap from ledge to ledge and hollow to hollow, could scale this precipice, as they do at thousands of high waterfalls elsewhere. Consequently the trout above the falls have never been disturbed by interlopers of a different variety, and they live by themselves in the pure, cold water, a most splendid family of fresh water fish.

"These trout are literally bespangled with burnished gold and dashed with spots of the brightest crimson. The first time I ever saw one of these trout I actually thought it had been decorated with flakes of gold leaf by its possessor and that its red spots had been heightened in color with the brush. But this is their natural ornamentation, and when they are taken from the water and the sunlight strikes them they glitter and sparkle like a harlequin. They are called the golden trout. Their habits are the same as those of the ordinary brook trout, with all its gamy qualities. Their flesh has the same flavor. Their splendid beauty is what places them at the head of this great piscatorial family, famous for its beauty. How this rare variety of trout came to be alone in those upper waters of Whitney creek is one of nature's mysteries."—New York Sun.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

The Pope on the School Question.

Milwaukee, Aug. 26.—Five bishops attended the German Roman Catholic societies' convention here. One of them delivered an admonition that came from Rome direct. The utterances were made by Bishop Messmer, who had just returned from his pilgrimage to Rome. He spoke concerning the school question. The words of the Pope, as delivered to Bishop Messmer and repeated by him, were that it was to be regretted that so many Catholics were sending their children to the public schools in place of the parochial schools.

OMENS ON WARSHIPS.

SUPERSTITIONS WHICH GOVERN OLD SALTS OF THE NAVY.

Hoodoos and Spells Which May Work All Sorts of Evils on Board and Which Must Be Carefully Guarded Against. The Tattooing Habit.

The most picturesque superstitions of the seas are those which govern a modern man-o'-war. Every old salt in the navy believes in hoodoos and spells which may work all sorts of evils on his ship and must be carefully guarded against.

The powers of a ship's hoodoos commence before the ship has entered the water. It is a generally accepted superstition that if the first blow which is struck the keel brings sparks the ship is destined to suffer from a raking fire from the enemy.

The old time practice of stealing a piece of wood and imbedding it in the prow for good luck is, of course, impossible in the case of steel ships, though it is considered lucky to have a piece of stolen wood on board.

Another old superstition is satisfied by placing a silver coin in some crevice of the fighting top of the mainmast or some place below decks where it touches the steel mast. Originally it was a very common custom to imbed a silver coin, and preferably a Spanish coin, in the wooden steps near the mast.

Figureheads have been in high favor with sailors from remote antiquity. Originally they were carved to represent some god or saint. Even today a sailor would hesitate to sail on an ironclad without such protection.

The ceremony of launching a ship is merely a concession to an old superstition. The various formalities of ship christening have been followed with little variation for centuries.

In the early days of shipbuilding it was the custom for the captain and the crew to eat their first meal stowed away in the mold loft. Their meal invariably consisted of eggs and sulphur. From this custom has come the present day practice of providing cakes and wine for the crew. And the old libation which the priests used to pour over the prow of the ship as she slipped into the water has been replaced by the breaking of a bot'e of champagne.

The modern man-of-war dashes into the water with flags waving from every masthead. In order to gratify this old superstition it has been necessary to expend hundreds of dollars for the christening of a single ship. But no one begrudges this extravagance. In a way it is necessary.

The good or ill luck of certain days is still a belief among the sailors. Friday is a day of ill omen, and Sunday is usually a lucky day.

A superstition about women is a relic of the old belief in witchcraft. It is thought that a woman by throwing sand in the air on shipboard can produce violent storms. Not many years ago some women who traveled on English warships were tortured during a storm to make them quiet the waves.

These barbaric beliefs, however, are partially compensated by the superstition which sailors have held for centuries that beautiful children bring a blessing to a ship. The Neck was a handsome boy with golden curls. It is said that he is always accompanied by a black lamb and carries with him a golden harp. Our old salts have especial confidence in a ship which is christened by a child.

The average sailor is superstitious about the ringing of the ship's bells. In olden times the bells were blessed before they were used. At present, if a mistake is made in striking the hour, the sailors insist that the bells at once be struck backwards to break the spell, and if by any chance the wind should catch the bells and swing them all the way around, or if they strike nine bells, it is believed that it will be the last of that ship.

All good warships go to the "shores of Fiddler's Green" as a final resting place. Just where this mythical harbor is situated no geographer has yet decided. It is in every way the antithesis of "Davy Jones' locker." A warship which goes down in battle with her flags flying, as occurred several times during the civil war, goes to "Fiddler's Green."

The tattooing habit is, of course, very common in the navy. It is believed that an arm or a leg decorated with the design of a gun or a sword or some such design will never be lost in battle.—San Francisco Call.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made by Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

A DREADED DISEASE.

More People are Tortured by the Pangs of Rheumatism Than by any Other Cause—There is a Cure for it.

From the Advertiser, Hartland, N.B.

Mr. Richard Dixon, of Lower Brighton, is one of the most prosperous and best known farmers of Carleton county, N.B. In June, 1897, Mr. Dixon was seized with an attack of rheumatism, and for six weeks lay abed suffering all the tortures of this terrible disease. He grew so weak that he was unable to turn in bed, and his friends almost despaired of his recovery. At this stage one of his friends, who had been cured of the same disease by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, urged Mr. Dixon to give them a trial, which advice was followed. Almost from the day Mr. Dixon began the use of the pills an improvement was noted. Previously his appetite had almost completely failed and the first sign of returning health was a frequent feeling of hunger. Then the pains began to leave him, and his strength gradually returned and after using about a dozen boxes Mr. Dixon was as well as ever he had been. To a reporter of the Hartland Advertiser, Mr. Dixon said he had no doubt his present health was due entirely to the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and since his recovery he occasionally uses a box to ward off a possible recurrence of the trouble.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure by making new blood and invigorating the nerves, but you must get the genuine, always put up in boxes, the wrappers around which bears the full trade mark name "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Do not be persuaded to take any of the numerous pink coloured imitations which some unscrupulous dealers say are "just the same." In case of doubt send direct to Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont., and the pills will be mailed postpaid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50.

A Real Utopia.

Dunwich, Moreton bay, Queensland, consists of about 1,000 inhabitants. In four years there have only been two births and two deaths.

There are no streets, no omnibuses or trains, no soldiers, no police, no shops. There is a beautiful theater, and every one is admitted free. Clothes are free, and so are food and lodging. Very few do any work, and there are no hotels. Very little money is required, and medical attendance is free.

There is a lockup, but that is not used. There is also a postoffice, and if short of money the letters are stamped free. There is also a free hospital and library.—London Tit-Bits.

Mr. System—Can't help it. I have made a resolution to have one here and one at home, to provide for all emergencies. Now, if I take this one, they'll both be at home.—London Fun.

HEARTBURN.

"In the Spring of 1897, I was attacked with Dyspepsia and Heartburn. So severe was the pain that I could not sleep or eat, and I was troubled with headache most all the time. I remained in that state for three months, and tried everything I could think of. At last one day I read in the paper about Burdock Blood Bitters, and thought I would try it. Great was my surprise on finishing the first bottle to find I could eat better, the headache left me, and before I had used the second bottle, I was completely cured. I cannot advise too strongly all sufferers from stomach troubles to try B.B.B." MRS. WM. GRATTAN, Indiantown, N.B.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N. A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, suc policy participating in future profits.	2,050 25

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

It is the primary duty of every woman to wear in her face the lilies and roses of health. It is one of woman's natural missions to please, and one of the first attributes of a pleasing woman is a complexion that shows the bloom of health.

No matter how beautiful a woman may be at the outset, if she suffers from weakness and disease of that delicate and important organism that is the threshold of human life, she will soon show traces of suffering in her face, and very shortly become haggard and homely. She will lose her animation ofsmanner, the sparkle will fade from her eyes and the roses from her cheeks, her form will lose its roundness and her step its sprightliness. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription imparts strength, health, vigor and virility to the feminine organism. It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and tones the nerves. It makes weak women strong in a womanly way and able to bear the burdens of maternity. It banishes the suffering of the period of gestation, and makes baby's advent easy and almost painless. It restores the lost complexion and imparts strength, vitality and health to the entire system.

"I am very thankful for what Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has done for me," writes Mrs. Etta E. Smith, of Grenola, Elk Co., Kans. "About a month before I was confined I had such pains that I could stand up only a little while at a time. I could not rest at night or at any other time. I could scarcely eat anything. I began taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and after the second dose I felt better. From then until I was confined I carried all the water that was used up a long hill and worked in the garden every day, besides my other work and did not feel at all bad. When the baby was born I had a very easy time. The women said I had an easier time than any one they ever saw for the first time. The baby is very healthy. I got up when she was five days old. After two days I began my own work and felt stout and healthy."

MEMORIES.

The heart grows sad sometimes when strange hands waken
A strain, a melody of other days,
And backward through the past the mind goes straying
Till heartstrings snap in twain on which he plays.

I walked today along the village highway,
A sunny head was bared, a form bent low—
Ah, with a pang it brought to me sweet memories
Of one so like him in the long ago!

But bitter sweet, the memories that awaken
The love that filled each heart was never told,
For both of us were proud, and I, so fearful
My secret should be known, was silent, cold.

Ah, well, the same old tale, so oft repeated!
I knew not that he loved me—ah, you smile—
'Twas after years I learned it, but he never,
Never knew I loved him all the while.

CHINESE SHOES.

The Comfort and Healthfulness of Woven Straw Sandals.

"I may seem to be quarrelling with my bread and butter," said an up town chiropodist to one of his best customers the other day, "but in my humble and somewhat professional opinion, the most sensible of all men in the matter of footwear is the Chinaman. Did you ever notice his feet? I don't believe there is such a thing as a corn or a bunion in all China. Chiropodists would starve to death there so far as the requirements of the masculine foot are concerned. Whatever the deformities inflicted on the feet of women in China may be, the men certainly enjoy sound and comfortable understandings. Look at the Chinese laundrymen here in Washington. They stand at their work 18 hours a day. No class of workingmen I know of spend so many hours on their feet as they do. Yet they never break down there, and, physically, they are a wonderfully healthy race.

"Simple living and freedom from the nervous pursuits of our civilization may have something to do with it, but I attribute their exemption from foot weakness and disease to the kind of house shoe so universally worn by them. I have a pair that I have worn for several years, and I wouldn't wear anything else for genuine indoor comfort. They are woven of straw and seaweed and soled with horse hide. There is a thick sole of straw above the leather, and through this the air can circulate freely, keeping the muscles of the underpart of the foot always cool. The laundrymen, you notice, are usually barefoot, which is an added advantage in the matter of healthfulness. There is about as little material in the uppers as is consistent with the idea of a shoe, and this is just enough to keep the thing on the foot. This upper, too, is woven loosely of seaweed, so that the air can have access to the foot. Nowhere does this shoe pinch or in the least degree press the foot.

"These are the indoor shoes of the Chinaman. On the street here in the United States nowadays he wears very commonly the leather shoes or boots of American manufacture. That is one of the ways in which he is becoming Americanized. But the outdoor cloth shoe of China is a great deal worn also. That, like the indoor shoe, is very thick and soft in the sole, and the foot is never pinched or strained by it. The healthiest footgear ever known probably was the sandal of the Greeks. It had no upper, and, as you will see in statuary, the feet of men and women were ideally perfect. All the sandal afforded was a protection from the ground. 'To him who wears sandals,' say the Arabs, 'it is as if the world were shod with leather.' The Chinaman seems to follow out this motto, and his shoes are nearly soles and nothing more. But the great secret of the excellence of his indoor shoe is the half inch straw sole."

GOOD-BYE HEADACHE

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Prevent Headache After "A Night With the Boys."

Take a Couple, as Dessert After Dinner and They'll do the Rest—They Digest the Food and Soothe and Strengthen the Stomach.

"Ah! Ha! My boy! Got a headache this morning! Where were you last nigh' I"

"Yes. I've got a headache, a splitting headache! My blood seems to be on fire! My eyes seem to be jumping out of my head. I was out with some of the boys' last night, and we had a pretty rapid time. And I'm paying up for it now."

Such was the conversation that passed between two gay young men—stars in the social firmament—when they met a few mornings ago.

They walked along the street together, and shortly after were met by a mutual friend.

This young man looked fresh and bright. He had no headache. His eyes were clear and sparkling, and he was in the best of spirits.

"Why, Jim!" exclaimed he of the aching head, "you look as fresh as a peach! And you were one of the last to give up the fun last night, too! What have you done with yourself? I am suffering the tortures of Hades."

"You're right, I'm as fresh as a peach. At least, that's how I feel," answered "Jim."

"How do you do it?" he was asked.

"I took a few of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets in my vest pocket last night. As soon as we had finished dinner I took two of them."

"Is that all?" was the next surprised question.

"That's all. And if you try the scheme when you go to a 'farewell dinner' again, you'll get up, as I do, next morning, fresh as a peach, and without a headache."

Raised . . . From a Bed of Sickness . . .

SIMCOE, Jan. 18th, 1897.

Messrs. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Gentlemen —For over five months I was confined to my bed, not being able to move. The best medical skill was called in, all treating me for catarrh of the stomach, but to no avail. I could not eat the most simple food without being in dreadful misery, and found no relief until same was vomited up. After spending a large sum in medical advice, I was advised to try a box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I purchased a box from J. Austin and Company, Simcoe, and to my surprise found great relief. Not being able to eat I tried a box of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills; the pains left me the third day. My appetite has been fully restored. I consider myself perfectly cured, and feel as well as when a young woman, although I am 65 years old at present. I was almost a shadow, now I am as fleshy as before my sickness. Have used only three boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and two boxes of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. I can do my house work as usual. I am positive that my marvellous cure (which I think it is) is due purely to Dr. Chase's remedies, which I have used. I can honestly recommend the same to any persons suffering from symptoms similar to mine. Wishing you every success,

Yours truly,
MRS. ANN CHURCHILL, Sr.

A Sarnia Shoemaker.

The Pains and Aches all Driven From His Back by Doan's Kidney Pills

The peculiar position that a shoemaker has to sit in while at his work is hard on the kidneys. They get cramped and strained by the constant bending over. Then the back begins to ache. No use trying to take out the aches with liniments and plasters. You must get at the kidneys, which are the cause of the trouble.

The best remedy for sick kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. The best remedy for all kinds of bad backs—lame, weak and painful backs is Doan's Kidney Pills. Mr. Thos. Calladine, the well known shoemaker has found this out, and here's what he says about it.

"Some years ago I was attacked with pain in the back, which has constantly grown worse, and was especially severe in the morning.

"Since taking Doan's Kidney Pills I am perfectly cured. I have no more trouble with the pain and am greatly improved in general health."

Doan's Kidney Pills are the only remedy in the world for backache, Bright's disease, diabetes dropsy, urinary troubles, rheumatism, lumbago, puffiness and dark circles under the eyes, urinary weakness in children, female complaints, severe headaches, feeling of lanquor, etc. Sold by all druggists or sent by mail on reciept of price 50 cents a box or 3 for $1.25. HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

LACROSSE.

A number of the citizens are coming forward generously with contributions to assist the club out of its financial difficulties.

The Orillia Packet states that the Ottawa and Montreal teams have been liberally drawn on by the Peterborough lacrosse club this season. The local public know how much truth there is in this statement, but as the question of 'ringers' has been raised it may not be considered malapropos to refer to the personnel of the Orillia team. Of the twelve players Hanley comes from Midland, Mickey O'Connor from the Torontos, Churchill from Stouffville, Boyd from Gravenhurst, Wilkinson and Armstrong from Markham.

The arrangements which have been made with the Grand Trunk for a cheap rate to Toronto on Tuesday are most satisfactory and a big crowd will doubtless go up to see the game. The team and their supporters will leave on the 8 05 a. m. train and those who wish can leave Toronto the same evening at 9 30, returning to Peterborough via. Port Hope. The tickets, however, are good until Sept. 12th. The rate is reduced to $1 25.

The interest which the boys are taking in the game was evidenced by the big turnout at practice last evening. Such a thing is not usual the night after a game but the members of the team are determined to win that game at Toronto and are going to walk out on the field in the pink of condition.

Peterborough—Parnell, D'Russia, P. Delaire, Buchanan, Hopkins, Lynch, F. D'Russia, Dennaird and B. O'Brien.

Millbrooks—Brearton, Leach, Handley, Stinson, Russell, McMahon, Craig, Bateson and Kells.

Journalism in Jerusalem.

The suggestion of a daily paper in Palestine comes with something of a shock, but has been made in all seriousness by Mr. Yehouta, a Russian gentleman, who lives in Jerusalem and owns a paper published twice a week in the Holy City. He is now in London for a short time, and says there is quite a demand for journals in this part of the world, and he has a complete belief that the times are ripe for a daily paper. The subject most eagerly discussed in Palestine is agriculture and the interest arises from the growth and development of the agricultural colonies.

My wife had on her limbs five small pimples that began to enlarge, developing into eating ulcers, which, despite efforts to cure them, grew worse, eating to the bone. With two bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA (ointment), and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, she was cured in two months.

I was afflicted with papular rash, from which I could not rest day or night. My skin became in a very bad fix. CUTICURA REMEDIES cured me in one month.

My baby girl was afflicted with Eczema, her limbs from her knees down were one solid sore from which she suffered greatly. With CUTICURA REMEDIES there was a complete cure. A. A. MCLARTY, J. P., Winn, Ga.

DEEP SEA LIFE.

Purity of the Water Necessary For Fishes at Any Depth.

Results of deep sea dredgings are different in different oceans. A series of experiments made in the Ægean sea, which is a part of the Mediterranean, seems to establish the fact that there was an abundance of life in the shallow water, which diminished till it found a limit at 300 fathoms, below which no life seemed to exist. It was afterward shown, when repairing a cable on the coast of Africa, that animals were attached to the cable, that had been lying at a depth of 1,900 fathoms. It is proved by dredgings that there is abundant life in the Atlantic ocean as deep down as 2,500 fathoms, or nearly three miles.

The Mediterranean seems to be an exception to the general rule in the matter of deep sea life. The reason is found in the fact that there is a slimy sediment in the deeper portions of this sea that interferes with animal respiration, the same as an extremely thick dust would in the air. Life is supported in the water the same as on land, by breathing oxygen. In the one case it is absorbed from the air and in the other from the water. Pure water is to the sea animal what pure air is to the land animal. The sea animal could not live in muddy water continuously any more than we could exist continuously in an atmosphere filled with dust. It is thus seen that depth is not the only condition that affects animal life on the bed of the sea. The nature of the soil and deposits are factors as well as the temperature of the water. However, there are certain forms of life to be found in the lowest temperatures. But, as is the case on land, we do not find the same kind of life in the coldest and deeper zones of the ocean as in the warmer and more shallow parts.

In the cold waters the animals are dwarfed in size, somewhat as we find them in high mountain regions. It is said that the starfish will grow as large as a pudding plate where the conditions are favorable, but not larger than a silver dollar in the cold current of the Atlantic, which flows southward. In some places this cold current falls 2 to 2½ degrees below the freezing point of fresh water at the bottom of the ocean.—Professor Elisha Gray in Chicago Times-Herald.

EDUCATION OF SERVANTS.

A Mistress With High Ideas Has a Little Disappointment.

"I am trying to educate my servants up to a higher standard of culture and appreciation," remarked a housekeeper to a visiting friend.

"I wouldn't," was the reply of the visitor, who had had experience of her own in that line. "I'd just make them comfortable and give them good wages. How are you succeeding so far?"

"Splendidly. You would be surprised to know how really and truly refined in their tastes are those girls who work in kitchens. You have seen my second girl, Ida, and know how pretty and gentle she is. I am persuading her to take mandolin lessons and attend a class in mental culture. Then my cook used to be so slangy, but now she speaks the purest English."

"Aren't you afraid they will be looking for a different occupation when they are educated up to your standard?" asked the friend.

"Oh, no. I have taught them to elevate their work and make drudgery divine. I wish you could hear the improvement in their conversation. They"—

She was interrupted by a yell from the basement. It was the voice of the cook.

"Hello, you Ida! Hev you flew the coop?"

"Naw sich good luck. What's allin you?"

"Has the freak gone out?"

"Yep. What's up?"

"The bread's N. G."

"What ails it?"

"It looks as if it had whiskers on it."

"You've knocked it silly with cultah-h. Bounce it in the alley wen the sop is out of sight."

The mistress of the house made a gesture of despair.

"Think of being called a 'freak' after all I have done for them!" she said, and her friend, who was a wise woman, forbore to say, "I told you so!"—Taggart's Times.

The New Granolithic Pavements

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Lots and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots and Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

The Golden Lion's Dressmaking Department will re-open on THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

The very large yearly increase in this Branch of our business is one of the most significant signs of the favour with which our work is received by the ladies.

Commencing with the coming autumn season, we start a new arrangement, under which we will not be able to make up any garments, the material for which has not been bought at our store.

Our local and out-of-town trade grows so rapidly that the full extent of our capacity has been taxed, and some restrictions had to be made in order to give more prompt attention to orders sent from our own Dress Goods Department.

NEW AUTUMN STYLES

We are opening up our New French, German and British Costumes and Suitings. These have all been passed through Customs under the 25 per cent reduction in Tariff rates, which few merchants were able to take advantage of.

In consequence, our prices will be found much lower than those who were less fortunate in passing their goods after the increased duty was put on.

THE WORLD'S IDEAL

Should Be the Maintenance of the General Peace

SAYS CZAR OF ALL THE RUSSIAS

Emperor Nicholas Produces a Sensation in Europe by Proposing an International Peace Conference—The Note —Meanwhile His Chinese Ambassador Predicts War With Britain—Cable News.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 29.—By order of Emperor Nicholas, Count Muravieff, the Foreign Minister, on the 24th instant, handed to the foreign diplomats at St. Petersburg a note declaring that the maintenance of peace and the reduction of the excessive armament, now crushing all nations, is the ideal for which all governments ought to strive. The Czar considers the present moment favorable for the inauguration of a movement looking to this end, and has invited the powers to take part in an international conference, as a means of thus assuring real and lasting peace and terminating the progressive increase of armaments.

The text of the note is as follows:

Text of the Note.

"The maintenance of general peace and the possible reduction of the excessive armaments, which weigh upon all nations, present themselves in existing conditions to the whole world as an ideal toward which the endeavors of all governments should be directed. The humanitarian and magnanimous ideas of His Majesty, the Emperor, my august master, have been won over to this view in the conviction that this lofty aim is in conformity with the most essential interests and legitimate views of all the powers and the Imperial Government thinks the present moment would be very favorable to seeking the means.

"International discussion to the most effectual means of ensuring all people's benefit—a real, durable peace, above all—putting an end to the progressive development of the present armaments."

"In the course of the last 20 years the longing for general appeasement has grown especially pronounced in the consciences of civilized nations, and the preservation of peace has been put forward as an object of international policy. It is in its name that great states have concluded between themselves powerful alliances.

"It is the better to guarantee peace that they have developed in proportions hitherto unprecedented their military forces, and still continue to increase them without shrinking from any sacrifice.

"Nevertheless, all these efforts have not yet been able to bring about the beneficent result desired—pacification.

"The financial charges following the upward march strike at the very root of public prosperity. The intellectual and physical strength of the nations' labor and capital are mostly diverted from their natural application and are unproductively consumed. Hundreds of millions are devoted to acquiring terrible engines of destruction, which, though to-day regarded as the best work of science, are destined to-morrow to lose all their value in consequence of some fresh discovery in the same field. National Culture, economic progress and the production of wealth are either paralyzed or checked in development. Moreover, in proportion as the armaments of each power increase, they less and less fulfill the object the Government has set before themselves.

"The economic crisis, due in great part to the system om armaments a l'outrance and the continual danger which lies in the massing of war material are transforming the armed peace of our days into a crushing burden which the peoples have more and more difficulty in bearing.

"It appears evident that if this state of things were to be prolonged it would inevitably lead to the very cataclysm it is desired to avert, and the horrors whereof make every thinking being shudder in advance.

"To put an end to these incessant armaments and to seek the means of warding off the calamities which are threatening the whole world—such is the supreme duty to-day imposed upon all nations.

"Filled with this idea, His Majesty has been pleased to command me to propose to all Governments whose representatives are accredited to the Imperial Court, the assembling of a conference which shall occupy itself with this grave problem.

"This conference will be, by the help of God, a happy presage for the century which is about to open. It would converge into one powerful focus the efforts of all states sincerely seeking to make the great conception of universal peace triumph over the elements of trouble and discord, and it would, at the same time, cement their agreement by a corporate consecration of the principles of equity and right, whereon rest the security of states and the welfare of peoples."

Produced a Sensation.

London, Aug. 29.—The Czar's proposition is likely to produce a sensation throughout Europe, and, coming from such a quarter, and with such evident sincerity, it is likely to have important effects. There is no doubt with Russia taking the lead in such a step, Germany, France and the other nations will be ready to follow.

MIDDLETON-MACDONALD.

How the Would-Be Railway Promoter Expected to Make Money Out of His Scheme.

Woodstock, Aug. 29.—The Middleton-Macdonald fiasco is still the talk of the district, and all have been wondering what the prisoner's scheme was, how he intended to make money out of his railway construction.

In the first place, if Middleton had had about $1,000 on hand to carry him over for another week or two, he would have been in a position to begin to reap his profit. That would have been the time when the rich contractors and railroad builders would have begun to hover around him. Middleton would have given them fat contracts at a high price and then collected a big slice from each in consideration of what they expected to make out of the job.

It is also alleged that Middleton had his eye on some $12,000, which Mrs. Thomas is said to have, and in one of Mrs. Thomas' letters to him Mrs. Thomas is said to have addressed him as "Dear Mac."

Another source of income which Middleton is believed to have had his eye on was this. His plans were about ready, and the road was to be run right close to the homes of the prominent farmers. He hoped by showing the farmers that the road would practically destroy their property to receive a consideration from each farmer to divert the roadbed so as not to injure the property. But Middleton had only $2 left when the hand of the law reached after him and he went to the wall.

Middleton will have his preliminary hearing to-morrow.

AN ALLEGED PROCURESS

Arrested and Charged With Procuring Girls for Immoral Purposes.

Hamilton, Aug. 24.—Detective Mains, provincial officer at Niagara Falls, captured an alleged procuress named Mrs. D. Gibson, Tonawanda. Saturday evening at St. Catharines. A few hours before he detained at the bridge two girls whom the woman had sent ahead. The three were brought here and locked up, the woman being charged with procuring girls for immoral purposes, and the girls as important witnesses. The girls' names are Ida Dawson and Lizzie McLean. The prisoner's husband is now awaiting trial at Buffalo for the same offence.

"MILES EMORY"

Who Worked the Watch Fake on Some Hotelkeepers in Ontario—An Arrest in Toronto.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—On Saturday afternoon P. C. Anson arrested George H. Wheeler, 334 George street, just after he had left the Canadian Express Company's office, and locked him up at headquarters. At the station he was charged with receiving money knowing it to have been obtained by fraud. Wheeler, it is alleged, has been representing himself as Miles Emory, a traveler for Messrs. Goldstein, Gormelly, Jones & Co., 67 to 73 Broadway, New York, dealers in tobacco leaf and cigars.

His mode of operation was to send a letter to a hotelkeeper in a town, telling him that he had met with an accident to his watch, and had taken the liberty to ask the Globe Jewelery Co. of Toronto to forward it to the hotel. The proprietor was asked to pay the charges and hold the parcel until his arrival. He would add a postscript to the letter, telling the hotelkeeper the date of his supposed arrival. In due time the parcel would arrive at the house by express. C.O.D. The charges for repairs were usually about $1.75, and express charges 25 cents. In almost every instance the proprietor paid the bill and locked the parcel in his safe. After the time had elapsed for the traveler's expected arrival, the hotelkeeper would become curious and open the parcel, only to find a large wad of lead paper. The money paid to the express company would be sent to Toronto and collected by Wheeler as consignee.

The Missing Park Keeper Found.

Vancouver, Aug. 29.—The body of Robert J. Johnston, assistant park keeper, was found in the harbor Saturday. Deceased had been missing since August 15. He was a native of Midland, Ont.

Work was started on Friday on the Marine Railway and dry dock, which, when completed, will add much to Vancouver's importance as a shipping port.

Brakeman Killed at London.

London, Aug. 29.—Angus McDonald, G.T.R. trackman, was struck by a yard engine on Saturday. McDonald, in falling, rolled under the wheels of the engine. His right leg was cut off below the knee, one ear nearly severed from his head, besides which he received other injuries, some of them internal. He was removed to the General Hospital, where he died. He was about 50 years old and married.

ARCHBISHOP-ELECT.

Vicar-General Gauthier of Brockville the Choice.

TO SUCCEED LATE MGR. CLEARY

Second Seat From Brockville to Occupy the Bishopric—Appointment the Choice of the Clergy of the Archdiocese—Sketch of the Career of the New Archbishop.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 29.—Very Rev. Charles Hugh Gauthier, Vicar-General of the Diocese of Kingston, has been appointed Archbishop of Kingston, in succession to the late Dr. Cleary. He is parish priest at Brockville. This is the second time this place has sent an occupant of the bishopric.

The new Archbishop was born in 1844 at Alexandria, Ont., of French and Scotch ancestry. He was ordained in 1867 and became director of the Regiopolis College, this city. He was afterwards rector at Brewer's Mills, Gananoque, Williamston and Brockville. He was made Vicar-General in 1891. He is a man of good appearance and ripe scholarship, and an able administrator. He was the choice of the clergy of the archdiocese for the honor now conferred. It is likely the consecration will occur in October.

E. W. Sproule's Brave Act.

A jump from a bridge into the water below to save their lives, was the exciting experience of two young people near Sharbot Lake. E. W. Sproule, school teacher, Sharbot Lake, and a young lady camper were walking along the C.P.R. track about a half-mile west of the station. At that point there is a bridge 200 yards long spanning a body of water, and the young couple were halfway across when a C.P.R. train suddenly approached. They had not sufficient time to reach the end of the bridge and to avoid a horrible death Mr. Sproule took the young lady in his arms and jumped into the water, just a few seconds before the locomotive swept by. They reached shore in safety. Mr. Sproule was complimented for his bravery by the people at the lake.

THE PEACE COMMISSION SETTLED.

Three of the Five Commissioners Favor Territorial Expansion.

Washington, D.C., Aug. 29. — The Peace Commission is settled—the commissioners have all accepted. The last acceptance was from Associate Justice White of the Supreme Court. The commission is as follows:

William R. Day, present Secretary of State, chairman.

Senator Cushman K. Davis of Minnesota, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate.

Senator William P. Frye of Maine, senior member of the Committee on Foreign Relations of the Senate.

Associate Justice E. D. White of the United States Supreme Court.

Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, and former Minister to France.

It is regarded as an exceedingly strong commission, and one that will satisfy the American people regarding the Philippines. There are at least three members of the commission who are in favor of holding the most important part of the Philippines and not afraid of claiming the whole group. These are Senators Davis and Frye and Whitelaw Reid. The commission will sail about Sept. 15.

The Quebec Conference.

Quebec, Aug. 29.—It is expected that Sir Wilfrid Laurier will return from Arthabaskaville to-day in time to take his place at the afternoon session of the conference. Sir James Winter, who has been out of town, will also get back this evening. The delegates are at present enjoying some relaxation from their duties, and these take the form of dinners and visits to historic scenes in the vicinity of Quebec. Mr. Dobell entertained a large party on his lawn on Saturday afternoon, and the Hon. Charles Fitzpatrick, Solicitor-General, entertained many gentlemen at dinner at the Garrison Club in the evening.

Log Rollers Crushed at London.

London, Ont., Aug. 29.—While unloading a car of logs on the G.T.R. tracks Saturday two workmen of the Pennsylvania Bridge Company, named Michael Cain and James Burke, were standing on top of the high pile of logs and removing the stakes which held them on, when suddenly the logs began to roll, precipitating the men to the ground, where the logs rolled on top of them. When picked up both men were unconscious. Cain was badly bruised and had his ankle dislocated. Burke's arm was crushed and his hip bruised. They were removed to the city hospital. Both men hail from New York.

Nearly Died to Death.

Islington, Aug. 29.—Fred. Routledge, section man on the C.P.R., on Saturday night was working his passage on the hand-car when he was thrown by the machinery backwards off the car on to the track. The car passed over him, but he escaped with a broken rib and a very severe wound to the arm. He nearly died to death from the latter wound.

Jumped Off a Moving Train.

Almonte, Ont., Aug. 29.—John Devlin, aged 17, whose home was in Carleton Place, was instantly killed near the C.P.R. station here last evening. He jumped off the train and fell under the wheels, which passed over his head, crushing it frightfully. His mother was sent the news and came and removed the remains. He had no ticket.

MONDAY, AUGUST 29, 1898.

THE PLEBISCITE CAMPAIGN.

THE EXAMINER throws its columns open to a full and free discussion of the merits of prohibition, pro and con. Any one having ideas to make public on either side of the question is at liberty to exploit them with reasonable space. THE EXAMINER, of course, does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.

IS THE PREFERENCE GENUINE?

The fact that the imports from the United States considerably exceed those from Great Britain, as shown by the published statement of last year's trade, prompts some Opposition journals to stigmatize the Fielding tariff as a failure. The Montreal Gazette speaks of the "advertisedly loyal Laurier manipulation of the schedules," and demands explanations to show why "Liberal theories fail to connect with trade facts."

This process of reasoning is, to say the least of it, somewhat precipitate. From sources that are readily accessible, the Gazette could have learned that under the preferential tariff the exports of British produce to Canada are steadily growing. Cottons, woollens, linens, worsteds, carpets, haberdashery, chinaware and tin plates, are great staple British manufactures. If we are buying these in increased quantities, we are doing Great Britain a great service, and one for which the people of the mother country will not be ungrateful. If the Fielding tariff has made possible larger transactions in these lines, it has done what it set out to do, and though our imports from the United States, or from any other country, were ten times what they are, the value of the service to the Empire would not be lessened. To learn whether the Fielding tariff confirms to this test it will suffice to examine a few items of the British trade returns for the month of July, 1898, the first month in which the full preference of 25 per cent. was in operation :

In that month the total exports of cottons of all kinds was £4,861,852. In July last year the total was £4,089,452, so that the gain this year was about six per cent. How was it with Canadian trade? The total exports to this country in July, 1897, of bleached, printed, dyed and mixed cotton piece goods, were valued at £80,454. In July, 1898, the total in these lines was £109,411, or a clear gain of eighty per cent. The division was as follows :

	1897.	1898.
Bleached	£ 2,351	£ 4,743
Printed	5,539	12,459
Dyed	30,257	37,188
Mixed	30,261	55,001
Total	£80,454	£109,411

This certainly gives some indication that there are forces at work which give the British manufacturer an advantage in Canada relatively greater than in the world at large. If we now examine the linen schedule, we shall find that in the total exports there was a marked falling off, the total in July, 1897, being £316,595, and in July, 1898, only £250,795, a loss of twenty per cent. In the Canadian trade there is the contrary experience, for while the exports of linen goods to Canada in July, 1897, were for £11,912, in July, 1898, there were for £19,166, a clear gain of sixty per cent. Evidently something in the Canadian market conditions has had a beneficial effect upon the British linen industry.

Coming next to woollen tissues, the total trade is found to have experienced a shrinkage from £905,507 to £563,171, or about seven per cent. The shipments to Canada, on the other hand, advanced from £32,929 to £35,605, or fully sixty-five per cent. The item of worsteds, we imagine, will be admitted to be one of importance to England. Certain sections of the North depend upon it altogether. In worsteds the the total export in July, 1897, was to the value of £812,390; in July, 1898, only £612,886, a drop of twenty per cent. In the Canadian business there was another happy exception to the prevailing experience, the value rising from £70,562 in July, 1897, to £89,187 in July, 1898, another gain of more than twenty per cent. In carpets, the total exports dropped from £59,761 to £58,163. The Canadian business increased from £8,630 to £11,226, a gain of thirty per cent.

To recapitulate, the total exports in these items were markedly lower last month than in July, 1897, thus :

	July, 1897.	July, 1898.
Linens	£316,595	£250,795
Woollens	£35,675	£53,171
Worsteds	812,390	612,886
Carpets	59,761	58,163
Total	£1,793,721	£1,435,015
Shortage in July, 1898		£358,806 ;

while the Canadian exports stood thus :

	July, 1897	July, 1898.
Linens	£11,912	£19,166
Woollens	35,930	55,605
Worsteds	70,762	89,187
Carpets	8,630	11,226
Total	£124,033	£175,184
Gain in July, 1898, £51,151.

A few other exports to Canada will bear tabulating, as the tendency is the same :

	July, 1897.	July, 1898.
Haberdashery and Millinery	£10,320	£17,170
Chinaware	12,047	18,491
Galvanised sheets	6,063	8,294
Tin plates	5,289	12,123
Tin	345	1,653
Alkali	3,269	3,577
Total	£37,073	£59,303
Gain in July, 1898, £21,230.

Of course the mere fact that there have been these increases does not of itself prove to a demonstration that the Fielding tariff is to be credited with the improvement. Something is undoubtedly due to the bountiful crops and good prices of the last year. To ascertain whether the tariff regulations and more particularly the preferential clause had any determining influence it would be necessary to institute comparisons between the exports to Canada and those to the United States. Both countries have shared in the bounties of Providence, and both last year made great additions to their export trade. But as to return trade the fact is that while in the month of July, 1898, great advances were made on the Canadian side, as shown in the foregoing tables, with the United States the case was just the reverse. If the Fielding tariff promoted the sale of British manufactures, the Dingley tariff decidedly hindered that sale. Details of this decrease in British imports to the United States may be given at another time, but for the present, after what we have just seen of the great increase in business with Canada, it is enough to notice that whereas in July, 1897, the British exports to the United States totalled £1,510,000, in July, 1898, they were only £809,000.

We would be glad to know whether, after a fair examination of such returns as these, the Gazette is still ready to believe that the Fielding tariff is no good to Great Britain.—Montreal Herald.

ROCKLIFFE RANGES READY.

Advertisements for Tenders for a Fast Atlantic Service to Be Issued.

Ottawa, Aug. 29.—Rockliffe ranges had finishing touches Saturday, and are now ready for the D.R.A. matches. There are 850 entries—a little less than last year.

A quiet but determined effort is being made by leading business men of the city to have the sitting of the Quebec International Conference removed to Ottawa. Every inducement possible is being offered.

A couple of weeks ago Harry O'Brien not only engaged several men to work on the different branches of the C.P.R. in the Northwest, but was also united in matrimony to Miss M. Kilday, head waitress at the Brunswick. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left town a few days later, not announcing their destination. It is now said that he is wanted in Smith's Falls for fraud and also that a charge of bigamy is to be laid against him.

Advertisements inviting tenders for the fast Atlantic service will be issued next week. They will ask for bids for a 20-knot service. It is understood that the Government will adhere to its plan of asking for fast vessels of turret type.

ENGLAND COALING FOR WAR.

Immense Contract Secured by a Virginia Company

Norfolk, Va., Aug. 29.—There have been shipped from Norfolk, in British bottoms, 17 cargoes of Pocahontas coal, aggregating 70,128 tons. They have gone to 11 different coaling stations belonging to England, and it has been believed that England was stocking stations in the event of possible war. The Pocahontas Coal Company has practically admitted that an unlimited contract from the British Government for coaling stations all over the world has been secured, and the work has just fairly commenced.

WHEAT FOR SEVEN DAYS.

A Decline for Every Day at Liverpool, But Canadian Has Kept Dull and Steady—The Prices.

Saturday Evening, Aug. 27.

The speculative wheat markets during the past week have been nervous and inclined to see-saw. The tendency on the Chicago Board has been towards the firming-up of near-by deliveries and the easing-off of later options. With the approach of the end of the month the August delivery has risen 2c per bush. above the price of a week ago, and September consequent. The reason for this is the depletion of old stocks, and the as yet comparatively light receipts from farmers. In view of this year's very large crops, however, most authorities agree in predicting a low range of prices for the season. The action of the Liverpool market, at any rate, would seem to point to lower quotations. Since last Saturday, on that board, cash wheat has declined 3d to 7d per cental, and the September option has fallen off 3½d. The English and French crops are regarded as big, and Russia, damage reports to the contrary notwithstanding, is likely to give a good account of herself.

As regards Ontario wheat it stands at 66c per bush. or 20c lower than a year ago, while new Manitoba hard is quoted at 87c afloat at Fort William. Ontario wheat is regarded as the best in quality for many years. The berry is large, plump and firm, and it is said that in many instances white wheat that weighs 62 pounds to the bush. and red wheat that weighs 64 pounds to the bush. are being found. The quantity and quality of the yield should help to make up for the deficiency in prices.

Vice-President Joseph Price Tells Some Pleasant Things About the Old Road—The Rate War.

Montreal, Aug. 29.—Mr. Joseph Price, ex-general manager of the Great Western, and now vice-president of the Grand Trunk Railway, arrived here yesterday, after a two weeks' inspection of the line. He says that the tracks and roadbed are so good that a train can be run as fast as a wheel can turn. Mr. Hays' management has, he adds, been a great success. The Vice-President says Mr. Hays has not only paid the deficit of $300,000 created to prevent the debenture stocks from going by default, but in addition to this the earnings have been sufficient during the past half year, which is the lean one, to raise $106,000 to pay the half year's dividend on the guarantee in full. He says Mr. McGuigan is a host in himself and that the divisional superintendents, Herbert, Tiffin, Fitzhugh and Cotter, are most able officials. In fact Mr. Price says he is proud of the staff. The vice-president also adds that the 26 elegant passenger coaches and the 22 powerful locomotives added to the rolling stock during the last half year have all been charged to reserve account. These engines, he says, have a capacity of hauling 40 cars with 12,000 tons of freight. The annual meeting will be held in London on the 13th of Oct., and Mr. Price says that Sir Rivers-Wilson, who sails from New York on Saturday next, will have a very pleasant message to impart to the shareholders.

The Vice-President referred to the rate war as follows: The passenger receipts are greater than last year, notwithstanding the unfortunate rate war, which, I believe, will soon be over. We are doing a good many things which I cannot tell you just now, but as I said just now, I hope the war will soon come to an end.

RELAPSE OF THE POPE.

Friends of His Holiness Summoned to the Vatican—The Aged Prelate Faints Twice.

Rome, Aug. 29.—The greatest anxiety has been caused by a sudden relapse of the Pope. Saturday His Holiness fainted twice and it was necessary to remove him to his bed.

It is suggested that the relapse was occasioned by His Holiness' great desire to bear down his illness and to appear well. In this he overtaxed himself.

There was the greatest uneasiness at the Vatican and the Pope's physician admitted that His Holiness was far weaker than he had ever known him to be before.

Summonses were issued by Cardinal Rampolla, calling all the Cardinals in Rome to the Vatican, and also calling all the personal friends of the Pope who were within reach of the telegraph in Italy.

The impression in the city is that the last illness is upon His Holiness and that he will not be able to get up from his bed again.

However, Dr. Lapponi, the Pope's personal physician, says there is still hope for His Holiness, and further states that much that is given out is given a sensational coloring which is not warranted.

Kidney-Bladder Troubles.

There is no more serious menace to good health in the present age than kidney disorders, and its an appalling fact, but a true one, that four-fifths of the country's people have the taint of this insidious disease with them. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all kidney disease.

The English Flag.

England's national flag has been called "a triplet of crosses," for it is composed of the cross of St. George, the cross of St. Andrew and the cross of St. Patrick. Thus: The flag of "St. George for merrie England," a red cross on a white ground, the red lines drawn straight from top to bottom and from side to side; the flag of St. Andrew for Scotland, a white cross on a blue ground; the flag of St. Patrick for Ireland, a red cross on a white ground, the narrow red lines drawn from corner to corner. By placing the cross of St. George on that of St. Andrew we have "the Jack," as ordered in 1606 by James I, whose signature was always "Jacques;" hence the expression, "the Jack." By laying the cross of St. Patrick over that of St. Andrew and then placing that of St. George over both, we have "the union jack," as borne since the union with Ireland in 1800.—Boston Transcript.

True Courtesy.

General Robert E. Lee was in the cars going to Richmond one day and was seated at the end farthest from the door. The other seats were filled with officers and soldiers. An old woman, poorly dressed, entered at one of the stations, and finding no seat, and having none offered to her, approached the end where the general was seated. He immediately rose and gave her his seat.

Instantly there was a general rising, each one offering his seat to the general. But he calmly said:

"No, gentlemen, if there was no seat for the infirm old woman, there can be none for me."

The effect was remarked. One after another got out of the car. The seats seemed to be too hot for them, and the general and the old lady soon had the car to themselves.

VALUABLE WASTE.

The Refuse of Photograph Galleries Turned to Good Account.

"Refiners of nitrate of silver for the use of photographers," said a man engaged in this line of business in New York to a reporter recently, "have agents traveling constantly all over the United States collecting the waste clippings of sensitized paper that accumulate in every photographic gallery. They buy all they can find and pay for it in new nitrate, allowing the photographers a good round price for his waste.

"The waste is shipped to the refiners, where the nitrate in the paper is separated from it by chemical processes and prepared for market again. This re-refined nitrate is as good as it was originally and is sold for just as much. The refiners of course make a big profit out of the waste, and the photographer is able to get a good supply of material for the old scraps that would otherwise be of no use to him.

"When one thinks of the great number of photograph galleries and studios in this country and the fact that the waste paper of them all is closely gathered by the refiners at a price that will average $1 a pound, he may get some idea of the proportion of a business that is utterly unknown outside the persons directly interested in the trade. Not only the scraps of silver sensitized papers, but those of the paper treated with a solution of gold, are eagerly sought by the refiners, and the photographer is always very willing to exchange his accumulation of, to him, worthless waste for a new stock of valuable nitrate."—Washington Star.

An Age of Largeness.

Nothing is more characteristic of the age than the large units of its enterprise, says Seth Low in The Atlantic. A single building today will hold as many tenants as a block of buildings in the beginning of the century, a single bridge of our time will cost as much as 20 bridges of the earlier day, and so one might go through the entire catalogue of private and public undertakings. But size often makes simple things difficult. Any one building a house in the country, when he has dug a well, has solved the problem of his water supply, but to supply water for a great city calls for the outlay of millions of dollars and for the employment of the best engineering talent in the land. Yet nothing has happened except that the problem has been magnified. Thus the difficulties created by the multiplication table are very real, so that the very enlargement of opportunity that democracy has brought with it has faced democracy with problems far harder than were formerly presented to any government.

The Nice Young Man.

It is quite useless for either man or woman to expect perfection. The man who will not marry until he gets this must necessarily remain unmarried. He is a sour grape, hanging by a twig of obstinacy on a wall of great expectations, and the only thing to be said in his favor is that he has missed the opportunity of making some woman miserable. A young man once said to a friend: "I am not going to give myself away when I marry. The fortunate girl who gets me must have three qualifications." "What are these?" "She must be handsome, rich and a fool." "Why all that?" "Well, she must be handsome and rich, or else I won't have her. She must be a fool, or else she won't have me."—Chambers' Journal.

Margaret Fuller's Good Shot.

Mrs. Horace Greeley had a strong antipathy to kid gloves and never wore them on any occasion. One day, it is said, she met Margaret Fuller on the street and instead of greeting her with any usual salutation she touched Margaret's hand with a shudder, exclaiming: "Skin of a beast! Skin of a beast!"

"Why, what do you mean" asked Margaret in surprise. "What do you wear?"

"Silk," returned Mrs. Greeley, "silk always."

Margaret touched her hand and shuddered, saying: "Entrails of a worm! Entrails of a worm!"—Exchange.

Cremation In Norway.

Norway has a law dealing with cremation. According to the act, every person over 15 years of age can be cremated after death if he or she has made a declaration in the presence of two witnesses. For those under 15 a declaration on the part of the parents is necessary. The police, the medical registrar and the doctors in attendance on the deceased have also to furnish written testimony as to the cause of death before a body can be incinerated.

Mrs. Alexander Setter, of Pigeon Bluff, Man., writes an account of her case as follows: "I have great pleasure in giving my experience of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. Lately I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and bought two boxes. Before I started using them I could not do my house work and gave myself up to die, as I thought I would never be cured. Summonses were issued by Cardinal Rampolla, calling all the Cardinals in Rome to the Vatican, and also calling all the personal friends of the Pope who were within reach of the telegraph in Italy.

The impression in the city is that the last illness is upon His Holiness and that he will not be able to get up from his bed again.

However, Dr. Lapponi, the Pope's personal physician, says there is still hope for His Holiness, and further states that much that is given out is given a sensational coloring which is not warranted.

Kidney-Bladder Troubles.

There is no more serious menace to good health in the present age than kidney disorders, and its an appalling fact, but a true one, that four-fifths of the country's people have the taint of this insidious disease with them. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills cure all kidney disease.

The English Flag.

England's national flag has been called "a triplet of crosses," for it is composed of the cross of St. George, the cross of St. Andrew and the cross of St. Patrick. Thus: The flag of "St. George for merrie England," a red cross on a white ground, the red lines drawn straight from top to bottom and from side to side; the flag of St. Andrew for Scotland, a white cross on a blue ground; the flag of St. Patrick for Ireland, a red cross on a white ground, the narrow red lines drawn from corner to corner. By placing the cross of St. George on that of St. Andrew we have "the Jack," as ordered in 1606 by James I, whose signature was always "Jacques;" hence the expression, "the Jack." By laying the cross of St. Patrick over that of St. Andrew and then placing that of St. George over both, we have "the union jack," as borne since the union with Ireland in 1800.—Boston Transcript.

True Courtesy.

General Robert E. Lee was in the cars going to Richmond one day and was seated at the end farthest from the door. The other seats were filled with officers and soldiers. An old woman, poorly dressed, entered at one of the stations, and finding no seat, and having none offered to her, approached the end where the general was seated. He immediately rose and gave her his seat.

Instantly there was a general rising, each one offering his seat to the general. But he calmly said:

"No, gentlemen, if there was no seat for the infirm old woman, there can be none for me."

The effect was remarked. One after another got out of the car. The seats seemed to be too hot for them, and the general and the old lady soon had the car to themselves.

VALUABLE WASTE.

The Refuse of Photograph Galleries Turned to Good Account.

"Refiners of nitrate of silver for the use of photographers," said a man engaged in this line of business in New York to a reporter recently, "have agents traveling constantly all over the United States collecting the waste clippings of sensitized paper that accumulate in every photographic gallery. They buy all they can find and pay for it in new nitrate, allowing the photographers a good round price for his waste.

"The waste is shipped to the refiners, where the nitrate in the paper is separated from it by chemical processes and prepared for market again. This re-refined nitrate is as good as it was originally and is sold for just as much. The refiners of course make a big profit out of the waste, and the photographer is able to get a good supply of material for the old scraps that would otherwise be of no use to him.

"When one thinks of the great number of photograph galleries and studios in this country and the fact that the waste paper of them all is closely gathered by the refiners at a price that will average $1 a pound, he may get some idea of the proportion of a business that is utterly unknown outside the persons directly interested in the trade. Not only the scraps of silver sensitized papers, but those of the paper treated with a solution of gold, are eagerly sought by the refiners, and the photographer is always very willing to exchange his accumulation of, to him, worthless waste for a new stock of valuable nitrate."—Washington Star.

An Age of Largeness.

Nothing is more characteristic of the age than the large units of its enterprise, says Seth Low in The Atlantic. A single building today will hold as many tenants as a block of buildings in the beginning of the century, a single bridge of our time will cost as much as 20 bridges of the earlier day, and so one might go through the entire catalogue of private and public undertakings. But size often makes simple things difficult. Any one building a house in the country, when he has dug a well, has solved the problem of his water supply, but to supply water for a great city calls for the outlay of millions of dollars and for the employment of the best engineering talent in the land. Yet nothing has happened except that the problem has been magnified. Thus the difficulties created by the multiplication table are very real, so that the very enlargement of opportunity that democracy has brought with it has faced democracy with problems far harder than were formerly presented to any government.

The Nice Young Man.

It is quite useless for either man or woman to expect perfection. The man who will not marry until he gets this must necessarily remain unmarried. He is a sour grape, hanging by a twig of obstinacy on a wall of great expectations, and the only thing to be said in his favor is that he has missed the opportunity of making some woman miserable. A young man once said to a friend: "I am not going to give myself away when I marry. The fortunate girl who gets me must have three qualifications." "What are these?" "She must be handsome, rich and a fool." "Why all that?" "Well, she must be handsome and rich, or else I won't have her. She must be a fool, or else she won't have me."—Chambers' Journal.

Margaret Fuller's Good Shot.

Mrs. Horace Greeley had a strong antipathy to kid gloves and never wore them on any occasion. One day, it is said, she met Margaret Fuller on the street and instead of greeting her with any usual salutation she touched Margaret's hand with a shudder, exclaiming: "Skin of a beast! Skin of a beast!"

"Why, what do you mean" asked Margaret in surprise. "What do you wear?"

"Silk," returned Mrs. Greeley, "silk always."

Margaret touched her hand and shuddered, saying: "Entrails of a worm! Entrails of a worm!"—Exchange.

Cremation In Norway.

Norway has a law dealing with cremation. According to the act, every person over 15 years of age can be cremated after death if he or she has made a declaration in the presence of two witnesses. For those under 15 a declaration on the part of the parents is necessary. The police, the medical registrar and the doctors in attendance on the deceased have also to furnish written testimony as to the cause of death before a body can be incinerated.

WEAK, NERVOUS WOMEN

Suffering from palpitation of the heart, dizzy or faint spells, watery blood, etc., can be readily cured.

A Manitoba Lady Tells About Her Case.

There is no need whatever for so many women to be the subject of faint spells, heart and nerve weakness, anaemia, or any of those health destroying ailments peculiar to her sex. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills regulate the heart beat and make it strong and full, tone the nerves, enrich the blood, and relieve the pain and weakness from which so many women suffer.

Mrs. Alexander Setter, of Pigeon Bluff, Man., writes an account of her case as follows: "I have great pleasure in giving my experience of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. For about ten years I was troubled with throbbing and fluttering of the heart. I tried five doctors and several remedies but none of them did me much good. Lately I heard of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and bought two boxes. Before I started using them I could not do my house work and gave myself up to die, as I thought I would never be cured. Now I feel really splendid since taking the pills, do my work, enjoy my meals and feel as if there was something in life worth living for."

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills cure palpitation, throbbing, skip beats, dizzy and faint spells, nervousness, sleeplessness, weakness, after effects of grippe, female troubles, etc. Sold by druggists or sent by mail on receipt of price, 50c. a box or three boxes for $1.25. STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.

Farm Buildings Belonging to Mr. Aaron Cox Totally Destroyed by Fire.

This morning, at about five o'clock, a large barn, stable and sheds on Mr. Aaron Cox's farm, Mud Lake road, were struck by lightning and completely destroyed.

The farm was being operated on shares by Mr. Daniel Carr and Mr. Cox. Mr. Carr resided on the premises.

The loss will be about $600 on the barn and there was about forty tons of hay consumed. There was no insurance on either barns or contents. The total loss of barn, stable, sheds and contents will be about $1,500.

Though the excavation for the lock chamber is not yet down to the full depth the end is in sight. The bottom is composed of a stiff blue clay. At the site of the lift lock better progress is now being made. Two shifts of men are employed, and work is now being carried on all night. A difficulty is being experienced, however, in disposing of the earth as fast as it is excavated by the steam shovel.

LINING UP FOR SCHOOL.

Preparations at the Peterborough Bookstore for Supplying the Scholars with their New Books, etc.

Getting the young folks ready to resume their studies at school on Thursday will be the feature of this week at the Peterborough Bookstore. As surely as the needle points to the pole, just as surely will economy and self-interest direct prudent parents to this busy big store.

Attention is called to the conspicuous advertisement of A. H. Stratton & Co. on another page, a perusal of which will enable one to form a good idea of the extensive preparations made at the Peterborough Bookstore for the rush for school supplies during the next few days. It is important to bear in mind that the stock will be found inexhaustible for all possible demands, and that scholars will not be subjected to any errors or inconveniences if they have their school wants filled here. Being thoroughly acquainted with what every scholar requires we can help them in deciding what is best to get and what their teachers are most likely to approve. All the authorized school books for every form now ready to pass out to the scholars. Everything that is special and "biggest" in scribblers, exercise books school bags, slates, copy books, drawing books, pencils, etc.

One of the treats we have in store for the boys and girls who come to the Peterborough Bookstore for their school supplies is an interesting and attractive variety of presents to be given away free. A present goes with every purchase—and among the gifts are dolls, mirrors, finger rings, watches, flag pins, whistles, mugs, fancy cups and saucers, pitchers, balls, etc. Come now, boys and girls, get your orders in early. Don't all wait until the last day. Might as well make a start to-day and save the crush and crowds later on.

Mr. Philip Elmhirst, of Otonabee Receives a Letter from His Son.

Philip Elmhirst, sr., of Otonabee, has received a letter from his son, Fred, dated Fort Macpherson, August 23rd, which states that he is alive and well except for an attack of malarial fever. He expected to go north with his regiment in a few days to Portsmouth or Richmond and did not know whether he would return to Canada or serve three years. He spoke of no charge against him and the Elmhirst who is accused of being a spy must therefore be some one else bearing the same name.

BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS.

A Lawn and its Decorations Which are Well Worth Seeing.

The grounds around the Nicholls Hospital never looked more attractive than during the present month, and Mr. Jas. Head is indeed to be congratulated on the result of his labour and unremitting attention to the lawn and flowers.

One bed in particular attracts general attention. It is rendered almost tropical in appearance by the luxuriant foliage of the plants selected for its adornment. In the centre stands a giant uca palm surrounded by dark foliaged cannas, which are in turn encircled by several rows of abutilans. The next circle is composed of light foliaged flowering cannas, and then come several rows of the monstrous leaved caladiums, which are Mr. Head's special pride. The bed is set off by a pretty border of salisifer and it is doubtful if there is such another combination of colours giving an equal effect in the entire Province.

Both verandahs have been converted into floral bowers by a plenitude of creepers and the big tubs of flowers and the hanging baskets are also looking grand. The lawn was never in better shape and is strongly reminiscent of the soft velvety English turf.

ASHBURNHAM BREVITIES.

A fine programme of sports, baseball, football, etc., will be carried out at Jubilee. The writing prizes will also be presented by Mr. Calcutt. Everybody will be welcome.

A special meeting of the school board is called for Wednesday evening next to make final arrangements for the re-opening on Thursday. Assistants have yet to be secured for the Kindergarten, and several other matters have to be attended to.

OBITUARY.

Demise of Margaret Jane Stewart After an Illness of Seven Weeks.

The death occurred in the Nicholls Hospital on Saturday evening, at six o'clock, of Margaret Jane Stewart, aged 31 years, daughter of the late John Stewart, of 407 Wolfe street.

Death was occasioned by a virulent attack of typhoid fever lasting over a period of seven weeks. Complications setting in recently hastened the end. The mother of the deceased is still living at the family residence. Her brothers and sisters are John James Stewart, of Otonabee; William E., of Smithtown; Joseph and Samuel, of Peterborough, and Mrs. Wm. Irwin, of Buckhorn.

The funeral took place this afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the Nicholls Hospital, Rev. Mr. Symonds conducting the service.

OBSEQUIES OF MISS YOUNG.

Interment Took Place this Afternoon in the Roman Catholic Cemetery.

The funeral of the late Miss Maggie Young, who died Saturday, at Young's Point, passed through town this afternoon, interment being in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The pallbearers were Messrs. Francis W. Young, Francis Gerald Young, Robert Young, Harry Kearney, Lawrence Fanning and James Fanning, jr.

The funeral ceremony was conducted by Rev. Father Fitzpatrick.

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

GREAT IRISH JUMPER.

Speaking of broad jumpers, Town Topics says: "A new world beater has appeared within the past few weeks who has made Prinstein's performance insignificant. W. J. M. Newburn, of Dublin University, Ireland, has twice raised the record made by Prinstein. Early in July Newburn cleared 24 feet ½ inch. On July 18, at the Mullingar sports, he raised his record to 24 feet 6½ inches. According to the best reports, this remarkable jump was made from rather poor ground and through a slight cross wind. It was carefully measured and accepted by the judges, one of whom was the honorary secretary of the Irish A. A. Newburn's form is described as very interesting. He rises to the unusual height of four feet or more in his spring from the take off. He turns his body sidewise after getting away from the take-off, and does not shoot out his feet until almost on the ground. Newburn has cleared over 24 feet more than a dozen times this season, and, altogether, is a phenomenal athlete.

Dr. Russell's Corn Cure is a perfectly permanent and painless corn remover. Price 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

BRAVERY RECOGNIZED.

ACTOR WILKES STEWARD PRESENTED WITH A MEDAL.

Royal Humane Society's Action—Benefit Concert at the Pavilion, Toronto—Civic Grant of $100.

About a thousand people attended the benefit concert tendered Mr. Wilkes Steward at the Toronto Pavilion on Friday night. Mr. Steward is the actor who, about a month ago, jumped from a ferry-boat at Hanlan's Point, and saved the life of Miss Marion Robinson, who had been canoeing with her sister, and whose frail craft was upset by the swell of a steamer. The sister, unfortunately, was drowned. Mr. Steward's heroism has been recognized by the Royal Humane Society, and Mayor Shaw on Friday night pinned the Society's jubilee medal on Mr. Steward's breast amid the cheers of the audience. The rescued girl also appeared on the platform. She was dressed in deep mourning, and bore visible traces of the awakening of sad memories which the event recalled. She was, of course, utterly unable to speak, and Ald. Score spoke for her.

The concert which preceded the presentation opened with a medley of popular and national airs by the excellent band of the 48th Highlanders, under the leadership of Mr. John Slatter. Mrs. D. Louis Gordon, Toronto's talented dramatic soprano, then sang Birchoff's "Bob-o-link," and in response to a vigorous encore gave Danza's "May Morning." Alma Lamont, a graceful and skilful Highland dancer, followed, and in turn gave way to Mr. Thomas J. Grady, the comedian of the Cummings Stock Company, who appeared by kind permission of Mr. R. Cummings. Mrs. Nicholas gave a mandolin solo, being obliged to respond to a recall. Mrs. Florence Glover-Woodland's well-trained soprano voice was heard to good effect in Arditi's "In Chapters." Her admirers presented her with a bouquet, and in response to a persistent encore she sang Gounod's "When to Thy Vision," her rich voice being heard to even greater advantage in this than in her first number. Mr. George R. Joseph then demonstrated his versatility as a mimic of national musical characteristics, introducing several novel instruments. The programme closed with a mandolin and guitar trio, by Wilson Brothers, which was encored. Mr. Ernest R. Bowles made a capital accompanist.

Ald. Hanlan, who presided, then requested the following gentlemen to step upon the platform:—Mr. Adam Brown, President of the Royal Humane Society of Canada; Mayor Shaw, Ald. Score, Ald. Leslie, Ald. Woods, Ven. Archdeacon Pearce, H. P. Dwight, chairman of the Board of Investigating Governors; J. J. Kelso, Superintendent of the Neglected Children's Department of Ontario; A. Fraser and S. G. Wood. Mr. Brown spoke on "The Society and its Objects." After a review of the history of the society, he said:—"The medal that is to be pinned on the breast of the hero, Steward, to-night by his Worship the Mayor is a medal that is a peculiar honour. It is not a bronze medal, nor is it a gold medal, which is awarded annually or the most conspicuous exhibitions of bravery of that year, but it a is medal that was presented to the association by one of its best friends, Lady Grant, of Ottawa, in honour of the Jubilee of our beloved Queen. That medal has not been awarded up till now, because, in the opinion of the Investigating Governors, there was no case so far which reached the point above that calling for the bronze medal until this one transpired. So that this medal has a distinct feature about it, that it is associated with the Jubilee of a Queen who lives in the hearts of her people, and who to day is the noblest woman and the purest monarch on earth. (Applause.) There will never be another such medal, and Mr. Steward will pass through life with that honour, and through life he will need no higher testimonial. (Cheers.)

Continuing, Mr. Brown referred to the public apathy in regard to the recognition of bravery, and said the demonstration showed that Toronto's heart was in the right place. He urged that the youth of the land should be taught in school to prize and emulate deeds of heroism. He referred to the medal of the society as the civilian Victoria Cross, and in conclusion wished Mr. Steward all success in his future welfare.

Mrs. S. G. Wood, of the local branch of the society, reviewed many historical deeds of daring, referred to Mr. Steward's action as the natural bravery of an Englishman and Canadian, and asked the public to visit the society's tent at the Industrial Fair. Mayor Shaw, after referring to the brave deeds done in the late war between Spain and the United States, and quoting two verses of a hymn, went on to speak of the various sources of danger to life and limb incident to street travel in Toronto. But by far the greatest source of danger lay in the facilities for boating and bathing. He recounted the circumstances of the affair which led up to the meeting and intimated that the council had, in addition to the money which will be subscribed, ordered that $100 be paid to Mr. Steward, and he believed that the people of Toronto would heartily approve of the council's action, as they most assuredly admire his courageous act.

Mr. Steward then stepped forward and while the audience stood up and cheered wildly, the Mayor pinned the medal on the young man's breast. He spoke briefly, without referring once to his own brave act, contenting himself with thanking the City Council, the Mayor, Ald. Hanlan, Mr. Robt. Newman, Hunter, Rose & Company, Mr. Charles Cameron, his friends of the 48th Highlanders and others for kindness shown, and those who gave him their services for the concert. Miss Robinson, pale and sad, was then escorted from the wings to a chair on the platform and Ald. Score, on her behalf, publicly thanked her rescuer. The meeting then closed with the national anthem.

Mr. Steward's mother and two sisters were in the gallery.

AN OTTAWA LETTER.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A careful comparison of the relative tone characterizing both the news and editorial columns of representative party papers would prove of considerable interest not only to the political student, but to the average reader. Take for example last Saturday's issue of the two leading Toronto dailies, and the spirit actuating the two great political parties will be found very evident therein.

LOOK ON THIS PICTURE:

In the Globe appears an account of the visit of prominent British capitalists to Ottawa for the purpose of examining the opportunities for the investment of English capital in the oil fields that are believed to exist in Alberta and other parts of the Northwest; there is also a lengthy article quoting from numerous British papers showing how very prominently Canada, her opportunities and resources, are occupying the attention of all classes throughout the Empire; there is an article setting forth the vast possibilities of the Quebec conference and the great importance that is being attached to the meeting in the Old Country; the usual weekly article on the condition of trade shows how the indications of development and widespread prosperity continue; a descriptive article of the Queen's Birthday festivities at Dawson City demonstrates how contentment and prosperity reign in that far-off land; an article on the Sault St. Marie trade shows progress in that quarter of the Dominion; editorials dealing with the wheat crops and other agricultural industries of the West repeat the story of advancement there; mining notices from the Kootenay and other portions of British Columbia and from the mining sections of Ontario, all sound the same key note of increased activity; and so on through almost every column runs the same optimistic story of belief in our common heritage and evidence of our splendid present and magnificent future.

AND ON THAT.

Turning to the recognized mouthpiece of the Conservative party, the Mail and Empire, the general tone of the articles both in the editorial and news columns is almost invariably in a minor key. The editorial on the Quebec Conference, for instance, is pessimistic to a degree, the Canadian Commissioners, one would almost believe, are going into the Conference pledged to betray their country, if only an opportunity will offer. Another editorial bemoans a supposed loss of trade that is alleged to be imminent in the West Indies. In the news column an attempt is made to revive dissension in the West by lugubrious reference to alleged secret changes in the school law. There is no reference in the news columns to the prospective development of the oil fields; no information of the vast progress Canada is making in the old country, no word of the continued prosperity in commercial and manufacturing centres, no word of commendation for the wise regulations that are assisting so greatly in the development of our mineral resources; and in fact Canadians who obtain their information on current events exclusively from papers of the Mail and Empire class, must be quite astonished if they happen to come in contact with the existing conditions through the columns of those papers that are willing to do everything in their power to help their country, even if such a course should somewhat conflict with their political seanings.

It is a peculiar kind of patriotism that persistently refuses to acknowledge the prosperity of one's country because some portion of the credit for such prosperity must be given to one's political opponents.

AN IMPORTANT MISSION.

The extended visit of Hon. Sydney Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture, and Professor Robertson, the commissioner, to the Old Country, will be fraught with tremendous gain to the agriculturists of the Dominion. The purpose of the trip, as concisely stated by Professor Robertson to a London newspaper is two-fold: "To come into immediate touch with the requirements and tastes of the consumers here of our butter and cheese, our beef and bacon, our bread stuffs, our poultry and our fruit, and to bring home to the populations of the home country the very simple but very important fact that we can supply them in these lines to an extent that they hardly dream of."

That Canada has all the resources to fully supply that great home market there has never been a doubt, but it is only now that the facilities are being provided. The forward movement in the Agricultural Department has developed with giant strides in the last two years, and to-day we are getting into a position not only to produce what is required but to place our goods in prime condition right before the consumer. The ultimate results of a liberal comprehensive policy in the development of our agricultural industries can scarcely be estimated. Not only will it benefit the farmer to-day by increasing his market and improving his opportunities but it will make for closer relationship between ourselves and the old land, and present the conditions here, to a large class of Britishers, the most desirable for settlers, in such practical form that the tide of immigration Canadian-wards cannot be very greatly augmented. No department of the Government deserves better of the people and if the present policy of development and progress is presisted in, none will show grander and more lasting results.

THE QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

The Quebec Conference, has opened and while but little has yet been done beyond preliminary organization, a world wide interest is centering upon the proceedings in the historic city. That there are tremendous difficulties to be overcome before complete success can crown the efforts of the Commissioners and realize the fullest hopes and desires of all who wish well to their respective countries is thoroughly realized on all hands, and it is unfortunate that there should be any qualification in the expressions of good will that have appeared in the press; an unbroken and united support should be given by all classes of Canadians to their representatives in the arduous task before them. The attitude which is revealed by such action as for instance placing Mr. Charlton in the list of American Commissioners, as the Mail and Empire did the other day is not calculated to produce the most desirable impression on the other side. However the Dominion may feel confidence, not only in the justice of its cause, but in the patriotism and ability of such representatives as Lord Herschell, Sir Wilfrid Laurier and their colleagues and to the unanimous note of encouragement and confidence shown by all the Imperial journals is a most hopeful omen of ultimate success. The proceedings are likely to be protracted, in fact the new year may find the Conference still in session, but if one-tenth of the work allotted to it is successfully and permanently accomplished, the convention will have proved one of the most momentous in the world's history.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

The announcement that the Australian Premiers have formulated a definite proposition with regard to a all British Pacific cable will be received with very great satisfaction and should prove a pronounced step forward towards the realisation of this much desired scheme. There can be no question that the progressive Imperialism of the Dominion Government has had very much to do with bringing this question into the range of practical politics.

PEOPLE GETTING OLD.

As age advances, vitality retreats. Old people find themselves tired, listless, dyspeptic and lacking in strength. They lose interest in the active affairs of life, and may either become chronic complainers, burdening their friends, or they may, by using Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills be made bright, cheery, happy and healthy, as witness the following interesting example. The words of those who have lived many years carry wisdom with them. Why not profit by them?

WISE WORDS.

Nothing does a right-thinking man more good than helping his neighbors, especially the sick and weary. In recommending Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and helping to bring them before the public, I feel that I am truly helping my neighbors. Both my wife and myself have used these Pills and derived great benefit from them. We are getting along in years, and like many others feel the need of a tonic and strengthening medicine. My blood was thin and impoverished, and my wife was miserable with general debility, brought on by dyspepsia. We used many kinds of medicine, but nothing did so much good as the Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

Yours very truly,
Signed, MR. & MRS. CLARK, Victoria St., Glencoe, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

CHINESE GORDON.

Gladstone's Hatred of the General and the Snub He Gave Him.

Gordon sent a message to Lord Granville that he would accept, would come to London for his instructions and start for Egypt the next day. He took the first train, arrived in London on the night of the 18th and saw Lord Granville. But he knew as well as anybody that Lord Granville's was not the deciding mind in these matters, and he wished to see Mr. Gladstone.

Now Mr. Gladstone, be it remembered, was committing his own fortunes and the fortunes of his government to General Gordon. On the success of his enterprise depended both. It was of almost equal moment, both to Mr. Gladstone and General Gordon, that they should exchange views, and that there should be a full understanding between them. Mr. Gladstone in answer to a message sent word that he was unable to see General Gordon that evening. Gordon, all impatience as he was to be off, waited 24 hours. But during all these four and twenty hours there was not one which the prime minister found himself able to give his envoy.

In plain words, he refused to see General Gordon, and Gordon left on the evening of the 19th, having had no interview with Mr. Gladstone and no communication from or with him except through a third person. The discourtesy to Gordon was something. But what of the policy? Did Mr. Gladstone mean to leave himself in a position to disavow Gordon? It is a hard supposition; but, in view of what followed, is it unjust? There is but one other—that his repugnance to meeting the man whose help he was not too proud to accept was unconquerable. We all know what followed.

If this story seems incredible, I can only say that I have it from Mr. Gladstone's own lips that he never saw Gordon.—"Mr. Gladstone," by George W. Smalley, in Harper's Magazine.

Grand Trunk Engineer Swears by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Geo. Cummings, for over twenty years engineer on Grand Trunk running between Toronto and Allandale, says:—"The constant duty with my work gave me excessive pains in my back, racking my kidneys. I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my fireman, Mr. Dave Conley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. I recommend them to all my friends.

A Military Trick.

One of our German-American citizens related the following incident of the German revolution of 1848:

"We were short of men and had a large number of prisoners to look after. That did not worry us as long as we were not moving, but one day we had to make a forced march. The country through which we were to pass was hostile, and extreme watchfulness was necessary. We had few enough men as it was, and we knew that those prisoners were ready to make a dead run at the first opening.

"Finally a young officer made a brilliant suggestion, and it was promptly carried out. We ripped the suspender buttons from the prisoners' trousers, took away their belts and knew we had them. Their hands were busy after that, and fast running was out of the question. We made the march safely, and I do not believe that even Yankee ingenuity could have invented a simpler solution."—New York Tribune.

LONG DISTANCE MAILS.

Time of Letters From New York to Faraway Destinations.

A letter sent from New York to Bangkok, Siam, travels overland to San Francisco and thence by water, reaching its destination in about 43 days, having been carried nearly 13,000 miles. A letter mailed here for Adelaide, Australia, also goes via San Francisco, travels 12,845 miles and is delivered usually within 35 days. New York mail destined for Calcutta goes by way of London, traveling 11,120 miles in 29 days, while mail sent from this city to Cape Town, goes 125 miles farther in two days' less time.

Mail communication between New York and Hongkong ordinarily consumes one month of time. The letters go by way of San Francisco and cover 10,500 miles of distance. To reach Melbourne, Australia, from this city a letter will travel 12,265 miles in about 32 days, and to reach Sydney a letter will travel 11,570 miles in 31 days. The mail route from New York to Yokohama, via San Francisco, is 7,348 miles long, and about 22 days are consumed in transit. To go to Honolulu from this city a letter travels 5,645 miles in 13 days.

Leaving New York on steamer days, mail matter is scheduled to reach Rome in about ten days, Madrid in ten days, London and Liverpool in eight days, Rotterdam in nine days, St. Petersburg in 11 days, Vienna in nine days, Paris in eight days, Berlin in nine days and Athens and Alexandria in 14 days. Communication with South American ports is much slower. It takes 24 days for a letter to go from New York to Rio Janeiro, which is only about 50 miles farther from this city than is Alexandria. Mail matter going from New York to Buenos Ayres, which is 8,045 miles distant, consumes 29 or 30 days. —New York Times.

VEGETABLE GEMS.

Bamboo Opals and Cocoanut Pearls Found In the Philippines, Though Rarely.

Among other queer things found in the Philippines are vegetable gems. There are not many of them, though. The bamboo is empty normally. One might cut open a jungle of the giant grass and find unaltered hollowness. But once in a million times or more accident brings to light in the bamboo stem a gem. Nature has molded into a lump a little of the flinty material which makes the outer stem so hard. The nodule usually presents the appearance of an opal, and several specimens are in the museums which reproduce the characteristic lines of that gem. These nodules are known as tabaceer. It is interesting to note that the first chemical and mineralogical examination of them was made by the James Smithson whose munificence established the first of the scientific bureaus of the American government.

In the condition in which the fruit is known in the United States the milk in the cocoanut is considered its only content. The really ripe nut, however, is filled with a white spongy mass, rich in the finest oil which the nut produces. This sponge is exposed to the hot sun for two or three days in a wooden trough until thoroughly pulped. The last of the oil is then extracted by squeezing the soft sponge in the hands. Very rarely this careful handling has developed the presence of small spheres which have much of the luster of the pearl. Eight or ten of these cocoanut pearls, all discovered in the Philippines, are treasured in European museums. They range from the size of a pinhead to that of a very small pea.—New York Sun.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standord.

What Is Business?

What is it to be businesslike? As the American world stands today it means very often to be shrewd and cunning. What is the business man? He is, in many men's minds, the wide awake fellow who has discovered a way of getting much more than he earns. What is business? As very often understood among us, it is the art of juggling money out of your neighbor's pocket into your own. There is a world in which to earn your bread by honest and continuous labor is not to be businesslike—is not even to be "in business." In that world to take advantage of opportunities to conceal what you may have learned and to trade upon your knowledge is business. Misleading even, if secrecy cannot otherwise be obtained; that is business. In short, in that world to be businesslike is to be unscrupulous. A lover of fine art may continue to hope that its devotees will not too rapidly become business men in that sense.—"A Field of Art" in Scribner's.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

MARKET FIRMS UP.

This Is Owing to the Persistent Assertions That Western Farmers Will Hold for a Raise—Prices.

Friday Evening, Aug. 26.

Strong cash markets, firm cables from Liverpool and Paris and persistent assertions that western farmers will hold their wheat for higher prices continued to strengthen the Chicago wheat market this morning, and this and next month's deliveries of wheat rose about 1c per bushel above yesterday's close. The market broke late on heavy selling by a big St. Louis dealer. At the close the September and December options were ¼c to ½c respectively below the previous final figures.

Liverpool markets firmed up to the extent of ¼d per cental to-day. Parisian markets were much stronger. Wheat advanced 10 to 65 centimes and flour 40 centimes to over 2 francs. The big gain was in this month's deliveries.

WHAT THE MATTER WAS.

Little Game of Two Choir Members Which the Minister Spoiled.

A minister's widow tells this:

"My husband," she said, "had brown eyes that turned deeply, darkly black when he was angry, and which danced with most miraculous merriment when he was amused. Naturally, in the course of a long life with him, I came to know the varying expression of those eyes pretty well. I used to watch his eyes when he was preaching to know how things were going with him and, incidentally, with the congregation. I remember once in the midst of a most earnest discourse to have seen him stop suddenly for the space of a minute, not more, his eyes growing strangely black, then brightening again with that irresistible twinkle, though the rest of his features remained quite grave throughout. As I said, it was only for a moment; then he resumed his sermon as before.

"'What was the matter?' I asked when church was out and we were on our way home.

"'Why, I came so near laughing out in church that there was no fun in it,' he said. 'Of course the choir is hidden from the congregation behind its protecting screen in the rear of the church, but it chances to be exactly in my line of vision as I stand on the rostrum. When I stopped in my sermon today, it was because I happened to glance choirward and saw our new soprano and new tenor having a quiet game of cards behind the screen. They must have felt my gaze upon them, for when they looked up and caught my eye those cards disappeared so suddenly and mysteriously I thought that in spite of everything I should burst out laughing."—Philadelphia Times.

HEARTBURN.

"In the Spring of 1897, I was attacked with Dyspepsia and Heartburn. So severe was the pain that I could not sleep or eat, and I was troubled with headache most all the time. I remained in that state for three months, and tried everything I could think of. At last one day I read in the paper about Burdock Blood Bitters, and thought I would try it. Great was my surprise on finishing the first bottle to find I could eat better, the headache left me, and before I had used the second bottle, I was completely cured. I cannot advise too strongly all sufferers from stomach troubles to try B.B.B." MRS. WM. GRATTAN, Indiantown, N.B.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L. C.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash.....	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for.....	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 26

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

The cold chills of fear run up and down the back of the bravest man when he looks down the barrel of a death-dealing Winchester in the hands of a man who means "shoot."

Every hour and every minute men face death in a more frequent and equally certain form—death in the guise of that deadliest enemy of mankind—consumption. Out of all the tens of thousands who yearly die from consumption 98 per cent. could be saved. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is an almost unfailing cure if taken in the earlier stages of the disease. It will cure consumption and all allied diseases, as bronchial, throat and nasal affections. It cures by going to first principles. A man's body starves a long time before consumption attacks him. The tissues of his lungs starve for lack of sufficient nourishment. They become inert and half dead and then are attacked by the baccilli of consumption. The "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the long-lost appetite; it strengthens the weak stomach and corrects the impaired digestion; it promotes the flow of digestive juices and facilitates the assimilation of the life-giving elements of the food into the blood. When the blood is pure and rich, old inert tissues are torn down, carried off and excreted, and new, healthy, muscular tissues replace them. It allays inflammation of the mucous membranes, soothes the cough, facilitates expectoration, and deepens the breathing, supplying the system with a much needed stock of oxygen. It drives out all impurities and disease germs. Medicine dealers sell it.

"I was first taken nearly two years ago with choking and aching in my throat," writes Mrs. D. Z. Moore, of Deming, Grant Co., N. Mexico. "I took everything I could think of and spent a great deal of money. Three doctors treated me. My throat ulcerated and I lost my voice. I could scarcely talk. The doctors called the trouble bronchial affection, and said the larynx was badly affected. I was almost dead with consumption. My neighbors thought I would not live a month. I began taking Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. From the first, I commenced to improve and now have as good health as ever. I owe my life to Dr. Pierce."

A STORY OF WATSON.

AN OCCASION WHEN THE OLD SEA DOG WANTED TO SWEAR.

Not Being a Profane Man, However, He Gave the Job Which Roused His Wrath to Fuller, the Bos'n's Mate, and Then Let Events Take Their Course.

John Crittenden Watson does not belong to the list of "cussing officers," yet as a man-o'-war skipper he never had a man of his ship's company aft for swearing. He was singularly indulgent of the hard swearers forward.

"Hard language helps a man along occasionally," he has been known to say to one of his deck officers upon overhearing a stream of maledictions from the lips of some old flat foot working at a stubborn job forward, "and it is better for the men to work off their wrath over fouled anchor chains in cuss words than to take it out of each other's hide."

Aboard one of the ships under Watson's command there was an old bos'n's mate named Fuller, who had the call throughout the whole navy as the champion profane man of the government's line of packets. Fuller never raised his voice when he swore. He would simply stand back and quietly regard the inanimate object of his wrath—a bent belaying pin perhaps or a slack ridge rope—and then he would open up in an ordinary conversational tone. But the utterances he gave vent to were sulphurous. It always took Fuller a good five minutes to work off what he considered the necessary number of remarks on such occasions, and it always seemed, when he was through, that he had quite exhausted the whole vocabulary of profanity. But this was a mistake. The very next time anything went wrong with a bit of Fuller's gear he would start in on a new line that would contain absolutely not a single repetition of any of his previous performances. It was always a source of wonder to Fuller's shipmates, even the old timers, where he picked up the new ones, all of which were of startling originality and force.

These shipmates related only one instance in which he found himself at a loss for words. He was with a landing party from his ship, marching on the outskirts of Chemulpo, Korea. He stubbed his toe on a loose bowlder in the road and fell on his face in the dust. He picked himself up and looked at the road. He opened his mouth to say something, but he had no words. He was dumb with wrath. Two or three times he attempted to begin, but it was no go. He was stuck for once, so he pulled out a pistol and deliberately fired it into the air five times. He had to express his feelings in some way.

When Fuller was serving aboard Watson's ship, he was in good shape, and his frequent quiet outbursts kept the forward part of the ship keyed up with wonder as to what was coming next. One morning at big gun drill Captain Watson himself was superintending the exercise. One of the wooden cartridges became jammed in the breech of the 6 inch rifle to which he was devoting most of his attention. He wouldn't permit any of the gunner's mates around him to attempt to loosen the cartridge, but essayed the job himself. He tugged at the jammed cartridge and broke his finger nails over it, and still it wouldn't come out. It was a pretty hot morning on deck, and the perspiration began to roll off his face in streams, but he persisted in trying to loosen the stuck cartridge. He looked as if he would like to say a heap were he a swearing man, but he wasn't a swearing man. When he had been working for five minutes over the jammed cartridge with no success, he looked pretty helpless and miserable. He gave one final tug, but the stuck cartridge remained in the gun's breech. The skipper gathered himself together, mopped his forehead and looked at the gun.

"Confound it all," he broke out, "where's Fuller? Send me Fuller, somebody."

Fuller was on hand directly. He wasn't a gunner's mate, and he had nothing to do with the guns, but Watson wanted Fuller to tackle the jammed cartridge all the same.

"Fuller," said Watson, "try and get that dummy out of that gun."

Fuller looked at the stuck cartridge, and Watson retreated to the starboard side of the quarter deck. Fuller made two or three claws at the wooden cartridge, but it wouldn't come out. A gunner's mate could have got it out in a jiffy, but Fuller wasn't in that line of the service. He tugged away, but it was no go. Watson stood regarding the horizon on the starboard side of the quarter deck. Fuller spat on his hands and made one more try. The dummy didn't move a tenth of an inch. Then Fuller mopped his forehead with his neckerchief, clapped his cap on the back of his head and opened up. It was great work, this performance of Fuller's, and no mistake. He eclipsed all of his former efforts. He stood with his hands on his sides, looking at the gun breech and saying things at it that no Morgan or Kidd or Teach or other heaven defying pirate could ever have equaled. The men stood around, just looking at Fuller in open mouthed amazement. They couldn't make out where he got them all. They were all in English, but the combinations were weird. The peroration was frightful, although delivered in the mildest tone imaginable.

When Fuller finished, he mopped his forehead with his neckerchief again and walked over to his commanding officer, who was looking over the starboard rail, apparently thinking deeply. Fuller saluted.

"It's stuck proper, sir," said Fuller. "I can't get it adrift."

"Well," said Watson, "I didn't think you could, Fuller, but I needed you. Thanks. You did very well. Go forward."—New York Sun.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

Beacon Fires In China.

In China such beacon fires as spread the alarm of the Spanish armada through England still call to war. Some years ago, the story goes, the emperor sat with a beautiful woman, looking toward the beacon hills. She would like to see those waiting piles lighted, and upon her insistence the thing was done. The greatest excitement prevailed throughout the provinces, and troops came hurrying in from all sides.

When the leaders learned that no danger menaced, that the fires were lighted to satisfy the whim of a woman, their wrath fell on their lost confidence, and with the actual call to arms the response was slow and unenthusiastic. It was a repetition of the old story in Webster's spelling book. "Wolf" had been cried too often.—Youth's Companion.

The Siberian Railway and Warfare.

It is my experience that nine out of every ten questions addressed me have reference to the changes which the completion of the great road would bring about in Russia's military capacity and efficiency. In summer, I believe, Russia could mobilize an army of 200,000 men within two weeks upon any given point of the frontier of China or Korea.—Stephen Bonsal in Harper's Magazine.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

Test the KIDNEYS

They are the Great Feeders of our Bodies

The Purity of the Blood is Dependent on their Cleansing Powers

There's a time to all, old and young, man or woman, when poor health brings trouble, anxiety, and burdens hard to stand up under, and one's efforts to rid himself or herself seem only to be baffled at every turn and we are prone to grow discouraged.

That is not the time to give up—but the time for action, the time to seek out the seat of the trouble, and act as your best judgment and the experience of others will help you, guarding against mistakes in the treatment adopted for your particular ailment.

MR. GEORGE BENNER,
WIARTON, ONTARIO, says:—

As a life saver to mankind, I hereby state what Dr. A. W. Chase's K.-L. Pills did for me. For nearly four years I was greatly troubled with Constipation and general weakness in the Kidneys, and in my perilous position was strongly advised to use Chase's Pills, and to-day I can safely and truthfully state that they have saved my life.

ORIGINAL TACTICS.

Unique Manual of Arms Prepared by "Extra Billy."

The most remarkable company of soldiers ever drilled in this country fought under "Extra Billy" Smith, twice governor of Virginia. He acquired the nickname through connection with the extensive mill contracts which he had before the war, his charge to the government of "extra work" on his star routes being so frequent and large as to keep the postoffice department in a state of constant ferment.

He was a grand old man of the rough, honest type of "Blue Jeans" Williams, Lincoln, Thurman, Jerry Rusk, Crawford and Jenkins. His education had been sadly neglected, but he owned brains to spare and horse sense enough for three ordinary governors. He drilled his men according to "'Extra Billy's' Tactics," an unpublished manual of arms.

A drill lesson: Colonel "Extra Billy"—Now, boys, git yo'selves in persition. Are yo' ready? Tote arms! Deliver arms! Rest yo' muskets! Tote arms! Ground yo' rifles! That's tol'ble good. Are you ready again? Well, here we go. Fix yo' stickers! (Fix bayonets.) Now charge 'em and stick 'em!

One day he led his men into a blind lane about a mile long, and arriving at the end could not see his way out except by tearing down fences and going through a wheatfield guarded by an angry farmer with a dangerous looking gun. The objective point was the opposite side of the field. After studying gravely the situation he gave the order, "Disband, boys, an meet me tomorrer mornin on the tother side of the field whar we aimed to git this evening."—Kansas City Journal.

An Ex-U.S. Consul's Tribute

To Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

There is scarcely any remedy anywhere that has received such heart felt praise from all over the land as Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Steadily year by year, for over forty years now it has grown in public favour solely on its merits, and is to-day without a peer for the cure of Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Summer Complaint, Cramps, Colic, Cholera, and all bowel troubles of children and adults.

The following letter from Mr. Edward Young, formerly Consul at Windsor, N. S., speaks for itself:

207 Maryland Avenue, N.E.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 3, 1898.

MESSRS. T. MILBURN & Co.,
Toronto.

Gentlemen,—Since my return to this city from Windsor, N.S., where I was U.S. consul for eleven years, I am unable to obtain from our druggist Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, which myself and family prize so much. I always kept it in the house when at Windsor ready to use when I had eaten anything that disagreed with me.

Please advise me where I can obtain it here, as I do not know of any medicine so useful as this.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) EDWARD YOUNG.

AMERICAN SAYINGS.

Some Phrases That Will Live as Long as the World Lasts.

"Don't swear; fight!" The phrase has the ring of sound metal.

The American army of invasion advancing upon Santiago de Cuba was preceded by a body of rough riders. Suddenly the Spaniards, who were lying in ambush, fired a deadly volley, and the startled rough riders replied with an outburst of curses. "Don't swear; fight!" called Colonel Wood. The phrase will live.

America is a big country. It is destined to become a great country, for there is manliness and vigor in the memorable phrases coined by celebrated Americans. It was Stephen Decatur who originated the toast, "Our country, right or wrong." Henry Clay said, "Sir, I would prefer to be right than to be president." The last words of Nathan Hale were, "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country." William Penn coined the phrase, "I prefer the honestly simple to the ingeniously wicked." And it was Henry Ward Beecher who uttered the words, "The mother's heart is the child's schoolroom."

When nations become artificially refined, the phrases which their great men coin are generally either cynical or flippant. Thus to Talleyrand is attributed the phrase, "Mistrust first impressions; they are always good." Voltaire declared that "ideas are like beards; children and women never have them." To which he added, "except when they are monstrosities." Antoine Rivarole said, "It is an immense advantage to have done nothing, but one should not abuse it." Samuel Rogers said: "When I was young I said good natured things, and nobody listened to me. Now that I am old I say ill natured things, and everybody listens to me." To Sydney Smith we are indebted for the following ungracious description of a fashionable woman: "Do not mind the caprices of fashionable women. They are as gross as poodles fed on milk and muffins."

Whether Colonel Wood uttered them or not the words, "Don't swear; fight!" will ring for long in the memories of many generations.—London Truth.

HE EXPECTS WAR.

Count Muravieff Says He Cannot Accept the Terms of Sir Claude Macdonald.

London, Aug. 29.—A special despatch from Shanghai says it is stated there that the Chinese Minister at St. Petersburg has reported to his Government that, in his opinion, the China question will precipitate a conflict between Great Britain and Russia. This state of affairs, he says, is owing to the British Ambassador presenting a note at St. Petersburg of such a peremptory nature, demanding freedom of enterprise in regions where Russian influence is supposed to predominate, that Count Muravieff cannot accept it. The Chinese Minister, indeed, expects that a conflict will certainly break out before the end of the year.

VIOLENT SCENES.

Sir Claude Macdonald and M. Pavloff Have Hot Words.

London, Aug. 29.—A special despatch from Shanghai says: "Violent scenes are reported to have occurred between Sir Claude Macdonald, the British Minister, and M. Pavloff, the Russian Charge d'Affaires, owing to the latter's commanding the Tsung Li Yamen to break its agreement with the Hong Kong Bank under pain of the Czar's strong displeasure. The Chinese are inclined to obey M. Pavloff, seeing that the British confine themselves to verbal protests.

"The position is now worse than ever. The Russian ships have returned to Port Arthur, while the British vessels are assembling at Wei Hai Wei and Chefoo. Extreme activity prevails ashore at Port Arthur.

"The action of the Russians at New Chwang indicates an intention on their part to remain there in strong force whether they build the Tien Tsin Railway or not."

Foreign Office Admits It.

London, Aug. 29.—The officials at the Foreign Office admit that there is considerable truth in the despatch from Pekin to the Daily Mail asserting that the relations between the Tsung Li Yamen and Sir Claude Macdonald, the British Minister to China, are strained to the point of rupture and that Sir Claude has intimated that Great Britain will regard as a casus belli any failure on the part of China to observe her wishes.

They say that the situation between Great Britain and China is acute, Sir Claude Macdonald strenuously insisting that China shall observe her engagements to the British syndicates, and demanding satisfactory explanations with regard to the Pekin-Hankow Railway. If necessary, the British squadron now assembled at Wei Hai Wei will support the British Minister's demands.

Young Swells Off Fighting.

London, Aug. 29.—Gen. Kitchener's force, operating on the Nile, contains an unusual number of sons and nephews of distinguished men. Lord Roberts, Lord Salisbury, Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, the Earl of Derby, Lord Methuen, the Earl of Lauderdale and Lord Loch of Drylaw have each a son in the Sirdar's command, and the Duke of Teck has two. The Earl of Durham has two nephews there and Gen. Lord Wolseley, Commander-in-Chief of the Army, has one.

British Gunboat Sunk.

London, Aug. 29.—A despatch from Camp Hegair, opposite the Island of Gebel Rayan, says the Anglo-Egyptian expedition has suffered a rather serious loss by the sinking of the gunboat Zafira. All on board were saved.

The Dunlop Road Race.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—At the Dunlop trophy road race, 20 miles, four on Woodbine track, fifteen on the Kingston road, and one on the track at the finish, on Saturday, the Royal Canadians won the $600 silver shield, which was won by the Ramblers last year. The first rider in was J. E. Shortt, R.C.B.C., time 55.30.4-5. The Ramblers team met with an accident which delayed some of them. The five teams stood in this order at the finish: 1 Royals, 2 Queen City's, 3 Hamilton Crescents, 4 Ramblers, 5 Excelsiors. In the men's puncture E. A. Peters mended the tire in 55 seconds, and in the women's puncture race Miss M. Phillips patched the puncture and inflated her tire in 1 min. 24 sec. Three thousand people were present.

The Turned Back Canadians.

Port Huron, Mich., Aug. 29.—Collector Avery, who is at the head of the immigrant department, says: "It has been the custom for the Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk to offer special inducements to have Canadians come and work in the wheat fields of North Dakota. In every case where an immigrant could show that he had worked for 30 days a reduced rate would be offered him to return home after the harvest was over. This, in my mind, was a direct violation of the alien labor law. The matter was finally taken to the Treasury Department and my action was sustained."

The state of siege which has prevailed in Florence and Milan since the riots of last spring will be raised on Sept. 1.

An Island of Flowers.

The Scilly islands may very justly be termed flower islands, for a large part of their surface is given up to the cultivation of flowers, and the great majority of their people spend their lives in attending to the plants, from which all the wealth of the islands is drawn.

The inhabitants have had other occupations before they settled down to flower growing. At one time they were wreckers, and at a later period they went into a more legitimate business and devoted themselves to the raising of early potatoes. There was money to be made out of them, and the islands prospered until prosperity bore its usual fruit in the shape of competition. The Channel islanders took to growing potatoes, and the potato trade of the Scilly islands was killed. Thereupon the islanders betook themselves to flower growing, giving the greater part of their attention to the narcissi. In St. Mary's alone nearly a quarter of the cultivated area of the island is devoted to flowers.—Youth's Companion.

The Honeymoon Train.

By such a name does the 5:30 p. m. train from Sydney to the Blue mountains go by. The Blue mountains are to Australia what Switzerland is to England, the place where "the fashionables" go to find "coolth" throughout the summer months.

It is also the haunt of the newly married, and the train hardly leaves one day a week without having several happy couples on board—hence its name.

To railway men it is known as "the fish train," the driver's name being Herring, that of the fireman Pike, while the guard has that of the lowly but honest Cockle.—London Standard.

The New Granolithic Pavements

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Lots and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots and Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

AT FAIR'S

New Arrangement

- - IN OUR - -

Dressmaking Department.

The Golden Lion's Dressmaking Department will re-open on THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 1.

The very large yearly increase in this Branch of our business is one of the most significant signs of the favour with which our work is received by the ladies.

Commencing with the coming autumn season, we start a new arrangement, under which we will not be able to make up any garments, the material for which has not been bought at our store.

Our local and out-of-town trade grows so rapidly that the full extent of our capacity has been taxed, and some restrictions had to be made in order to give more prompt attention to orders sent from our own Dress Goods Department.

NEW AUTUMN STYLES

We are opening up our New French, German and British Costumes and Suitings. These have all been passed through Customs under the 25 per cent reduction in Tariff rates, which few merchants were able to take advantage of.

In consequence, our prices will be found much lower than those who were less fortunate in passing their goods after the increased duty was put on.

PARTING OF THE WAYS

Will the Czar's Peace Proposal Be History's Turning Point?

HOW THE NOTE WAS RECEIVED.

The German Press Sneers at Russia—France, Being Apparently the Pivoted Point, Receives It With Approval—English Press Reasonable, But Doubts Practicability—The Kaiser Was Bested.

St. Petersburg, Aug. 30.—The newspapers here declare that the Czar's manifesto will probably constitute a turning point in history. The Novosti says: "It stands to reason that the disarmament question cannot be solved without a previous removal of the causes for the armaments. The conference must accurately determine the respective pretensions of the nations and propose means for a peaceful arrangement, and it may come to pass that at the close of the nineteenth century a liquidation may be effected of the international policies which are so prolific in troubles and dangers." The Novoe Vremya remarks: "All true friends of peace are naturally on the side of Russia, but it is impossible to guarantee that some of the western Cabinets will not raise objections, prompted by the fact that the armed peace which has existed since 1871 is the main source of their international strength." The Sviet, referring to the same subject, said: "If all the powers accept Russia's proposal with the same earnestness with which it was made, the dawn of the twentieth century will see the idea of universal peace triumphant over that of unrest and discord." The Vledomost expresses the opinion that the note of the Czar is essentially "an attempt to introduce the element of trust into international relations," adding: "Whoever believes in the creative power of ideas propounded with conviction and clearness must rejoice that the note brings a new and beneficent course into the world's life and groups anew the participants in that life."

Sneering at Russia.

Berlin, Aug. 30.—The Czar's note was posted in the hotels and cafes, and is generally discussed rather cynically. A high official of the War Office observed that it would be a "good topic for a dull season. If the conference met there would be no doubt that France would demand the return of Alsace-Lorraine." All politicians are inclined to sneer at such a proposal emanating from Russia. The general belief is, however, that all the powers are willing to attend the conference in the belief that it will prove resultless, looking to the impossibility of agreement.

Washington Views of It.

Washington, Aug. 30.—Whatever may be the result of the conference proposed by the Czar, should one be held and anything substantial eventuate therefrom, it is felt that it will not affect the United States in any appreciable degree or extent. The sincerity of the proposal, which seems on the surface to be genuine, can best be judged from Russia's response in conference to a counter proposal that her concession from China to build the Siberian railway to Port Arthur be abandoned.

The Czar Thanked.

Basle, Switzerland, Aug. 30. — The Zionist convention has passed a resolution expressing its profound thanks to the Czar for issuing his peace note.

The Czar Is a Dreamer.

London, Aug. 30.—Dr. Emil Reich, the eminent Hungarian historian and British counsel in the Venezuelan arbitration. In an interview on the subject of the Czar's peace note expresses the belief that His Majesty is visionary. He says: "The Czar is a dreamer. He is not in robust health and has always to take great care of his body. This scheme for universal peace is one of his dreams. It is also a feint. Count Muravieff, the Russian Minister for Foreign Affairs, hopes thereby to get a free hand in the development of Russian schemes in Manchuria."

English Religious World's Opinion.

London, Aug. 30.—The religious world, however, loudly welcomes and praises the Czar's noble initiative. Numerous bishops have already publicly expressed their views in that sense.

THE THUNDERER TALKS.

The Great Paper Sets Forth the Benefits of a Voluntary Instead of an Armed Peace.

London, Aug. 30.—The Times says editorially: "The Czar's note breathes a spirit of generous, perhaps, indeed, almost Quixotic, humanity—a spirit familiar in the effusions of visionaries, but too seldom found in the utterances of great sovereigns and responsible statesmen.

"Never, perhaps, in modern history, have aspirations which good men in all ages have regarded as at once ideal and unattainable found so responsive an echo in the counsels of the greatest and most powerful of the world's rulers. In principle the proposals of the Czar put forth on a solemn occasion with every mark of disinterested sincerity, will command the sympathy and respect of all men of good will. So far as Great Britain is concerned, we long ago abandoned Continental ambitions, and there is no power in the world which has less to gain or more to lose by any disturbance of existing territorial status quo.

"The time has long gone by when British commerce could be made to flourish in and by means of war. The greatest of our interests is peace, and so sensitive is our world-wide commerce that even rumors of war often do us more injury than war itself might do to a power less dependent than is Great Britain on a free interchange of the whole world of the manifold products of its native industries.

"If Russia, which has also a great but undeveloped industrial future before her, is becoming fully convinced, as we in England long have been, that her resources are better devoted to the beneficent arts of peace than to the destructive uneconomic energies of war, Englishmen, as essentially a peace-loving people, can only hail the Czar's pronouncement with the utmost cordiality, as glad tidings of great joy, which, whatever may be the practical issue, does cast honor upon that sovereign's generous and lofty spirit and humanity. The difficulties are great, but nothing can henceforth deprive the Czar of having brought peace and disarmament into the sphere of practical politics.

"It looks at present as though all the great powers might be willing to enter the conference, while the United States might be expected to lend a favorable ear to proposals tending in any degree to lessen the weight of the Imperial responsibility she is about to undertake. Her industrial policy is closely akin to our own and her abiding interest in the maintenance of peace is hardly less vital."

The Daily Chronicle's Paris correspondent declares that the disarmament olive branch would have emanated from Emperor William in Jerusalem, if the Czar's advisers, including, perhaps, M. Hanotaux, had not forestalled the Emperor's project.

The Daily Telegraph says: "The idea is so beautiful that we are reluctant to throw cold water upon it; but what is to be the basis of discussion? A conference which should recognize that free and open markets are for the advantage of the entire civilized world would indeed pave the way to universal peace; but, short of this, we fear the gathering will prove abortive."

The Daily News: "The Czar by this message has acquired a more righteous and enduring fame than belongs to the proudest conqueror of his illustrious house. There is no quarter from which such a manifesto would produce a more profound impression. Hitherto the great obstacle was that nobody would begin. The Czar cannot be suspected of making a virtue of necessity. We shall hardly be wrong in attributing the momentous policy to the Czar himself. It is the pen of Nicholas, but the doctrine of Cobden."

The Morning Post, discussing the difficulties in the way of the proposal, arrives at the conclusion that it would suit Russian needs and Russian designs wonderfully well, but would not suit England at all.

French Papers Welcome the Proposal.

Paris, Aug. 30.—The Figaro believes that the disarmament conference will assemble because the Czar would not have risked a refusal. It believes, however, that the aspiration is chimerical.

The Gaulois thinks the proposal a natural one from Russia, because the immense armament imposed upon her is the principal obstacle to her development.

Le Journal thinks the conference, instead of realizing the Czar's hopes, will rather accentuate national antagonism, if it does not lead to demands totally inimical to the world's peace.

Le Radical wishes all success to the movement, but says: The readjustment of a certain patriotic question in which France cannot and never will cease to interest herself is, however, an essential preliminary to general peace.

The Siecle and the Rappel comment in a similar strain. The Petit Journal expresses the hope that the powers will respond and that the conference will solve the problem in accordance with the principles of right and equity

In short, all the papers welcome the proposal, with the reservation that the question of Alsace-Lorraine shall first be regulated.

Find the Russian Yoke Heavy.

London, Aug. 30.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Shanghai says it is reported there that the Russians at New Chwang are trying to compel native owners of land there to sell their holdings at absurdly low prices, and that in consequence of this the Chinese are on the verge of an anti-Russian outbreak. The local Mandarins are, so to speak, between the cross-fires of the Russians and natives, and are helpless.

All Depends on France.

London, Aug. 30.—What is noticeable in European comment is the fact that everything is held to pivot on the action of France.

Lord Minto Sails Nov. 3.

London, Aug. 30.—Lord Minto and the Countess of Minto and their staff will sail on the Dominion Liner Cosman, from Liverpool for Canada on Nov. 3. The chief part of the Governor's establishment sails on the Allan Liner Laurentian, on Oct. 27, and it depends on the arrangements at Ottawa whether they will disembark at Quebec or Montreal. The appointments to the staff of the Governor are not yet complete.

English Alpine Climbers Killed.

Berne, Switzerland, Aug. 30. — Dr. John Hopkinson, an English electrical engineer, and his son and two daughters, have been killed while ascending the Dents de Vesiwvi in the canon of Valais, the mountains of which are among the highest in Europe, and which are exposed to furious torrents and destructive avalanches. The party had gone on their perilous trip without the assistance of a guide.

To Say Farewell to the Queen.

London, Aug. 30.—Colonel John Hay, the retiring United States Ambassador to the Court of St. James, who has accepted the portfolio of Secretary of State at Washington, went to Osborne, Isle of Wight, yesterday, to bid farewell to Queen Victoria, who starts for Scotland on Wednesday. The royal yacht met Colonel Hay at Portsmouth and conveyed him to Cowes.

Welsh Coal Strike Ended.

London, Aug. 30.—At a joint mass meeting of the Welsh miners yesterday, it was decided to accept the employers' terms, offered at the Cardiff conference on Saturday, by which the miners get an increase of three per cent. in their wages. This ends the disastrous six months' strike.

2,300 Deaths From the Plague.

Simla, Aug. 30.—It is officially announced that there were 2,300 deaths from the plague last week in the Bombay Presidency. The epidemic is spreading, and there has been a fresh outbreak in the State of Hyderabad.

King Malieto Is Dead.

Auckland, N.Z., Aug. 30.—Malieto Laupepa, King of Samoa, died on Monday, Aug. 22, of typhoid fever.

STRENGTHENING THE GARRISONS.

Additional British Troops to Be Stationed at Halifax, Vancouver and Bermuda.

Halifax, N.S., Aug. 30.—The Halifax garrison is to be strengthened by an additional regiment and several batteries. The field artillery and two infantry regiments are to be sent to Vancouver, and three additional regiments are to be stationed in Bermuda. The change will take place this fall.

OFFENDERS COURT-MARTIALLED.

Sentenced to Death by Aguinaldo—Were Reprieved Later.

Manila, Aug. 30.—The residential suburbs are full of armed insurgents, and several personal vendettas have been reported. The inhabitants are greatly alarmed. There was firing in the streets of San Miguel yesterday evening. The insurgent troops yesterday attended mass fully armed, and patrolled the principal residential suburbs.

Major-General Merritt, the commander of the American troops, in conversation, has avoided a declaration of his policy and gave the impression that he is undecided about the possibility of arranging to retain the Philippine Islands, although, personally, he seemed to favor that policy.

General Aguinaldo has court-martialled the offenders in the Cavite affair, and they have been sentenced to death. But it is reported that they were afterwards reprieved at the request of General Anderson.

ECHOES OF THE WAR.

President McKinley wants Admiral Dewey to go to Paris to advise the members of the peace commission. Dewey says that is not necessary, that he can advise them from Manila, and will not go unless he is ordered to by the Government.

General Merritt will go to the Paris peace commission. Gen. Otis will command in his stead at Manila.

The Filipinos will be represented at the peace commission in Paris. Aguinaldo says he personally favors an American protectorate, but his soldiers are fighting for an absolutely free country.

Gen. Merritt's course in the Philippines is subject to severe criticism. The Manila News Agency says high American officials, of mediocre education, are utterly unacquainted with oriental ideas and are thus utterly incapable of governing the natives. Exceptional ability is required to avoid total alienation.

The leading commercial men of Manila have memorialized Lord Salisbury to prevent the Spaniards regaining supremacy in the Philippines.

Potato Riots in Barbados.

Kingston, Ja., Aug. 30.—Advices received here yesterday from the Island of Barbadoes of the Windward group, belonging to Great Britain, report widespread potato riots. Riotous gangs of men have been looting the produce of the plantations during the night. Following the recent shooting of the Speaker of the House of Assembly, in mistake for an obnoxious landlord, these demonstrations are considered to be of a serious nature.

THE WEST INDIAN DIFFICULTIES.

The story, says the Ottawa Free Press, which has appeared in certain American papers, and has been reproduced in Canada, to the effect that a movement is on foot in Jamaica having for its object the taking of a popular vote on the question of the annexation of the island to the United States, is not calculated to cause any alarm. The movement, if there be one at all, has probably been set in motion at the moment for a purpose, and has nothing more substantial about it than certain other and similar movements in the same direction that have preceded it. It is not to be denied that there is, and has been for years, a growing feeling of discontent in the island, and, for the matter of that, in most of the other islands, but beyond an expression of individual opinion the discontent has never reached a very acute stage. Whatever there may be in the alleged movement, if there is one, it can only be regarded as a threat and an attempt to compel the Imperial government to go forward with certain remedial measures which were hinted at not long since by Mr. Chamberlain. The foundation of Jamaican discontent is primarily sugar, and the estate owners desire protection. It has not escaped the notice of political economists that Jamaica has never been a monumental success during the two hundred and fifty years of British rule. There is no earthly reason for supposing that it would do any better under the rule of another country. One of the chief issues to-day is "black versus white," and the Americans could in such a case do no better than the British. They would probably do much worse, for the strongest opponents of annexation to the United States would be the negroes who are devotedly attached for obvious reasons, to British rule. The blacks and mulattoes in Jamaic a combined number more than half a million. The whites are about 14,000, and this unequal proportion increases the wrong way—another fertile source of trouble. To attempt the British form o government under such circumstances can only be [classed as absurd. After the establishment of the Crown colony, which followed the Gordon riots a few years ago, and the surrender of the Parliamentary system which had prevailed since the first settlement was made, there was a marked change for the better in the condition of the island from the commercial standpoint, and energy and stout hearts might yet do much to restore former prosperity. But throughout the West Indies the "black cloud" appears to overpower the souls of the white people. They seem to think that like one or two of the smaller islands at present the entire West Indies must sooner or later fall into the hands of black proprietors, a strange example of the survival of the fittest. Inertness is one of the curses of the entire chain of islands. Sugar seems to be generally regarded as the mainstay of the islands. And yet they are capable of producing a thousand things which could be made more profitable than sugar. Unfortunately, only on a limited scale, as in Monserrat with limes, Dominica with coffee, fruits and sizal here and there and a few other industries in some of the smaller islands, has the attempt been made to develop the producing powers of these fertile islands. And in all cases this has been done by outside enterprise and capital. The present condition and future of the British West India islands is certainly a question difficult to deal with. The subject of promoting closer political relations with the island on the part of Canada is once more mooted in the press. There is no doubt that the opportunities for trade are great, but it is doubtful whether the absorption of a great negro population, and the assumption of the responsibilities which would be consequent on the entry of the islands into the Dominion would in any degree contribute to our national strength. Our previous commissions, and other efforts, to promote trade relations with the islands produced but scant results, and annexation seems neither attractive or even practicable. The position of the people of the islands is very generally that of the Jamaicans, as described by a Canadian commissioner ten or twelve years ago, "they do not know what they want, they are without spirit to help them, and if all they asked is not granted they clamour as if the whole world was against them. There is not the least occasion for these passionate appeals to the universe. They can not at this moment, perhaps, go ahead. They have a fine country, soil and climate, all that can be desired, they have all that is required for a quiet and easy life." It is by trade and commerce that Canada can best aid the West Indies. Capital from abroad, new blood and new methods can easily change the islands from their present depressed condition. There is a profitable field open for men of energy. But that enterprise or help from outside, which alone can save the islands from sinking deeper into the slough of commercial despair which for fifty years has been drawing them down, cause following cause, is long in coming. The bounty giving countries have not thus far, so undersold themselves—as the British Board of Trade some years ago asserted they would—in their competing trade which has been so fatal to the West Indian sugar industry, as to be compelled to follow legitimate and free trade, although signs are not wanting that the end of their system is approaching. The recommendation of a select committee of the House of Commons in favour of countervailing duties, overridden by the Board of Trade, is not likely to be repeated, nor does the government in England seem disposed to acquiesce in the principle as great extent, justified. And it would perhaps not be unjustifiable, certainly not surprising, if a wave of disloyalty did sweep over them and—resenting the indifference of a mother who in part is responsible for the evils complained of, and who has yet persistently refused to lift a finger to help—they demanded release from a connection the value of which seems unappreciated on the one side and causes suffering which could be remedied on the other.

ONTARIO LOGS.

Canada Furnishes One-Half the Season's Cut of Cheboygan Mills.

Cheboygan, Mich., Aug. 30.—The tug Duncan City has gone to Georgian Bay to bring to Cheboygan 2,000,000 feet of logs. This will be the last tow of logs to come over from Canada this season and the amount of logs brought to Cheboygan this year will exceed that of any previous season. The figures in the Custom House show that when the Duncan City arrives Cheboygan will have received this year from Canada nearly 54,000,000 feet, one-half the average season's cut for the mills here.

Laying in Canadian Logs.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 30.—Some firms have stocked up largely with logs in anticipation of the operation of the prohibitory Act of the Ontario Legislature, and this apprehension has stimulated the market for Canada logs. The Saginaw Lumber & Salt Company, which is running its Crow Island plant day and night, has enough logs bought and put in by the company to stock the mill during the whole of next season. Hale & Booh, a Canadian firm, has sent thirty million feet of Canadian logs over from Georgian Bay to the Michigan market, all of which have been sold.

The Alger, Smith Co. of Black River, Alcona County, will log this winter in West Algoma, Ontario, where it owns three timber limits on Pigeon River, near the international boundary, and it is expected that about twenty million feet will be cut.

Wheeler Not the Principal.

Toronto, Aug. 30.—George H. Wheeler, the man accused of swindling several country hotelkeepers out of small sums of money, was arraigned in the Police Court yesterday. Crown Attorney Curry stated that he did not consider Wheeler was the principal in the swindling, and the Magistrate remanded the case until to-day. It is said that other arrests will be made.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier Absent at His Brother's Funeral.

THE YANKEES HAD A CAUCUS.

A Considerable Number of Memorials Will Reach the American Delegates This Week as Well as Quite a Number of Deputations—Copyright Question—The Americans Pleased.

Quebec, Aug. 30.—The International Conference resumed its sittings promptly at the appointed hour of 11 o'clock yesterday morning. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was absent in Arthabaskaville, at the funeral of his brother, the late Dr. Ubalde Laurier, which took place yesterday, did not reach the city till 2.20 o'clock in the afternoon, when he at once proceeded to the council chamber, where the conference was convened. Sir James Winter was the other absentee, not having yet returned from the Adirondacks.

In the morning the American commissioners held a private meeting at the Chateau Frontenac, to consider a number of memorials forwarded to them from various parts of the United States on a variety of subjects. The American commissioners appear likely to have a considerable number of memorials sent to them during the present week, judging by accounts in the American press, and will also be kept fairly busy receiving deputations. The Chamber of Commerce of Boston has sent word that it is sending on a delegation to interview the American commission, and another is on its way here from western lumbermen, who do not take the same view of things with the lumbermen of Michigan, and who want the present duty on sawn lumber taken into the United States retained. The Boston delegation will have a good many suggestions to make on these subjects, in particular with the fisheries, reciprocity and the bonding privileges. The interest of the New England States in these three questions are paramount, and in some respects at variance with the interest of the more Western States of the Union.

It is understood that the question of the copyright laws of the United States and the Dominion, though not now embraced in the protocols, is likely to be added to the subjects which will come up for consideration. This question of copyright is a very vexed one, and its settlement by the conference would be welcomed by the great mass of authors and publishers.

Hon. R. R. Dobell will entertain the delegates to the convention at dinner on Thursday evening.

The American commissioners are highly satisfied with last week's proceedings, and one of them stated that so far no obstacle had yet appeared in the way of the commission and from all appearances the general adjustment of matters, so far discussed, would end in a very satisfactory manner.

Detroit, Aug. 30.—Don. M. Dickinson has returned from Quebec, where he was called on legal matters within the jurisdiction of the International Commission. He will make a report on his mission at a meeting yet to be called of the Committee of Lumbermen.

FIRST BULLSEYE.

Opening of the Dominion Rifle Association's Annual Meeting at the Rockliffe Ranges—First Day's Work.

Ottawa, Aug. 30. — "Major-General Hutton, commanding the Canadian militia, bullseye, 5," was the first shot registered on the ranges at Rockliffe yesterday. The Major-General arrived on the grounds about 8.30 o'clock. He was received by Lieut.-Col. Dillon, chairman of the Executive, and escorted to the 600 yards firing point, where the riflemen were called opposite target No. 33, which was exposed, with the above result.

Lieut.-Col. Dillon, on behalf of the association, tendered the Major-General a hearty welcome.

Major-General Hutton made a pleasant speech in reply. He regretted extremely the absence of the patron of the Association, Lord Aberdeen, and the other officials. He was pleased to meet his comrades, as he took an intense interest in rifle shooting. On it to a great extent depended the standing of the militia forces, and it should be considered of prime importance not only by the soldiers, but by all. The association would be of great use in the development of shooting. Years ago Canada achieved great success because their fighting men, the Voyageurs, were handy and handy with axe or rifle. Another instance was in Boer warfare, as the Boer was a marksman first and a soldier next. In the use of the new rifle long ranges should be advocated, with moving targets, advancing and retiring, and also at unknown distances. The Major-General then in a few feeling words referred to the loss the Dominion and the association had sustained in the death of the late Sir Casimir Gzowski, A.D.C., who had been such a long and tried friend to the association and to the riflemen of Canada. He then declared the military efficiency and welfare was to the credit of Canada.

A little trouble was occasioned at the opening of the first shooting by the startling announcement that the markers refused to put up a target unless they got an advance from $2 to $2.50 per day. The Executive consulted, and, being unable to help themselves, acceded to the demand.

The Day's Matches.

The wind, or what was of it, was from the right rear when the Nursery match started, and the first possible on the new range goes to Pte. J. Weatherbee, of the 82nd, who won the first prize of $15 in the match with a score of 25.

Following the Nursery came the Bankers' match at the same range, the number of entries being 347, which is about the total shooting this year. The weather conditions were about the same as in the Nursery, with the wind perhaps a little more to the right. The conditions were seven shots each, the result being a tie for first place between Lieut. H. C. Blair, 78th; Sergt. J. Hutcheson, Q.O.R., and Sergt. Broadhurst, 5th R.S., 35 points each. The $53 of the first three prizes will be divided between them equally.

The Macdougall Challenge Cup commenced at half-past 1, nearly two hours behind the time table. The match was for a cup presented by Lady Macdougall with a badge and $372 added by the Dominion Rifle Association. The cup is to be the property of the member winning it twice in succession. The first three prizes were won as follows:

Cup and badge and $35—Capt. S. W. Vermilyea, 15th, 50; $20—Sergt. J. D. McNaughton, 30th, 49; $15—Capt. A. Wilson, 3rd, 48.

MIDDLETON COMES UP TO-DAY.

Brantford Expected to Supply Charges of False Pretences.

Woodstock, Aug. 30.—Reginald Launcelot Middleton will appear before Magistrate Field to-day. Half a dozen witnesses have been subpoenaed, but it is hardly likely that the case will be disposed of, as the Crown will ask a further remand.

The charge of false pretences, on which Middleton will be arraigned, will probably be supplemented by other charges of a similar nature from Brantford.

Within the past few days the Crown officer says there has been a disposition on the part of the Woodstock merchants who have supposedly been victimized by Middleton to avoid proceeding, probably seeing in this action a better chance of getting their money. Crown Attorney Ball said this morning that he would allow no backdown on the part of the prosecution.

Should further informations be laid by Brantford merchants the statements of the prosecutors only would be taken in Woodstock and the cases adjourned to Brantford for preliminary hearing. Middleton is still in poor health, but the jail surgeon thinks he will be sufficiently recovered to appear at the Police Court to-day.

WHEAT ON THE MEND.

While Receipts Continue Small in the West and Northwest There Is an Increase in Visible Supply.

Monday Evening, Aug. 29.

The Chicago wheat market showed some strength to-day, the September and December options early advancing about 1c over Saturday's final figures. The good cash demand in the Northwest and the continued light receipts combined to make the market hold a good portion of the advance at the close.

Spot wheat was firmer in Liverpool to-day, and the September option rose ¾d per cental. At the same time the December delivery went off 1⅝d.

Visible and Afloat.

As compared with a week ago, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States has increased 77,000 bushels, that of corn has increased 407,000 bushels, and that of oats has increased 388,000 bushels.

To recapitulate, the visible supply of wheat in Canada and the United States, together with that afloat to Europe, is 23,127,000 bushels, against 24,010,000 bushels a week ago and 33,393,000 bushels a year ago.

There were 68 loads of Canada stockers and a large proportion of medium quality of cattle. There were really no cattle here to-day as good as last week, which made the general average about 10c lower. The tone of the market was steady and good desirable butchers sold strong and the undesirable grades of all kinds were those affected by the decline. Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A.L.:

Dear Sir,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for 3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,060 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Runaway Accident.

Yesterday morning while Master Claude Fleetwood was delivering for Mr. J. J. Howden, he met with an accident, that was the cause of making him walk from the north end of the town, and pull the remains of the delivery wagon behind him. In driving out of the lane opposite Inverca street, he turned the corner too short, and striking the curb stone upset the cart, which caused the horse to run away. It took down Water street at a fast pace, but was stopped before it got very far, but not until the horse smashed the rig considerable, and skinned its legs badly. The boy came off with only a few scratches.

Bishop O'Connor Will Preach.

It was announced in all the Catholic churches of Toronto on Sunday that there will be a solemn requiem Mass of month's mind for the repose of the soul of the late Archbishop Walsh, in St. Michael's Cathedral, at 10 a.m. on Wednesday next. The Mass will be celebrated by the Administrator, Very Rev. J. J. McCann, and the sermon will be preached by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor, of Peterborough, and the combined choirs of the Catholic churches of the city will render the solemn Gregorian music with the same splendid and impressive effect as at the funeral service.

The Dog Would not Die.

One of the members of the police force and a dog were the centre of a good deal of excitement last night, and the episode is rather interesting. The minion of the law was endeavouring to arrest a drunk who had taken the sidewalk as a resting place. The fellow was protected by his dog, and the canine would not allow anyone, and the policeman, especially, to approach his master, and as a result the officer had to shoot the dog, but three shots from a revolver and a severe clubbing did not exterminate the animal's life. The man was arrested but the dog escaped, though it is likely that death has overtaken it ere this. A few days practice shooting at the side of a barn should have a splendid effect on this officer.

MORE SEWER WORK TO BE UNDERTAKEN.

PLANS AND SPECIFICATIONS TO BE DRAWN UP.

The Bell Telephone Co. Franchise Expiring—Exemption to be Granted to the Geo. Matthews Co., Limited.

At a meeting of the Sewerage Committee last evening, with Chairman Best, presiding, the Town Engineer was instructed to prepare plans and specifications at once for the construction of sewers on the following streets, as petitioned for by the property holders thereon:

Belmont avenue, from Homewood avenue to Hunter street.

Charlotte street, from Stewart street to Park street.

Park street, from Charlotte street to Hunter street, and Hunter street from Belmont avenue to Park street.

Reid street, from Charlotte street to Hunter street.

Rubidge street, from Charlotte street to Simcoe street.

McDonel street, from Water street to Dickson street.

Mr. Best said he was under the impression that something had gone wrong with the sewer in some places. At certain manholes water could be distinctly heard rushing along in the sewer whilst at points above it was almost dry.

The Town Engineer was instructed to flush the sewer thoroughly and if there was any appearance of leakage, etc., to make an examination.

The matter of the selection of a corporation lot was brought up and the clerk will advertise for offers. The Mayor and Chairman of the Street and Bridge committee will also examine several. The lot selected will have to be centrally located as the new stone crusher will be located thereon.

Councillor Dawson drew attention to the fact of the old corporation lot on George street being lower than the level of the sidewalk. He thought a retaining wall would have to be erected on the inside if a granolithic pavement was to be constructed in front of it. The Street and Bridge committee will consider the matter.

On the members going into committee of the whole, Mr. J. S. Knapman of the Bell Telephone Company addressed the meeting stating that the Company's exclusive franchise expired on Sept. 1st, and that the terms were not of a nature to induce the company to ask for an extension of the privilege. The company considered that $400 a year was too much to pay, as Peterborough had a cheaper telephone service than any other town of its size. If granted an extension of the franchise for five years, an aggreement would be made not to increase the present rates, and to grant the town fire alarm privileges free.

It was pointed out to Mr. Knapman that if the company objected to paying $400 a year, the town could charge them fully this amount by assessing the poles, etc., under the Act.

The matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

The Street Inspector was instructed to notify all companies as to the position their poles must occupy in relation to the sidewalks.

Mr. Geo. Matthews addressed the members in reference to a communication recently addressed to the council by the Geo. Matthew Co. Limited, in reference to the exemption of their present buildings from taxation as well as some new additions, and also concerning granting the C. P.R. right of way to run a spur line to the packing house.

The mayor stated that the Manufacturers' Committee had the matter in hand, but had not met since looking over the ground.

It was agreed that the buildings would be exempted from all taxes but those for school purposes, and the members had no objection to the C.P.R. laying a switch to the packing house, provided Mr. Matthews could obtain the permission of the property holders effected, the councillors undertaking to settle the matter of certain disputed lots in the rear of the freight sheds.

PASSED CONFEDERATE BILLS.

Chas. Pogue and Wm. Duncan, of Peterborough, Found Guilty After a Long Trial.

Last night's Toronto News contains the following:—Chas. Pogue and William Duncan, the two Peterborough men who secured a number of old five dollar and ten dollar Confederate bills and succeeded in passing them off upon a number of keepers of disreputable resorts on Richmond, Jarvis, and Emily streets, were found guilty after a long trial.

Out of some of the good money found on the prisoners the soiled doves were reimbursed, the lawyers got the remainder, and to-morrow the Magistrate will say how long the men will stay in goal.

The Globe says: William Duncan, a tall, lanky young man from Peterborough, and Charles Pogue, a moulder at Bertram's, were occupants of the dock at the police court this morning. There were two charges of passing bad money against the men. The evidence showed that they had gone into several houses kept by fallen women, and had victimized them with bogus bills. The bills were of the old Confederate issue of the Bank of Commerce of Georgia, and were very fair representations, and could be passed anywhere in a teery atmosphere, or during a rush of business. Pogue claimed that he had got the green goods from Duncan. Duncan said that he and a man from Peterborough had pasted the bills together in a restaurant down town. Both men were convicted and remanded until to-morrow for sentence.

A SERIOUS CHARGE.

Henry Sharpe, of Hastings Pleads Guilty to a Charge of Procuring.

County Police Magistrate Edmison held court yesterday at the Court House, when Henry Sharpe, who is said to come from Hastings, was charged with the offence of procuring a young girl for immoral purposes at Havelock.

The prisoner elected to be tried summarily, and on being arraigned pleaded guilty and was remanded until Wednesday for sentence. County Attorney Wood prosecuted.

HAD TO COME BACK.

A Klondike Party Lost Their Outfit and Returned for a New Outfit.

Mr. White, a student at the General Electric Works, about two years ago, was in town to day for a short time. He was en route from the Pacific Coast to his home in Western Ontario.

At the beginning of the year in company with several other prospectors, Mr. White started for the Yukon gold fields. They succeeded in reaching Teslin Lake, but as a large part of their outfit had been lost completely and ruined in crossing the Chilkoot Pass, several of the party, Mr. White, among them, returned to secure a new supply. They will likely make their next attempt to reach Dawson City by way of St. Michaels. All Mr. White has to say of the country is that it is rough and desolate, but the gold is there.

THE S. A. HARVEST FESTIVAL.

The Local Corps Hold a Successful Auction Sale.

The members of the local corps of the Salvation Army held their annual harvest home festival last night, or rather the sale of the various articles that were donated towards the festival, and, as Auctioneer John Haggart said, they comprised almost everything from a needle to an anchor.

After the usual opening ceremonies and a couple of selections from the band, Adjutant Aikenhead called on Rev. Mr. Potter, who was present, for an address.

Mr. Potter referred in eulogistic terms to the work of the Army, and to the energy and perseverance exhibited by the members in their work of helping their fellow man. He gave as an illustration a bouquet of "Sweet Peas," and referred in detail to their peculiar, persistent, persevering and pugilistic qualities. On taking his seat he was the recipient of a hearty vote of thanks.

When Mr. Haggart arose to commence his work he saw before him vegetables and fruit of every description, fancy work, wearing apparel, pictures, cakes of one, two and three stories, cakes with frills and cakes without, a plough, and also a reminder that winter is approaching, in the shape of cordwood, with other articles, as the auction bills say, too numerous to mention. These he proceeded to auction off in his usual expeditious manner to the benefit of the army exchequer.

At the rear of the hall Captain French presided over an ice cream table, which was liberally patronized.

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

THE GRAND LODGE OF THE C. M. B. A.

HOLD THEIR ANNUAL MEETING IN ANCIENT QUEBEC.

A Warm Address of Welcome by the Mayor—List of Officers Elected—Other Business.

Mr. James Hogue the delegate from the local branch of the C.M.B.A. has just returned from the Grand Lodge meeting in Quebec and reports two important changes to Constitution and By-Laws. One provides for the admission of honorary members who shall pay a fee of 25 cents a month and shall enjoy the social privileges but not the benefits of the Association. This rule is made in view of the fact that several men of great prominence who wish to join the Order are too old to do so as regular members. It was also decided that in the future a Court, which has a member on the Grand Council, shall not have another delegate. This will mean an annual saving of $1,000. Apart from this action the principal business was the reading and adoption of the reports of the Secretary, the Board of Trustees, Medical Supervisors, Organizer, and that of the Committee on Laws. The Grand President as well as the Grand Secretary, Mr. Brown, spoke on the reports for some time and the session adjourned for an hour at one o'clock.

In the afternoon His Worship Mayor Parent delivered the following address of welcome to the delegates:—

GENTLEMEN,—I deem it a most pleasant duty for me to perform to welcome you in our good old city of Quebec.

Your Association is here well known, highly appreciated and encouraged, and you have here several well established and prosperous branches.

The Mayor of Quebec for one feels proud of being one of your associate members, and in the person of your Grand President, the Hon. M. F. Hackett, I recognize a respected colleague, a jolly and pleasant companion, and one of the most amiable members of the Legislative Assembly.

In choosing him as your Grand President, you have secured for your Association a share of the popularity which he deservedly enjoys throughout the whole Province.

The citizens of Quebec are happy to tender you the hospitalities of their beloved city. They are grateful to you for the honour which you have conferred upon us by selecting Quebec as the seat of your important gathering.

You have our best wishes for the success of your convention and for the noble enterprise which you have founded and which you govern with consummate ability.

May you long continue, Gentlemen, to promote this Association, which for us all and for our families is a paramount security against the uncertainties of life. It is deserving of all the praise that has been bestowed upon it. Her motherly care shields as it were all the cherished beings who brighten our homes, and in many a desolated home it has been a messenger of consolation and help.

Under the present skilful administration the C. M. B. A. cannot but grow, extend and attain the highest degree of prosperity.

The Hon. Mr. Hackett, Grand President, replied in English and Dr. Belliveau in French.

Niagara Falls, Ont., was selected as the next place of meeting for the Convention, in the year 1901.

In the evening the delegates were treated to an electric car ride round the city, seven cars being detailed for the purpose. They left the receiving office at Palace Hill at 7 o'clock.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The election of officers took place at the evening sitting, the following being elected:—

Hon. M. F. Hackett, re-elected Grand President.

Dr. L. Belliveau, re-elected 1st Vice-President.

Mr. J. E. Laughrin, elected 2nd Vice-President.

Mr. S. R. Brown, re-elected by acclamation Grand Secretary.

Mr. W. J. McKee, re-elected Grand Treasurer.

Mr. J. J. Weinert, re-elected Guard.

Mr. J. Galvin, elected Marshall.

A large number of delegates were nominated for the office of Trustees and the following five gentlemen were elected:—P. J. O'Keefe and J. Rooney, standing members, and Rev. Father Tiernan and Bros. Behan and Chisholm, new members.

The following gentlemen were elected members of the Committee on Laws:—Bros. Coffey, Rouleau and Murphy.

Finance—Bros. Rowan, Cook and Hebert were re-elected.

One of the features of the meeting was the brilliant address delivered by the Grand President, Hon. M. F. Hackett, of which we append a partial summary.

Hon. Mr. Hackett stated that since their meeting in Ottawa two years ago, 2,500 new members had been added to the association, and thirty new branches had been organized since that date, with every prospects of there being many more.

The reserve fund in 1896 amounted to $55,349 39, but the association to-day enjoys a reserve fund of $80,500, the whole of which is deposited in the following banks:—Canadian Bank of Commerce, Merchants' Bank of Canada, Bank of Toronto, British North America Bank, Bank of Montreal, and the Eastern Townships Bank in Stanstead. The general fund was found to be in excellent condition, as the association owes nothing and has sufficient funds on hand to defray the the expenses of this convention. The honorable speaker remarked that he had much pleasure in stating that at no previous convention was the association in as sound and as good a financial condition as it was at the present time. The total amount collected up to July 1st amounted to $1,495 296 83, and this amount, less the $80,000 which has been sunk in the reserve fund, has been paid out.

The Grand President further remarked that when they met again in convention he hoped Quebec would take the place as the banner province of the association. He referred very feelingly in his address to the death of the late lamented Archbishop Walsh, whose loss he stated had brought sorrow to many a Canadian heart, but doubly so to the C.M.B.A. of Canada, of which he had been from the foundation of its Council to the time of his death the Grand Spiritual Adviser. He went on to say "I would not be true to the best interests of the organization if I did not recognize the most valuable assistance rendered times without number by our Grand Secretary Brother Brown. To his indefatigable and untiring zeal, his unceasing ardor, and his sterling worth, is due in a large degree the success of this association. Ready, willing, courteous, and ever prudent, his aid and counsel have ever been at my disposal, and I take the opportunity of tendering him my greatest and heartfelt appreciation. To the Board of Trustees, the Grand Treasurer, the Grand Medical Adviser, the Solicitor, and to the Executive at large, I return my most sincere thanks for their ever kind and fraternal co-operation in endeavoring to advance the interests of the Association. In conclusion, Hon. Mr. Hackett expressed the hope that during the session the work may be conducted in that Christian spirit becoming men who bear the honorable distinction of membership in the C.M.B.A.

MOVED TO TEARS.

Mackie May Secure Bail—The Curiosity Removed.

It is said that Mackie was moved to tears when Ponton was released on bail on Tuesday. They shared the same corridor and the Belleville man feels lonesome now that Ponton has been liberated. An effort will be made to procure bail for Mackie, and his counsel will make application to the County Judge for bail this week. Pare accepts the situation philosophically. He smokes a good deal and finds much solace in the weed. Holden doesn't seem to be fretting much either.

The old wooden steps leading to the flat roof, over which, according to Pare's story, the return trip to Ponton's rooms on the night of the robbery was made, will no longer excite the interest of the curious. They were removed on Saturday. The back window, through which egress to the hallway in the Grange block was gained has been boarded up, and the block no longer sports a back entrance by the roof.—Napanee Express.

Walking on Air.

The feeling of buoyancy produced by the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills is remarkable. One feels bright and active, energetic and full of snap and vim. Rich red blood fills the veins, and the nerves tingle with the sensation of youthful life and vigor.

TREMBLING HANDS AND SHAKY MEMORY. A HAMILTON MAN'S EXPERIENCE WITH A NEW MEDICINE.

DEAR SIRS,—

I have spent half a fortune in doctors' bills, all to no avail. These Pills seemed to reach the seat of disease at once, and they also seemed to possess a remarkable influence over me. The violent palpitation of the heart, the trembling of the hands, the loss of masculine vigor, the frightful dreams, the loss of memory and general collapse of the entire system, have yielded to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Great were the results from the use of four boxes of these Pills. I am enjoying the very best of health. I fully believe they are able to do for others as much as they have done for me. Before using them I was a miserable wreck. To-day I am a well man.

Yours truly,

THOS. FLYNN, 51 Elgin St., Hamilton, Ont.

THE GREAT DESERT.

Power of the Winds on That Barren Waste of Sands.

With a feeling that my words will carry little weight with those who think otherwise, I venture to suggest that the Sahara is not exactly what it is commonly assumed to be, and yet in many ways it is not very different. Its first sands, when approached from the side of El-Kantara, are giant rocks, burned brown and red under the glow of the southern sun, standing out in wild pinnacles from the gently undulating surface. This is not the desert that is ordinarily pictured by the mind—that flat, endless expanse which fades off unmoved and unbroken to the limits of vision—but it is the desert, nevertheless, just as much as the mountain snows of the far north are a part of the great arctic "sea of ice." Beyond, however, is the great plain itself, its swelling undulations hardly relieving to the eye the appearance of absolute flatness which the picture offers.

The truth is, the Sahara presents itself in a double aspect, that of the flat and sandy plain and that of the rocky ridge or mountain, the Hammada. It is the Hammada that is more particularly dreaded by the caravans, for among their wind swept crags there are few oases, and only the blowing sands and a relentless sun are the companions of the footsore pilgrim. In many parts of the flat desert traveling is moderately easy, for over long distances the surface has become coated into a hard, slimy crust—a solid basement rock, one may call it. Along our route of travel there were no sand dunes of any magnitude, the highest perhaps scarcely exceeding 15 or 20 feet, but I was informed by the distinguished French explorer, M. Foureaud, who was then stopping at Biskra, that beyond Tuggurt they rise to the prodigious height of from 1,200 to 1,400 feet. This speaks even more eloquently for the power of the winds than do the high tossed sands of coral islands.—Popular Science Monthly.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

NOT UP TO HIS PART.

A Drummer Who Was Traveling on a Clergyman's Railway Ticket.

"Just came from St. Louis," remarked a well known commercial traveler as he alighted from the train, "and had one of the funniest experiences of my life on the way up."

"Relate it, and be quick," replied his fellow drummer, who was about to catch a train.

"Well, you know Mandlebaum, the ticket scalper," replied the other. "Just as I was about to board the train he came to me and offered to sell a first class ticket for so low a figure that I was obliged to take it for strictly business reasons. My time was limited, and I neglected to look at the name of the original purchaser, so I boarded the train and took possession of a seat in the smoker. First came a cigar, and then, being thirsty, I took out that old flask of mine from the satchel and proceeded to quench my thirst in good old fashioned style.

"All the while the conductor kept his eyes on me and at times whispered to the brakeman, who was sitting quite close to me. They were both strange on the run, and consequently I did not pay much attention to them. I then got mixed up in a hot game of seven up and told one or two stories which would not pass the ordeal of press censorship. Finally the conductor came around and whispered in my ear. He asked me how the Sunday school was getting on and allowed that church matters were brightening up a bit in my section of the country. His talk was all Greek to me, but I managed to look wise until we had reached Chicago.

"The whole business dawned on me then. He told me I should have been more circumspect on the journey up and warned me against one of my congregation. He said it was bad form for a clergyman to smoke, play cards and drink whisky from a flask in full view of the passengers on board a train. I asked him if he knew who I was, and he pulled that scalper's ticket from his pocket and informed me that I was Rev. Mr. Phineas Bascom of Hannibal, Mo. I have made up my mind never to buy another scalper's ticket from Mandlebaum."—Chicago Chronicle.

THE BELLICOSE KENTUCKIAN.

Credited With Having Reversed the Destinies of the New World.

The utility of possessing New Orleans was evident, were it only to acquire the incontestable right to navigate the Mississippi, Spain having expressly interdicted this navigation to the Americans. But with New Orleans we sold them Louisiana—that is to say, an immense extent of territory which had no northwest boundary because that part of the continent was still unknown. This vast extent of gray horizon produced the Kentuckian, who became the father of the second phase of the American spirit, as the Puritan was father of the first. The Kentuckian had in him a touch of Virginian civilization grafted upon the temperament of the trapper and adventurer. Do not neglect a single opportunity of studying that strange type of the Kentuckian.

It is he who has reversed the destinies of the new world. What he was is still to be found in the man of Chicago, but attenuated and deformed. The Kentuckian loved whisky, dueling and cards. He was crazy over eloquence. The sense of grandeur was developed in him in a surprising fashion. He wished to magnify everything. His patriotism was pure, but exalted. Napoleon was his god and the eagle his emblem. He was bellicose. He urged on the war against England in 1812. He wanted to conquer Canada. He obtained finally the annexation of Texas, the invasion of California, the war against Mexico. The treaty of Guadaloupe-Hidalgo crowned his prayers. The United States stretched now from one ocean to the other. Its area was quintupled in 45 years. It took rank among the great countries of the world. The Kentuckian, obscure workman of this immense task, had for standard bearer in the federal senate the celebrated Henry Clay, after whom Webster and Calhoun patterned themselves, all three enamoured of the same dream of national greatness.—Revue Bleue.

He Effected a Sale.

She made a call at her usual drapery establishment to purchase some stockings.

Taking a seat, she was shown by the obliging young man some very pretty striped articles, but she did not care for them, as she thought they were out of fashion.

The assistant began to wonder how he could convince the lady that this was not so. A bright idea entered his head.

"Madam," said he, "I will soon prove to you that most ladies are wearing them at the present moment. You see, madam, there are about ten ladies in the shop. Don't be alarmed when I shout, but keep your eyes on the other ladies' feet."

He gave a knowing smile, and, bounding over the counter, shouted in a loud voice:

"A mouse! A mouse!"

Each lady instantly drew up her dress, with the result that—well, she ordered six pairs of those striped stockings.—Pearson's Weekly.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

A Plattsville Lady Rescued by Dodd's Kidney Pills from Terrible Danger.

Plattsville, Ont., Aug. 29—The Echo, published here, report the remarkable cure of a well-known lady, Mrs. J. Barnett, who had two years suffered from Nervousness, Rheumatism, Back-ache, Sleeplessness, pains in the head and eyes and general weakness.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

To an Echo reporter, Mrs Barnett said: "I had no appetite, I could not sleep, I was a physical wreck.

"I was treated by doctors, but their medicine gave me no relief.

"I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I finished one box, I had improved noticeably. I have taken twelve boxes in all, and am now completely recovered. I ascribe my recovery to Dodd's Kidney Pills alone."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a positive cure—the only cure,—for Kidney Diseases of all forms. They have never failed.

THE ONLY HOPE!

For Victims of Bright's Disease is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Not a day passes on which the newspapers do not record the death of one or more persons from Bright's Disease. Already its victims number hundreds of thousands. Day by day the awful total grows larger. No class is safe from this destroyer.

War and intemperance, with all their miseries and fatalities, are not responsible for as many deaths as have been caused by Bright's Disease. Yet, there is a way of resisting it; of drawing its poisoned fangs, and making it as harmless as a summer breeze. That great medicine, Dodd's Kidney Pills, has cured thousands of the worst cases. It never fails to cure, hopeless as the case may seem.

Would you safely shield your loved ones from the fatal grip of this curse of mankind—Bright's Disease? Then use Dodd's Kidney Pills, the only cure on earth for this disease.

Oh, what a warm welcome the first little traveler whom Heaven guides to the door of a woman's heart receives from the happy mother. Every thought and care is given to the comfort and well being of the new comer after it has entered into the portals of life and taken its place at the family fireside.

Yet during the time when baby is expected few women do all they should to insure the little one's constitutional strength and vigor. No mother wants to have a puny, weakly, sickly baby yet unless she herself is entirely healthy in the special, delicate structure which makes motherhood possible, the baby is certain to suffer in some way for her weakness or neglect.

The surest way to avoid this is for the mother to reinforce her own strength by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription during the time of anticipation. It will make her perfectly healthy. It will lighten and brighten the time of waiting. It will make the ordeal of motherhood absolutely safe and comparatively free from pain and will insure a strong, healthy constitution for the baby.

Mrs. Nannie J. Taylor, of Lovelace, Hill Co., Texas, says: "I am the mother of eight children. I suffered from female weakness. I tried physicians with no avail. When I last became with child I saw the advertisement of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I bought two bottles and took according to directions. When baby was born I had a very easy time and have not suffered one hour since, from female weakness. Baby is as fat and healthy as can be."

Prospective mothers should send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., for a copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, which will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to pay the cost of customs and mailing only, or cloth-bound 50 stamps.

NAVAL APPRENTICES.

THE BOYS ON OUR WARSHIPS AND HOW THEY ARE TRAINED.

An Experience That Tends to Make Them Dignified, Self Controlled Men, Well Qualified to Make Their Way Either Afloat or Ashore.

Apprenticeship in the United States navy is capable of making either a man or a reprobate of a boy. He is given every inducement to become a good, solid man, whether for continuation as a member of a man-of-war's ship's company or for the earning of a livelihood ashore. The officers of the American navy give the apprentice boys considerably the better of it over the bluejackets who ship as such in all that concerns their interest and advancement, and the boy who during the period that he wears the apprentice's figure of eight knot on his mustering shirt goes wrong and becomes a rowdy and a sea lawyer has only his innate cussedness to blame for it.

The whole tendency of the apprentice's training aboard an American man-of-war makes for the conversion of the lad into a dignified, self controlled, able man, a matchless seaman and a tiptop gunner, to say nothing of the substantial equipment it furnishes him for lucrative employment should he elect upon the conclusion of his apprenticeship to settle down ashore.

It is the old sailors, the men who have spent about an equal number of years in the merchant marine and in the United States navy, who possess the greatest power for good or evil in making or breaking American naval apprentices. The officers aft hold the lads with a strong rein when they have them under immediate instruction, but the boys live forward among the men, and they form their characters in the forecastle.

If the material is in them, it is bound to come out. The old time naval sailors can tell at a glance whether a just shipped boy or a boy fresh aboard a cruising man-of-war from a training ship has the "makings" of a finished sailor and a good shipmate in his composition. If their careful inspection of such a boy convinces them that the lad is worth their pains, they "go to work" on him from the very outset of his cruising career, season him with all of the practical ship and gun information that they themselves have picked up after years of experience, and thus supplement the technical education that the boy receives from the officers. The sailors who thus take a kindly interest in a boy who looks promising do not treat him with partiality, and he gets swatted about just as much as the apprentice who is a sluggard.

But the interest they exhibit in drilling sea lore into his mind and their pains in instructing him on every little valuable detail as the occasion arises plainly show that they have "got him in their minds," and observation proves that the boys who are thus picked out by the old timers up forward as being worth these efforts are the lads who get the warrant officers' blouses when their apprenticeship is over. Ask any warrant officer in the United States navy today about the struggle he had to finally attain the wearing of a sword from the wearing of a figure of eight knot, and he will begin to speak affectionately of two or three grumpy, savage old boa'n's mates or quartermasters to whom he claims he owes most of his success. It is a matter of pride with the old timers to thus boost a lad up the ladder.

From his very first day on board either a training ship or a man-of-war proper the unfledged youngster is expected to hop right out of his boyhood and to assume to all intents and purposes the full status of a man. He lives among men that have ranged the world most of their lives; he works alongside of them, and almost as much work is expected from him as from the old timers; he puts up with the same amount of hardship, toes the same mark of discipline, is quite as responsible at the mast for derelictions and just as liable to a tour in the brig in double irons for misconduct as his older shipmates, who regard the circumnavigation of the globe as a bagatelle.

The boy who at the outset of his naval life sheds a lonesome tear or two in his hammock, but who keeps up a brave front when in view of his shipmates, is the lad who may be always marked for a winner. It would be out of nature for a youngster of any sort of sensibilities whatsoever to plunge into man-of-war life, with all of its apparent rigidity at first sight, without being a bit taken aback and oppressed by the roughness of it all. The navy is composed, as a whole, fore and aft, of genuine masculine men and of deeply affectionate and unswervingly loyal men, too, when their esteem and confidence have been won, but in no environment is the parade of even the slightest suspicion of sentimentality more quickly frowned upon than upon the forward deck of a man-of-war.

From the purely physical point of view apprenticeship in the navy is a fine thing for a lad. Nine out of ten naval apprentices when they attain their majorities are strapping, rugged, brawny men, capable of enduring any amount of hardship and possessing a quality of health and soundness that is bound to see them through many ups and downs ashore should they elect to quit the sea when they reach the age of 21, which not many of them do, by the way. Of course in order to get into the navy at all the apprentice must be sound of body, but many of the lads only get into the service by narrow margins, owing to their being undersized or of no very rugged character of physical make up. Once they get to work on the decks of a man-of-war, providing there is nothing latent and constitutional the matter with them, it is amazing to see how the lads begin to spread and grow. They are put through the most exacting exercises, quite aside from their daily bit of heavy work—exercises that are designed to bring every muscle of the body into play—and the result is that they very soon begin to expand, and the steel gets into their muscles, there to remain as long as they live.

When the apprentices emerge from their apprenticeship and ship over as full fledged bluejackets at the seaman gunner rate, they are given first call in the distribution of petty officer prizes and are, as stated, eligible for the promotion to the rank of warrant officers. For these reasons apprentices are never called upon during the service as boys to perform any menial tasks on shipboard. The whole idea of naval apprenticeship in the American navy is to inculcate uprightness, dignity and manliness into the lads, for upon the character of these boys the future of the forward ends of American men-of-war is known to depend.—Philadelphia Times.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

..Dr. Chase's Ointment..

His suffering from Ulcerating Piles Cured.

He says:—I was troubled with itching piles for five years, and was badly ulcerated. They were very painful, so much so that I could not sleep. I tried almost every remedy heard of, and was recommended to use Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box, and from the first application got such relief that I was satisfied a cure would be made. I used in all two boxes, and am now completely cured.

Every remedy given by Dr. Chase cost years of study and research, and with an eye single to its adaptation for the ailments for which it was intended. Dr. Chase detested cure-alls, and it has been proven ten thousand times that not one of his formulas leave a bad after-effect. Dr. Chase's Ointment is based on lanoline, and the best physicians prescribe it.

THE LAST MAN SHAVED.

An Explanation by the Barber That Did Not Quiet His Nerves.

There were five of us hunting and fishing in the Queensland bush when one rainy day a stranger appeared. He said he was a tramp barber, and as none of us had been shaved for a fortnight we gave him half a day's work.

About four hours after he had left us a band of six men rode up, and the leader inquired if we had seen a tall, roughly dressed man pass that way. We told him of the barber, and he looked from man to man and exclaimed:

"Good gracious, but you are all freshly shaved!"

"Yes, we gave the barber a job."

"And he shaved each one of you?"

"He did, and did it well."

"Boys, do you hear that?" shouted the man as he turned to his companions.

"What of it?" asked one of our party.

"Why, he went insane yesterday and cut a man's throat in his barber's chair over at Unadilla, and we're after him to put him in an asylum."

They rode away at a gallop and next morning returned to our camp with the man, who had been captured after a hard fight and was tied on his horse. He seemed to remember us when he was given a drink of water, and as he handed the cup back he quietly observed:

"I say, gentlemen, please excuse me. I meant to finish off the last man who got shaved, but I got to thinking of something else, and it slipped my mind."—Cape Times.

MERRY MOMENTS.

Our Worst Affliction.

Oh, the man who tells his troubles
Now appears upon the scene,
And each grief he more than doubles
By his melancholy mien,
For he sighs
With surprise
As his talent he applies
To destroy hope's glittering bubbles
Which were floating so serene
As he drops into a chair
And exclaims in blank despair,
"Great Scott,
Ain't it hot?"

When at last you are forgetting
How the perspiration glides,
In he comes, your mood upsetting
Like a freight train which collides,
And his gloom
Fills the room
With the sadness of a tomb
When he howls all unregretting
As your patience he derides,
And he's hardly said "Farewell"
Ere another comes to yell,
"Great Scott,
Ain't it hot?"
—Washington Star.

A Neglected Leader.

"That goes to show," said the man who rolls his trousers up and wears a monocle, "how unpopular the royal family is in Spain. I didn't believe such absolute indifference is possible."

"What are you talking about?"

"The way those people refuse to follow the fashion. Here's a member of the royal family down with the measles and not another case reported in Spanish society."—Washington Star.

LINING UP FOR SCHOOL.

Preparations at the Peterborough Bookstore for Supplying the Scholars with their New Books, etc.

Getting the young folks ready to resume their studies at school on Thursday will be the feature of this week at the Peterborough Bookstore. As surely as the needle points to the pole, just as surely will economy and self-interest direct prudent parents to this busy big store.

Attention is called to the conspicuous advertisement of A. H. Stratton & Co. on another page, a perusal of which will enable one to form a good idea of the extensive preparations made at the Peterborough Bookstore for the rush for school supplies during the next few days. It is important to bear in mind that the stock will be found inexhaustible for all possible demands, and that scholars will not be subjected to any errors or inconveniences if they have their school wants filled here. Being thoroughly acquainted with what every scholar requires we can help them in deciding what is best to get and what their teachers are most likely to approve. All the authorized school books for every form now ready to pass out to the scholars. Everything that is special and "biggest" in scribblers, exercise books school bags, slates, copy books, drawing books, pencils, etc.

One of the treats we have in store for the boys and girls who come to the Peterborough Bookstore for their school supplies is an interesting and attractive variety of presents to be given away free. A present goes with every purchase—and among the gifts are dolls, mirrors, finger rings, watches, flag pins, whistles, mugs, fancy cups and saucers, pitchers, balls, etc. Come now, boys and girls, get your orders in early. Don't all wait until the last day. Might as well make a start to-day and save the crush and crowds later on.

LINDSAY CHEESE BOARD.

1700 Boxes Boarded—The Patrons Refused 7 7-8 but Jumped at the Even 8c—The Price Considered Exceptionally Good.

The regular fortnightly meeting of the Lindsay cheese board was held Monday morning in the council chamber. President Thos. Robertson and the other officers were present, also Buyers Whitton, Flavelle and Fitzgerald, and Instructor Kerr.

HIGHEST FIGURE OF THE YEAR PAID.

Previous to calling for bids President Robertson reminded the buyers of the high price paid in Peterborough last Wednesday, adding that he hoped they were prepared to do as well for the Lindsay factories.

Mr. Flavelle led off by offering 7 3/16, and Mr. Whitton made it 7 1/8. There being no advance he called a number of factories, with no takers.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered 8c for selections, and named North Ops, Star, Mariposa, Cambray, Bobcaygeon, and Oakwood.

All accepted, giving him an even 500 boxes.

Mr. Whitton then offered 8c for a further selection and took Reaboro, Maple Leaf, Omemee, Janetville, Lorneville, Fenelon Falls and North Verulam, totalling 632 boxes.

Mr. Flavelle continued the good work thus begun by taking at the same figure Red Rock, Palestine, Pine Grove, Cameron, Dunsford, Little Britain and Valentia, thus clearing the Board.

THE PROPOSED CREAMERY.

Mr. Lytle reported that he had been soliciting parties to take stock in the new creamery to be established in Lindsay, and $1,000 worth had been taken by five citizens. There would be a large number of applications for $10 shares. As soon as stock to the amount of $3,000 had been subscribed the work of building the factory would be proceeded with.

The board then adjourned.

The New Granolithic Pavements

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Lots and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots and Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a loud call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are out loose entirely from the values.

A RED MAN'S LOYALTY.

A British Columbia Chief Gives Tribute to the Queen.

A British Columbia correspondent of the Globe tells the following:

"A recent arrival from the Kitimaat district in the north tells an exceedingly interesting anecdote of our gracious Queen. He said: "An incident was recounted to a few of us at Lowe Inlet that is worth remembering, as it contains a sentiment which shows that there are Indians who really deserve the term "noble red men," so frequently uttered in a sneering way by the whites.

"Chief Shakes of the Kitimaats, who has a very good house at Lowe Inlet, also owns the fishing privilege below the falls on a stream close by. It seem that during one season the chief sold 60,000, for which the manager of a cannery paid him $5,000. In the exuberance of his spirits and loyalty the chief conceived the idea of sending $100 as a present to Queen Victoria, and handed the sum to Indian Agent Todd, to be forwarded, which was done.

"In due time her Majesty caused to be sent to Chief Shakes a letter showing her appreciation of his loyalty, and she asked him to accept a very fine steel engraving of herself, set in a beautiful frame, together with two plaids of sheep's wool, just of the kind to delight any native chief. These were forwarded through Mr. Todd for presentation to the venerable chief. Shakes called his people together on the day of the presentation. Mr. Todd read the Queen's letter, which was interpreted to the old chief. When Mr. Todd handed the queenly gifts to the chief the old man, in responding, said it made his heart glad to know that an humble individual residing so far away from his good mother had not been forgotten by her, and that he would continue to love and revere our great queen. He added that although he could never expect to see her here on earth, he would try to lead such a life as would enable him to meet her in heaven. And then, overcome with emotion, he burst into tears.

An Exciting Jump.

A jump from a bridge into the water to save their lives was the exciting experience of two young people near Sharbot Lake the other day. E. W. Sproule, school teacher at Sharbot Lake, and a young lady camper from Texas, were walking along the C. P. R. track, about a half mile west of the station. At that point there is a bridge, 200 yards long, spanning a body of water, and the young couple were half way across when a C.P.R. train suddenly approached. They had not sufficient time to reach the end of the bridge, and, to avoid a horrible death Mr. Sproule took the young lady in his arms and jumped into the water, just a few seconds before the locomotive swept by. They reached shore in safety.

"Hats that are Hats"
"Hats that are Cheap Hats"

A Boy bought a book and a whistle for $1.10, he paid $1.00 more for the book than for the whistle, what did the whistle cost? You say 10c, but that is wrong.

NOW—When not more than one person in ten answers this correctly, how can we expect them to realize the following:—

FINE PEARL FEDORA and SOFT HATS

Cannot be made for the price we are charging for them—

$1.25 Worth $2 to $2.50 Each.

Then how can we afford to sell them for $1.25? These are excuses which do not directly concern the public—condition of over stock—incoming goods—lateness of season and the like—which makes sacrifices inevitable, even wise. It is a time when the maxim holds good "Your necessity is my opportunity." The same holds good of Linen Hats, all qualities, now 25c. to clear.

Is the Only Way Britain Can Help China Against Russia,

SAYS CHINA'S TSUNG LI YAMEN.

The Czar's Peace Proposal Further Discussed—Europe Not Yet Ready for Disarmament—France Disgruntled—Germany Will Accept Conference, But Expects No Result—What May Happen.

Pekin, Aug. 31.—A high member of the Tsung Li Yamen (Chinese Foreign Office), who is a British sypmathizer, complained, in the course of a recent interview, that Great Britain's assurances of support against Russian aggression were belated.

"Why," said this functionary, "withhold such a declaration until Russia has secured Port Arthur and France obtained considerable cessions in the south? The disintegration of the Empire has begun; and to-day the necessity for strong action is less urgent than when Russia first obtained a foothold."

He admitted that China had broken her promises to England, but this, he argued, was because Russian pressure was too strong to be resisted. He complained of "British ignoarnce of Russia's line of action," and said:

"Why does not England approach Russia directly with a declaration that Russia's interference in China will be regarded as a casus belli? It is useless to punish helpless China and to participate in the disintegration of the empire. The Tsung Li Yamen prefers that British influence should be paramount; but it is unable to do anything unless England helps, with sword in hand."

A New Combination.

London, Aug. 31.—The Pekin correspondent of the Daily Mail says: "Negotiations are being conducted by Yung Wing, an American citizen, to whom the Tsung Li Yamen granted a concession for the Tien Tsin, Chin Kiang Railroad, with Messrs. Jardine, Mathieson & Company of London, and Mr. Allan, representing a New York banking syndicate and a German banking house in Berlin, with the object of establishing an Anglo-American-German combination for the construction of the railway. The estimated outlay exceeds £5,000,000, and it is intended that the undertaking shall be solely of a commercial character.

THE CZAR'S PEACE PROPOSAL.

A General Belief That the Conference Will Be Called Only to Be Shelved—France Angry With Russia.

London, Aug. 31.—The newspapers here continue to devote a large amount of their space to commenting upon and criticizing the Czar's peace note. While naturally differing in regard to the reasons actuating the appeal, they generally agree that the outcome will be a conference of the premiers, if not of the sovereigns themselves, probably at Copenhagen, which will be followed by an expression of concurrence in the humanitarian aims of the Czar, and a report of the resolution to their respective governments, when the whole thing will be shelved indefinitely.

The latest comments from Paris show there is intense irritation there on the subject. The Czar's proposal is regarded as being unfriendly and inconsistent with the Franco-Russian alliance.

Curiously enough, in support of this view, yesterday's official Hamburg Correspondent publishes a telegram from St. Petersburg, confirming the report that Emperor William of Germany and the Czar exchanged views in regard to the establishment of a lasting state of peace "which was fully demonstrated by the identity of the monarchs' wishes."

Feared Industrial Competition.

London, Aug. 31.—The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says: "The subject was long on the mind of Emperor Frederick, who feared the time would come when Europe, exhausted by militarism, would be at the mercy of the industrial competition of the United States. A diplomatist assures me that Emperor William intended to revert to the subject of disarmament while at Jerusalem, in the coming autumn, to attend the dedication of the Church of the Redeemer.

Czar Fears for Siberia.

"In addition to taking the wind out of the Kaiser's sails, the Czar is the only Russian sovereign who has traversed Siberia, and he must have seen such a population of political malcontents as might easily be induced by American, Japanese and English interests to declare for independence. The greatest objection to the circular is that such a clever person as Count Muravieff signs it."

Labor Satisfied With Czar's Note.

Bristol, Eng., Aug. 31.—The Trades Union Congress has unanimously passed a resolution expressing satisfaction at the Czar's peace note, and calling on the British Government to give effect thereto, "as militarism is the great foe of liberty and is a crushing burden to the toiling millions."

In other quarters it is alleged that the Czar's pronouncement was directly inspired by Queen Victoria, whose greatest hope is that her reign may not again be disturbed by war. The Queen, confessedly, has long sought to restrain Emperor William and it is not unlikely that she used her great influence with the Czarina to secure the Czar's support.

He Thought of It Himself.

London, Aug. 31.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says: "Count Muravieff, the Russian Foreign Minister, declares that the idea originated entirely with Emperor Nicholas. There is much skepticism in diplomatic circles as to any practical results from a conference; and it is admitted on all sides that the circular came as the greatest surprise."

Germany Will Accept.

London Aug. 31.—The Berlin correspondent of the Daily News says: Germany will accept the conference suggested by the Czar, but expects nothing to result from it.

Lord Salisbury on Armed Europe.

London, Aug. 31.—The Daily Graphic says that Lord Salisbury in 1888 communicated to Emperor William a memorandum showing the tremendous cost of armed Europe. Emperor William was so impressed that he privately intimated his intention to summon a disarmament congress. The semi-official German press ventilated the idea, with the result that so much animosity was revealed on the part of France that the Kaiser abandoned the project.

If Only Four Powers Agree.

London, Aug. 31.—One correspondent says: "Emperor Nicholas has had in mind the prospective activity of the United States and Japan in the world's affairs, and has ascertained that Great Britain is absolutely determined to impose upon China a complete military and naval reorganization. I understand that if only four powers agree the conference will be held without the others."

HOLLAND'S YOUNG QUEEN.

Her Coming of Age Elicits a Proclamation From the Queen Regent.

The Hague, Aug. 31.—The Queen Regent of Holland, in a proclamation just issued, upon the occasion of the end of her regency, her daughter, Queen Wilhelmina, coming of age to-day, expresses warm pleasure at seeing the whole nation "ranged joyously around the throne of the young Queen," thanks God that her dearest wish has been heard, and, after thanking the people for their loving and faithful support of herself, her Majesty invokes God's blessing upon the youthful sovereign, and concludes: "May our country become great in everything in which a small nation can be great."

MYSTERIOUS STAMP ROBBERY.

London Police Investigating the Disappearance of a New Issue.

London, Aug. 31.—The London police are investigating a mysterious robbery. A short time ago the postal authorities printed a new issue of postage and revenue stamps for one of the British Central African States, which were consigned to the Governor of the State, who, however, never received them, they having completely disappeared. The face value of the stamps is $5,000. Pending the investigation of the police the whole issue has been cancelled.

THE CZAR'S PEACE PROPOSALS.

A proposition for disarmament coming from the Czar cannot well be disregarded. It must be discussed in all the capitals of Europe. But unhappily for Nicholas and the project he has submitted, says the Montreal Herald, the Russian reputation for duplicity is such as to make it doubtful whether this or any other project emanating from St. Petersburg can be received without suspicion. Count Muravieff is notoriously indifferent to criticism of his methods so long as by their employment he gains the ends of Russian diplomacy. Intrigue and deceit have been his chosen weapons, and with these he has won the greatest prizes and the highest recognition. He did not scruple, in the Port Arthur incident, to make light of the personal honor of the Czar himself when by doing so he contrived to hoodwink Lord Salisbury. These will, therefore, be serious question in all the courts of Europe as to what is meant by this move.

Either the suggestion to disarm is sincere or it is not. If it is, it comes with rather bad grace from a power that is intriguing in China for a vast extension of empire, and one which in so doing has brought itself to the verge of war. Undoubtedly the Czar is right in desiring to be rid of the great armaments that drain the life blood of his people, but there is room for the criticism that up to the present more care has been expended upon the army than upon those for whose preservation it is supposed to stand. Russia has an enormous industrial population, but until recently nothing has been done to develop its capabilities. If Russia really wants to disarm it means a check to her recognized policy, which has all along been one of steady advancement on a strictly military basis. It may be the present rulers see in the partion of China a completion of their imperial plans for the present, and that it will be desirable to wait a while, to conserve the strength of the people, to grow rich on the two continents now under their domination, before entering upon the prosecution of any more plans, new or old. But there will certainly be an indisposition to believe that such is the case.

Will Russia abandon her hopes of taking Constantinople? Or will the dream of possessing India be exorcised from the minds of the military bureaucracy?

It is just possible that Lord Salisbury has been pressing Russia so hard, and the prospect of war has been so near in the last few days, that Count Muravieff has begun to play a great game. It is believed that Russia is not to-day ready for war with England. In three years, with her railways well advanced, and other deliberate preparations made, she may be. The disarmament proposition may, therefore, be only a move to gain time. Again, if Britain persists in the course that has been mapped out for her by public opinion and by her responsible ministers, and makes war the price of further Russian aggression in the Far East, the nations disposed to ally themselves with Russia will have a favourable opening furnished them for declaring their position. Altogether the springing of such a proposition at this time, as all the indications were pointing to war, makes it appear that stirring times are afoot, and that the nineteenth century may possibly close amid convulsions greater than those which marked the exit of its predecessor. If, on the other hand, the Czar's words should find echo in the capitals of Europe, and that disarment should follow, which would make the twentieth century the greatest in the world's history, there would be reason to hold his name in honour forever. But it is not to be forgotten that the Czar is ruled by his bureaucrats, whose instincts are all for war, and that the philosophic Moltke declared the prospects of universal and continuous peace to be the dream of a fool.

WINTER DAIRYING MOVEMENT.

To make the business profitable the dairyman must carry it on during the whole year. Milk and its products have been as a rule dearer in winter than in summer. A large amount of capital is invested in cows, barns and cheese factory and creamery buildings. It is wasteful policy to permit so much capital to be unproductive during five or six months of the year. In the past it has not only been unproductive but a source of expense. Considerable labour on farms during the winter is absorbed into the unremunerative chores of the farm buildings, unless animals are kept yielding a product or increasing in value. Cows must be fed during the winter. If a direct revenue can be obtained the work can be done with more enjoyment, more of it will be undertaken, and more profitable methods will be applied. Other branches of farm management such as the raising of young stock, the fattening of swine and the keeping of laying hens, will grow out of it. There are few more discouraging and joyless occupations than attending on cows all winter, without any revenue from the work.

There are hundreds of men who are employed as cheese makers during the summer months and who unwillingly are idle during the winter months. If the capacity and ability which they possess can be applied to making butter during the wiater months so much will be gained.

When dairymen obtain a satisfactory revenue from cheese factories during the summer, and get hardly any income during the winter, they can make only very slow progress in bettering their circumstances. The patrons who send most milk to the cheese factories in summer, might also send relatively the largest quantity in winter. As a result of the immediate revenue from butter-making in winter cows get better care and better feeding. As a consequence, they give more milk the following summer. After winter dairying was begun at the first Government dairy stations, the President of the Mount Elgin Dairy Company, who had thirty cows and had milked them during the winter, stated that during the month of May of the following year be obtained twenty-five per cent. more milk from his herd of cows than he had ever obtained in that month in any previous year. Doubtless that was mainly owing to the fact that that the cows were kept in a fairly warm stable during the winter months and fed on succulent feed to induce a large flow of milk. Unless cows on the average are made to milk during ten months in the year, they are likely to become unprofitable as milkers. It will not do to let the cows become a leisurely class, on holidays for five or six months of the year.

The by-products of dairying in the form of skim-milk and butter-milk are more valuable for the raising of stock, the feeding of swine and the growing of chickens, during the winter and very early spring months than they are during the summer. The dairymen have not been, and cannot be fully prosperous until they have a revenue coming in regularly during the whole year.

PRESERVATION OF EGGS.

Prof. Robertson in his annual report says:—A fresh-laid egg is never improved by age, but its good qualities may by preserved, if not wholly almost wholly, by suitable handling. Eggs should be gathered from the nests at least once every day. An egg may deteriorate for food purposes in one or two ways: It may change unfavourably for food purposes by the beginning of the process of hatching; and it may decay through fermentation started at the pores of the shell. Any moisture on the shell hastens the beginning of decay in that way. An egg may look well when examined by candle light in the usual way, and still be slightly stale inside. Some egg merchants detect whether they are quite fresh-flavoured by breaking some, emptying the contents out and smelling the inside of the shells.

If only a few eggs in the lot are discovered to be stale, that will cast discredit on the whole and very greatly reduce the selling price. Immediately after the eggs are collected from the nests and cleaned, they should be put in a cool place, until they can be despatched to market.

Great care should be taken in packing eggs not to use any substance which has in itself a disagreeable odour or flavour, as it will likely be imparted to the eggs. The keeping of eggs packed in musty straw or musty bran will impart that disagreeable quality to them.

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

International Commissioners Work Hard While They Are at It—The Behring Sea Sealing Question Reached.

Quebec, Aug. 31.—After a week of rain and cold, the sun shone out from a cloudless sky, bright and clear and warm yesterday, and the United States commissioners to the International Conference began to look with kindlier feelings upon their place of meeting.

All the United States Commissioners will return to the United States during the adjournment, beginning next Friday. The approaching fall election will occupy the attention of a number of them, notably Mr. Dingley of Maine.

Lord Herschell will spend a portion of the two weeks at Newport, and will also visit Toronto. He does not expect to go to Ottawa. Sir James Winter will return to Newfoundland on Thursday.

All the commissioners were present yesterday morning, Sir James Winter having returned to the city during the night.

One thing is certain, so far as the commission is concerned; they are doing something. When the joint commission meets they sit continuously from eleven o'clock until late in the afternoon, and have their luncheon served in the Parliament buildings. During all the sessions the secretaries and messengers are kept on the jump for books and papers concerning the subjects under discussion. It is known that books relating to the Behring Sea sealing question have been much in evidence yesterday, and it is inferred by outsiders that this important question has been taken up.

Some of the Canadian authorities believe that the commissioners will never get beyond the sealing question. They argue that last winter when Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies went to Washington to have a settlement of that question they failed, and that conditions have not changed since then. It is asserted here that Sir Wilfrid Laurier at that time would not enter into any settlement of the Behring Sea matter unless the authorities at Washington were willing to take up and settle all other disputes. This the men at Washington were unwilling to do, and it is now maintained that the attitude of both Canadians and Americans is unchanged.

Lord Herschell last evening removed a misapprehension under which the newspaper representatives were with regard to the official news to be given out of the conference's doings. It had been understood that Lord Herschell and Senator Fairbanks had been named to give out to the press daily a brief announcement of what the commissioners had done during the day. To the group of newspaper men who waited upon him last evening His Lordship said this was a mistake. It was not the intention, he said, that he and Senator Fairbanks should necessarily give out anything. Only they should decide mutually when there was something to be given out.

It has been definitely determined that when the conference reassembles on Sept. 20 it will again meet at Quebec.

The commissioners were photographed yesterday in a group by Livernois.

A PROTEST IN COURT.

Argument Heard Yesterday at Osgoode Hall—Judgment Reserved on All Points.

Toronto, Aug. 31. — Yesterday Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, acting for Mr. Charles Calder, M.P.P. of South Ontario, appeared before Mr. Justice Osler at Osgoode Hall, to move to set aside the election petition against Mr. Calder. Mr. Nesbitt argued on two objections to the petition. He held that Mr. C. M. Pilkey, the petitioner, was an alien and had no right to be a petitioner. Mr. Holman, for the petitioner, said that Mr. Pilkey was on the voters' list and had every right to act. Mr. Nesbitt further claimed that Mr. Pilkey did not act in good faith, and that the petition was decided upon at a meeting at which Mr. Pilkey was in attendance. Next day the petitioner swore that the charges were correct, and Mr. Nesbitt quoted two cases in New Brunswick courts where petitions were voided on similar grounds. Judgment was reserved on all the points. The petition is set down for hearing at Whitby on Sept. 13.

TRIAL OF MIDDLETON

Charged With Obtaining Goods Under False Pretences.

H. RIDER HAGGARD IN LETTERS.

The Evidence Taken at Woodstock in the Case Before the Magistrate—A Charge of Bigamy Has Also Been Laid—Three Wives to Be Accounted For—The Case.

Woodstock, Ont., Aug. 31.—Reginald Launcelot Middleton appeared in the Woodstock Police Court yesterday morning to answer on preliminary trial to the charge of obtaining goods from E. J. Cole, of the Empire China Hall, under false pretences, the alleged false pretences chiefly being that Middleton got the goods on the representation that the Brantford & Woodstock Railway was being built by the C.P.R.

Middleton was gaped at by a big crowd of people on the way to the Police Court, while every foot of space in the court room was taken up by spectators, and many were unable to gain admittance. The prisoner wore a wan look as a result of his illness in gaol, but brightened up as he found occupation in posting his lawyers, H. J. Finkle and A. S. Ball, who conducted the defence.

The prisoner pleaded not guilty. Mr. Cole said that Middleton not only intimated that he was the chief engineer of the new railroad, but that when asked who was building the road Middleton answered "the C.P.R." This was when Middleton was purchasing goods in Mr. Cole's store. Middleton had explained that the vouchers for the goods were all sent to Montreal, and those to whom debts were due were expected to meet the pay car and receive their pay. After explaining this the prisoner had purchased goods to the amount of seven dollars, and gave a voucher as payment. The account was opened, said Mr. Cole, on the understanding that the C.P.R. was at the back of it.

To Mr. A. S. Ball the witness said that the prisoner had been introduced to him by Mr. Charles Pyne, of the Hotel Oxford. Another of Middleton's representations to Cole was that he had built the Crow's Nest Pass Railway.

Mr. Alf. Rubbra of the Sentinel-Review, who took a trip over the survey of the road with Middleton, told of the railway man's representations to him, which were to the effect that the C.P.R. were behind the B. & W. road. Middleton had also showed the reporter a copy of a railway journal, in which an item appeared intimating that Middleton was working under the C.P.R. auspices.

Mr. James Holmes and Mr. Peter Poole of Woodstock, A. J. Davis of Brantford, and James Cornish of Burford, who also had dealings with Middleton, were all closely questioned concerning the methods of the alleged swindler. This was all the evidence taken, and at the request of the Crown the case was further enlarged for a week.

At one o'clock in the afternoon an information was sworn out against Middleton, alleging that he did unlawfully marry Miss Sarah Smith of Sarnia, while he had already a wife in the person of Miss Lillian Munroe of Toronto.

H. RIDER HAGGARD KNEW HIM.

Was to Have Got £10,000 for Writing His Life as Macdonald.

Toronto, Aug. 31.—Two letters from H. Rider Haggard, the famous novelist, addressed to Alex. Macdonald, and now in the possession of Detective Greer, are the latest developments in the Middleton case. The letters, under date of April 11 and 17, 1898, are corroborative of the story that while Macdonald, or Middleton, was in England, he secured an introduction to one of the most noted of English novelists in connection with a new story of the Klondike. The letters are written on the note paper of Mr. Haggard's residence, "Detchingham House," Norfolk.

In the left-hand corner of the front page is the Haggard crest, a peculiar looking affair, composed of mysterious hieroglyphics.

The first letter states that a friend of the writer, Mr. Arthur Cochrane, has said Macdonald might be inclined to spend a quiet Sunday at Norfolk, and contains an invitation from Mr. and Mrs. Haggard, who would like to meet one who has led so adventurous a life. Whether Macdonald accepted the invitation or not is is hard to say. It is hardly likely that he did, but he wrote Mr. Haggard, and the second letter, written six days after the first, acknowledges a communication, and accepts an offer to write a story of Macdonald's life, experiences and discoveries in the British Northwest Territories, Alaska and the Arctic regions, for a consideration of £10,000, nine thousand to be paid in cash and the balance to be taken in shares in Claim 30, Eldorado Creek Company. Both letters are signed by the famous novelist and look perfectly genuine.

Macdonald's only object in getting them would be that they would be useful to him in the gigantic mining scheme which he was working in London, and which was nipped in the bud as he was about to get out with £10,000 of somebody's money for "development" purposes.

The letters of Mr. Haggard came into the possession of Inspector Greer yesterday through Mrs. M. C. Thomas of Hamilton, who is one of Macdonald's mothers-in-law. There is no doubt that Maggie Thomas was married to Macdonald in Chicago by Justice O'Toole on May 27, 1897. Mrs. Macdonald showed Inspector Greer her marriage certificate yesterday. This makes three sure weddings which the man now in Woodstock jail must account for. The charge of bigamy laid yesterday will be heard next Tuesday at the conclusion of the false pretences charge, and developments of a most startling nature are promised on Monday.

To Be Charged With Stealing.

Ottawa, Aug. 31.—The police here have received word that R. L. Middleton, alias McDonald, the railway projector, now in Woodstock jail, will be prosecuted, whether convicted on the other charges or not, for stealing a valuable collection of coins from the Post Office Department, Ottawa, some months ago. It is said the department has received strong evidence against Middleton.

THE INDUSTRIAL.

Sir Oliver Mowat Presses the Button and Sets Toronto's Fair in Motion.

Toronto, Aug. 31.—The ceremony of opening the Industrial Exhibition this year fell to the Lieutenant-Governor, Sir Oliver Mowat. Before he touched the button, which was electrically connected with the machinery of the Fair, Sir Oliver listened to that ancient infliction—an address of welcome—one paragraph of which is worth recording. The excerpt is:

"To you, sir, who have had no small share in the making of this Dominion, it must be especially gratifying to contemplate her present position, to review her past and to anticipate her future. As an alderman of this city, which has been your home for nearly sixty years, as a member of the Parliament of Canada; as a judge; as Premier of Ontario for almost a quarter of a century; as Senator and Minister of Justice, and now as her Majesty's representative in this your native province, you have for many years taken a prominent and honorable part in raising Canada to the position which she occupies to day, recognized by the world as a nation commanding the resources and controlling the destinies of half a continent."

By 2 o'clock yesterday Sir Oliver had touched the button, the machinery was in motion and the Fair happily started. The function was witnessed by the usual local celebrities, the Mayor and aldermen, the city officials, the city and county members of Parliament and of the Legislature, and Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, Emerson Bainbridge, M.P., England, and the mayors of several Canadian cities. They were afterwards entertained at luncheon by the directors.

The attendance was the largest ever seen on an opening day.

WHEAT AGAIN FIRM.

A Considerable Amount of Bearish News Could Not Keep It Down—The Latest Prices.

Tuesday Evening, Aug. 30.

The bearish influences in the speculative wheat market to-day were the lower English cables, a break of 8c per bushel in Paris, a decline of 1⅝c in cash wheat at Duluth, and increased market deliveries in the Northwest, bringing the primary receipts up to about the level of those of last year. The Chicago market, however, stood the test, and after covering a range of about 1c per bushel, the September and December options closed ½c above the previous final figures.

On the Liverpool Board to-day, spot red winter declined ½d per cental, and the September and December options went off ¾d and ½d per cental, respectively. On the Paris Board cash wheat declined 3f 55c, flour at the same time advancing 2f 50c.

Sheep and lambs—The offerings were moderate, but sufficient for the demand, there being seven loads, including three loads of Canada lambs, and two held over from yesterday. To-day the bods was $5.65, at which price two loads were sold. The Canadas are still coming quite bucky, and that makes them slow of sale. Western lambs, choice to extra, were quoted at $5 to $6.25, good to choice $5.50 to $6. Sheep, choice to extra, $4.50 to $4.75, good to choice $4.25 to $4.50.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	3,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 26

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian Institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

THE ORILLIAS WIN FROM PETERBOROUGH

AND PUT THE LOCAL CLUB OUT OF THE RUNNING.

The Intermediate Championship is Lost, but the Peterboroughs Have Still the Senior Series to Play Off—Orillia Comes Here on the 9th.

The Peterboroughs lost their chance of winning the intermediate championship, yesterday, on the Toronto Island, when they were defeated by the Orillias by the big score of eight goals to one. The local boys seemed to lose their nerve entirely during the early part of the match and little or no combination work was seen, by reason of the fact that the Peterborough home fielders were not quick enough in getting away from their checks, and before the ball could be worked in close to the flags they would lose it. The Orillia field, on the contrary, spread out every time the ball was in possession of one of their men and some neat passing was done. Towards the latter part of the match the Peterborough defence men pulled themselves together and played a grand game staving off attack after attack on their goal and feeding the home well. The effort was of no avail, however, coming too late in the day. If the same style of play had been adopted at the beginning of the game the result might have been different. As it was, it took the Orillia's 42 minutes to score their last goal. The Mail and Empire gives the following account of the match.

To decide the championship of the North-eastern district of the C. L. A., the Peterborough and Orillia lacrosse teams played at the Island yesterday, when the latter twelve outplayed the former and won by the overwhelming score of 8 goals to 1. It was a victory of the straightest kind for the Northeners, who played the Peterborough men to a standstill. The game was a hard one in many respects, and things were done there that should never be condoned, as they were at times. Referee Glanville of Mount Forest, was far too lenient and repeatedly allowed foul tactics to be indulged in.

The game was late in starting and as a consequence it was 7 o'clock before it was finished.

To begin with, the Peterborough braves in their red shirts made a dash for the Orillia flags, where Quinn relieved, and from a bit of neat combination work "Mary" Curran got the rubber and poked it past Dobbin in three minutes.

"Mickey" O'Connor and Dobbin were called upon to defend, and again Lynch saved when Thompson and Grant became aggressive during the second game. On a neat combination by Wilkinson, Grant, and Armstrong, the last named scored the second for his team in six minutes.

The third was a flash, lasting about fifteen seconds, Grant doing the trick.

The Orillians had a close call at their goal in the fourth game; then they took a couple of shots at the other fellows' flags, but Lynch saved well. Churchill slashed unnecessarily, while Grant took advantage of an easy chance to score, after both Brown and Lynch stepped back to let him do it.

There was a squabble which developed into a pugilistic encounter at the beginning of the fifth game. Boulton Kean, who was the Orillia timekeeper, ran into the field and got mixed up in it with Lionel King, for which the Orillia man was removed from the ground enclosure.

Hogarth walked up to see the fun, and "Mickey" O'Connor hit him a star blow on the head, for which the Orillia player should have been put out of the whole match. Jack McCabe also had a hand in the row. The Peterborough lads got badly rattled, but Phelan succeeded in scoring in four minutes.

Then the Peterboroughs' captain put in a protest, according to the rule which gives the refree power to put a man off for a deliberate foul such as O'Connor's was.

A very close tussle happened at the Peterborough stakes, where Dobbin did some clever clearing. At close range Watson tallied in three minutes, putting the score 5 to 1 in Orillia's favour.

There were nice combination bursts by both teams when the seventh game began. Many chances were lost by Peterborough, but the very weak home playing was accountable for many a bad miss. "Big Indian" Thompson made a very clever check, and sallying down the field he passed to Watson, who banged the ball through in 6½ minutes.

Lynch and Brown did some effective work in the first part of the eighth game. There were many close scrimmages at Peterborough's goal, and twice the ball hit the poles, the second time Grant scooping it through on the rebound. Time, 4½ minutes. Score, 7 to 1 in favour of Orillia.

Dobbin opened the ninth game by making a clever body check, while the ball was taking a lightning trip through the flags. Peterborough then changed Jim McCabe to the home end of the team, King going on the defence from centre. Watson waved his ruddy mane in the air, which made him dizzy, and he missed an easy chance to do damage. "Barney" Quinn and Jim McCabe began to show each other their mutual love by each punching the other's ribs. Referee Glanville caught them rolling in a heap on the grass and chased them off the field. Dobbin played a grand game after that around the flags, and was better out than between the poles. "Mick" O'Connor played wonderfully well, and with Hanley in goal the tail end of Orillia's defence was splendid, indeed.

Orillia simply "played rag" with the red shirts, and tobbed the ball to one another as they pleased, while the Easteners stood still. After a tedious, but the best, game of forty-two minutes duration, Watson tossed the rubber to "Bunty" Armstrong, and away it went past Dobbin, scoring Orillia's eighth goal. There was a two-minute period to play, but the teams did not go on the field again.

Certain members of the Peterborough team can play better lacrosse than they did, and the spectators, of whom there were some 600, wondered what was up. Dobbin, Jack McCabe, Lynch and Brow played well at times and then let up in their efforts. It was only last Thursday that this same team were defeated in Orillia, and that by only 8 to 5. Something is wrong somewhere.

For Orillia, Hanley; "Mick" O'Connor, Thompson, Curran, Armstrong and Fred Grant played brilliantly. But for the knee work of Quinn and the slashing of Churchill these two might come into the list too.

There was too much internal disruption on the Peterborough team; they kept wrangling among themselves all the time.

The team were:—

Orillia—Goal, Hanley; point, Quinn; cover, M O'Connor; defence, D O'Connor, Churchill and Thompson; centre, Dunn; home field, Curran, Armstrong and Wilkinson; outside, Grant; inside, Watson; field captain, N Y Yates.

Peterborough — Goal, Dobbin; point, Lynch; cover, Brown; defence field, Glover, Jas McCabe and McDonough; centre, King; home field, Hogarth, John McCabe and Phelan; outside, Lipsett; inside, Mooney; captain, Dolan.

Umpires—G J Reid and A Jameson of Mount Forest.

Timekeepers—M B Tudhope, Toronto; B R Kean, Orillia; and Alf. Terrill, Peterborough.

An informal reception will be tendered him at 8 o'clock to-morrow evening, when all members of the association are invited.

There is no time to send out invitations; it is to be hoped, however, that there will be a good rally of the members, especially those on committees.

The religious work committee will meet to-morrow evening from 7 30 to 8 30.

And the physical work committee will meet on Friday evening. The annual fall announcements will be issued about Sept. 15th. Look out for it.

The show opens to-morrow afternoon at four o'clock, remaining open until six. The doors will be again open in the evening from seven until ten o'clock.

HAS TO GO TO GAOL.

A Grey-Haired Old Lady who Will Have to Spend Declining Years on the Hill.

Margaret Buchanan, who has resided in Havelock for the last twenty years and is very aged and infirm, was this morning committed to gaol on a charge of vagrancy, in order that she might not suffer from poverty.

The old lady is too feeble to work and the municipality of Havelock, as the magistrate expressed it, is too mean to keep her. She has two brothers who are well-to-do farmers near Norwood, but they have refused to give any assistance and, therefore, the old lady will have to spend her declining years in the county gaol.

A Perfect Painless Corn Remover.

It is singular how some people would suffer from day to day, year in and year out, rather than secure the means for the perfect removal of the trouble. Dr. Russell's Corn Cure supplies the means, and has relieved more suffering humanity during the past few years than all other remedies combined. Dr. Russell's Corn Cure is a perfectly permanent and painless corn remover. Price 25c. Sold by Ormond & Walsh.

STOLE A HEN.

As Well as Nine Chickens—Sent to gaol for a Month.

An old man named George Weldon was sent up to gaol for a month this morning by County Magistrate Edmison on a charge of theft.

Weldon, it seems, was slightly the worse of liquor, and in order to obtain more drink stole a hen and nine chickens from Miss Mills, of Ashburnham. He put the fowl in a bag and carried them around endeavouring to make a sale. Before he could do so the hen and her chicks were smothered, and he states that he then threw them away.

POGUE, OF PETERBOROUGH.

And Duncan, of the Same Place, will Live in Toronto for the Next Two Months.

(Toronto News.)

While busy passing bogus money on women, Charles Pogue, late of Peterborough, was joyous and brave, but when he was arrested and placed behind strong bars he became as tender as a baby. On every appearance in court since his apprehension he cried at brief intervals, piteously and copiously. As a booby prisoner he holds the record. In the police court today he and his comrade, William Duncan, late motorman on the electric cars at Peterborough, came up for sentence. Pogue at once began to cry, but his tears availed him nothing. Both were sent to gaol for two months.

A VERY PLEASANT OUTING.

Ashburnham Public School Picnic at Jubilee Point.

What proved to be a very pleasant affair was the annual outing of Ashburnham Public School, which was held at Jubilee on Tuesday, Aug. 30.

The scholars and their friends boarded the City of Peterborough, which conveyed them down the river in good time, Jubilee being reached shortly after eleven o'clock.

After dinner a programme of sports was run off. Mr. F. Adams, who is ex-chairman of the School Board and still a very worthy member thereof, assisted the teachers in conducting the sports.

Badges, suitably inscribed, were presented to the winners, the first prize badge being red and the second blue. The results were as follows:—

Girls under 10—Clara Adams, Jennie Revoy.

Boys under 10—Cecil Buck, Archie Craig.

Girls under 13—Pearl Law, Ada Whaley.

Boys under 13—Joe Hefferman, Archie Craig.

Boys 13 and over—Bobbie Long, George Chrowe.

Boot race—girls under 11—Clara Adams, Ada Whaley.

Boys boot race—Orlando Mowry, Robbie Long.

Girls boot race—Ada Whaley, Alice Revoy.

Boys' three-legged race—Robt. Long and George Chrowe; Orlando Mowry and Bruce Armstrong.

All-fours race—Robert Long, Oscar Matchett.

Boys long race—Orlando Mowry, Robert Long.

The prize, fifty cents, for selling the largest number of tickets, was won by Percy Crane.

The writing prizes, donated by Mr. H. Calcutt, to the third and fourth classes, were presented by Mr. Adams in the absence of Mr. Calcutt. The first prize in each class was one dollar, the second prize, fifty cents. In the third classes Clara Craig and Carrie Doupe were the winners, while Florence Dormer and Daisy Distin carried off the honours in the fourth classes.

Home was reached in good time after a pleasant sail. All present enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

The next public event in connection with the Ashburnham Public School, will be the second annual concert, to be held on the last Friday in January, 1899. As the last Friday in January has been chosen for this concert each year it is respectfully requested that other organizations avoid clashing with this date.

THE GOLF CONTEST.

CHEMONG VS. PETERBOROUGH.

Completion of the Interesting Match at Chemong—Exciting Play—Tea and Hop at Fobert's.

The finals of the golf match, Chemong vs. Peterborough, were finished yesterday, Chemong winning easily. Miss Macdonald and Mr. Hartshorne beat Miss Hamilton and Mr. J. H. Burnham two up and one to play, and Miss Worts and Mr. Dennistoun beat Miss Boucher and Mr. Campbell three up and one to play, Mr. Dennistoun playing a particularly fine game. The ladies of Peterborough, represented for this occasion by Miss Hamilton and Miss Boucher, then played a one round match against the ladies of Chemong, Miss Macdonald and Miss Worts winning by one hole. In this match the greatest excitement prevailed, not less than 40 people following the players. Miss Hamilton, for the winners, played an almost faultless game, driving and ironing with great precision, whilst for the losers Miss Worts played not less brilliantly. After the match was over the players were entertained to tea by Mr. Dennistoun, the President of the Peterborough golf club at Fobert's. The evening wound up with a very pleasant dance, for which Miss Macdonald must be most cordially thanked, as it was to her initiative that it was due. It was to be regretted, however, that more people from Peterborough did not take advantage of the occasion. The contests have given a great boom to local golf and a match is to be played on the local links on Friday to open the season.

A CORPORATION YARD.

Secure a Lot in a Central Locality by all Means.

The promptitude of the council in adopting measures on Monday night to secure a permanent location for the stone crusher, steam roller and other town machinery, and probably in the near future for a wood yard, will no doubt meet with the warm approval of the citizens at large. The action of the present council in commencing permanent improvements, although at first meeting with some opposition, is now, we have reason to believe, generally approved of, as is shown by petitions coming in from all quarters to have granolithic pavements laid down. The prospects are that we shall never again put down plank walks not even on the outskirts and that the permanent improvement of our roadways will follow closely in the wake of that of side walks, which should have been taken up some years.

Beyond doubt the action of the council will be approved of in securing a permanent abode for the requisite machinery which will be required in carrying out the contemplated and absolutely necessary improvements referred to.

Grateful Victoria Parents.

At 52 Princess avenue, Victoria, B. C., there is a home much happier than it has been for years. The eldest child, Johnnie, has been a constant sufferer from asthma almost since his birth, and the grateful parents are always pleased to tell the story of their child's long despaired of recovery. Mr. Jas. Kirkland, the father, writes as follows: "Our boy, who is just 9 years of age, has been troubled with asthma almost since his birth, which has been continually growing worse in spite of all the medical attendance we could procure. Our doctor bills have been large and neither my wife nor myself have had a full night's sleep for the last two years of his trouble on account of having to poultice him to keep him from choking. At last we heard of a neighbour who had been cured by Dr. Clarke's Kola Compound and resolved to try it with the result that our child is completely cured, not having had an attack since taking the second bottle, almost a year ago. He is growing very fast since, and is altogether a very different looking boy. We feel very grateful to Dr. Clarke for this wonderful remedy, as it has saved our child's life." Certified correct by Messrs. Hall & Co., druggists, Victoria, B. C. Clarke's Kola Compound is the only positive and permanent cure for asthma in all stages. Three bottles absolutely guaranteed to cure. Sold by Ormond & Walsh. Free sample bottle sent to any person. Mention this paper. The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., 121 Church street, Toronto, or Vancouver, B.C., sole Canadian agents.

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

SENSIBLE ADVICE.

Every man has, or should have, the right to believe in what he pleases, as long as his belief is harmless, but as spiritualism seems to be encouraging a lot of sleight-of-hand swindlers who indulge in robbery and murder apparently, there is a serious question as to whether it is harmless or not. If those who are inclined to believe in the humbug would think over the matter for a moment, they would realize that spirits from the other world would hardly be likely to return here to talk to their friends in Punch and Judy show style.

REFILLING APOLLINARIS BOTTLES.

On July 8th, William J. Verner, of Richmond street, West, Toronto, was charged before the Police Magistrate with unlawfully selling and having in his possession for sale goods to which a false trade description, namely, Apollinaris, was applied. The actual offence of which he was accused was that of refilling Apollinaris bottles bearing genuine labels with the intent that same should be taken to contain genuine Apollinaris which is bottled only at the Spring near Neuenahr, Rhenish Prussia. He was convicted.

It may not be generally known that such offenders, likewise those who use counterfeit labels or otherwise sell spurious Apollinaris, are liable under the Criminal Code to imprisonment for two years with hard labor, and fine.

CAN'T EAT.

FOOD is the fuel that feeds the fires of life. Digestion is the process that turns the fuel into energy. Few possess perfect digestion. If your digestion is imperfect, if you cannot eat what you like without discomfort, if you cannot eat when you ought to eat, the time has come when you should take Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills. Hunger is the best Sauce. Take these Pills and get hungry. You may eat what you want if you take Dr. Ward's Pills.

WHAT THEIR MERITS ARE:

My system was entirely rejuvenated by the use of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I consider them a marvellous strength and nerve builder for dyspepsia. I was so sick and miserable that I seemed to have no life or energy left in me. I suffered so at times that I thought death would be better for me. I had tried Doctors and different kinds of medicines, but all failed to do me any good. I am in every way now a well woman, and have been for months. Before using these Pills I was so sick that I could not keep anything in my stomach. I was under the opinion that dyspepsia could not be cured, but now I am satisfied it can be cured, for I am able to eat like any healthy woman and feel better in every way. They have built me up also,—I now weigh several pounds more than I ever did before. In conclusion, I would advise every woman afflicted with poor digestion to give Dr. Ward's Pills a trial.

MRS. L. E. WATSON, Port Colborne, Ont.

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50 cents per box, 5 boxes for $2.00, at druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by The Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria St., Toronto. Book of information free.

WEARING SOLDIER CLOTHES.

No Law to Prevent Anybody From Donning an Army Uniform.

"There is an entire absence of law protecting the army uniforms," observed an army officer to a reporter, "and, peculiar as it may seem, it is not a violation of law, military or civil, for any unauthorized person to wear the uniform of an officer or soldier. In other words, it would not violate any law if any one paraded the streets attired in the full military uniform of a general, colonel or other officer. In Europe it is entirely different, and if an unauthorized person publicly wore the uniform of an army or naval officer without authority he would be gobbled up, stripped of his military or naval fixings and would have a long stay in prison for his offense.

"There is a brass band in New York city each member of which wears a full general's uniform, with the stars on the shoulders, and some of the national guard of that city tried to have it abolished under existing law, but they failed to do so. The Grand Army badge and button, as also the badge of the Union Veteran legion and the Regular Army and Navy union and of the Mexican Veterans' union are protected to some extent by law in that the regulations of the army and navy provide that those entitled to them can wear them on certain official occasions, but even they are not as fully protected by law as they should be.

"The same absence of protection, legal protection, I mean, exists in relation to wearing the medal of honor awarded by congress, and it is known that certain persons have medals of that kind and have worn them without the authority of congress. The bow of the American Legion of Honor is, however, provided for by law, and it is a violation of law for any unauthorized person to have or wear it."—Washington Star.

When a man owns a blooded horse he is always careful of its health. He looks after its diet and is particular that the feeding shall be regular and right. While he is doing this it is likely as not that he is himself suffering from some disease or disorder. When the trouble gets so bad that he cannot work, he will begin to give himself the care he gave the horse at the start. Good, pure, rich, red blood is the best insurance against disease of any kind. Almost all diseases come from impure and impoverished blood. Keep the blood pure and strong and disease can find no foothold. That is the principle upon which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery works. It cleanses, purifies and enriches the blood, puts and keeps the whole body in perfect order; makes the appetite good, digestion strong, assimilation perfect. It brings ruddy, virile health. It builds up solid, wholesome flesh (not fat) when, from any cause, reduced below the healthy standard.

Well Fed Fighters.

Says the London Chronicle: "Admiral Dewey's interruption of the battle of Manila bay to give his crews the opportunity of breaking their fast recalls our own 'glorious 1st of June,' when Earl Howe, before he gave the French such a hammering off Ushant, hove to for an hour before attacking to permit of his men fortifying themselves for the coming fight with a good meal—a pause which caused much conjecture in the minds of the astonished French. It has ever been the Anglo-Saxon way to fight, if possible, on a full stomach. Wellington once said that if ever he wanted an Irish or a Scotch regiment to reach a particular point by a certain hour all he had to do was to promise the former a drink on getting to its destination, the latter its pay, but that the corresponding bait to an English battalion was a good dinner of roast beef."

BEST FOOD FOR CHILDREN.

They Should Be Given That Which Will Build Muscle, Brain and Nerve.

"If mothers only knew how to prepare their children for the hardships of life, these conditions might be easily avoided," writes Mrs. S. T. Rorer of "The Best Diet For Bloodless Girls," in The Ladies' Home Journal. "At a very early age they should be taught to eat food to build muscle, brain and nerve and to give force and heat—not simply to satisfy appetite, a scientific rather than a haphazard operation. It is not necessary, however, to hold long conversations with the child as to what she should and should not eat. As a rule, the first dish of oatmeal the mother gives to her first child is simply covered with sugar. In a little while the health gives out, and the child has indigestion.

"Then, too, the child thus trained from infancy feels that fat is objectionable, and at the age of 15 or 16, when an anæmic condition comes over her, fat, the one necessary article to her salvation, is the most difficult to take, and it is frequently necessary to resort to oil baths or oil inunctions. You will no doubt call to mind that cod liver oil is the first thing added to the ordinary dietary. Butter and cream may be used in as large quantities as the patient can conveniently digest.

"All fried foods must be strictly avoided. Potatoes may be eaten twice a week and should always be baked. Boiled rice may be taken once a day, but all bulk foods, such as turnips, cabbage, carrots and parsnips, should be avoided. I fully believe that special feeding in any disease will bring about a cure unattainable by medicine alone. By special feeding for different diseases I mean living on precisely such food as the patient in that condition can thoroughly digest and assimilate, or upon the best foods to repair the diseased tissues, rejecting all others."

DECLINE OF THE DUSTER.

The Practical Disappearance of a Garment That Was Once Familiar.

A traveler by rail cannot fail to notice the decline of the duster. And one does not need to be, as the man said, a centenarian to observe this. In fact, only 30 or 40 years ago dusters were commonly worn by railroad travelers. They were coexistent with the carpet sack and the alligator mouthed valise, both now more completely passed away than the duster itself and almost as completely gone as the hair covered trunk.

The duster was worn, of course, to protect the wearer and his garments from the dust. When the linen duster flourished, locomotives burned wood, tracks were sand ballasted and rails were light, cars were not vestibuled or provided with dust screens for the windows, and the time required to cover a given distance was far greater than now. A duster was far more needed then than now, and it was likely to be a part of the equipment of the casual as well as of the regular traveler. Indeed it may be said that the casual traveler would scarcely have thought that he had made a trip by rail unless he had provided himself with that indispensable part of every traveler's equipment.

But the linen duster was not the only one. There were dusters of alpaca and of mohair and of other materials, some of them black and some gray—big, flowing, comfortable dusters, which, if not beautiful, had at least the grace that all things made of good materials possess. You could almost tell a man without seeing his face by the duster that he wore.—New York Sun.

The Voices of Bullets.

From 11:30 onward for two hours the Turks did their very best. Their fire was incessant. We kept a constant watch and fired when possible, but as we were against the skyline the enemy had a much better sight of us than we had of them. However, from behind our little wall we could laugh and say, "Kale oral" ("Good morning to you") as the bullets howled past.

By the way, the voice of a bullet varies. There is the thin, high whistle, to which no one pays any attention after the first half hour; there is the prolonged moan, "the cry of a lost spirit," as a novelist might say; there is the wolfish howl, which for some reason always seems to be taking one on the flank instead of fairly in front, and last of all there is the low, ill tempered buzz, as though the nasty thing had got out of bed the wrong side, as children say. It is far the most terrifying, especially if it suddenly stops as the bullet strikes something close at hand. It was to those bullets only that we politely wished "Good morning."—London Chronicle.

Saved Himself.

The foreman of a jury which lately sat in a New England courtroom has a ready wit which served him well in a recent encounter with one of the brilliant lights of the legal world.

The judge is a man of abrupt speech and manner, but with a quick sense of humor.

The foreman of the jury was late one day—only a few moments, to be sure, but it was one of the judge's most irritable days, as he afterward owned.

"I overslept, your honor," said the foreman, with due meekness, as he took his seat.

"Fine him," said the judge testily.

"May it please your honor," said the foreman quickly, "I did not dream of that!"

"Remit the fine," said the judge, hiding his mouth with his hand for a moment, but his eyes betrayed him for all that.—Youth's Companion.

Grand Trunk Engineer Swears by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Mr. Geo. Cummings, for over twenty years engineer on Grand Trunk running between Toronto and Allandale, says:—"The constant duty with my work gave me excessive pains in my back, racking my kidneys. I tried several remedies until I was recommended by my fireman, Mr. Dave Conley, to try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Two boxes have completely cured me and I feel to-day a better man than ever. I recommend them to all my friends.

HUMAN SACRIFICES

On the Altar of Diabetes, Saved by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

Hardly a family in the country is free from Diabetes. Great thirst, failing sight, numbness in the thighs, bleeding gums, swollen ankles, emaciation, nervousness, pale or turbid urine, loss of sexual power, decaying teeth, pains in the loins or small of the back, are all positive signs that Diabetes is in the system.

Do you know how it ends? IN DEATH. A premature, horrible, agonized, pitiful death. The victim has no peace, no ease in life. His days are filled with tortures. His nights are waking dreams of agony. He longs to die, yet fears the terrors of his end. He dies, a bloated, fetid, repulsive mass of corruption. That is the only end of unchecked Diabetes. Dodd's Kidney Pills will cure it. They drive it out of the system thoroughly, create new, clean blood, rebuild the diseased kidneys, and restore robust health.

CATS MAKE HIS LIVING.

A California Recluse Who Keeps Them For Rent to Business Men.

There is an odd little man named Echnier, who lives in an odd little house in the heart of the busiest portion of San Francisco, who earns his bread oddly enough. His business is the raising of cats, which he puts into warehouses, stores and other places infested with rats and mice, and his income is derived from payment for the services of his pets.

"Raising cats is my business," he said. "We get along all right, don't we, kitty?" Kitty settled down on his knee and purred her answer.

"I see enough of them to like them," he went on, "for I feed between 150 and 200 every morning. This," pointing to a large basket, "I take full of meat, and that can in the corner is filled with milk. I go first to the warehouses on the docks, and then come farther up town to the business houses.

"I do not often sell a cat. I raise them, train them for awhile and then place them in some warehouse or store where the services of a cat are necessary. Then for so much a month I take care of them. Would you like to see where they play? If you come this way, I will show you."

He opened a door and took me into a queer little court. Three sides of the inclosure are banked by buildings as old as the house where the cats live. The fourth side is a big brick structure, modern style. An attempt at a garden had been made, but even the lonely green geranium looks sorry and forlorn.

And the cats! If there were many in the house, there are many more out here. Asleep in a box of excelsior is a beauty. He is marked exactly like a tiger. As you pass through narrow, yellow eyes glance at you. If you bend to stroke him, there is a sudden whirl, and the next you see of the tiger he is on the roof of a shed, gazing at you in rather an unpleasant manner.

"Doesn't like to be disturbed," says Mr. Echnier. Down a pair of rickety stairs into the poor little garden, and you hear a great scampering of little feet, and now the rooms are full of disturbed kittens. They have just been fed and like to sleep a bit.

After awhile we go back into the house, and Mr. Echnier tells me how he lost his wife a few years ago, and since then he has lived all alone in the second floor of the shanty. "My only son is employed in the Smithsonian institution, in Washington," he says. "It's a bit lonely here, but my cats are company, you know."—San Francisco Call.

THE CRYSTAL HOUR.

Amethyst, crimson and beryl,
A splendor of infinite sea,
In fathomless floods of beauty and peril
From the deeps of eternity.

With stately reverberant motion
And the breakers' whish and din,
The ceaseless anthem of turbulent ocean,
The surf comes rolling in.

While dim in the distance hover
The sea birds, a white winged fleet,
And exhausted waves, their ecstasy over,
Make ripple marks at our feet.

Soothed is the flush and the fever
Of earthly passion and power,
And the rested heart shall treasure forever
The touch of this crystal hour.

A man in the darkness of hopeless disease is of all men most miserable. When doctors and medicines innumerable have been tried and found wanting, and loving friends vainly urge upon him the food he cannot eat and which brings him no nourishment or strength, what is to be done?

Men and women who have sunken so far into weakness and disease that the whole body seems to be permeated and poisoned by it have found health, strength and vigor through the transforming, electrifying power of that wonderful "Golden Medical Discovery" which Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., proffered, thirty years ago, to sick and suffering humanity.

During all the years since then this marvelous "Discovery" has been building up weak and debilitated constitutions by its extraordinary influence upon the human, nutritive system. It gives the digestive organism keen power and capacity to appropriate every life-giving element from the food taken into the stomach and transforms it into rich, highly vitalized blood and healthy flesh, bone, sinew and nerve fiber.

Consumption in all its earlier stages is arrested and counteracted by the tissue-building, flesh-making, life-promoting power of this grand medicine and there is no darkness of bodily ailment so dense but it will shed upon the sufferer the light of renewed hope.

SPANISH GRANDEES.

FAMILY PEDIGREES THAT RUN BACK TEN CENTURIES.

The National Vanity Borders on the Absurdly Grotesque, and Playing the Gentleman Has Been Called "the Endemic Disease of Spain."

It is related that a young guard, having neglected to pay the usual salute to a Spanish duke at the court of Madrid, excused himself by saying that he did not know the offended nobleman's rank.

"My friend," replied his grace, "the safe rule is to assume that everybody in the palace who looks like a monkey is a grandee of the first class."

The truth is the Spanish are a thoroughly mongrel race, and their conceit of themselves amazes us. Their country has probably been oftener overrun and conquered than any other territory of equal extent in Europe. Phœnician, Carthaginian, Roman, Vandal, Visigoth and Moor have all successfully made it their stamping ground, and the effect of all this upon the pure Castilian blood, whatever that may be, is indelibly stamped on every really Spanish face.

But playing the gentleman has been called "the endemic disease of Spain," and the national vanity is something grotesque. One of their historians seriously advanced the theory that the first inhabitants of the country "arrived by air," so impressed was he by their superhuman qualities that nothing short of a descent from the sky could account for them. A subsequent historian, however, after a long and grave discussion of the question, finally announced his opinion that "they more probably came by land."

After this we need not be astonished that the Spanish claim to possess the oldest families in Europe. The surprising circumstance is that the claim is not wholly without foundation. Their family names can in some cases be traced back to an incredibly remote period, though it must not be assumed that the original blood persists in any purity.

Probably the most ancient family in Spain is the house of Pacheco, whose estates are not far from Carteia, now called Cartaya, in Andalusia. Plutarch tells us that when Crassus fled from Italy he concealed himself for eight months at Ximena, near Carteia, in caves belonging to a Spanish gentleman named Paciecus. Cicero also mentions this generous Spaniard, and there can be no doubt that he was one of the ancestors of the Pacheco family, whose name is obviously derived from his and who still own the caves. This carried them back about 2,000 years, to a period antedating the Christian era, but it is possible to trace the line much further. The name is clearly of Phœnician origin, being ultimately derived from "pataicoi," the word by which the Tyrians designated the carved figurehead of their galleys.

The identification is made more complete by the fact that the Phœnicians were the founders of Carteia, as of Cadiz in the same province. That adds another 1,000 years or so to the Pacheco pedigree. Think of it—a landed estate remaining in the possession of the same family for 3,000 years! This is doubtless the most wonderful family tree in the world and unusually well authenticated. The Pachecos may well be pardoned for taking pride in it, though it roots in rather unsavory soil at last, for the great original Pacheco was evidently a Tyrian freebooter.

Names that trace back to the Carthaginian occupation in the time of Hannibal are also found, and the title of Hannibal's own clan, Barca, is perpetuated by the Barcias and Garcias, well known families of Andalusia. There are also several names of Roman antecedents, as Ponce and Cane, in Latin Pontius and Canius. A Spanish gentleman bearing the latter name was a personal friend of the poet Martial, all of which seems to bring antiquity very near—in Spain. The fact of the matter is she has never emerged from antiquity.

The Spanish, however, are inclined to look back to the Goths as "the purest fountain of nobility." This certainly seems a strange perversion of sentiment, for of all the barbarians that came down from the north to lay waste Roman civilization with fire and sword the Goths, with their cousins, the Vandals, were the most irredeemably villainous.

And these Goths were no extraordinary heroes either, even in war. With supine and braggart incompetency they lost to the Moors in the eight months' campaign a supremacy which it cost eight centuries of conflict to regain. Yet "Gothic of Spain" is the pet phrase.

To a rank outsider it would seem that the Basque families have the most honorable lineage, and their pedigrees run back to time immemorial, though not easily traceable. The Basques represent the original population of the Spanish peninsula. Their seat is the mountains of the northern district, and in many ways remind us of the Welsh. They have the same simplicity of life, and the same really justifiable pride of birth, for their blood is the purest in Spain, if that counts for anything. Like the Welsh also, they have to a considerable extent maintained their ancient language, one of the strangest which survive upon the earth, bearing no resemblance to any other in Europe.

These Basque families, for the most part, bear names which appear to be geographical in their origin, as Ugarte, meaning "between waters;" Zubia, "the bridge;" Ibarra, "the valley"—a style which reminds us of our American Indians, although it is found more or less all over the world. The termination "ez," so common in Spanish names, is Basque, and signifies "son," as Perez, son of Peter, exactly like our own Peterson.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

Why She Looked Pale.

Not long since a sentimental young Liverpool lady was down on the Cunard steamship pier, where she saw a young girl sitting on a trunk in an attitude of absolute dejection and despair.

"Poor thing!" thought the romantic girl. "She is probably alone and a stranger. Her pale cheeks and great sad eyes tell of a broken heart and a yearning for sympathy. She has probably had some unfortunate affair and has left her lover in America."

She went over to the traveler to win her confidence.

"Were you crossed in love?" she asked sympathetically.

"No," replied the girl, with a sigh; "crossed in the Servia, and a mighty rough passage too!"—London Tit-Bits.

He Ought to Know.

It is said that the late Professor Cohn of Breslau, the famous botanist, thus opened his course of lectures on botany: "The four chief constituents of plants are: Carbon, C; oxygen, O; hydrogen, H, and nitrogen, N." Then writing down these four letters, with apparent carelessness, on the blackboard—COHN—he smiled, observing, "It is clear that I ought to know something about botany."

Among the odd names in Jefferson county, Ind., are Rat Row, Possum Trot, Doe Run, Goat Hollow, Hog Trough, Mud Lick, Mollie's Run, Carpet Allen, Gentry's Bluff, Wash Board, Indian Sofa, Rabbit Hash, Ten Cent Pollywog, Sausage Row and Pig's Eye.—Exchange.

It is claimed that at present the English language is spoken by 110,500,000 people.

APPALLING DEATH

From Kidney Disease Prevented by Dodd's Kidney Pills, Only.

"Kidney Disease." Do you know what it means? It means that the kidneys are either rotten, or rotting; the blood is full of poisonous, death-dealing corruption; that the Kidneys can't do their work; that the victim is a walking charnel-house; that his hours are numbered; that the victim MUST take Dodd's Kidney Pills if he does not want to die.

Have you Kidney Disease? Is your skin hot and dry; memory failing; breath short; urine, reddish, or pale colored; does it scald when passing; is your appetite changeable; do your ankles swell; have you bitter taste in the mouth on getting up mornings; is there a brick-dust deposit in your urine?

Any of these signs is proof positive of Kidney Disease. Will you be cured, or will you die? Dodd's Kidney Pills are the only means on earth that will cure you. They never fail.

The Catarrh Clutch

This Disgusting Malady is at the Throat of 900 of every 1,000 of our Country's Population.

This Is Not Hearsay. It is Borne Out by Carefully Compiled Statistics of Diseases Most Prevalent. Its Development is Watched Carefully Because it is so Sure a forerunner of Consumption if Neglected. Most Catarrh Cures Contain Cocaine, which is a Dangerous Narcotic, and Prof. Heys, of the Ontario School of Chemistry and Pharmacy, says:—

"After an examination made from samples procured on the open market, I declare that there is no COCAINE contained in the preparation of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure." Most astonishing results are daily coming into Dr. Chase's office of the cures made. Here are a few in condensed form. We ask you to call or write to the following parties if at all sceptical:

OSWALD BURKHARDT, 159 PORTLAND STREET, TORONTO, suffered from Catarrh for nine years, and was cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. J. PALMER, HAIR DRESSER, 673 QUEEN STREET WEST, TORONTO, could not sleep for years on account of the mucus dropping into the throat; cured by Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MR. WHITCOMBE, OF THE METHODIST BOOK ROOM, TORONTO, suffered for two years; cured by one box of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure.

MRS. COWLE, 467 QUEEN STREET EAST, TORONTO, thirteen years ago was attacked with Hay Fever. Never knew what it was to have any relief until she used Dr. Chase's Catarrh Cure. If anyone troubled with Catarrh calls on Mrs. Cowle she will give her endorsation as to her cure.

FORESTALLED HIM.

The Chipper Youth Knew What Usually Happened In Such Cases.

The fresh young man with no respect in his soul for gray hairs and dyed whiskers swung himself on the car in the middle of a block, and leaning against the brake handle proceeded to roll a cigarette with great deftness. The fat man who despises the ways of the youth on general principles leaned against the window guards and watched the development of a cigarette.

"Got a match, neighbor?" inquired the fresh young man as he put the last finishing twist to his smoke.

"Young man"—began the fat man after a brief, elderly pause, calculated to greatly impress the cigarette smoker.

"Yes, I know all about"— interrupted the youth, "so you might as well choke your lecture on a bornin. I know cigarettes will kill me if I stick to 'em, but I don't care. It's an easy death. I know if I must smoke I should smoke cigars, but I don't like the color of 'em. I've got a touch of paresis now, and I'm due for more. I know you think of all the disgusting things in the world a cigarette is the worst.

"I know they undermine the constitution and are wrecking the rising generation. Now if I've forgotten anything you were going to say help me out. Come to think of it, I've got a match myself. If I keep on smoking these things, I won't be able to think at all before long. I know if you had a boy that smoked cigarettes you would lick him within an inch of his life. I nearly forgot you were going to say that. Where do you get off anyhow?"

"Here," gasped the fat man as he dropped off the platform, muttering something about what this country is coming to. And the fresh young man lighted his cigarette with a grin.—Washington Times.

WEAKENING DIARRHŒA.

Promptly Checked and the Weakened System Strengthened be Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry.

Diarrhœa does not need to persist for any length of time until the whole system is weakened and debilitated. No other disease so quickly undermines the strength and brings about a condition of prostration and often collapse.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not only prompt and effectual in checking the diarrhœa, but at the same time it stimulates and strengthens the heart and braces up the system.

Mrs. Soshua Stevenson, Owen Sound, Ont., says that her little girl was weak and almost run to nothing through a severe attack of summer complaint. Nothing would check it till she gave her Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry which acted like a charm. She considers no household should be without this valuable remedy. Wise parents should take to heart this advice of Mrs. Stevenson's, as they do not know when they themselves or one of their children may be attacked by Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Cholera, Colic or Cramps.

Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is not an expensive remedy—only 35c. a bottle, and the doses are so small that it goes a long way.

Don't accept a substitute or imitation. Many of them are dangerous compounds.

Evading the Issue.

"Mr. Addemup," said Mr. Spotcash severely, to the bookkeeper, "I have spoken to you before of your careless manner of smoking in the office. You threw a lighted match in the wastebasket a little while ago and it set a lot of papers on fire. Such work as that might start a big blaze some day."

"It was heedless," replied the book keeper. "I will see that the office boy keeps that wastebasket emptied hereafter."—Chicago Tribune.

SORES LIKE RAW BEEF

On Baby's Face Neck and Breast. Ran Blood and Matter.

Had to Tie Hands to Keep from Scratching. A Bad Case.

Doctor Did Little or No Good. Cuticura Cured. Skin Now Clear

A SWORN STATEMENT.

When my nephew was two weeks old he had running sores on his face, neck, breast, and hands, which continued to grow worse. They looked like raw beef. Sometimes blood would come and sometimes matter. He was awfully bad. Why, we had never heard or read of such a case. My sister had to tie his hands to the hammock to keep him from scratching himself, he itched so. He often rubbed his neck and face against his shoulders. The doctor did little or no good. Said "it came from the blood," etc. She heard of CUTICURA (ointment), and I bought her a box, and finding it gave satisfaction she continued to use it. The boy is all well now and his face is clear. In order to show you my good faith in this matter and how pleased I am with CUTICURA REMEDIES, I have taken oath to above statements. THE OUTPUT $11,000,000.

Major Walsh Estimates the Yield of the Yukon at This Sum for the Present Season.

Major J. M. Walsh, ex-commissioner of the Yukon district, who has arrived in Seattle from Dawson en route to Ottawa, to make his official report, estimates this season's gold output at $11,000,000, while the clean-up for next year will undoubtedly aggregate $20,000,000. He predicts that further developments in the Youkon will go beyond the expectations of everybody. Concerning the situation at Dawson, Major Walsh said :—"The district in the vicinity of Dawson is over-populated by about 10,000 people, and they must either move out and prospect new territory or leave the district."

AN INTERVIEW AT SKAGWAY.

Major Walsh was at Skagway, August 18th, on his way down, and is reported to have said to an interviewer :

"I am glad my tenure of office is so near ending. I did not want the position in the first place, and am very glad that the time is about up ; but I can say this, that I leave my duties on the Yukon with a serene knowledge that I have done the best I could, and, furthermore, I believe that in most instances anyway I have been right. I have not cared what the Government thought of me, and have not enquired or been concerned as to what the people thought. I weighed the conditions as I found them, and administered the laws as I thought right and proper. I was given great latitude under the laws, and was empowered to amend them as I saw fit, and in some instances I did change their operation somewhat."

"It is said, Major Walsh, that the enforcement of the collection of royalty has been optional with you ?"

"Yes," said the Major, "that is true, and I saw fit to collect the royalty. I venture to say that every dollar I have collected in royalty came from men who could afford to pay the royalty many times over, and never feel it materially. The royalty only affected the rich claims anyway ; the middle-class claims were not affected by the operation of the law on that point. Now I have heard a good deal of complaint about our gold commissioner at Dawson, but I think he is all right. He is overworked, however, and sometimes loses his temper, but he is an honest man and is a good man for the position. With thousands of people coming in there, and all desiring immediate attention, himself and ten or twenty clerks have been compelled to work from early morning until late at night, and on leaving his office he would be button-holed by half a dozen men who would fire questions into him."

MINING NEWS.

The Canadian Gold Fields Will Erect a New Mill.

(Marmora Herald.)

It has been a source of speculation recently if the Canadian Gold Fields Limited would erect a new mill to take the place of the one recently destroyed by fire, or suspend operations. To this end we have endeavoured several times to obtain information and have at last succeeded to gather the following, which was got from an inside source.

In conversation with the informant our representative learned that the foundation for the laboratory has been completed and that brick, stone and other material is being hauled on the grounds for the erection of the mill, and its erection will commence at once. Mr. R. Sanson, of Trenton, has the contract for the mason work.

The mill will not be erected on the site of the old one, but will be put up in close proximity to the shaft. This alone will be a great saving, as formerly the ore had to be hauled a distance of about two miles and several teams were required to do the work.

We have also been informed from a thoroughly reliable source that Mr. A. J. G. Swinney, formerly superintendent for the Canadian Gold Fields, will soon return to Marmora and start operations on his property, of which he owns some 1 500 or 2,000 acres. Before leaving for the Old Country Mr. Swinney made the remark that he would return with as strong, if not stronger, company than the C. G. F. and great developments may be expected in the near future.

LINING UP FOR SCHOOL.

Preparations at the Peterborough Bookstore for Supplying the Scholars with their New Books, etc.

Getting the young folks ready to resume their studies at school on Thursday will be the feature of this week at the Peterborough Bookstore. As surely as the needle points to the pole, just as surely will economy and self-interest direct prudent parents to this busy big store.

Attention is called to the conspicuous advertisement of A. H. Stratton & Co. on another page, a perusal of which will enable one to form a good idea of the extensive preparations made at the Peterborough Bookstore for the rush for school supplies during the next few days. It is important to bear in mind that the stock will be found inexhaustible for all possible demands, and that scholars will not be subjected to any errors or inconveniences if they have their school wants filled here. Being thoroughly acquainted with what every scholar requires we can help them in deciding what is best to get and what their teachers are most likely to approve. All the authorized school books for every form now ready to pass out to the scholars. Everything that is special and "biggest" in scribblers, exercise books school bags, slates, copy books, drawing books, pencils, etc.

One of the treats we have in store for the boys and girls who come to the Peterborough Bookstore for their school supplies is an interesting and attractive variety of presents to be given away free. A present goes with every purchase—and among the gifts are dolls, mirrors, finger rings, watches, flag pins, whistles, mugs, fancy cups and saucers, pitchers, balls, etc. Come now, boys and girls, get your orders in early. Don't all wait until the last day. Might as well make a start to-day and save the crush and crowds later on.

The New Granolithic Pavements

Now being laid down past our Three Big Stores on George Street has caused a heap of wreckage to accumulate and made it difficult for our customers to get in and out. This temporary disorder is unavoidable, but all the same, we are making it interesting to shoppers. It is our time to lose, and we are making a terrible wreckage of prices during the August end of our Big Summer Clearance Sale.

Remnants, Broken Lots and Odd Ends from every department, have been rooted out, ticketed and marked at prices to close them with a rush. It's a fitting wind-up for one of the biggest selling events in our history. A few days will do the business, and sharp's the word.

Remnants of Cloths.

Nothing wrong with them. The last few yards of the piece cost us just as much as the first. Going to sell them at a sacrifice though ; they litter the stock. Good picking here for the Boy's Fall School Suits. Why not look ahead a bit and by so doing save a dollar? Price of each remnant in plain figures. They're all spread out on the shelves and you can make an easy selection.

Broken Lots of Men's Pants.

Good sizes and lengths among them. Some at about one-half the regular prices. They'll move quick when the news gets out.

Good-by to Summer Ties.

The left-overs are going to be turned into money at short notice. The prices are absurb, but we don't want to winter them.

Men's and Boys' Suits.

Not a question of worth, but what price will sell them. It will pay you to be among the first. The pick is worth something. 300 Suits to pick from, well made and finished, the products of some of the best known makers. A lot of our own make included.

Broken Lots of Hosiery and Underwear.

Odd dozens and half-dozens, and they're not going back into the shelves with our consent. Can you use them? If so, help us to get rid of them.

Summer Suits and Separate Parts.

Some made of Wool Serge, some of Cricketing Flannel, some of Silk and Lustre and Alpaca. Only about a dozen of each, but we want the room more than the goods.

Summer Boots and Shoes.

The Fall Styles will be about the same as these ; they're all new this season. Not many shelves full, but you save just half. Not often that 50c does the work of $1.00, but we need the room.

Shirts and Collars.

They might as well go with the rest. We won't profit financially on the sales but that makes no difference, so long as we can clean up the overplus.

Last Call on Felt and Straw Hats.

And a lond call it is. Mostly broken lots, but none the worse for that. If your size, style or kind is among them then you're in luck, for the prices are cut loose entirely from the values.

STRAY ANIMAL.

Now that the season has arrived when a number of animals will be straying, it is well that farmers should understand the law of poundage. Below we give particulars regarding the impounding or taking up of stray animals. "In case the animal is horse, bull, ox, cow, sheep, goat, pig or other cattle, if distrained by a resident, instead of delivering the same to a pound-keeper, he may retain said animal in his own possession, providing he makes no claim for damages. But notice in writing must be forthwith given to the owner, if known, and then if not known, notice shall be given within forty-eight hours to the township clerk, together with a description of the color, age and natural and artificial marks on said animal. If the animal or animals be worth $10 or more the distrainer shall advertise the same for three weeks in a country paper. One month after being taken up the distrainer may advertise and sell said animals—three days notice of sale being given. Out of the proceeds he is authorized to pay for advertising, necessary care and trouble, and for food of animals. Balance, if any, if not claimed by the owner within three months, must be paid to the township treasurer for municipal purposes. Where animals are impounded the poundkeeper has certain prescribed duties laid down governing his action in the premises. In case of geese or poultry trespassing, the owners, after having been notified, if they neglect to take care of the same, may be cited before a justice of the peace and punished.

"Hats that are Hats" "Hats that are Cheap Hats"

A Boy bought a book and a whistle for $1.10, he paid $1.00 more for the book than for the whistle, what did the whistle cost ? You say 10c, but that is wrong.

NOW—When not more than one person in ten answers this correctly, how can we expect them to realize the following:—

FINE PEARL FEDORA and SOFT HATS

Cannot be made for the price we are charging for them—

$1.25 Worth $2 to $2.50 Each.

Then how can we afford to sell them for $1.25? These are excuses which do not directly concern the public—condition of over stock—incoming goods—lateness of season and the like—which makes sacrifices inevitable, even wise. It is a time when the maxim holds good "Your necessity is my opportunity." The same holds good of Linen Hats, all qualities, now 25c. to clear.

A QUEEN AT 18 YEARS

Wilhelmina Issues a Proclamation on Coming of Age.

CORONATION, TUESDAY, SEPT. 6.

Holland's Queen Will Rule in a Manner Expected of a Princess of the House of Orange - Preparing for the Coronation—The Programme of the Ceremonials and Festivities.

Amsterdam, Sept. 1.—Hollanders in all parts of the kingdom are preparing for the coronation of the young Queen during the week beginning Sept. 4 at Amsterdam.

She will arrive at the palace in The Hague on Monday, Sept. 5, and soon after alighting will appear on the balcony to receive the welcome of the citizens. Tuesday is coronation day, when a brilliant ceremony will take place in the new church. In the afternoon the young ruler, accompanied by her mother, will drive through the decorated parts of the capital, and in the evening another tour of the streets will be made. The whole city will be illuminated.

The second day is set apart for historical pageants and open-air plays in the grounds at the back of the state museum.

These celebrations, at which her Majesty will be present, will comprise a procession illustrating three periods of Dutch history and introducing famous rulers, statesmen, painters, authors and other national heroes.

Grand Carnival Planned.

A reception at the palace will take place in the afternoon, and in the evening the principal quarters of the city will again be visited, after which the Queen will drive to a great water carnival and display of fireworks organized by the provinces of North Holland.

On Friday, Sept. 9, the Queen and the royal party will remove from Amsterdam to The Hague, and the fetes at the capital will extend over four days, terminating with fireworks at Schweningen and a reception at the palace. An interesting feature will be a gathering of 12,000 children in a large field to sing patriotic airs and receive memorial cups.

With the approval of the Dutch Ministers of State the coronation will be attended only by foreign royalties who are closely related to the house of Orange. There will be no special missions from abroad.

On Sept. 32 Queen Wilhelmina will for the first time open the sitting of the States General and deliver a Speech from the Throne.

QUEEN'S PROCLAMATION.

Wilhelmina Expresses Her Gratitude to the Nation and Will Rule Trusting in Her Mother's God.

The Hague, Sept. 1.—Upon the occasion of her birthday and the attainment of her majority yesterday, Queen Wilhelmina Helena Pauline Maria, who was born Aug. 31, 1880, issued yesterday morning a proclamation to the people of the Netherlands. It was worded as follows:

"On this day, so important to you and me, I desire before all else to say a word of warm gratitude. From my tenderest years you have surrounded me with your love. From all parts of the kingdom, from all classes of society, young and old, I have always received striking proofs of attachment. After the death of my venerated father, all your attachment to the dynasty was transferred to me. On this day I am ready to accept the splendid though weighty task whereto I have been called, and I feel myself supported by your fidelity. Receive my thanks. My experience hitherto has left ineffacable impressions, and is an earnest of the future. My dearly loved mother, to whom I am immensely indebted, set me an example by her noble and exalted conception of the duties which henceforth devolve upon me. The aim of my life will be to follow her example and to govern in the manner expected of a princess in the house of Orange. True to the constitution, I desire to strengthen the respect for the name and flag of the Netherlands. As sovereign of possessions and colonies east and west, I desire to observe justice, and to contribute so far as in me lies to the increasing intellectual and material welfare of the people. I hope and expect that the support of all, in whatever sphere of official or social activity you may be placed, within the kingdom or without, will never be wanting.

"Trusting in God, and with a prayer that He gives me strength, I accept the Government. (Signed) Wilhelmina."

Queen Attends Divine Service.

Queen Wilhelmina, accompanied by the Queen's mother, attended divine service in the great church here yesterday morning. The Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, the Grand Duchess of Mecklenburg, the Prince and Princess of Weid, the diplomatic corps, the civil and military authorities and 4,000 others were present. The court chaplain, G. J. Van der Flier, preached. He dwelt upon the importance of the memorable day, and invoked the divine blessing upon the Queen. The chaplain also thanked the Queen's mother for wisely directing the education of her daughter.

The papal nuncio, Mgr. Tarnassi, and the Ministers from the Catholic countries attended divine services in the Catholic church.

Thanksgiving Services.

Amsterdam, Sept. 1.—Solemn thanksgiving services were held here yesterday in all the churches, as well as in the churches throughout Holland, upon the occasion of Queen Wilhelmina attaining her majority.

DREYFUS EXONERATED.

He Was Convicted on Documents Forged by Lieut.-Col. Henry, Who Has Confessed and Suicided.

Paris, Sept. 1.—It appears that so soon as M. Cavaignac assumed the office of Minister of War he charged the official bureau to make a thorough research of the Dreyfus case, and it was this enquiry which resulted in the discovery of documents lately read in the Chamber of Deputies by M. Cavaignac, showing that proof of the guilt of Dreyfus was forged. When Colonel Henry was summoned to the Ministry for War, and was questioned by M. Cavaignac, in the presence of Gen. Boisdeffre and others, he at first affirmed the anthenticity of the incriminating document.

But, when discrepancies were pointed out, he at first admitting adding sentences, and finally confessed to fabricating the whole letter. It is affirmed, however, that this discovery has not changed M. Cavaignac's belief in the culpability of Dreyfus; but the Minister is determined to punish all the guilty parties, no matter what their rank or position may be. Col. Henry is to be tried by court-martial.

The anti-Dreyfus papers are dumbfounded at the arrest of the Colonel, while, on the other hand, the papers which have been supporting the proposition to reopen the Dreyfus case are jubilant. They now demand the immediate release of Colonel Picquart, who is imprisoned on charges connected indirectly with the Dreyfus affair, and they also insist upon a revision of the Dreyfus trial. When Count Esterhazy was informed of the arrest of Colonel Henry and of his admission he exclaimed, "This is too terrifying."

LIEUT.-COL. HENRY SUICIDES.

After Many Tribulations and Misdeeds the Officer Cut His Throat.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Lieut.-Col. Henry has committed suicide. He cut his throat with a razor he had concealed in his valise.

During the recent Zola trial, Henry accused Col. Picquart of falsifying telegrams.

The next scene occurred in the Chamber of Deputies, where Col. Picquart proclaimed the latter a forgery and as a result was arrested, while Henry's villainy was rewarded by his being appointed Col. Picquart's successor in the Intelligence Department.

It is now evident that Henry forged the letter with the express object of paralyzing Col. Picquart's efforts to expose Major Count Esterhazy and to get a revision of the Dreyfus case.

It is said that if the Cabinet decides upon revision of the Dreyfus case, M. Cavaignac, Minister for War, will resign.

Gen. Boisdeffre Resigns.

Paris, Sept. 1.—General Le Mouton de Boisdeffre, chief of the general staff of the French Army, has tendered his resignation to the Government.

General de Boisdeffre, in his letter of resignation, explains that he resigns owing to his misplaced confidence in Lieut.-Col. Henry, which led him to present as genuine what was forged evidence.

M. Cavaignac, the Minister of War, in reply, asked General de Boisdeffre to remain to "see justice rendered in the matter."

General de Boisdeffre thanked M. Cavaignac for proofs of his esteem, but persisted in his resignation. He will be replaced, therefore, by General Renouard, director of the Military College.

The Cabinet Hasn't Decided Yet.

Paris, Sept. 1.—The Cabinet has held two stormy sittings under the Presidency of M. Faure. It finally rose between 6 and 7 o'clock, having apparently failed to arrive at a decision on the question of revising the Dreyfus sentence, for the customary official note was not issued.

Will Re-Kindle the Agitation.

Paris, Sept. 1.—Col. Henry's confession threatens to re-kindle the Dreyfus agitation more heatedly than ever, and seems likely to shake public confidence in the army. Even the Liberte, a strong anti-Dreyfus organ, says:

"It must cause the deepest pain to all honorable men that officers of such standing show such a lack of moral sense."

It is reported that at yesterday's Cabinet meeting the Ministers admitted that a revision of the Dreyfus trial was unavoidable, and a public announcement that the Ministry has decided to initiate such a revision is expected soon.

The Temps yesterday afternoon asserts that the disclosures made to the Ministers have decided the Minister of War to place Major Count Esterhazy on the retired list.

Fined for Shouting for Zola.

Nancy, France, Sept. 1.—A court-martial here has just sentenced a private soldier to three months imprisonment and 500 francs fine for shouting "Vive Zola!"

The Truth Comes Out.

Berlin, Sept. 1.—Herr Moritz Busch's book on Bismarck, published yesterday, contains a severe attack upon the late Emperor Frederick. Referring to Bismarck's memoirs, the author says: "Bismarck was able to make history, but he lacked the qualities necesary to write it. These defects were supplied by Lothar Bucher, but, as he died before the work could be finished, it remains a torso, though one of many sided interest and value."

Supposed to Be Fighting.

London, Sept. 1.—There has been a sudden interruption of news from the Soudan. It is supposed that a battle is in progress between the Anlgo Egyptian force under General Sir Herbert Kitchener, the Sirdar, and the Dervishes, under the Khalifa, north of Omdurman, the Khalifa's capital.

WAR'S AFTERMATH.

Spanish advices say the insurgents are wroth with Aguinaldo because his anticipations have not been realized.

The hospital ship Olivette was sunk off Fernandina, Fla., through some mysterious agency. A hospital corps of 35 and the crew of 45 were saved.

President McKinley has conveyed to Admiral Cervera, at Annapolis, Md., the orders of the Spanish Minister of Marine that he and his officers and men must make arrangements to proceed back to Spain at once.

ROUGH ON THE YANKEES.

Some Very Caustic Remarks by the London Saturday Review.

New York, Sept. 1.—The London Saturday Review, which recently said that Chauncey M. Depew was a "painted puppet and a snob," expresses the views here below, and which candid expression is being quoted in England financial and other newspapers averse to American interests in Great Britain, and to English interests embarked in this country: "There are, of course, many worthy private persons in the United States, but what we have to think of now is the people of that country as represented in their social, civil and political customs. Socially it is sordid to the last degree; its courts of law and all its civil institutions are corrupt; the methods of its political parties are no better than those of law firms. It has contributed nothing to the self respect of humanity. On the contrary, it has shown all the world to what a depth of public depravity civilization is capable of descending."

JAMAICAN ANNEXATION

Has Not Progressed Favorably Owing to Colored Opposition.

Kingston, Jam., Sept. 1.—The annexation movement has not progressed favorably, owing to the opposition of the colored element of the population, and the lack of support from the newspapers. Consequently the Honorable Samuel Constantine Burke, Jamaica's member of the Barbadoes conference, who sailed yesterday, is not authorized to propose annexation as an alternative to the joint demand of the West Indies for fair treatment. Possibly British Guiana or Barbadoes may take the initiative, should the conference decide to adopt decisive ultimatum attitude.

Select a New Archbishop.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—At St. Michael's Cathedral yesterday the Month's Mind, a solemn requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the late Archbishop Walsh, was celebrated.

Following the service a meeting of the clergy of the diocese was held, to consider whom they would recommend to succeed to the vacant archiepiscopal chair. The bishops of the province, of Toronto, their Lordships of London and Hamilton, in conference with the Bishop of Peterboro and the Archbishop elect of Kingston, they being in the city, made their choice from the three nominees of the clergy. The names of those chosen at the meeting of priests were not made public. It will probably be several months before the appointment will be announced

EDITORIAL NOTES.

THAT is an interesting statement made by Hon. Mr. Mulock to the effect that the lately awakened interest of the English people in Canada has led to a more general study in English schools of Canadian history, geography and conditions. There can be no better or more lasting advertisement for Canada than to have its story repeated in English schools, in the ears of children whose interest in Greater England will grow with years.

THE Manchester Guardian bears witness to the immense good the Liberal government is doing in the direction of making the resources of Canada known in Great Britain, more especially, and Europe in general. It is not to be denied that during the past two years more has been done in that direction than since Confederation. For this we may thank the 'business administration' now in power. The Guardian says :

> News of Canada's growing prosperity must always be good news to Englishmen, but it is best of all when evidence comes with it that the Canadians themselves, stewards of vast undeveloped resources, are faithful to their stewardship. At the Manchester Chamber of Commerce yesterday Mr. Fisher and Mr. Robertson did more than bear witness to the great progress that their country has made in agriculture and the kindred industries. . . . It may be said, as Sir Frank Forbes Adam said, that the sentiment of patriotism is not an appreciable commercial force in Lancashire; certainly the Canadian producer is neither so foolish or unpatriotic as to seek to trade upon it. Still, a better knowledge of Canada's products and her extraordinary natural wealth, mineral as well as agricultural, cannot but stimulate our trade with her and open the eyes of British investors to opportunities for profitable enterprise that for a long time have been strangely neglected.

IF the Czar can persuade France and Germany to agree about Alsace and Lorraine he will have done much towards bringing about a prolongation of the era of peace. The other places were there is likelihood of war breaking out are very largely under his control, if he really dominates his government. Apart from the Rhine boundary the sore spots just now are in Persia, where Russia is trying to gain the upper hand of Britain; in China, where the same contest is being waged with much bitterness; in Turkey, upon which Russian designs will never cease until they have been accomplished; and in Poland, where an insurrection is threatened. If the Czar can vouch that the peace will be maintained on his opponent's terms in these places, the world will be reasonably sure of peace; not otherwise. The problem in Russian Poland is a grave one. It is the most densely populated section of the empire and the one upon which most dependence is placed for revenue. Yet the Russian Governor-General admits that it is grossly misgoverned that the Russian officials are ignorant, incompent and unsympathetic, and that the country is ripe for revolt. It is to be hoped something may come of the peace proposals, although that is doubtful: but if they had to be made it was far better they should come from the modest student at St. Petersburg, who honours his ancestor, the "Czar Liberator," rather than from the theatrical Kaiser, with his mailed fist and his bumptious assumption of semi-divine attributes. If the Czar has saved the Christian world the shock of having a speech like that of Kiel delivered at Jerusalem he has much claim on the universal good will.—Montreal Herald.

An Awful Cold.

Mrs. Wm. Darkes, Pine Grove, Ont., says: "I recommend Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup for coughs, colds, hoarseness and sore throat. I had an awful cold and could hardly speak. One bottle of Norway Pine Syrup cured me completely."

TEMPERATURES FOR STORAGE.

The following is an extract from the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture:

The following is a list of the temperatures at which it seems desirable to hold the different products in their best conditions:

Butter (for long periods) 20 degrees fahr.
Cheese (for long periods 30 "
Tender fruit, such as early apples, pears, peaches, tomatoes (for long periods) 38 to 34 degrees fahr.
Dressed beef, mutton, pork and poultry, 32 to 30 degrees fahr.
Eggs, 36 to 34 degrees fahr.

In order to secure the best results from the use of cold storage in warehouse and on board the steamships, it is necessary that the goods be handled in the best possible way when they are removed from the cold storage chamber. During warm weather the packages should be left unopened for about two days, until the products become gradually warmed up to near the temperature of the surrounding air. If that be not done the cold surface of the products will cause the moisture out of the warm air to be condensed on them. In the case of eggs, fruits and meats, particularly, that will cause them to have an appearance called "sweating" and to become rather unsightly. The packages should be left closed for at least two days, in a room where the temperature is the same as that of the air in which they are to be handled afterwards. Otherwise, moisture from the air will be condensed on the surface of the products and give them a most undesirable appearance. The so-called "sweating" of eggs is not an exudation of moisture through the shells of the eggs, but is entirely a condensation of moisture from the air. That applies also to meats which are covered by cloths. The covering should not be removed from the quarters until they have been hung for a short time at the temperature of the atmosphere at which it is to be cut up. A difficulty in the carrying of meats in cold storage has been experienced from their liability to become mouldy on the surface when they were removed from the cold storage room and left in a room at a warm temperature. Experiments are being carried on at the present time to find if such development of mould cannot be prevented in a simple way, which will also improve the appearance of the meat and in no way affect it injuriously.

BANISH DYSPEPSIA

By the Exercise of Common Sense in Treating it.

Use Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets Which do the Stomach's Work, Thus Giving it Rest and Strength and Ensuring Perfect Digestion.

No Roman Emperor, no Russian Czar, was ever as great a tyrant as the human stomach is when it gets out of order.

It has a score of ways of inflicting punishment, if it has been neglected, overworked or ill-used.

But, when it is justly dealt with, you never know that you are the possessor of such an organ.

The stomach, when justly treated is our best friend. It digests the food we eat, makes provision for a sufficient supply of fresh, rich blood that we may enjoy good health, and make no complaint.

But when neglected or abused it takes terrible revenge, as all Dyspeptics know.

In spite of our best care the stomach will get out of order sometimes.

Then what are we to do? Suffer all the agonies it will inflict upon us?

By no means.

What, then, shall we do?

Do just what you would do yourself, when you feel over-worked, worn out, run down—give the stomach a holiday. Don't ask it to work for a while. Let it rest and regain strength, tone and vigour.

How can we do this?

By using Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, which digest the food—that is, do the stomach's work—themselves, without any assistance from that organ.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets besides digesting the food, tone and strengthen the stomach. Thus, after they had been used for a time, it is rested, strengthened and invigorated, and can do its work promptly and thoroughly.

SNAP SHOT AT A WEAK BRIDGE.

In England a few weeks ago a certain iron bridge of one of the railways was suspected of being unsafe. It looked all right but there were some reasons why the managers were afraid of it. They could not decide themselves and they sent to London for a famous engineer to come and look it over, he came and was puzzled, too, until he thought of a way to test. He took a kodack and made a picture of the bridge with no train upon it. Then he kept his camera in position and waited for a fast train to come. Pretty soon an express came thundering on, and just as the big locomotive struck the bridge he pulled upon the slide and took a second picture on the same plate that still held the first, when the plate was examined the picture with the train was found so much below the other as to show what the engineer and manager had feared—a dangerous droop to the bridge.—New York Times.

A Plattsville Lady Rescued by Dodd's Kidney Pills from Terrible Danger.

Plattsville, Ont., Aug. 29—The Echo, published here, report the remarkable cure of a well-known lady, Mrs. J. Barnett, who had two years suffered from Nervousness, Rheumatism, Back-ache, Sleeplessness, pains in the head and eyes and general weakness.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.

To an Echo reporter. Mrs Barnett said; "I had no appetite, I could not sleep, I was a physical wreck.

"I was treated by doctors, but their medicine gave me no relief.

"I started taking Dodd's Kidney Pills, and before I finished one box, I had improved noticeably. I have taken twelve boxes in all, and am now completely recovered. I ascribe my recovery to Dodd's Kidney Pills alone."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a positive cure—the only cure,—for Kidney Diseases of all forms. They have never failed.

IN MEMORIAM

OF MRS. ROBERT PARKER, WHO DIED JUNE 23, 1898—ABSENT BUT NOT FORGOTTEN.

Our mother's gone—gone away
To mingle with the blaze of day;
She lived to love and died to gain
A heaven of love and joy of days.

Ah! she is gone whom we so dearly loved,
Whose tender kindness we so often proved.
Ah, yes! she's gone, her happy spirit's fled,
And now she's numbered with the silent dead.

She lived in Christ and Christ in her—
She lived to do His righteous will—
She lived on earth to live in Heaven,
To enjoy the blest assurance given.

Husband and children are left to stay
And mourn their loss from day to day,
And think of hymns she used to sing
About the ever-lasting King.

We don't forget her smiling face,
Nor the kind words she used to say;
Her acts were always acts of love,
As she always helped the child of God.

So while the deepest sorrow here,
Our spirits overcast,
Gladly to scenes of light and love
Her ransomed spirit passed.

Called hence in midst of busy care,
She knew her time was drawing near,
She told her friends with loving care,
She hop'd they'd meet her there.

The Saviour she so early loved,
She felt was very near,
And safely resting in His arms
Death's stream she did not fear.

Oh, may her happy life and death,
So happy in the Lord,
Be blest to all who know her, so
Her's will be the sweet reward.

When God's own hand from every eye
Shall wipe all tears away,
And death and sorrow are unknown
Throughout eternal day.

But now she's gone to be no more,
With us on this unhappy shore,
But may we all meet, but then
Never, never to part again.

ONE WHO LOVED HER.

D. R. A. MATCHES.

Riflemen Protest Against the Ammunition Provided—Still the Shooting Is Good—The Latest Scores.

Ottawa, Sept. 1.—The Dominion Rifle Association matches were continued yesterday in good weather, and the scoring was high all round. All agreed that the range in the near future would be the best in North America.

Lieut.-Col. Tilton, who presided at the kicker's meeting, promised the attention of the council to the matter of defective ammunition, and expressed his conviction that the Government would leave no stone unturned to provide good shells.

The light yesterday was dull, but there was no wind, and the weather was ideal for the 200 yards in the Victoria, 7 shots, standing. This match takes the place of the Henshaw of last year, the conditions being the same.

The Corby Cup was won in 1895 by Lieut. Munro, 44th; in 1896 by Capt. W. H. Davidson, 8th R.R., and in 1897 by Capt. McMicking, R.L. This year the three shot for absolute possession and the plum fell to Capt. Davidson with 75.

BRYAN'S BOOM.

New Hampshire Democrats Endorse the Free Silver Man and the Monroe Doctrine.

Concord, N.H., Sept. 1.—At the State Democratic convention held yesterday, the platform which was unanimously accepted expressed admiration for and confidence in William J. Bryan.

The "war planks" of the platform were as follows: We renew our adherence to the Monroe Doctrine, asserting that our national "sphere of influence" comprehends and embraces the entire Western Hemisphere; and that beyond securing requisite coaling and naval stations in other parts of the world, for the convenience and protection of our commerce, we should seek to acquire no territory.

We oppose the maintenance of a large standing army in time of peace. We favor a navy equal to that of any other nation and the construction and maintenance by the United States of an Isthmian Canal, free from the control of all private individuals, corporations, syndicates, or foreign governments, as a preventative of war.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

New Zealand Will Contribute One-Ninth if Britain, Canada and Australia Pay the Balance.

Wellington, New Zealand, Sept. 1 — The report of the committee of the Legislature, just issued, recommends joining the Australian colonies with Canada and the Mother Country by a Pacific cable, on the basis that if Great Britain and Canada together would guarantee five-ninth of the cost of the work, New Zealand and the other colonies would contribute the remaining four-ninths, of which amount New Zealand will contribute one-ninth.

The committee also recommends that Canada be trusted with the construction, administration and maintenance of the cable, on the understanding that the contributing colonies are to be entitled to representation and votes on matters of policy of the management, and that the cable is to be jointly owned and controlled by the contributors. The report concludes with advising that a conference of the colonies concerned in the new cable be held in New Zealand.

A LIBERAL VICTORY IN QUEEN'S.

Dr. Robertson's Election Conceded Although Returns Are Not Available.

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sept. 1.—A bye-election was held yesterday in the first district of Queen's to fill the vacancy caused by the appointment of Premier Warburton to the County Court bench. The candidates were William Campbell, Conservative, and Dr. Robertson, Liberal. At this hour (8 o'clock) the returns are not all in, but it is generally conceded that Dr. Robertson has the election. Full returns are not expected before 9 p.m., and as the telegraph office closes at 8 o'clock it will be impossible to give correct results before morning.

The South Ontario Protest.

Toronto, Sept. 1.—Mr. Justice Osler of the Court of Appeal yesterday handed out judgment in the motion argued before him Tuesday by Mr. Wallace Nesbitt and Mr. C. J. Holman, in regard to the South Ontario election petition. Mr. Nesbitt moved that it be set aside, on the ground that the petitioner, Charles Henry Pilkey, was an allen; also that he was ignorant of the contents of the affidavit containing the charges against Mr. Calder. The Court finds that Pilkey was an alien, also that he was absolutely ignorant of some of the charges to which he swore. He finds, however, that he had information regarding some of the charges. His decision allows the Liberals to substitute the name of some other man as petitioner. The new petition will be filed to-day. The petitioner will be James S. Tamblyn, Deputy Reeve of Oshawa. The bill of particulars, which will also be filed this morning, includes 129 charges of corrupt practices. The trial is fixed for September 12.

FLUCTUATING WHEAT.

Futures Are Again Depressed in Chicago—Toronto Grain and Produce Markets—The Latest Prices.

Wednesday Evening, Aug. 31.

The price of cash wheat to-day fell off 1½c per bushel in Chicago, 2c at Duluth and 3c to 3½c at Minneapolis, and the speculative market was in sympathy depressed to the extent of ¾c. Bearish English statistics on the world's wheat supply also likely had their effect. One bullish factor at present is that all farmers' deliveries are going for current consumption, and that no stocks are accumulating. The market closed near the low point of the day.

At Liverpool to-day September wheat declined $d per cental, the December option holding steady. Paris futures about unchanged from yesterday.

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & CO., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash $5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for 3,290.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash 2,060 25
and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company, I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

Big Coal Contracts.

A report is current, says the Toronto World, that the People's Coal Company has been awarded large contracts by the Dominion Government. A World reporter interviewed the proprietor, Mr. F. V. Cliadell, at their head office, and was informed that the report was correct, as his company had been awarded contracts for the Government coal for this year, at all the principal cities and towns in Ontario, for customs houses and post offices. Our reporter inquired how these tenders were awarded and was informed that the Government asked for samples with every tender, which passed through a thorough test or analysis at the Department of Public Works, and the contract was awarded on the merits of the coal, as well as the lowest tender. Yes, ours was the lowest figure, which we were in a position to quote, as we mine our own coal, thereby saving the middleman's profits. Did you have any of these contracts last year? Yes, we had several cities, Toronto, Hamilton, London, etc., enough to convince the Government that our coal was of the highest quality, as we never had a single complaint. These contracts will amount to several thousand tons.

Instruction in Pianoforte and Voice.

By reference to the advertising columns of the EXAMINER, it will be seen that Mr. Fred W. Walden, organist of the George street Methodist church is prepared to give lessons in pianoforte and voice culture at his rooms, 149 London street. Mr. Walden's training and experience should excellently fit him for giving the best of instruction. On the pianoforte he was a pupil of the eminent Canadian musician, Mr. W. Cavon Barron, of London, Ont., and his studies in voice culture include the well known teacher, Mrs. Frances Moore, of New York. Mr. Walden's repertoire of instruction includes harmony and musical theory. He makes a special feature of the Damrosch system of sight singing, a greatly improved method that greatly facilitates the acquisition of this very desirable accomplishment. In addition to his qualifications Mr. Walden's experience has afforded proof of his ability to communicate his knowledge to his pupils. He conducted with excellent success for some time a musical academy in Ingersoll, as a branch of the London Conservatory of Music. Mr. Walden is commended to the music loving people of the town.

HONOURABLY ACQUITTED.

Judge Weller Pronounced Dr. Pigeon Innocent

OF THE SERIOUS CHARGE MADE.

He Holds that the Evidence Does not Maintain the Charge of Procuring an Abortion—The Testimony of Catharine Johnston Contradicted by Other Witnesses—Unconditionally Acquitted—The Charge Against William Hayes is Withdrawn.

At a session of the County Judge's Criminal Court held yesterday afternoon before Judge Weller, Dr. Pigeon was tried on the charge of using an instrument on Catharine Johnson for the purpose of procuring a miscarriage.

The prosecution was conducted by County Crown Attorney Wood, and Mr. W. R. Riddle, Toronto, and Mr. E. B. Stone appeared for the defence.

Mr. W. A. Stratton was present in the interest of William Hayes.

The accused entered a plea of not guilty and elected to be tried by His Honour Judge Weller without a jury.

The first witness called was Catherine Johnson, upon whose person the operation is said to have been performed. Being sworn she briefly told the court her story as related by her previously to the Police Magistrate, describing minutely the operating chair in which she stated she was placed, the instruments, and the details of the alleged operation.

Cross-examined by Mr. Riddle, witness said that she knew the condition she was in, and wanted the child disposed of. She did not want she wished it to be disposed of by medicines. She thought she was doing right. She still thought she was doing right. Dr. Pigeon had never attended her before. When she went to him and learned what her condition was; she wished to dispose of the baby—to kill the baby. The doctor would do nothing without money. She was to give ten dollars down and the rest when she had it. She was in the doctor's office about three-quarters of an hour. She had not "almost fainted" as she stated, but had become utterly unconscious. In relating the circumstances of the case she was trying to make it as light for herself as she could.

Dr. Halliday repeated his former evidence. On being called in to attend the previous witness he made an external examination. He suspected what was the matter on being aware of a putrid odour in the room, and questioned the girl, who told her story to him. He asked for another physician to be called in, and Dr. Boucher was summoned. He could not say whether the birth was a natural one or not.

In the cross examination Dr. Halliday stated that if an instrument such as described by the girl was used, it would kill her. He had never seen or heard of an instrument corresponding in discription to the one the previous witness stated was used. Such a puncture and slit of the membrane as seen by him were perfectly consistent with perfect innocence. Miscarriages constantly occurred, being brought on by trouble, or over exercise.

Re-examined—Dr. Halliday stated that he would not expect the puncture in the membrane to have been occasioned in the healthy condition in which he found the organs.

Dr. Boucher, on being examined, stated to Mr. Wood that he was not prepared to state how the membrane came to be perforated. It could not be positively said whether the miscarriage was due to natural or unnatural causes. The organs being healthy, he would not expect to see a miscarriage occur.

The Crown closed its case at this juncture.

Mr. Riddell in addressing the court, stated that although no case had been made out against Dr. Pigeon, yet the charge was of so serious a nature as preferred against a medical man, that he proposed putting in a defence which would clear his client of even a shade of suspicion and as his first witness called Dr. Pigeon.

The Doctor stated that he had practiced for twenty years in England, and fifteen in Canada. He was a graduate of the Royal of Physicians and Surgeons. He had seen Catharine Johnson on previous occasions as he attended to her father, and she had frequently come to him for medicine. He remembered the occasion referred to when the girl came to him on Thursday, Saturday and Tuesday. The first time she came was in the evening. She said she wasn't well, and wanted to know whether irregularity was the cause of her sickness. As he was in a hurry to go to the country, he did not have time to question her. She asked what his office hours were and he told her. She came again Saturday morning before ten o'clock. He answered the door bell himself. On her repeating her statement as to her condition, he questioned her as to whether she had put herself into position to get into trouble. After considerable hesitation she acknowledged that she had done so. This was six or seven weeks previously. Witness told her that there was nothing to be alarmed about and that she would be all right when the next period came on. He did not consider it necessary to give her anything even if he had so desired, as he thought everything would come all right. Her statements regarding the operation were utterly untrue from beginning to end. Every syllable was untrue. On the third occasion when she called he was out in the yard. His wife called him in and the patient was sitting on a chair in the office. She said "are you going to do anything for me?" He replied that there was nothing to be alarmed about. The time had not come he had mentioned. She then said, "If you will not do anything for me I'll do something for myself, or drown myself." She never paid him a cent of money in her life. He had no such instrument in his office as described. He knew of no such instrument. He did not procure a miscarriage for her. When he called on her he never inquired whether her mother was likely to be in. She said she was pretty bad and he took her temperature. It was over a hundred. He used abdomenal pressure and she did not complain of tenderness. He thought she was coming around all right and as this was what she wanted he saw no need of giving her anything. On the occasion of her last visit to the office his wife and her cousin were when she went in and came out. She was not with him more than ten minutes.

To Mr. Wood, Dr. Pigeon stated that the girl was in his office three times. He had made no record of the calls as there was no charge. He had entered his call at the house in his book. He had never got money from the girl. She was hardly in his office a minute the last time. His wife and her cousin were on the steps of the house and when he came up told him there was a patient inside. They were on the steps when she came out. He had no such instruments as the girl described or as some produced in court.

Mrs. Pigeon stated that she remembered the girl coming to the house on two occasions. The last occasion was on Sunday, August 9th. Witness was in the door. The doctor was out. She asked the girl in and told the doctor about her. She was in the office for about three minutes. The doors were all open. She could hear them talking but did not notice what was said. The girl was not vomiting when she came out. The doctor had no such instruments in his office as those described.

On being cross-examined by Mr. Wood, witness said that the girl was in the office for perhaps five minutes before the doctor went in. They were in the office together for about three minutes. When the girl went out Miss Hamilton said the girl could not have wanted much and must have wished the doctor to go out. Witness said the message might just as well have been left with her.

Miss Marguerite Hamilton, cousin of Mrs. Pigeon, identified Catharine Johnson and recognized her as having called at the office on August 9th. She was not inside with the doctor

MORE THAN THREE MINUTES.

She was not vomiting when she came out. The office door was open all the time she was in.

Mr. Wood and Mr. Riddle briefly addressed the court in regard to the evidence presented.

In summing up the case Judge Weller stated that no respectable physician would be a party to the performance of such an operation as charged. The penalty attached was seven years and no man should be convicted of the crime unless it was clear that justice absolutely required it. In the present case the evidence for the defense was far stronger than that put in by the prosecution. What the girl said, literally, regarding the instrument used could not not have taken place, because, as Dr. Halliday stated, if such an instrument had been used it would result in the girl's death. The girl must therefore be wrong as, if the instrument had been used as stated by her in her evidence, she would not present to tell her story. She had been contradicted in every material point in her evidence by other witnesses. Then there was no reason why Dr. Pigeon's evidence alone should not have as much weight as hers and in addition this Dr. Pigeon's wife and her friend contradicted the girl in many circumstances.

HONOURABLY DISCHARGED,

In acquitting Dr. Pigeon he did not do so because there was a doubt and he was giving the prisoner the benefit of it, but because he did not believe Dr. Pigeon committed sthe crime with which he was charged The evidence was just as consistent with the woman having done it, as the doctor. Dr. Pigeon stated that she came to him in an excited state and said that if he could do nothing for her she would do something for herself, or else drown herself. He believed that this was what she had said just as Dr. Pigeon had related it. It would be impossible for him to convict Dr. Pigeon on such testimony, and he therefore discharged him, not as giving him the benefit of a doubt, but as a man whom he believed not guilty of attempting to commit what was charged against him.

Mr. William Hayes who was charged with counselling the girl to procure the abortion, was then brought forward. He pleaded "not guilty" and elected to be tried by His Honour. County Crown Attorney Wood stated that in view of of the result in the other case he would withdraw the charge. Mr. Hayes was accordingly acquitted.

FIFTY YEARS OLD

Why let your neighbors know it?

And why give them a chance to guess you are often five or ten years more?

Better give them good reasons for guessing the other way. It is very easy; for nothing tells of age so quickly as gray hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

is a youth-renewer.

It hides the age under a luxuriant growth of hair the color of youth.

It never fails to restore color to gray hair. It will stop the hair from coming out also.

It feeds the hair bulbs. Thin hair becomes thick hair, and short hair becomes long hair.

It cleanses the scalp; removes all dandruff, and prevents its formation.

We have a book on the Hair which we will gladly send you.

If you do not obtain all the benefits you expected from the use of the Vigor, write the doctor about it. Probably there is some difficulty with your general system, which may be easily removed. Address, Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell, Mass.

Is it possible that since she has begun to mix more in public, and take a hand in all public affairs, that she has learned that the only way to get even with the world is to handle it without gloves?—Events.

THE HORTICULTURAL EXHIBITION.

Far in Excess of Last Year—A Grand Exhibition of Fruits and Flowers.

The annual exhibition of the Peterborough and Ashburnham Horticultural Society opened in the market building to-day with a splendid display of fruits and flowers, very greatly in excess of last year, and seldom, if ever, surpassed in the history of the Society.

Those who perform the duty, and give themselves the pleasure, of being present to-night, will be well rewarded. The band will be in attendance.

DEAD DUCK.

The Season Opens To-day—Not a Very Great Plentifulness of This Game.

This is the first of September, and the succulent oyster and the juicy wild duck are ripe for the gastronome and the sportsman respectively.

Last night was a night of great preparation. In the Rice Lake district scores of sportsmen were on hand during the night, sleeping in their canoes at the points in the rice beds selected the day before, ready to pop at the first duck that showed its head after sunrise. So far there has not been a superabundant preliminary visit of duck, but as the birds will probably emulate the sportsmen of the Rice Lake district in their excellent observance of the game laws, they will have deferred their visit till the opening of the season.

It will be a good thing if the sportsmen do not pot something heavier than duck. The Indians are making preparation for the rice harvest and have their camps pitched on Sugar Island at the mouth of the Indian River. They bend the rice over the edge of canoes and beat it off with a stick and it would not be surprising if there was a little peppering from ricochet shots from sportsmen's guns, though there is no danger of much greater injury than a little cutaneous stimulation from the sport pellets.

LACROSSE.

Word was received from President Lennox of the C. L. A. to-day fixing Friday, September 9th, as the date for the return match with Orillia in the Senior Series. The match will be played on the P. A. A. A. grounds, and the Peterboroughs will then have an opportunity of proving that Tuesday's defeat was due to it being an off day with them, and that even if Orillia has put them out of the running in the Intermediate Series the greater honour of holding the Senior Championship is to fall to their lot.

The Hastings and Marmora lacrosse match at Campbellford yesterday resulted in a win for Hastings by three straights. Doonan scored the first goal in 7 minutes, and the second in 19 minutes, the third and last goal being scored by F. Dodd, after 18 minutes hard play. Marmora's players indulged in rough play at times when they found Hastings getting the best of the game. For the last twenty minutes Hastings played 11 men to 12. Fred Sullivan, of the Peterborough Executive, acted as referee to the satisfaction of all.

INTERNATIONAL GOLF.

Arrangements are practically completed for the interprovincial and international golf tournament at Fern Hill, Toronto. A communication from the secretary of the Royal Canadian Golf Association states that September 27, 28, 29, 30 and Oct. 1 have finally been agreed upon for the tourney. The will be the much-talked of international match, Canada vs. the United States, in which the contending teams will consist of ten players each; interprovincial match with ten to twenty players a side and an open handicap. In addition to these the amateur championship of Canada will be played. With a whole week of golf, having so many important events on the tapis, to say nothing of the international character attached to it, the affair cannot fail to be of interest all over the world where the ancient game is known.

MR. PORTER IS SANGUINE.

Ponton's Lawyer Thinks he Will Easily Get Off.

The Mail and Empire says:—Mr. E. Guss Porter, counsel for W. H. Ponton in the Napanee bank robbery case, arrived in the city last evening, accompanied by his wife. Mr. Porter has been taking a couple of weeks' recreation on the Muskoka lakes and looks very well indeed. In conversation with a Mail and Empire representative last evening in the Rosain House, Mr. Porter expressed himself as fully confident that he would succeed in getting his client his liberty.

"The case will be tried before Judge Ferguson in September next," said he, "and the prosecution are not going to have it all their own way. There will be surprises on our side as well as on theirs."

Works Well With Women.

And why not with women as well as business men? Shrewd and economical merchants buy for cash in order to get a bonus from the wholesale houses in the shape of a cash discount, which in many cases pays their rent. Women who do most of the buying for the household are not slow in finding out also that the 10 per cent. discount given in coupons for cash by Messrs. Henry & Co., grocers and liquor merchants, pays for a good many other goods in the year. The system works well and should be encouraged.

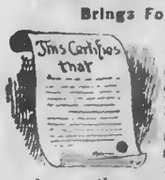
THIS CERTIFICATE

Brings Forth a Story.



BOWMANVILLE, ONT.

We, the undersigned, certify that the health of the Rev. R. A. Bilkey has for months been deteriorating, and that he is now suffering from severe nervous prostration, and urgently requires immediate and prolonged rest. J. W. McLaughlin, M.D., A. Beith, M.D., L. Holland Reid, M.R.C.S., etc.

THIS INTERVIEW TELLS IT.

A reporter called on the Rev. R. A. Bilkey, rector St. John's (Episcopal) Church, Bowmanville, Ontario, during a church function, and on congratulating him on the great change for the better in his appearance, the reverend gentleman said, "It is due entirely to Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills.

"I suffered for over three years from extreme nervousness, weakness and prostration, and could not obtain relief. A few months ago it became only too apparent that extreme nervous prostration had set in, as I lost flesh and appetite rapidly. Three of our four medical men pronounced me in urgent need of immediate and prolonged rest in order to build up my nervous system, giving me a certificate to that effect. About this time, by pure accident, Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills were brought to my notice. I decided to try them, and on doing so a decided change for the better took place at once. I have since continued taking the pills, with continued and marked benefit and improvement. My appetite has returned. I am gaining in flesh steadily, and my general health is now good. Further, I am sure that these results are due to the action of Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills, and I have every confidence that they will do for others all that they have done for me."

Dr. Ward's Blood and Nerve Pills are sold at 50c. per box, 6 boxes for $2, at Druggists, or mailed on receipt of price by the Dr. Ward Co., 71 Victoria Street, Toronto. Book of information free.

BRUTAL CLUBBING.

A Blow That Knocked Fire and Smoke From a Negro's Head.

Negroes in the south have a habit of sticking matches, toothpicks and cigarettes behind their ears, and it is a common thing to see one of them, when asked for a match, pull one of them out of the closely kinked wool just over his ear. Frequently they have a dozen or more stowed away there. Not long ago an Atlanta policeman, whose beat includes "Rusty row," a favorite resort for idle negroes, had occasion to arrest a notorious vagrant, whose main occupation was fighting and draining the beer kegs left in front of barrooms.

This man, as usual, resisted arrest and attacked the officer fiercely. The officer saw that extreme measures were necessary and, drawing his club, aimed a blow at the negro's head. The result was as alarming as it was unexpected. As the club came in contact with the man's head, just over the left ear, there was a cracking sound, and from the hair tongues of blue, sulphurous flame shot out. The negro dropped to the ground, and the club fell from the officer's nerveless hand, while a look of wild eyed amazement appeared on his countenance.

He had hit people with the same club before—in fact, rather frequently—and blood had sometimes followed the blows, but never before had they drawn flame and smoke. He was about to leave the place hurriedly, not knowing what he had done, when his victim sat up and said reproachfully: "Go way, man! You done splode all my matches and swinge my ha'r offen my haid." The officer was so much relieved that he broke his record by letting the man go his way in peace.—Washington Star.

The doctor may be a good old man, but even so, medical examinations and the "local application" treatment are abhorrent to every modest woman. They are embarassing—often useless. They should not be submitted to until everything else has been tried. In nine cases out of ten there is no reason for them. In nine cases out of ten, the doctor in general practice isn't competent to treat female diseases. They make a branch of medicine by themselves. They are distinct from other ailments. They can be properly understood and treated only by one who has had years of actual practice and experience in this particular line. This is true of Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N.Y. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, a remedy for all derangements of the reproductive organs of women, has been in actual use for more than thirty years. It cures every form of "female weakness."

The Bristol Chamber of Commerce will take advantage of the presence in Britain of Canadians and other colonials attending the meeting of the British Association to hold a conference in which business men may discuss the question of the improvement of trade between Great Britain and her colonies.

The Str. Garden City yesterday rescued three men clinging to an upturned sailing skiff about a mile and a half from Toronto's eastern gap. They had been in the water two hours, and were nearly exhausted. A fourth man, J. Lyons, capsized with them, had started to swim ashore for help, they said. It was ascertained that he reached Munro Park, after swimming three miles, almost exhausted by the cold water. Fortunately his companions had been rescued.

DYNAMITE GUNS.

Fifteen Men In Relays Are Required to Work Them.

Dynamite guns, such as are used upon the Vesuvius, are operated upon an entirely different principle from the ordinary powder guns. They have engines and boilers and air compressors and coolers and all sorts of intricate machinery in a house not far away, by which the projectiles are fired. The dynamite or gun cotton or explosive gelatin or whatever the explosive material may be is contained in the projectile only. This projectile is called an "aerial torpedo" by the manufacturers and is exploded by means of a fuse similar to any powder gun's.

Dynamite or any other high explosive cannot be used in an ordinary cannon, because the powder would explode the dynamite before it left the gun, therefore the system of using compressed air came into vogue as the only method of throwing dynamite to any distance. The air is compressed and passed along through various tubes before reaching the gun and is used at about 1,000 pounds pressure to the square inch, which is much less than the power of powder. Dynamite will be exploded at about 5,000 pounds pressure to the square inch. These guns are enormous affairs, smoothbore, 50 feet in length, made of the best iron, in three sections, flanged and bolted together and supported on a steel carriage. The carriage is mounted upon a steel racing ring, so called, and the system of handling is by means of an electric motor. As these guns are covered by a large number of patents they are very expensive, costing the government many thousands of dollars each. Fifteen men in relays are required to work them.

The gunner stands upon a platform on the left side of the carriage, uses a fine telescopic sight, and when all is ready he pulls a lever which allows the compressed air to enter the gun, and the discharge takes place. These guns are all loaded at the breech, and the projectile is handled by a separate carriage. The projectile is about 10 feet in length for the 15 inch gun, and when charged with 500 pounds of dynamite or gun cotton weighs fully 1,000 pounds. It is a steel tube composed of walls three-sixteenths of an inch thick and has a spiral vane at the rear. The fuse is a foot in length and weighs 20 pounds. This fuse contains two pounds and a half of dry gun cotton and a few grains of fulminate of mercury as a detonator. It is set to explode at impact or as the gunner may desire as to time. —Leslie's Weekly.

A TRANSPOSITION.

It Mangled the Salutation, but the King Controlled His Face.

An American who years ago served as our minister to Spain was fond of telling the following joke upon himself:

Shortly after he had become settled in his new home he was bidden to a state ceremonial, where he was to be presented to the king. His knowledge of languages was limited to English and French, and being desirous of addressing the sovereign in his own tongue he took pains to "coach" for the occasion. Several phrases were rehearsed until he felt that he had mastered them. When the critical moment arrived, he saluted the king with great dignity, spoke a few words in Spanish and passed on.

"What did you say?" asked an English gentleman.

"I spoke in Spanish," was the rejoinder. "I said, 'I cast myself at your feet,' which I am told is the most respectful form of salutation."

"Ah, no," corrected a Spaniard, who had been observed to smile at the embassador's greeting. "You are mistaken. You transposed your words, and quite altered the meaning."

"What did I say?" asked the diplomat.

With a twinkle in his eye the Spaniard made answer, 'What you really said was, 'I throw my heels at your head.'"

But the king had not betrayed by so much as the fluttering of an eyelid that anything unusual had occurred.—Harper's Magazine.

No Fixation In Space.

The common idea as to the path of the earth being "fixed in space" is taken exception to by astronomers on the ground that there are few if any things in the domain of astronomy that can really be called fixed space, that fact being that uncensing changes are going on, though these changes are generally so slow as to escape the notice of a superficial observer, but are fortunately periodic, so that they fall within the possibility of computation. Thus the earth's path is not fixed, since the ecliptic undergoes a very slow change, so that, while at present it is a few seconds more than 23 degrees 27 minutes, in about 15,000 years, astronomers calculate, it will be reduced to 22 degrees 15 minutes, after which it will begin to increase again, a change so slow and within such narrow limits that it can produce no sensible alteration in the seasons.—Kansas City Journal.

DYING BY INCHES!

But Dodd's Kidney Pills will Yet Renew Life.

Thousands of persons die in the prime of life because doctors think Bright's Disease and Diabetes incurable. But Dodd's Kidney Pills cure them both. They have cured thousands of cases.

These diseases and other Kidney complaints are as common as ordinary colds. But people don't realize that they are afflicted till the disease has eaten deep into the system. Even then, Dodd's Kidney Pills will positively cure.

Thousands of people are dying on their feet, but do not realize it. They notice one or more of these symptoms: shortness of breath, loss of memory, failing sight, ravenous appetite, pale or reddish urine, with brick-colored deposit, scalding when urinating, constipation, nervousness, pains in the loins. Their only hope is Dodd's Kidney Pills. They won't fail. They never do.

MANILA'S MENACE.

The Insurgents Said to Be Hunting and Pillaging the Spaniards While Natives Sack Villages.

London, Aug. 31.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Manila, dated Aug. 27, says: "All the outskirts of Manila are in a state of complete anarchy. The insurgents are hunting and pillaging the Spaniards while the natives generally are sacking villages, robbing vehicles and stealing horses."

ECHOES OF THE WAR.

When Gen. Miles returns to Washington he will be asked for an explanation of recent interviews appearing with him and the publication of certain despatches which the War Department had not made public.

The hospital train of twelve Wagner cars with 300 sick soldiers from the 8th New York Volunteers passed through Syracuse, N.Y., yesterday. Some of the men were delirious and they were being taken care of by the stronger men in the party.

Gen. Weyler now proposes to be independent of both the Government and the Opposition. He says the Carlists have lots of money.

The Spanish peace commissioners will be Senor Leon y Castillo, Spain's Ambassador at Paris; Senor Urrutia, Spanish Minister at Brussels; the Duke of Najera, the Governor of Cadiz; Senator Marcoartu, and Senor Abatzuza.

Andree Search Fruitless.

Tromsoe, Norway, Aug. 31.—The steam whaler Fridtjof, having on board Walter Wellman and the members of the expedition to Greenland, has returned, after landing an expedition at Cape Togethoff, on the southern point of Hall's Island.

While the Wellman party were returning they met the expedition to Franz Josef Land, under Dr. A. G. Notherst, at Konigskar Island, and were informed that all search for Professor Andree, the missing balloonist, had proved futile.

Atlantic & Lake Superior Railway.

Montreal, Aug. 31.—There appears to be little doubt now as to the final success of the Atlantic & Lake Superior Railway scheme, and its steamboat connections. The report cabled yesterday as to a very large block of stock being underwritten has been confirmed by private cables to the promoters here.

THE SECOND DAY.

Splendid Weather and Excellent Shooting at Rockliffe Ranges, Ottawa.

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 31.—The shooting at the Dominion Rifle Association matches at Rockliffe ranges started yesterday morning with the Dominion of Canada match, at 500 yards, and the weather was grand. So was the shooting. The men appreciated that they must do their best, as on the scores in this match depended the Walker match prizes for battalion teams, the two competitions being this year doubled up. There was a light rear wind and the light was splendid. At 500 yards the scoring was very high, a number of possibles being put on at this range. At ten o'clock the men moved back to the 600 yards to complete the match.

The Matches.

The Dominion of Canada match, 200, 500 and 600 yards, 7 shots at each, possible 105. The first prize, $25 and the Patterson Cup and special badge, were won by Capt. O. W. Wetmore, 74th Battalion, with a score of 99.

The Walker Match, for battalion teams—Challenge Cup and smaller cup, presented by H. Walker. The 1st P.W.R. won the Challenge Cup and bages, with a score of 554. The other teams followed in this order: 8th R.R., Quebec, 548; Royal Grenadiers, Toronto, 548; 77th Dundas, 545; 59th, Cornwall, 540. Sergt. P. Armstrong, Royal Grenadiers, wins the individual cup prize in the Walker match with a score of 98.

The Royal Grenadiers won the Davis Cup in connection with the Dominion of Canada match, with a score of 561.

Minister of Militia, teams. The first prize, $30 and Caron Challenge Cup, was won by 8th R.R., Quebec, with a score of 308, and the other teams followed in this order: Royal Grenadiers, Toronto; 77th, Wentworth; N.B. Prov. R. A., 48th Highlanders, Toronto, 12th Battalion York Rangers, 43rd Battalion, Ottawa, Guelph R.A., B.C.R.A., N.S., Q.O.R. H. Co., R.G., Cornwall R.A.

Thoroughly healthy girlhood means happy wifehood and capable motherhood. A new fangled prudery prevents many girls from learning things that they ought to know before they assume the duties of matrimony and maternity. Athletics alone will not make a young woman thoroughly healthy. The wise counsels of a good mother or some older woman are indispensable.

The best and noblest mission of a woman is to bear and rear healthy, intelligent children. In order to do this, she must be healthy and strong in a womanly way. Both the intellectual and physical future of her children depend largely upon the mother. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the best of all medicines for maids, wives and mothers. It is intended to do but one thing and does that one thing thoroughly. It acts directly on the delicate and important organs concerned in wifehood and motherhood and makes them strong, healthy, virile, vigorous and elastic. Taken during the time of preparation, it banishes the trials and dangers of maternity. It insures the well being of the mother and the robust health of the child. It is the greatest of nerve tonics and nerve builders. Thousands of women have told the story of its marvelous accomplishments. Good medicine dealers sell it and will not advise a substitute in place of it.

"In a letter to Dr. Pierce, Mr. C. A. McDonald, of No. 123 N. Chestnut Street, Los Angeles, Cal., says: "At Junction City I became acquainted with W. C. Lee, M. D., an old practitioner. He said he was a college chum of yours, but that you went to Europe to the best hospitals, while he commenced practice; that for thirty years you were considered one of the leading physicians in New York State, and he considered your remedies better than all others, and prescribed them daily in his practice. On the strength of this commendation I tried your 'Favorite Prescription' and the 'Pellets.' The 'Favorite Prescription' has acted like magic in cases of irregular and painful monthly periods, a few doses only being necessary to restore the natural function. The 'Pellets' have proven an infallible cure for sick and bilious headache."

In paper covers, 21 one-cent stamps; for cloth binding, 50 stamps. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

SPANISH POSTOFFICES.

Queer and Unsatisfactory Ways They Have of Handling the Mails.

A foreigner in Spain sees many irregularities, especially in the postoffices. At Potes, a village of 1,200 inhabitants in northern Spain, the postmaster was an old man, who was usually found asleep and resented being stirred up to deliver a letter. In the larger postoffices the height of confusion is reached, because letters are put into pigeonholes, alphabetically arranged, according to the fancy of the postmaster.

"Mr. John Smith," says Dr. Gadow in his "Northern Spain," "will on inquiry probably be told there is nothing for him, because the letter is safely lodged under J, the postmaster having mistaken Smith for an additional surname. But John Smith, Esq., will as likely be relegated to E, and unless the postmaster is amicably inclined, your letter has a good chance of remaining there until the quarterly or annual clearance, when it may be returned through the dead letter office. I say may because such letters are considered troublesome and have a knack of disappearing."

Dr. Gadow, having obtained an introduction to the postmaster of Potes and exchanged compliments with him, was invited to look through his shelves and take his choice. He came across a letter addressed to a gentleman in Cabezon, a town at some distance from Potes. On asking why it had not been sent on he received this startling answer: "That man is a foreigner, is he not? Well, numbers of strangers come to Potes, and he is as likely to turn up here as at Cabezon!"

At San Sebastian Dr. Gadow called at the postoffice twice for a registered letter containing a remittance from his banker and was assured that nothing had arrived. On procuring a note from the English consul, the letter was forthcoming with the excuse that the post had just come in. He pointed out that the local postmark was five days old; then the postmaster answered that as Gadow ended with w, a letter represented in Spanish by double o or double v, the name was a difficult one to pigeonhole.—Youth's Companion.

THE ARTFUL RAVEN.

Incidents That Aptly Illustrate the Wonderful Sagacity of the Bird.

Many stories are told of the cleverness of the raven, a bird that really seems to have reasoning powers. One of these stories tells how a raven by a skillful stratagem got a young hare for its dinner. It had pounced upon the little animal, but the mother hare drove it away.

Then the raven slowly retreated, encouraging the mother to follow him, and even pretending that he was afraid of her. In this fashion he led her to a considerable distance from her young one and then suddenly, before the hare had time to realize the meaning of the trick, he rose in the air, flew swiftly back, caught the young hare in his beak and bore it away.

A similar plan was adopted by some ravens that wished to steal food from a dog. They teased him till he grew so angry that he chased them from the spot, but the artful birds turned sharply round, easily reached the dish before him and carried off the choicer bits in triumph.

As to the raven's power of speech, the following story, which is given on the authority of Captain Brown, who vouches for its truth, will show how aptly it can talk. A gentleman while traveling through a wood in the south of England was startled by hearing a shout of "Fair play, gentlemen; fair play!" uttered in loud tones. The cry being presently repeated, the traveler thought it must proceed from some one in distress and at once began to search for him. He soon discovered two ravens fiercely attacking a third. He was so struck with the appeal of the oppressed bird that he promptly rescued him.

It turned out that the victim was a tame raven belonging to a house in the neighborhood, and the cry that it had used so opportunely was one of many that it had been taught to utter.—Philadelphia Times.

TWIN TORTURERS!

Lumbago and Rheumatism made Harmless by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Lumbago and Rheumatism cause endless pain and suffering. Every man and woman who runs chances of getting wet, or catching cold, is liable to suffer from one or both. Our hospitals are full of sufferers from these diseases; none are more painful. Every nerve is on fire; every joint is a centre of agony; every muscle an area of torture. To move hand or foot makes the victim shriek with agony.

Rheumatism makes more cripples than all the railroad accidents that ever happened. Twisted, mis-shapen caricatures of humanity, who cannot walk without misery, are to be seen every day. The kidneys are to blame. If they are healthy you needn't fear Rheumatism or Lumbago. Dodd's Kidney Pills keep the kidneys healthy and cure Rheumatism and Lumbago.

Dodd's Kidney Pills ALWAYS CURE.

The Funeral Procession.

"By looking into any carriage of a funeral procession," said Mr. Staybolt, "it is possible to tell at a glance its relation to the hearse. The one or two carriages in front of the hearse carry the pallbearers, who are sober of demeanor, but not depressed. They are selected because of their station or rank, and a knowledge of this fact gives them dignity of bearing, but they are not cast down by it.

"After the hearse comes the carriage with the chief mourners, whose grief is sacred. There may be another carriage or perhaps more filled with those who mourn deeply, but after them the tinge of sorrow grows rapidly lighter until it wholly disappears. There may be seen in one carriage a child looking out from a window. In some there will be seen friends and neighbors come to do honor to the dead and preserve silence and fixed attitudes.

"Then will come carriages containing those who look from the windows as they pass at objects unfamiliar, and then there are carriages containing people who do not hesitate to talk and smile and carriages containing those who sit back in the comfortable cushions and enjoy the ride."—New York Sun.

Symbol of the Sunflower.

Speaking of yellow, the sunflower, in flower language, is symbolical of false riches, for the following reasons: The Spaniards, when they invaded Peru, beheld gold on every hand, and when they saw the country covered with golden colored flowers they imagined they, too, must be pure gold—not the only case where appearances have been deceitful. But by a perverse contradiction of this story the Spaniards themselves adopt the flower as a symbol of faith, and one of their poets says, "Real faith is like the sun's fair flowers, which, midst the clouds that shroud it and the winds that wave it to and fro, and all the change of air and earth and sky doth rear its head and looketh up, still steadfast, to its God." So if you want to grow sunflowers you can take your choice of meanings.—Boston Traveler.

A NOVA SCOTIA CASE.

Significant Praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills by a Meteghan Citizen.

Meteghan, N. S., Aug. 22.—No man is better known to the travelling and commercial classes in this province than is Mr. William German, proprietor of the Bay View Hotel here.

An interesting statement is made bp Mr. German and reads thus:

"I take pleasure in testifying to the merits of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Two years ago I was suffering from severe pains in my back caused by Kidney Trouble.

"I got two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills and used them and my complaint was completely cured. I have not had the slightest pain since."

To all victims of Kidney Complaint there is one way of escape from their suffering. That is by using Dodd's Kidney Pills. They always cure.

What Stamps the Gentleman.

"In all questions of manners a young man should always remember that, while politeness is a good trait to acquire, courtesy is infinitely better," writes Edward Bok in The Ladies' Home Journal. "Politeness is manners, but courtesy is heart. Mingling in good society can give us that veneer which the world calls a polish of manners, and true politeness is not to be made little of nor scoffed at. Politeness is a fine art, but is an art pure and simple even at its best. Infinitely better is the cultivation of that courtesy of refinement which enters into the feelings of others and holds them sacred. It is idle to say that courtesy is a relic of old fashioned days and is no longer looked for. It is as much the current coin of good society as it ever was. More than any other element or grace in our lives it is instantly felt and recognized and has an unfailing influence. It calls for respect as nothing else does. Courtesy of manner and courtesy of speech are the gifts a young man should cultivate."

"Spells" of Southern Negroes.

There are numerous harmless "spells" which are regular observances in the lives of the average southern negroes. Besides the root chewing, the track lifting, etc., they have a love philter of frogs' legs cooked in still water, and the ashes of a bat are powerful enough to keep away a rival or an enemy. To make a dog stay at home they cut off the tip of his tail and bury it under the doorstop. To make a wife obedient they "draw her pictur'" and hide it in the shingles. Thus, waking or sleeping, there is a constant forcing or counteracting of destiny.—Philadelphia Times.

His Young Wife.

"He lived a bachelor until he was 50 and then married a woman young enough to be his daughter."

"Daughter? Why, she was young enough to be his second wife."—Detroit Journal.

All Nerves.

Many people say they are "all nerves." easily startled or upset, easily worried and irritated. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just the remedy which such people require. They restore perfect harmony of the nerve centres and give new nerve force to shattered nervous systems.

Women's Worst Enemy

Some hesitate before giving an answer, but those who know best will immediately say HEADACHE.

Thousands of women live in misery day after day, and week after week, suffering untold agony from these dreadful headaches. Husbands are disheartened, children neglected, and happy homes ruined. Most women strive to bear in patience the suffering which they consider part of life without looking into the cause or searching for relief. Food cannot digest without the bile which the liver supplies and hence the necessity of keeping the liver in good working order. To cure the headaches you must cure the liver and thus remove the cause of disease.

Dr. Chase spent years of his life in perfecting a medicine which acts directly on the kidneys and liver. Thousands of grateful women have testified during the past ten years to the effectiveness of this remedy for sick headaches. Many a home has been restored to happiness as a result.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, the greatest discovery of this great scientist, are put up to sell 25 doses for 25c. All dealers.

BIRDS THAT DO NOT SING.

Although They All Utter Vocal Sounds of Some Kind.

Singing is applied to birds in the same sense that it is to human beings—the utterance of musical notes. Every person makes vocal sounds of some kind, but many persons never attempt to sing. So it is with birds. The eagle screams, the owl hoots, the wild goose honks, the crow caws, but none of these discordant sounds can be called singing.

With the poet the singing of birds means merry, light hearted joyousness, and most of us are poetic enough to view it in the same way. Birds sing most in the spring and the early summer, those happiest seasons of the year, while employed in nest building and in rearing their young. Many of our most musical singers are silent all the rest of the year; at least they utter only low chirpings. It is natural, therefore, that lovers of birds should regard their singing as purely an expression of joy in the returning spring and in their happy occupations.

Outside of what are properly classed as song birds there are many species that never pretend to sing—in fact, these far outnumber the musicians. They include the water birds of every kind, both swimmers and waders; all the birds of prey, eagles, hawks, owls and vultures, and all the gallinaceous tribes, comprising pheasants, partridges, turkeys and chickens. The gobble of the turkey cock, the defiant crow of the rooster and even the musical call of the "bobwhite" are none of them true singing, yet it is quite probable that all of these sounds are uttered with precisely similar motives to those that inspire the sweet warbling of the song sparrow, the clear whistle of the robin or the thrilling music of the wood thrush.

But naturalists have set apart a very large group as song birds, and even among these there are many species that never sing at all. Birds are grouped according to their anatomical characteristics, the structure of their bones, bills, feet and wings. And thus we have the songless song birds, looking at the matter from the standpoint of the classifying naturalist. — Philadelphia Times.

THE BROWN WIND OF CONNAUGHT.

The brown wind of Connaught
Across the England blown
(The brown wind of Connaught)
Turns my heart to a stone,
For it cries my name at twilight
And cries it at the noon—
"Oh, Mairgread Ban! Oh, Mairgread Ban!"
Just like a fairy tune.

The brown wind of Connaught,
When Dermot came to woo
(The brown wind of Connaught),
It heard his whispers, too,
And while my wheel goes whirring
It taps on my window pane
Till I open wide to the dead outside
And the sea salt misty rain.

The brown wind of Connaught
With women wailed one day
(The brown wind of Connaught)
For a wreck in Galway bay,
And many the dark faced fishers
That gathered their nets in fear,
But one sank straight to the ghostly gate,
And he was my Dermot dear.

—Shan Van Vocht.

Even Up.

While some Swiss milkmaids were resting from their drill one of the men stepped from the ranks to light his cigar from that of the officer. The latter took this evidence of the "spirit of freedom" in good part, but said, "In the Prussian army you could not have done this, John."

"Right you are," was the prompt reply, "out in the Prussian army you could not be an officer."

QUEBEC CONFERENCE.

Canada's Sealers Would Sell Out for About $760,000.

A PROPOSITION TO CONFEREES.

The Behring Sea Pelagic Sealers Have About $200 Per Ton of Shipping Invested—An Impression That the Conference Will Agree to the Suspension of Such Sealing.

Quebec, Sept. 1.—Capt. John G. Cox of Victoria, B.C., the official representative of the Canadian seal fishermen, arrived in Quebec yesterday morning, to present the claims of the sealers of British Columbia before the British Commissioners, and also to act in an advisory capacity to the latter. Capt. Cox will have a formal interview with the British representatives to-day, and the question of seal fisheries will be taken up by the joint high commission on Friday.

The impression has already gone forth that the Conference is likely to agree to a suspension of pelagic sealing, and Capt. Cox, on behalf of the Canadian sealers, is prepared to accept such a decision on the condition that the sealers be indemnified for the loss of the capital which at present is actually invested in that industry.

There are this season 53 vessels owned by British Columbia sealers engaged in seal fishing, having a gross registered tonnage of 3,649 tons. A fair estimate places the value of these vessels at $200 per gross ton, giving a little over $730,000 as the amount of capital invested.

Capt. Cox thinks it would be a considerable hardship and also an injustice to wipe out this vested interest without a fair indemnity being paid. If the United States Commissioners are willing to give some $700,000 to indemnify the sealers for the loss of their investments, they can secure the abolition of pelagic sealing without much time spent in discussion, and this vexed question may be settled off-hand and for all time.

Who Should Pay the Indemnity?

It is probable, however, that the United States will look at it in the light that the matter of indemnity is one in which the two governments should share equally, and on some such compromise basis the question is not unlikely to be settled.

At any rate, pelagic sealing seems probable to be disposed of by the Conference on Friday, and an official announcement to that effect may be looked for after the adjournment on that day. It will be the first definite fruit of the Commissioners' labors.

Yesterday the question of the Atlantic in-shore fisheries was again discussed by the Conference. The subject presents a great variety of intricate features, and will probably be again the principal item for consideration at to-day's sitting, after which it will be dropped until the reassembling of the Conference. Although no intimation has been given out by any of the Commissioners of the nature of the discussion so far over the fisheries, it is understood to have followed very closely the footprints of the negotiations on the same question which took place at Washington in 1898. Now, as then, it is understood that the Canadian representatives propose that the fishermen of both countries shall have all the privileges enjoyed during the existence of the fishery clauses of the Treaty of Washington of 1871, pending the consideration of a mutual arrangement providing for greater freedom of commercial intercourse between the two countries.

It is with regard to this latter portion of the proposition—greater freedom of commercial intercourse—that the difficulty comes in. The Canadian Commissioners are understood to be disposed to admit a wide range of manufactured articles to the provisions of a reciprocity arrangement, but they decline to forego the preferential treatment of British goods according to the terms of the present tariff, and on this point the "Americans" are insistent.

A divergence of interest in the Dominion and Newfoundland also arises on this score, Newfoundland having no barrier to reciprocity, in the form of a preferential tariff, and being quite willing to grant United States fishermen the same rights as they themselves enjoy in Newfoundland waters, in return for free United States markets for their fish. Should the tariff difficulty prevent the consummation of an agreement embodying these exchanges between the Dominion and the United States, Sir James Winter, representing Newfoundland, will probably endeavor to secure a separate arrangement on this point between the United States and his colony.

DAY OF DELEGATIONS

One Section of U. S. Lumbermen Satisfied With Present Tariff.

SO THEY TOLD THE CONFEREES.

A Detroit Banker Says That the Quebec Conference Has Decided in Favor of American Lumbering Interests—An Alleged Tip to Hon. Don Dickinson—Proceedings of Conferees.

Quebec, Sept. 2.—Yesterday was a day of delegations at Quebec, and the United States commissioners' souls were grievously tried with the conflict of interests which the spokesmen of the various industries represented developed.

First there were the members of the delegation of American lumbermen, who want no reduction in the duty on sawn lumber.

Last week the commissioners listened to Hon. Mr. Dickinson of Detroit, who wanted to see lowering of barriers all round if that were the only way to obtain the cancellation of the Ontario export regulations.

Yesterday morning the commissioners listened to arguments of quite a different nature, and Congressman Tawney of Minnesota, and Messrs. Smith, S. Randal of Augusta, Maine, S. T. Knight of Minneapolis, and C. N. Goodyear of Buffalo, would have no lowering of the present high duties.

Next came Messrs. Silvester Cunningham and Sylvanus Smith of Gloucester, Mass., who did not want the United States market opened to Canadian fish on any conditions.

They were accompanied by E. G. Preston, H. C. Hall and O. Howes of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, with wants quite at variance with those of the Gloucester men.

Free fish for free fishing was their slogan. They had other wants, too. The smallest delegation numerically, though number for number there was nothing small about it, consisted in the portly figure of ex-Senator Warner Miller, one time of Albany, now of Grand Mere, Shewanigan Falls, and other places.

Mr. Miller would like to see a measure of reciprocity between the two countries, and especially the abolition of the United States duty on pulp and paper.

The Gloucester men protested vigorously against the American market being opened to Canadian fish in return for the right to American fishermen to fish in Canadian waters. They contended that the Canadian inshore fisheries were of little value to them, and would go a small way towards compensation for the free admission of Canadian fish.

The Gloucester fishermen are somewhat anxious to effect an arrangement of some kind with Newfoundland, as it would enable them to obtain necessary bait under better terms than at present.

The proposal of the Halifax Board of Trade, contemplating the access of Canadian fishermen to the markets of Cuba and Porto Rico, in return for Canadian concessions, the Gloucester men opposed with all their might.

Against the special interest views of the Gloucester delegation the representatives of the Boston Chamber of Commerce urged the advantages which a broad measure of reciprocity would bring to the people of both the Dominion and the United States.

In framing a reciprocity treaty they pointed out that it was obviously impossible that each individual interest on both sides should be the gainer, and that the general benefits should be the object sought.

Messrs. Preston, Hall and Howes, as representing the views of the Chamber of Commerce of Boston, would like reciprocity on as broad lines as possible and made as all-embracing as can be.

While the New Englanders are anxious, however, that reciprocity in trade should be effected, ther are not sanguine that such a result will come from the present conference, and all three of the Boston delegation say very emphatically that a reciprocity treaty between Canada and the United States is not possible with a Canadian tariff in force which extends a preference to British goods. Either the reciprocity schedule will have to be so sweeping as to bring the duties on American goods in every instance below the present British preferential basis, or there will be no reciprocity.

In this connection Hon. Warner Miller expressed himself similarly. He would like to see reciprocity, he said, but that could only come with the abandonment by Canada of any preference for Britain.

If the United States entered into reciprocity arrangements with Canada they did not intend thereby to let in a lot of British goods over the border that had come into the Dominion at 25 per cent. less than the regular tariff.

The question of the Atlantic inshore fisheries, which is understood to have been the subject of discussion by the joint high commissioners on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoon, was allowed to temporarily stand over yesterday afternoon, and in its stead the Alaska boundary dispute is understood to have been taken up.

Although not officially announced, it is said that an agreement has been reached by the Joint Commission and that the settlement of the boundary of Alaska will be left to an outside commission, to be composed of foreign arbitrators, or to a commission composed of one from Great Britain one from the United States, one from Canada, and one from one of the foreign powers. The settlement of the boundaries is now merely a matter of interpretation of the old treaty of 1825. Surveys have been made by both the United States and Canada, and each nation now fully understands the contention of the other.

A BANKER'S GUESS.

He Gives It Out That the Conference Has Tipped Don Dickinson.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 2.—A prominent banker here says: "You may take it for granted that the International Commission has arrived at an agreement by which American lumbermen owning timber lands in Canada will be allowed to cut their logs and ship them over to this side instead of being compelled to cut them into lumber on the Canadian side. I am satisfied of this because Don M. Dickinson, who represented the American lumbermen in their petition to the commission praying for a modification of the new Canadian tariff law so as to permit those who had interests in Canadian timber prior to the passage of the law to cut their logs without being compelled to manufacture them into lumber in Canada, yesterday at a meeting of Fisher & Turner, the Bay City lumbermen, advised his clients, the First National Bank of Detroit, to allow Fisher & Turner to continue their logging operations in Canada as a sure means of paying their debts.

"Now, unless Mr. Dickinson had a straight tip that the commission had decided in favor of the American lumbermen, he would never have offered his clients advice of that nature. He is in a position to know, and he does know, what the decision of the commission will be. At the present time it is being religiously kept secret, but this is the straw which shows which way the wind blows."

THIS YEAR'S BISLEY WINNINGS.

Lieut.-Col. Cooke, the Commander of the Team, Makes Corrections.

Montreal, Sept. 2.—Lieut.-Col. Cooke, who commanded the Bisley team, returned to Montreal yesterday, and states that Canadians generally have been laboring under the erroneous belief that the Canadian shooting was not equal to that of former years. As a matter of fact, Col. Cooke declares that it was better than ever before. He says they won £123 in the open matches in excess of last year. This is the only year in which we had five men in the last stage of the Queen's, and when it is remembered that 1,800 men entered for the first stage and when they were reduced to 110 at the last stage and five of them were Canadians, the excellence of the Canadians' shooting can be realized.

Lieut. Gilchrist made 49 out of 50 in the 700 yards, which is the highest score ever made in England or anywhere else. Lieut. Ross made 84 at 200 yards standing, which has only been reached once before on Bisley Common, which has existed since 1890-92. The Colonel says that Sergt. Broadhurst of the Royal Scots was considered to have made the best shooting at Bisley during the year.

The Prince of Wales has consented to become Honorary Colonel of the Prince of Wales Fusilier Regiment, which Col. Cooke commands, and his Royal Highness will be gazetted as an early day.

Warships to Visit Montreal.

H.M.S. Intrepid and Pearl have been ordered to Bermuda to relieve the Talbot and Indefatigable. The last two named accompany the battleship Renown to Quebec on September 18. The Talbot and Indefatigable will go to Montreal from Quebec, remaining there for several days.

The Loss Was $25,000.

Gananoque, Aug. 30.—At 1 o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out in the warehouse of the Parmenter & Bullock Co., Limited, manufacturers of copper and iron rivets, totally destroying the entire building. The loss will be about $25,000, well insured.

Germany Must Remain Armed.

Berlin, Sept. 2.—The Berliner Post, in a seemingly inspired article this morning with reference to the French reception of the disarmament proclamation of Emperor Nicholas, says: "Germany must remain armed and on guard until France is willing to convert her weapons into ploughshares."

Charles Jeffrey was charged with perjury in the Toronto police court, and was committed for trial.

COL. HENRY'S SUICIDE.

The Dishonored Officer's Death Connived At.

THE SCANDAL OF THE CENTURY

Revision of the Dreyfus Sentence Demanded—Henry Had Accomplices—The Well-Grounded Fears of Col. Sandherr—Rumors Instead of News More Plentiful—Cabinet Crisis Anticipated.

Paris, Sept. 2.—It is now insinuated that the suicide of Lieut.-Colonel Henry was connived at by the French army authorities. In any case, the suicide occurred shortly after the prisoner had received a visit from an officer of the general staff, who, on leaving, ordered the sentry on duty before Colonel Henry's place of confinement not to disturb the prisoner, as he had a lot of work to do. It is recalled that a similar opportunity to commit suicide was afforded to Dreyfus, who, however, declined to profit by it.

Henry Had Accomplices.

It appears that the Minister for War, M. Cavaignac, is convinced that Colonel Henry had accomplices in the forgery of the incriminating document, and there are persistent reports that Colonel Paty du Clam will shortly be arrested. In this connection it is reported that the Minister of Justice, M. Sarrion, has already taken steps to grant Dreyfus a retrial.

Head of the Anti-Jewish Conspiracy.

Col. Sandherr, who was then suffering from an incipient paralysis, seems to have been the head of a general conspiracy to hunt Jewish officers out of the French army. Dreyfus, a man of haughty demeanor, but of vast strategic knowledge, would naturally be selected as a victim of these machinations. It is asserted that Col. Sandherr's last days were haunted by a fear, amounting to terror, lest the illegal and flippant nature of the evidence upon which Captain Dreyfus was condemned should be revealed and weaken the prestige of the intelligence department and that he enjoined upon Henry, his subordinate, to guard the department's traditions at all costs.

COL. HENRY.

A Revision of Dreyfus' Case Inevitable.

London, Sept. 2.—All the newspaper comments in London, Berlin, Vienna and elsewhere regard a revision of the Dreyfus case as now inevitable. The suicide of Col. Henry has created quite a sensation.

RUMORS MORE THAN NEWS.

Fears of the Head of the French Anti-Jewish Army Conspiracy.

Paris, Sept. 2.—The Dreyfus case last night presented no new features, but there is a plentiful supply of rumors. The first of these is that Dreyfus is dead, no letter having been received from him for some weeks. Another report is that General de Boisdeffre, who has just resigned the post of Chief of the General Staff, has committed suicide. Both these rumors are undoubtedly without foundation. Col. Paty du Clam is on a vacation trip in Switzerland, and there is no confirmation of the statement of La Patrie that he has been arrested for complicity in the Henry forgery.

A Cabinet Crisis Anticipated.

Paris, Sept. 2.—A Cabinet crisis is expected as a result of the Dreyfus affair. It is said Count Esterhazy will be arrested and that startling revelations of the part he has taken in the case will soon be made at Berlin and Rome.

The I. O. F. Salary List.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—At the session of the Supreme Council I.O.F. yesterday the following salaries were fixed: Supreme Chief Ranger, $10,000 per annum; Supreme Secretary, $6,000 per annum; Supreme Treasurer, $2,500 per annum; Supreme Physician, $6,000 per annum; Supreme Auditors (each,) $2,000 per annum. The sum of $100 was given to the Supreme Formal Secretary for his services; members of the Mileage and Per Diem Committee the sum of $25 each; members of the Press Committee the sum of $30 each; to the messenger the sum of $10. Five thousand dollars, as a special mark of the value of the work of Supreme Chief Ranger Oronhyatekha in connection with the building of the Temple, was also voted.

Clarence Langley, a Toronto boy who enlisted in Stivers' Rough Riders, after passing through the honors of the war at Santiago, has just died of typhoid fever at Chickamauga Park camp.

THE SPECIAL SESSION.

The recent special session of the Legislature was a settler for the Opposition. Ever since the evening of the 1st of March the Conservative Opposition organs and politicians have been clamouring with pen and mouth, claiming they that had won the general election of 1898. In spite of the fact that the facts were against them, that the figures were against them; in spite of the fact that the returns gave the Government a majority both in the House and of the popular vote, the senseless claim was made that the Government was defeated and with a clear majority should resign and give gentlemen who had only a minority a chance to enjoy the sweets of office. This claim was made up the very day of the special session and loud and long were the boasts made of what Mr. Whitney and his terrible Opposition were going to do in the way of transmuting the Government into a cocked hat. When Mr. Whitney finished his first speech in the House everybody realized that the mountain had laboured and brought forth a mouse, or rather a ram. The Opposition showed that they had not a foot to stand upon, and were beaten and circumvented at every turn. They brought the heaviest artillery to bear, and after all it was only an ebullition of wind, an air gun bombardment. The first half dozen speakers talked the matter out, and the drivel of re-hashed eloquence, which the Opposition had mainly to themselves, fell upon the August air as flat as stale beer. Mr. Whitney in all this showed none of the qualities which should commend him as the head of a Government, and the result of the session must have been a great disappointment to himself, to his following in the House, and to his party in the country; the sooner he recognizes the fact that the country is against him, the more useful will he become in the exercise of his function as a leader of the Opposition, instead of being a mere eager office grabber.

On the other hand the session was to a great extent a triumph for the Government, which set out with the contention which the Opposition had challenged in some of their election petitions that constables had a right to the vote which they had exercised without controversy for fifty years. When it came to the consideration of the Legislature to settle the question, and if there had been the elements of a good fight in the Opposition this Constable Bill was the chance to bring these elements out. The chief legislation was what was known as the Constable Bill, whose provisions might briefly be given, as they have been stated by the Brockville Recorder:—

"For over half a century constables have been voting. The Dominion passed a new law for its own purposes, and in 1887 the question arose of the right to vote of poll clerks, deputy returning officers and all others getting money from the Crown for election purposes. Just after the election, the Dominion Parliament unanimously passed an act confirming the right of all these classes to vote, and stating in the act that the right always existed.

In Provincial elections the right was never questioned until a few months ago, when in some of the petitions filed against the return of the Liberals, it was charged that constables had voted not having the right to vote, because they were recipients of pay from the Crown for services in connection with the election. The Government took the ground that these men always had voted, and had the right to do so. But in order to get a decision that would be final and would guide the judges who would try the election petitions, they asked the Court of Appeal to decide the point. The Court declined to act during vacation. The trial judges could of course have given judgment on the point, but it would have been subject to an appeal to the higher court, so it was thought better to get the judgment at once from the higher court and save all the delay and extra expense.

The act, in short, provides that the validity of the constables' vote shall be at once submitted to the Court of Appeal for speedy decision; trials, in which this is one of the grounds of petition, shall be postponed till after the decision of the Court of Appeal is given, unless the petitioner will give an undertaking not to press this part of his petition. Should the Court of Appeal decide that constables had not the right to vote, and on that account members should be unseated, then the seat shall only be declared vacant and will not be given to the defeated candidate, but a new election must be held to fill the vacancy. In this new election it is made clear that constables will have the right to vote.

By virtue of the legislation effected, in the interval between the close of the adjourned session and its resumption early next year, the seats possibly vacated by election trials, will be filled, and the House will then be complete and ready for the work for which it was created by the electorate.

The other work of the legislation was, apart from the duty of settling authoritatively the constitution of the House, the most important, namely, dealing with the new Provincial interest acquired by the decision of the Privy Council. The importance of our Provincial fisheries can hardly be over-estimated, and now that Ontario has been awarded the position of sole beneficary in respect of them, it was important that legislation looking to the effective administration of the trust should be passed at the earliest possible moment. And the necessity of immediate action is emphasized by the circumstance that the subject is complicated and to cover the conditions, more than usual provision would be required to completely protect every branch of the diversified interests. However, the government has made an earnest endeavour to deal with the subject in proportion to its importance and no doubt the same prompt action will be adopted to meet new conditions that will require to be dealt with.

The session has been an important one in respect of the practical legislation accomplished. It might have been briefer if the Opposition had contented themselves with debate. Instead of that they indulged in pyrotechnic declamation, one after the other taking to tatters subjects that the regular debate had already worn threadbare.

THE DISLOYALTY CRY AGAIN.

The Conservative press is claiming admiration and praise for the Conservative leaders because one of the latter has declared that he will refrain from public political discussion at this time in order not to embarrass the government in its negotiations with the United States commissioners. The Conservative press itself is not inclined to follow the course which it finds so admirable in its leaders. Some of the more mischievious organs do not hesitate to create trouble by misrepresenting the opinion and attitude of the American commissioners themselves as being opposed to the success of the convention. These Canadian papers are imitators of the "yellow" press of New York, which manufacture sensations, no matter how dangerous or injurious to the nation, so long as the printed falsehoods have the desired effect of "selling the paper." Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Dingley have joined in contradicting one of the worst of these lying reports. Others are too silly to notice. Some of the Conservative organs also try to create distrust of the Canadian commissioners, suggesting that they will be willing to betray the interests of Canada. It is nothing to these papers that the American commissioners will probably have their attention drawn to these opinions as to the suppositious weakness of the Canadian commissioners, and may form expectations as a result which, disappointed may disincline them to more reasonable realities. The Gazette, for instance, says:

"The Witness says that in appointing commissioners for the Quebec conference Canada has selected those men who have been most noted for, and denounced for, partiality to the United States. And this is one of the reasons why many Canadians are anxious about the results of the gathering. They would like to have, besides the Lauriers and Charltons, somebody who has a reputation of sticking up for Canada."

The answer to this is that the same men were denounced as "disloyal" and "traitorous" to the British connection by the same politicians, among whom was the Gazette, until the British people themselves believed that half of Canada was against the British connection and in favour of annexation; Americans, too, were no doubt misled into believing that Canada was becoming ripe for annexation. Yet the first fruits of the administration of these men denounced for their disloyalty were the imperial preferential tariff, the imperial penny postage, and such a revival of love for and pride in the empire not only Canada but throughout the empire, as had never been known before. And though the Conservative press still mumbles and whines sometimes, it is dragged and trampled by public opinion behind this triumph of the Laurier Government. Little importance will therefore be attached by the public to the pretended gloomy anticipations of the Conservative party press that the Canadian commissioners will betray the interests of Canada. The desire for the friendliest possible relations, national, commercial and social with the United States has always characterized the Liberals now in power, and if Canada really wants better relations with the United States, as it does, it will rejoice that the negotiations are in the hands of men who are openly in favour of that policy. But Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Louis Davies, Sir Richard Cartwright, and all the members of the Government, have certainly vindicated their right to be regarded as loyal to the Crown and empire, and successful administrators of Canada's national affairs.—Montreal Witness.

SOUTH ONTARIO PROTEST.

Order Made Substituting a New Petitioner—130 Charges of Corrupt Practices Status of the Case.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—A number of inaccurate statements have been made in regard to the position of matters in connection with the election petition for South Ontario, special interest attaching to the protest in this constituency from the fact that the defeated candidate there was Hon. John Dryden, the Minister of Agriculture. The situation of affairs is as follows:

An order was made by Mr. Justice Osler yesterday substituting John F. Tamblyn of the Town of Oshawa petitioner in place of Charles Henry Filkey, the previous petitioner, to whom objection had been taken on the ground that he had become a citizen of the United States some years ago while residing there. This proceeding is one expressly provided for in the Ontario Controverted Elections Act. Section 98 of that Act provides: "In case a petitioner in an election petition shall not be qualified to be a petitioner the petition shall not on that account be dismissed if, within such time as the court or judge shall allow for that purpose, another petitioner is substituted, which substitution may take place on such terms and conditions as to the court or judge may seem meet."

The particulars of the corrupt practices alleged against the sitting member, Charles Calder, M.P.P., and his agents were delivered on Tuesday last, and comprise 130 charges of corrupt practices. The time fixed for the trial is Sept. 12, at Whitby. Mr. Justice Osler also made an order that the particulars of corrupt practices already delivered should stand as the particulars of corrupt practices in the petition with the new petitioner, Mr. J. F. Tamblyn, and that it should not be necessary to deliver new particulars, as Mr. Tamblyn, the new petitioner, adopts the particulars already delivered.

NEWS OF THE SIRDAR.

Gen. Kitchener's Expedition Relieves the Anxiety of the War Office—A Slight Brush With the Enemy.

London, Sept. 2.—The War Office was relieved last evening by the receipt of a despatch from Cairo, explaining the sudden interruption of news from the Soudan as to the movements of the Anglo-Egyptian column, now advancing towards Omdurman, under General Sir Herbert Kitchener.

It appears that telegraphic communication was interrupted by the wire beyond Nasri Island, about midway between Metemmeh and the sixth cataract of the Nile, having been damaged by a severe storm.

Shortly after the arrival of this intelligence came the following despatch to the Associated Press from Nasri Island, dated Aug. 30, and forwarded by messenger from the camp at the front of Nasri:

"There have been glimpses of the enemy during the last few days; and the first skirmish took place to-day, when an advance guard of cavalry located a large body of the Dervishes at a supposed outpost near Kerreri, about eight miles north of Omdurman.

"The enemy showed a disposition to fight, beating war drums and displaying battle hunting. The Montmorency troop emptied a few Dervish saddles and three gunboats steamed up the river in front of the town and shelled the Dervish position. The enemy's loss could not be ascertained, as the Dervishes were in a hollow; but fleeing troops could be distinctly seen.

"The army is moving slowly. Yesterday it advanced four miles in close formation."

SEIZED BY MINERS.

President and Superintendent of the Springside Mines, Mo., Abducted and Carried Off by the Strikers.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 2.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Pana, Ill., says that six hundred striking miners yesterday afternoon seized David J. Overholt and Levi S. Overholt, president and superintendent respectively of the Springside Mines. The two officials were taken out of their buggy by the mob and carried in the direction of the mines. Nothing is known of their fate. Rev. Dr. Millard, a minister of Pana, made a plea to the miners to release the Overholts and was knocked in the head with a revolver for his pains. The two officials were dragged from their buggy in front of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern depot. The seizure was made for the purpose of demanding the surrender of the negro miners who had been working in union men's places.

The miners were overtaken by the state officials of the miners' union and halted. D. J. and Lewis Overholt gave the committee an order to send for a committee of the negro miners. Sheriff Coburn refused and replied demanding the release of the Overholts. John Mitchell, national vice-president of the union, sent back a note saying the Overholts were not in his keeping.

BIG FIRE IN TORONTO.

Bertram's Engine Works Completely Destroyed—Loss $150,000.

Toronto, Sept. 2.—At about 1 o'clock this morning a most disastrous fire broke out in the Bertram Engine Works at the foot of Bathurst street, on the water front. The fire originated near a large smokestack, and the general opinion was that some explosion had occurred among some wood in the vicinity. The building was a large two-storey frame one, with a great amount of valuable machinery. The whole building is a complete wreck, and the damage to the machinery is also heavy and it is probable that it will be a total loss. The flames took a rapid hold of the building and soon enveloped the whole of it.

At about 1.30 the roof of the building fell in and the triumphant flames leaped high in the air, casting a lurid reflection in the skies. A steel barge for the Montreal Transportation Company, sister to the one launched a couple of weeks ago, was on the stocks and is of course a total loss.

The exact amount of the damage is difficult to obtain at the hour of writing, but it may be safely placed at between $150,000 and $200,000. The insurance is also unknown as yet, though it is understood that the plant and building are well covered. The insurance was all placed outside of the city. The nearest hydrant to the works was 1,300 feet away.

SENOR DON JUAN DU BOSC.

The Spaniard Sues Lord Aberdeen for $500,000 Damages for Alleged Abuse of Authority.

Washington, Sept. 2.—News has been received here of an action brought by Senor Don Juan Du Bosc, who was secretary to the Spanish Legation at Washington prior to the declaration of war, against the Earl of Aberdeen, Governor-General of Canada, for his expulsion from Canadian soil.

Du Bosc is now in London, and charges the Canadian Governor-General with abuse of authority in expelling him from Canadian soil, as he was in Canada simply as a Spanish subject, a private person, and, therefore, amenable only to the civil laws, none of which he is charged with breaking, and also reparation from the British Government in the sum of $500,000. Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has not filed his answer to the suit.

A WHEAT RALLY.

The Futures Took an Upward Turn of Half a Cent a Bushel at Chicago—The Prices.

Thursday Evening, Sept. 1.

Early to-day the Chicago speculative wheat market was inclined to be weak in sympathy with cable advices, and the large primary receipts also had a bearish effect. Later the firmer European markets and the scarcity of contract wheat for immediate delivery strengthened prices, and futures closed ½c per bushel over yesterday's final figures. The Chicago Daily Bulletin notes the significant fact that September wheat has for some time been quoted higher in St. Louis than in Chicago, and asks where Chicago shorts are to get their contract wheat, if this disparity in price of No. 2 red winter continues. They must obtain No. 1 Northern, and to bring this wheat to Chicago they will have to pay 2c over Duluth prices.

On the Liverpool board September and December wheat declined ⅝d per cental for the day.

East Buffalo Cattle Market.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Sept. 1.—Cattle—In the absence of sale cattle the market was nominally unchanged. The feeling is quiet on all but good fat cattle, which are steady. The offerings of calves were light, only about 40 head, and the demand being good prices were sustained at late quotations. Choice to extra were quotable at $7.25 to $7.50, a shade higher for selected; good to choice, $6.75 to $7.25.

Sheep and Lambs—The position of the market was firm and higher, with moderate offerings, only 8 loads, 3 of which were Canada lambs. Natives, choice to extra, were quotable, $5.25 to $5.40; good to choice, $5 to $5.25; bucky lots, $5.50 to $5. Sheep were scarce and wanted, and all good kinds were firm. Yearlings and sheep were quotable $4.60 to $4.85; strictly yearlings, $4.75 to $5; ewes and wethers, mixed, $4.40 to $4.65. The Canada lamb trade was in fair position. The basis of extras was $6, sales being at $6 and $5.85. The offerings were well cleaned up and the close was steady at the best prices of the day.

North American Life

ASSURANCE CO.

OFFICE OF W. A. MURRAY & Co., 17 to 27 King St., East, Toronto.

Wm. McCabe, Esq., Managing Director, N.A. L.:

DEAR SIR,—In answer to your request for me to decide upon one of the following options offered me for settlement of my 15-payment Life Investment Policy for $5,000 which has matured this year, viz:

1st to take the value of the Policy in Cash	$5,000.00
2nd, or fully paid-up insurance for	8,280.00
3rd, or take the profits in cash	2,050 25

and continue my policy without further payments being required from me, such policy participating in future profits.

I find it somewhat difficult to make a decision either of the three options being so satisfactory. I am certainly very much pleased with the results offered me, and as I find many others are giving full testimony to the profit-earning power of this company. I do not hesitate to give my endorsement as well, that the North American Life is one of our strongest Canadian institutions to day giving first class results on Investment Policies, on a safe and conservative basis. I find that my policy, which was originally a Life by fifteen payments, has become an Endowment at the end of the Investment period.

WHY IS IT THUS?

Why Are the Sewer Gratings not kept Clear?

During the heavy showers this afternoon the water came down the George street gutters in a strong stream sufficient to carry heavy planks. The litter of paper on the street was swept down and clogged the sewer gratings with the result that the water flowed over both the crossings on Hunter street making them impassable except at the certain peril of wet feet. The gratings mentioned were clogged at 1 o'clock and no attempt was made to open them. Why is this thus? Pay $20,000 for sewers and have the street converted into a mill race at every storm.

EXCESSIVE SULTRINESS.

In Many Rooms Last Night the Thermometer Registered Away Up.

The state of the weather last night and to-day has been most depressing, not on account perhaps of the excessive heat but owing to the humidity of the atmosphere, and the fact that at times there has not been a breath of air stirring.

While the temperature hovered around 71 degrees outside, in some of the residences the thermometer registered as high as from eighty to eighty eight degrees, consequently there was little sleep enjoyed until near morning.

This afternoon thunder showers had the effect of cooling the air slightly.

DROWNED AT SMITH'S FALLS.

Little Welster Forrest Lost His Life For a Toy.

Welster Forrest, the eight-year-old son of Mr. S. Forrest, manager of the Union Bank, Smith's Falls, was drowned there yesterday afternoon. He was playing with a toy canoe off the wharf, when the canoe sailed out of his reach. He made a grab for it and lost his balance and fell in. The body was found about half an hour afterwards by Mr. Jacob. The family formerly resided in Norwood, Mr. Forrest being connected with the branch of the Union Bank located there.

HORSE THIEVES AGAIN.

Mr. John F. Elliott's Horse, Buggy and Harness Stolen.

The following further particulars covering the horse stealing case mentioned in Monday's Examiner are taken from the Norwood Register: A bay hore, top buggy, and set of single harness were stolen from the stable of Mr. John F. Elliott, on the east side of the village some time during Sunday night last.

The theft was discovered early on Monday morning and since that time Mr. Elliott, Mr. F. Riddon, Mr. Geo. Elliott and others have been scouring the country in all directions in search of the stolen property, but up to the present no very definite clue has been established.

This is the third horse and rig stolen from this section in less than two years. In October, 1896, a horse and rig belonging to Wm. R. Howson was stolen from the Methodist church sheds, and in May, 1897, Messrs. Squire Bros., of this place had a horse stolen from their stable. About the same time some parties attempted to steal a horse from Mr. Thos. Buck's stable about a mile from the village, but fortunately were caught in the act and chased.

None of the stolen property was ever recovered. A peculiar thing about these horse-stealing cases is that all have occurred on Sunday night.
